Albert Langseth of Glyndon said he objected to the proposal of Beatrice Foods of Chicago and Brainerd, that the price in the North Dakota - Minnesota order area should be equal to the Minneapolis order price.

Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc. Minneapolis, which originally proposed the order for 25 eastern North Dakota and 25 western Minnesota counties, has urged a price 20 cents above the minimum price in the Twin City marketing order "to keep prices competitive and to keep milk in the Twin Cities area from coming into the new order area."

The minimum price for Grade A milk in July in Minneapolis - St. Paul was $4.93. The price changes monthly and has been climbing in recent months.

Langseth said, "We object to this proposal and feel that if a low price in the market area in which Beatrice Foods and Foremost Dairies, Inc., are operating puts them in a bind, Beatrice Foods should propose a separate order for the Minneapolis - Duluth area, and

Eunice K. Wangberg Weds D. Phillips At Trinity

Miss Eunice Karen Wangberg and Mr. Donald Benleen Phillips, Laverne, exchanged marriage vows in the wedding ceremony conducted by the father of the bride and pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church where the service was held Sunday afternoon, August 14. Mrs. Phillips is the daughter of Pastor and Mrs. R. A. Wangberg. Mr. Phillips is the son of Mrs. Ben Phillips, Laverne, and the late Mr. Ben Phillips.

Miss Joayne Wangberg was her sister's maid-of-honor. Other attendants were: Concordia college classmates Mrs. David Stein, Tacoma, Wash., and Miss Karen Sletten, Bagley. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Alex Frick, St. Paul, formerly of Luverne, and Mr. Daniel Holm, Bloomington, both of whom are enrolled at Luther Siminary, St. Paul, and Mr. Rolf Wangberg, brother of the bride.

Organ music was played by Mrs. Walter M. Larson before the service. The bridesmaids' processional was "Love Divine All Love Excelling", Wesley, sung by Mrs. Donald L. Olson. She also sang, "Oh Love That Casts Out Fear", Bach, "Here at Thine Altar, Lord", Rowley, and during the bride's processional, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring", Bach, which also included a flute solo and accompaniment played by Mr. James Jaranson. Mr. Howard Johnson sang, "O Lord Most Holy", Frank, and "The Lord's Prayer", Mendelssohn, and joined in the marriage prayer.

The church was decorated with palms, candelabra and altar flowers of white glamelias. The bride's gown of white organza over taffeta was fashioned and made by the bride with an empire waist line, scooped neckline, bell sleeves, A line skirt, a front lace panel and an eight-foot detachable train trimmed with lace. Her headpiece was a rose fashioned from the same material as the dress with lace petals and a fingertip veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of glamelias and croton leaves. The bridesmaids' dresses were of the same material as the bride's in avacado green and in a similar style but sleeveless and with a floor-length train. Their flowers were fashioned as French nosegays of yellow and orange glamelias. Their headpieces were roses similar to the brides' with short veils in avacado. The men of the wedding party wore black tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres. Both the mothers wore blue dresses with matching accessories and corsages of yellow and orange glamelias.

The acolytes were Mr. Mark Wangberg and Mr. John Wangberg, brothers of the bride. The ushers were Mr. Arland Anderson, Minneapolis, and Mr. Arvin Roen, Madison, both cousins of the bridegroom, and Mr. Harlan King, Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Mr. Norman Wengberg, Duncombe, Iowa, cousins of the bride.

The reception was served by the members of the Lois Circle of the Trinity Lutheran Church Women, Mrs. Alfred Solem, chairman. Hostesses were: Mesdames Hans Choamic, Ben Frolland, Blanche Larson, and Miss Olga Bloomsness. The wedding cake was cut and served by Miss Martha Wangberg, Council Bluffs, Iowa, Mrs. E. W. Sassex, St. Louis, Mo., aunts of the bride and by Mrs. Peder Phillips, Luverne, and Mrs. A. K. Roen, Madison, aunts of the bridegroom. Presiding over the coffee services were: Mrs. Orlando Wangberg, Duncombe, Iowa, Mrs. Harvey King, Council Bluffs, Iowa, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Alfred Hagen, Minneapolis, and Mrs. Nels Flom. Mrs. Daniel Holm, Bloomington, presided at the punch table. Waitresses were: Misses Janice Roen, Madison, cousin of the bridegroom, Nancy Newton, Gloria Philipp, Carol Bren, Sandra Frolland, Gretchen Ludtke, Webster, S. D., Lori Carlson, Deborah Penning, Becki Sisler and Jan Oen. Miss Millie Jean Reierson offered rice bags to the guests while Miss Roberta Ballingrud passed out the groom's cake. Mrs. Orren Bendickson was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Gary Kelly, St. Cloud, Miss Elaine Stanghelle, and Mrs. Agdah Sletten, Bagley, were in charge of the gifts.

Mr. Phillips and his mother entertained the bridal party, the musicians, and family of the bride at the bridegroom's supper which was served by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Betlach in their home Saturday evening. Pastor and Mrs. Wangberg entertained the bridal party and relatives at dinner Sunday noon served by Mrs. Nels Flom, Miss Helen Horgen and Mrs. Bloomquist in the church lounge as well as serving a late supper to out-of-town guests in the church dining room.

Mrs. Phillips graduated this spring from Concordia College, Moorhead, with a B. A. in home economics. The bridegroom graduated this summer with an M. S. in chemistry from North Dakota State University, Fargo, N. D. He received his B. A. from Concordia College in 1964. He will be teaching in the science department at the Elizabethtown Community College, Elizabethtown, Ky.

Guests attending were Jeffrey and Susan Thrall, Jonathan Ballingrud James Harris, Cindy Jo Restad, Mark and Curt Rodin and Kent Wentzel.

After the games, Steven opened the gifts and lunch was served, featuring the traditional decorated birthday cake.

Roese and Ausmus Vows Spoken In Minneapolis

Miss Betty Roese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Roese of Thief River Falls, and Darrel Ausmus, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ausmus of Hinckley, were married Saturday, July 9, at 2 p.m. at Bethlehem Lutheran church in St. Paul. Rev. A. C. Rueler officiated at the double ring ceremony and Miss Norman Berry served as organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of silk organza over taffeta styled with a fitted bodice of lace featuring a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls enhanced with crystals and she carried a bridal bouquet of white roses.

Diana Roese of Thief River Falls attended her sister as maid of honor. She was attired in a pink floor-length gown in empire fashion styled with elbow length sleeves. Her headpiece was a matching veiled pillbox and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. Attired similar to the maid of honor was the bridesmaid, Patti Ausmus of Hinckley, sister of the groom.

Donald Ausmus of Farmington, attended his brother as best man. Groomsman was Donald Roese of Thief River Falls, brother of the bride. Cousins of the groom, Arnold Nelson of Spring Lake Park and Pete Carringan of St. Cloud, were ushers. The men of the wedding party were attired in black tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Roese chose a beige and blue floral print dress complemented by beige accessories and a corsage of pink roses and carnations. The groom's mother was attired in a pink suit, accented with white accessories, and a corsage of blue and white roses and carnations. Bert Roese, grandfather of the bride, attended as honor guest.

A reception in the church parlors was given by parents of the bride. The three-tiered wedding cake decorated with pink roses and topped by a miniature bride and groom, was cut and served by Mrs. Agnes Guptill and Mrs. Hilda Guptill, aunts of the groom. Kathy Olson, a roommate served the punch. Another roommate, Jean Loper, presided at the silver service and attended the bride as her personal attendant. Judy Roese, a sister of the bride, registered the guests and Diana Roese and Patti Ausmus arranged the gifts.

Guests attending the wedding were from Hinckley, Thief River Falls, St. Cloud, Rush City and Spring Lake Park.

For the wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park, the bride wore a beige knit dress with coordinating accessories.

Both are employed in St. Paul. The bride, a graduate of the Plummer high school, is employed at Brown and Bigelow and the groom at FMC. He is a graduate of the Hinckley high school. They are at home at 2315 Victoria North, Roseville.

Katherine Mosleth, Once Of TRF, Weds Recently

Miss Katherine Mosleth, and Wendell Lawin exchanged marriage vows recently at the First Methodist church at Long Prairie. Rev. G. Ritchey officiated at the singe ring ceremony attended by approximately 200 relatives and friends.

Mrs. William Brandt, church organist, played "Thanks Be To Thee" as the processional. She also accompanied Karen Malmgren, sorority sister of the bride, as she sang "Song of Ruth" and "O Perfect Love".

For the candlelite ceremony, white bouquets graced the altar, holly entwined the candelabra and yellow ribbons marked the pews.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bertrum Mosleth of Long Prairie and formerly of Thief River Falls. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Lawin, also of Long Prairie.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sleeveless floor-length gown of white brocade with long lace gloves. Made with a fitted bodice and a sheath skirt, the gown featured a full length watteau train. A coronet of seed pearls and crystals secured her fingertip length veil of silk illusion and she carried a crescent bouquet of yellow roses.

Margaret Mosleth of Long Prairie attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of white cotton lace featuring faint yellow stripes styled in empire fashion, the waistline was accented with a yellow satin ribbon. Matching satin formed her bow headpiece.

Attired similar to the maid of honor was the other attendant, Mrs. John Stevens of Bloomington, a sorority sister of the bride. To complete their attire, they wore formal length gloves of white lace, gifts from the bride, and each carried an arrangement of long stemmed yellow roses.

Gary Lawin of Minneapolis attended his brother as best man and Rich Colby of Long Prairie was groomsman. Ushers were Mike Mosleth and Mark Lawin, brothers of the bride and groom, respectively. They were assisted by Paul Mosby and Kenny Stevens. The men of the wedding party wore black formal attire with yellow rose boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride wore a two-piece suit of white lace over pale yellow. The groom's mother was attired in a beige linen frock accented with lace appliques. Both had identical corsages of yellow roses.

Attending the wedding as honor guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Markuson of Long Prairie, grandmother of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Johnson of Little Falls, godparents of the groom. Among the special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Al Brink of St. Hilaire, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Brink of Thief River Falls and Connie Ekeren of this city.

A reception, given by the parents of the bride, followed the ceremony. Mrs. Harold Barker served as hostess and Gretchen Holler of Long Prairie, a sorority sister of the bride, presided at the guest book.

The round tiered wedding cake, trimmed with yellow roses, was cut and served by Mrs. Ervie Prenevost of Granite Falls, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Art Lawin of Long Prairie. Pouring were aunts of the bride, Mrs. Al Brink of St. Hilaire, and Mrs. Julius Ophiem of Rochester, and aunts of the groom, Mrs. Cliff Markuson of Minneapolis and Mrs. Don Reierson of Deer River.

Mrs. Mike Goeden of Sauk Centre served the punch and Mrs. Kenny Stevens of Long Prairie arranged the gifts. Helpers at the reception were Connie Ekeren of Thief River Falls, Mrs. Bob Lawrence of St. Paul and Janet Lawin and Sue Schinske of Long Prairie.

For travel on the wedding trip to the West Coast, the bride was attired in an empire fashion dress of pink brocade topped with a matching coat. Her pink orchid corsage was a gift from the groom.

The newly-weds are both graduates of the Long Prairie high school. The bride is also a graduate of the Moorhead State college where she was a member of the Phi Beta Gamma Sorority. She is an English and speech teacher and drama director of the Cambridge public high school. The groom, a member of the Airborne early warning squadron of the United States Navy, is attending the University of Minnesota. This fall they will be at home at 132-6th street, Cambridge. Photo—Johnson Photo Studio, Long Prairie.

Guests the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Johnson were Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss Nelson of Green Valley, Ariz., and David Paulson of St. Louis Park.

Deer Park Garden Club Holds Tea And Garden Tour

To mark the centennial celebration of the Minnesota State Horticultural Society, members of the Deer Park garden club, wearing costumes depicting the styles of the 18th century, met recently for a tea at the Lynn Hanson home. In place of the traditional anniversary cake, the serving table was centered with a punch bowl featuring gold floating candles.

Receiving the prize for wearing the best costume was Mrs. Bennie Svanjord. The prize was a china cup and saucer, featuring the poppy, the flower of the month.

The annual garden club tour preceded the tea. Included in the tour were the gardens at the Elvon Hamiltons, the Bennie Svanjords and the Lynn Hansons. Slides and pictures were taken of the gardens and of the members in their costumes. These will be shown at a meeting sometime during the winter.

Mrs. Svanjord, president of the club, presided at the business session.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Stan Solak and family of Chicago, Ill., and Orlando Chervestad. Members present were Mrs. Orlando Chervesiad, Mrs. Roman Radniecki, Mrs. Iolelia Peterson, Mrs. Richard Radniecki and Mrs. Jack Radniecki together with the hostesses Mrs. Elvan Hamilton, Mrs. Lynn Hanson and Mrs. Bennie Svanjord.

Bonnie Knight Is Bride Of John Douglas Stewart

Miss Bonnie Lynette Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Knight of Thief River Falls, became the bride of John Douglas Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Stewart, also of this city, in a candlelight service in Zion Lutheran church at 8 p.m. on Saturday, July 2. The Rev. Dennis Rodin, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The organist, Mrs. Leland Steen, presented a program of nuptial music before the ceremony and for the processional played "Trumpet Volunteer". The recessional was "The Wedding March". She also accompanied Miss Nadine Craig who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Song of Ruth". Spiral candelabra and baskets of white gladioli, accented with champagne colored carnations, flanked the altar graced with a matching floral arrangement. The center aisle was lighted by candelabras on the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of heavy bridal satin. Styled in regal simplicity, the gown was designed in empire fashion with a scoop neckline and elbow length trumpet sleeves enhanced with Alencon appliques. The sheath skirt featured an overskirt that swept back to form a full chapel length train. Her veil, attached to a crown of pearls, was of imported silk illusion with a hand rolled scalloped edge and had been worn previously by her sister, Nancy, at her wedding. Her bridal bouquet was of cascading white sweetheart roses, centered by a cluster of tropicanna roses, and accented with camellia foliage.

Miss Yvonne Longevan of Thief River Falls was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Judy Maxon of Denver, Colo., and Judy Kaushagen of St. Cloud. They wore identical floor-length gowns of tangerine nite-lite in empire fashion featuring trumpet sleeves and A-line skirts. An overlay of white nylon lace enhanced the bodices and sleeves. Matching blusher veils completed their attire and each carried three long stemmed champagne carnations with a large matching bow.

The groom was attended by his brother, Donald Stewart, as best man. Groomsmen were Steve Mittelstadt and Ronald Lindberg, both of Thief River Falls. Ushers were Bixby Knight of Staples, brother of the bride, and Charles Rarabeck of Minneapolis. The men of the wedding party were attired in black tuxedos with boutonnieres of champagne colored carnations.

The mother of the bride was attired in a two piece ensemble of silk crepe and chiffon with coordinating accessories. The groom's mother wore a mint green linen dress trimmed in matching green satin with corresponding accessories. Their corsages were double gold cymbidium orchids.

Special guests attending the wedding were Mrs. W. K. Knight of Thief River Falls, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart of Carrington, N. D., grandparents of the groom, and Miss Hilda Alhberg of Thief River Falls, godmother of the bride. Mrs. Knight chose a dress in a delicate shade of green for her granddaughter's wedding. Mrs. Stewart wore a pink lace dress. She was ushered in by her grandson, Scott Stewart, younger brother of the groom. All were presented corsages or boutonnieres.

A reception, given by parents of the bride, followed the ceremony with Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Johnson of this city as host and hostess. Mrs. DeAnn Knight of Staples, sister-in-law of the bride, registered the guests and Mrs. Sharon Bergsgard of Minot, N. D., served the punch.

Four heart-shaped cakes formed the foundation of the four-tiered wedding cake trimmed with champagne colored roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Arthur Conklin and Mrs. Vincent Oakey, both of Holt, Mrs. Alvin Amdahl of Warren and Mrs. Edward Langlie of Thief River Falls, aunts of the bride poured.

Waitresses were Marlyce LaValla, Deann Harms and Joyce Kriel. In charge of opening and arranging the gifts were Vonnie Finstad, Mary Langlie and Wendy Larson. All those who assisted with the reception were presented corsages of champagne colored carnations. The reception was catered by Mrs. Gil Sannes.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Denver, Colo.; Fargo, Grand Forks, Gilby and Carrington, N. D.; St. Cloud, Minneapolis, Staples, Warren, Middle River and Holt.

For travel on a wedding trip to Winnipeg, Man., Canada, the bride wore a beige two-piece knit suit trimmed in satin. Matching accessories completed her attire.

Preceding the rehearsal, the evening before the wedding, the groom's parents were hosts at a dinner at the Terrace room at the Rex Cafe. Twenty-six guests were in attendance. Showers honoring the bride were given by members of the cosmetology class and by Mrs. Eugene Sjoberg.

The newly-weds are graduates of Lincoln high school. The bride is also a graduate of the cosmetology department of the Thief River Falls area vocational technical school. The groom, a graduate of the Minneapolis Drafting school, is employed by Hustad Steel company in Minneapolis.

Fred Peterson of Holt Honored On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson of Holt were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, August 7, at an open house celebration at the Nazareth Lutheran church at Holt.

Marian Augustine was in charge of the program which opened with the group singing "Blest Be The Tie that Binds", accompanied by Kaydell Henning, a granddaughter, who played the trumpet and Daryl Augustine, a newphew, playing the electric organ. They also played a special instrumental selection later in the program.

Nellie Saastad Burns, sister of Mrs. Peterson, led in scripture reading and prayer and Mrs. Ivan Johnson, a granddaughter, gave a reading. A summary of events in the lives of the honored couple was given by Mrs. Hermia Doran, a sister of Mrs. Peterson, and vocal solos included "Count Your Blessings" by JoAnn Nygard, a granddaughter, and "O That the Lord Would Guide My Ways" by Marvin Sandberg.

An expression of appreciation to those attending together with a tribute to the honored guests was given by daughters of the couple, Mrs. Eddie (Cleo) Henning of Middle River and Mrs. Sig (Fern) Nygard of Ogema. Following the presentation of the gifts from the group by Jerome Henning, the couple responded with thanks. The program concluded with a prayer and the benediction by Rev. Kenneth Kramer and the singing of the table prayer.

Approximately 150 guests attended the reception that followed. Bouquets of sweet peas and red gladioli, gifts from Mrs. Carl Surmo, a cousin and Mrs. Ben Lardy, graced the tables. The serving table was centered by a three-tiered anniversary cake, trimmed with gold colored roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Selma Sauerbrey and Mrs. Ruth Saastad, sisters of Mrs. Peterson, while Mrs. Alfred Larson, sister of Mr. Peterson and Mrs. Olga Maruska, sister of Mrs. Peterson, poured. Granddaughters, Mrs. Jerome Henning, Jeanette Johnson, Kaydell Henning and JoAnn Nygard, registered the guests and assisted at the gift table. Mrs. Barbara Moe and Mary Ann Maruska, nieces, were waitresses and those who assisted in the kitchen were Mrs. Tony Peterson, Mrs. Herman Peterson, Mrs. Marian Augustine and Mrs. Art Lunke, sister-in-law and nieces of the couple.

The cake was a gift from the daughters and their husbands as were the carnation boutonniere and corsage of yellow roses worn by Mr. and Mrs. Peterson. White carnation boutonnieres were worn by the grandsons, Jerome Henning and Kendall Nygard, who served as ushers.

The basket of yellow mums and carnations on the altar was a gift from the brothers and sisters of Mrs. Peterson, who were in attendance and were together for the first time in 22 years. They were Mrs. Nellie Burns and Ruth Saastad of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Olga Maruska and Mrs. Selma Sauerbrey of St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. (Hermia) Doran of South St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Chris Saustad of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Saastad of Vergas.

Mr. Peterson's sister and brothers and families attending were Mrs. Alfred Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Peterson of Middle River; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Peterson of Newfolden and Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmer Peterson of Thief River Falls.

With the exception of Seaman Jon Nygard of the U. S. Navy, stationed in San Francisco, Calif., all the grandchildren were in attendance. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Johnson and Cecily Kay of Mahnomen; Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Henning and Kaydell Henning of Middle River and JoAnn and Kendall Nygard of Dilworth.

Other relatives attending were Susan and Jane Maruska of Anoka; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sauerbrey of St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sagstume of Grand Forks, N. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dahlman of Alvarado; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rosenthal of Lakewood, Calif.; Chris Saastad of Middle River and Oscar Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Art Lunke, Mr. and Mrs. Marian Augustine and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Olson of Holt;

Also Mr. and Mrs. Philip Larson, Mike and Timmy and Mary Ann Maruska of Minneapolis; Bruce Saustad, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Peterson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Magnuson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Larson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Surmo, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Larson and Chester, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Larson and Mrs. Rose Fluke, all of Thief River Falls.

Mr. Peterson's sister, Mrs. Carrie Peterson Werner of Pontiac, Mich., who served as bridesmaid 50 years ago, was unable to attend as planned, due to illness.

25th Anniversary Observed By The C. Westmans

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the Bethlehem Lutheran church at Newfolden on Sunday afternoon, July 31, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Westman on their 25th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Emil Dyrud, organist, played a program of appropriate selections and as the honored couple was ushered into the church by Oscar Amundson, she played "O Perfect Love". The welcome was given by Mrs. Amundson, president of the ALCW, and scripture reading and prayer was led by Lowell Hagberg.

Byron Westman was in charge of the program that included the devotional message by Rev. Loren Nielson; a reading by Mrs. Russell McCullough and an original poem, relating incidents in the lives of the couple, read by Mrs. Harry Donarski and composed by Mrs. Donarski and Mrs. Gilmon Stennes.

Musical selections included solos, "Great Is Thy Faithfulness" by Mrs. Gilman Stennes and "Precious Lord Take My Hand" and "A Tribute To Mom and Dad" by Lyle Westman. The assembled guests sang "O Happy Home" and "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee".

Hilmer Lind presented the honored couple with the gifts from those attending after which they responded with words of appreciation. "The Lord's Prayer" and the table grace concluded the program.

A reception followed with Mrs. Peter Tunberg as hostess. Mrs. Olger Green of Thief River Falls presided at the guest book, a gift from the children as were the corsages of roses and carnation boutonnieres.

Mrs. Ben Nelson and Gladys Westman cut and served the anniversary cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Oscar Amundson. Mrs. Gilman Stennes of Strandquist and Mrs. Harry Donarski of Thief River Falls, poured. Ushers were Oscar Amundson and Ben Nelson. Members of Group Four of the Bethlehem LCW served the reception with Mrs. Harry Shern and Mrs. Vernon Swan in charge.

MRS. ALBERT BALVIN
944 Duluth Avenue North

Almost everyone makes lettuce salads throughout the year and with each type of dressing available a change in salads is easily achieved. However there are those who make their own dressings in perference to buying them, either for economical reasons or because they prefer the taste.

Mrs. Albert Balvin, who submitted today's recipe for 1,000 Island dressing, says that her family prefers the taste of this dressing to any known brand. When stored, covered, in a refrigerator, it keeps very well.

1,000 ISLAND DRESSING

1½ cup salad dressing
One-Third cup cooking oil
½ teaspoon grated onion
½ cup vinegar
1 cap tomato soup
3 tablespoons catsup
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teasPoon salt
½ cup sugar
¼ cup chopped sweet pickles

Method: Mix in order given. Beat well. Pour into a jar, cover and store in refrigerator. Makes over a quart.

The Balvins have lived in Thief River Falls for the past 30 years. They have two daughters, both married, and six grandchildren. One daughter lives in Anoka and the other at New London.

Mrs. Balvin lists sewing and embroidering as her favorite hobbies. She is a member of a circle at Trinity Lutheran church, where she and her husband attend services.

Mr. Balvin is engaged in the used implement business in this city.

Gov. Rolvaag Opens Candidate Series Thursday

of natural resources and stated that Minnesota has become a leader in conservation. He also commented on his program of more employees and greater financial assistance in the field of mental retardation.

Tax reform is needed, the governor noted, but he believes a sales tax to be a regressive tax. He advocates a reduction of personal property taxes by 50 per cent on farm livestock and machinery and retail inventories, as well as a reduction of 50 per cent in personal property and real estate taxes for senior citizens.

This year the state government will end the year with a surplus of $163 million, Gov. Rolvaag said.

He said he planned to continue to pursue the programs outlined since "there is much to do in development of our human and natural resources in Minnesota."

The governor responded to questions written by persons in attendance and phrased by Donald L. Olson, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce legislative committee and master of ceremonies for the program.

In answer to a question of replacement of revenue lost through reduction of personal property taxes, the governor noted that the state received $29 million of the $600 million paid in personal property taxes last year. The balance goes to school districts, counties, townships and municipalities. He said his tax program would provide for replacement of taxes lost to local government.

He also said that he can give no assurance that loss of rural representation will cease, as long as the metropolitan areas continue to grow in population. Rather, he said, he believes the legislature is too large and should be reduced by approximately 50 per cent to be a more effective legislative body.

Gov. Rolvaag concluded by stating he believes the DFL primary battle will have no long-lasting effect on the party. An intense campaign brings new blood into the party, he said. "The end result of cats fighting in an alley," he said, "is always more cats."

Hearings Close On Milk Market Order in Fargo

He offered this alternative rather than lowering the prices in this area, which would affect more than 1,600 producers in the Red River Valley area pool.

Foremost operates a dairy in Mandan, N. D.

The week-long hearing came to a close Friday at North Dakota State university after completion of several routine definitions in the proposed order. Items covered Friday included procedures on payment for milk, administration expense, termination of obligations and miscellaneous provisions.

Hearing officer Jack Brian ordered that briefs must be filed by October 31 with the Hearing Clerk in Washington, D. C.

From this a recommended decision will come, after which more amendments may be filed. Then the Secretary of Agriculture will make a final decision on the order provisions, after which producers will vote on the proposal. A two-thirds affirmative vote will be needed to effect the order.

The hearings proceeded in an orderly fashion throughout the week, with the largest turnout of dairy farmers on the first day, Monday. The remaining four days those present were limited mostly to officials actively involved with the hearing process.

of the other elementary schools in the Thief River Falls system. Control groups and experimental groups will be compared by using the grade equivalent scores and percentile ranks in the 1965 edition of the Iowa Basic Skills Test given each spring.

While the program of departmentalized instruction in elementary grades is not new in the nation or Minnesota, it is new to the local school system, Swenson said. Parents with questions on the program may contact him at the Knox office (681-1257), but the program will be given full coverage at an early PTA meeting.

UFO Sightings Reported Tuesday

Sighting of an unidentified flying object Tuesday night was reported by a number of persons throughout the state of Minnesota, including several from Thief River Falls.

One witness, who prefers to remain anonymous, reported seeing the object while driving north out of the city. The strange object was round in shape, she said, and changed in color from red to blue-green. It hovered high above the ground for a time, then took off and left a trail similar in color to the Northern Lights.

Bennie Miramontes, night police patrolman, also reported sighting the object. A number of sightings were reported on television newscasts Tuesday night.

CANOPY for the table at the Falls Activity Center for retarded children was purchased with funds raised by Girl Scout Troop 87. The girls raised the money by manning ticket sales booths at the Pennington county fair. Twenty-four girls worked each day—eight girls for three four-hour shifts. Two or more mothers made the rounds among ticket booths during each shift as supervisors. The girls were contacted for the job by a member of the state crime bureau. They received a bonus from the fair association for their excellent work. Scouts representing the troop, seated at each side of the group, are Dianne Olson and Janet Bedard, left, and Jeneen Sagmoen and Lois Olson. The others are participants in the activity center. Hartz Truck, G.N. Engine Collide At Crossing Wed.

A truck - train collision occurred Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the intersection of the Great Northern tracks with Knight avenue, it was reported today by the Thief River Falls police department.

A switch engine was proceeding west in reverse. The truck, owned by L. B. Hartz and driven by Herbert Olson, rt. 2 Red Lake Falls, waited until the train passed the intersection and then started to back into an alley. To maneuver the semi-trailer properly, it was necessary to drive the cab over the tracks.

The switch engine started forward and struck the front of the truck. The truck driver and engineer were on opposite sides of their respective vehicles and could not see one another. The truck was damaged to the extent of about $400.

A juvenile shoplifter, aged nine, was apprehended by personnel of a local store Wednesday. Two more, one aged 10 and the other 11, were apprehended by store personnel Thursday. All were turned over to police for questioning and released to their parents.

Wednesday at 9 p.m. a local service station reported the larceny of $15 from its cash register. A juvenile boy, aged 14, was apprehended and admitted the theft. He was a provisional discharge from the state training school at Owatonna, and was returned there.

Thursday night two incidents were reported in which golf balls were set on fire and placed on porches.

PUBLIC OPINION

To The Editor:

Your newspaper may be one of the better out-state publications in Minnesota, your editorial page generally is interesting and courageous. But the Times is not the gospel. It is not the final word, even though its smug editors may think so.

The "holier than though" (sic) attitude expressed in the Aug. 8 editorial, "Cranks Rise Again," did nothing but tarnish the good name the Times has built up.

Your egotistical editorial harshly condemned anyone who favors firearm control legislation. You labeled them "cranks." Just what the gell (sic) makes you think you are so superior to persons who disagree with your line of thinking?

As a newspaperman myself I can appreciate probably more than most the great right editors have in presenting their views. I applaud editors who use that right, those who are courageous.

But it makes my stomach sick when an editor stoops to such low standards in presenting its view.

I do not agree with your position on firearm control, but I do not consider myself a "crank". How can you label the President of the United States a "crank," or Senator Dodd, or the large number of responsible Congressmen and laymen just because they favor a means to control in some way the dangerous firearms from falling into hands of persons who should not have them?

I saw on CBS-TV the other night a southern Congressman who says the National Rifle Association, of which the Congressman is a member, is wrong in opposing firearms control legislation. You would call him a "crank."

I enjoy hunting. I own a powerful deer rifle and two shotguns. But I strongly favor a means of controlling guns so that the real "cranks" in our society do not get their hands on them and shoot me or one of my loved ones.

Surely with firearms control legislation the persons who are responsible enough to have a gun will still have one.

I think that registration of firearms should be introduced and used the same as registration of automobiles. I know the right to bear arms is written in the Constitution, but our Constitution is a living one one that can and should be changed with the times.

The Times is a good newspaper and I enjoy reading your views, probably more so than those in most other newspapers. But please don't again call people "cranks" just because they don't agree with you, and don't call legislators "stupid" for the same reason.

There are two sides to every issue.

Campaign on Speeders Shifts To High Gear

Efforts by Thief River Falls police to apprehend speeders and other violators of traffic laws have been stepped up as the opening of the school term approaches, Police Chief Elton Cummings said today.

Twenty speeders have been tagged in the past several days, largely with the aid of radar, Cummings said. He pointed out that most of those apprehended have not been juvenile "hot-rodders," but responsible citizens whose offenses were committed in a moment of carelessness. The campaign against violators of speed laws will continue in an effort to make streets safe for school children, he said.

790 Marshall County Farms Use ACP Funds

Altogether, 790 farms in Marshall county were improved and their resources conserved through practices carried out under the Agricultural Conservation program during the 12 months ending June 30, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. These farms comprise about 53,355.4 acres of farmland.

Throughout the country, about a million farms took part in ACP last year. Under the Agricultural Conservation program for the past year, conservation measures on county farms represented a total investment of around $189,442. ACP cost-sharing accounted for about half this amount, and farmers matched the public investment with their own resources.

Since similar investments were made through ACP and by farmers in all of the nation's agricultural counties, the people of America benefited from a half-billion dollars' worth of ACP conservation work.

Program practices completed on participating farms in the county included:

A-2 Permanent cover to protect soil or adjust land use: 260 farms, cost-share-$27,951.

A-3 Additional acreages of cover in crop rotation; 115 farms, cost-share-$14,934.

A-8 Trees or shrubs planted to prevent erosion; 40 farms, cost-share-$2,055.

B-1 Improvement of cover for soil protection; four farms, cost-share-$397.

B-7 Reservoirs for livestock water for soil protection; six farms, cost-share $1,708.

C-2 Permanent cover on dams and other problem areas; three farms, cost-share $95.

C-7 Mechanical protection of inlets or outlets; one farm, cost-share $175.

E-1 Stubble mulching for permeability and erosion control; 336 farms, cost-share-$15,641.

G-1 Permanent cover, trees or shrubs for wildlife; five farms, cost-share-$120.

The ACP for 1966—the 31st program year—is now well under way, and most farmers who intend carrying out needed conservation measures on their farms this year have already arranged for ACP cost-sharing to help expand soil, water, woodland and wildlife conservation work. The chairman said that where a farmer plans such conservation measures as E-1, D-1 and F-1-e the practices should be installed during the next few months.

NFO Officials Visit Washington

Guy Lewis, 7th District National Farmers Organization chairman, and Ernest Stock and Mrs. Willis McEllain farmers and NFO members from Mahnomen and Traverse counties, returned recently from Washington, D.C., where NFO leaders from 25 states talked with senators and representatives about farm legislation now in Congress.

Target for grass-roots counsel for the lawmakers was the REA financing bill, stalled in house committee. Briefly, the bill that brought NFO members to Capitol Hill calls for a new financing structure for REA very similar to the land banks now in existence. The measure thus provides for supplemental financing beyond the two per cent government loans and paves the way for meeting future money needs for cooperatives through their own banks.

Dr. Leon Keyserling, formerly head of the council of economic advisors under President Truman, called for farmers to "find their allies," which he said comprised 60 per cent of the American people. "The farmer is being treated so miserably because we live in a rigged economy. The only way back is to change the rigging—and this makes it a matter of plain democracy and economic morality."

Keyserling warned the NFO members that the economic policies now being pursued will lead to a depression if they are not changed at once. He said, "Agriculture needs collective bargaining. Collective bargaining by producers of farm commodities may ultimately be the only sound approach by the farmer."

Canada Thisles May Be Killed After Harvest

If Canada thistles infest large portions of small grain fields, plan to control thistle regrowth after harvest with tillage or chemical methods.

Gerald Miller, University of Minnesota extension agronomist, says plows and field cultivators with sweep shovels work best for tillage control. Destroy thistle topgrowth whenever it gets two or three inches high. This depletes the roots' food supply and eventually kills thistles.

You can also apply 2,4-D or low rates of dicamba to reduce thistle stands, but avoid drifting these chemicals onto susceptible crops, such as soybeans or legumes. Wait at least two weeks before plowing or tilling treated fields.

For more details on Canada thistle control, read Extension Bulletin 329. Copies are available from your county agent, or write to the Bulletin Room, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101.

Three from City Receive Graduate Degrees from "U"

Three University of Minnesota students from Thief River Falls received advanced degrees at summer commencement exercises held Friday afternoon on the mall in front of Northrop Memorial auditorium. They were among approximately 700 students who received degrees.

Lois Ann Lund received a doctor of philosophy degree with a major in home economics and a minor in agricultural economics. She received a bachelor of science degree with distinction in 1949 from the university and a master of science degree in 1954. Her thesis was "An Eclectic Approach to the Study of Children's Consumer Behavior Relative to Food."

Master of science degrees were awarded to Emil Victor Magnuson and Wayne A. Meisner. Magnuson, whose field of concentration was industrial education, received his bachelor of science degree from the university in 1959. Meisner received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Colorado in 1958 and another from U of M in 1961. His field of concentration was curriculum an instruction.

William G. Shepherd university vice president for academic administration, confered the degrees. Hugh D. Galusha Jr., president, Federal Reserve Bank, Minneapolis was the commencement speaker. He spoke on "The Unlearning Process."

Improvement Made On Conservation Building at Fair

Finishing touches are being put on a complete renovation and expansion of the Minnesota conservation department's rustic log state fair building, it was announced today.

Greatly expanded "live exhibit" areas have been provided for the game and fish displays. New and smartly designed display area is also available to the four other major departmental divisions: lands and minerals, forestry, state parks and waters.

Expected to catch the fair goer's fancy is the new, 54-foot high "walk-up" forest fire lookout tower adjacent to the conservation building. From the top of this tower, visitors may get the forest ranger's slant on fire control.

Robert Herbst, acting conservation commissioner, credited department architect Harold Raak with creating a plan which vastly enhances the opportunities for showing Minnesota residents the dynamic programs which have been implemented in the management of our natural resources.

"Equally significant," he said, "is the fact that the remodeling program was undertaken at minimum expense. The talents of department personnel were utilized to the fullest, and the fair board gave us most outstanding cooperation."

The general public will have its first opportunity to inspect the conservation headquarters face-lifting on Saturday, opening day of the 10-day state fair.

Fire Plan Maps Made Available To State Hunters

Several new fire plan maps, used extensively by sportsmen as well as foresters, will be available before the fall hunting season, according to a report from the Minnesota conservation department.

Each map covers one township, an area of 23,000 acres. All roads, lakes, streams, buildings, trails, railroad grades, ponds and other details including the location of telephone and transmission lines are shown.

Maps are now available for most of the forested area of the state over which the conservation department's forestry division is responsible for fire protection.

The maps were made from aerial photos under forestry division supervision. They can be obtained from the State Documents Section, Centennial Building, St. Paul.

Price of each map is 25 cents but orders must be for a minimum of $1. Township and range numbers must be specified when ordering.

Keith Proposes Rural Assistance Program in State

Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith today proposed a "community assistance program" under which state government would help bring new employment opportunities to rural Minnesota. Keith, the DFL-endorsed candidate for governor, urged the creation of a new state agency for rural development which he said would administer the program.

The new agency, Keith said, would become part of the department of business development, but its primary activities would be located in a number of regional offices, probably one in each of the five out-state congressional districts.

He explained the regional offices would provide technical and financial assistance to localities anxious to attract new industries, working closely with local chambers of commerce and farm, labor, and community leaders.

"The new agency would not only coordinate local and regional efforts to bring in new employers," Keith said, "but in many areas it would provide the spark and the professional know-how to get some kind of effort started for the first time."

Keith said the proposed agency would work closely with the agricultural extension service, the economic development administration, and the regional offices of the department of employment security.

"There is an urgent need to provide diversified employment opportunities for rural areas, and in my judgment the state is not doing nearly enough to meet the problem," he said.

Last Hay Crop Should Be Cut Before Aug. 31

Make plans now to take the last cutting of alfalfa by August 31. This practice can be an important factor in helping avoid winterkill because plants will have more time to build up food reserves before winter, according to Terry Cournoyu, Pennington county agricultural agent.

James Justin, extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota, points out that any harvesting or grazing of alfalfa during September or early October increases the chance of winterkill.

He explains that after cutting, the alfalfa plant starts regrowth from food stored in the crown and roots. If farmers stop cutting by the end of August, the plant can usually make enough growth before freezing to rebuild food reserves for the following spring.

If last cut is made in September or early October, the plant will use food reserves to start regrowth. However, growth is likely to stop while reserves are low, preventing the plant from replenishing reserves sufficiently, and alfalfa will have a poor chance getting started next spring.

Justin says one alternative is to take the final harvest about mid-October, but this practice won't leave any stubble to catch snow. The snow acts as an effective insulator to keep temperature more constant within the plant crowns, thus reducing the actual amount of freezing within the crowns.

Adequate fertility levels will also help insure alfalfa against winterkill, Justin says.

Trail Youth Is Named to FU Advisory Council

Michael Radniecki of Trail is among five young people chosen from 11 states represented at the National Farmers Union Allstates camp to serve a one-year term on the National Farmers Union advisory council. He has participated in Farmers Union youth work for five years and has also been active in 4-H work, winning many county, state and national awards.

Also attending the camp, held in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado, from Pennington county were Beverly, Emily and Sandra Nelson of Thief River Falls and Linda Swanson of Goodridge. They attended through a scholarship given by the Minnesota Farmers Union. A total of 43 FU youth attended the camp.

Melvin Stone Is Awarded Masters Degree from UND

Melvin LeRoy Stone of Thief River Falls was among the more than 300 students who received degrees at summer commencement exercises Saturday, August 13, at the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks. He received a master of arts degree.

Classes for the fall semester of UND's 84th year are slated to begin September 15, following about two weeks of pre-class activity which includes faculty meetings, orientation sessions and registration.

$192,894,292 Asked By State Institutions

Requests totaling $192,894,292 for capital improvements at all state institutions during the next biennium have been presented to the Minnesota legislative building commission, according to Roland E. Olson, executive secretary.

The proposed building program, largest requested for any biennium in state history, will undergo careful review by the commission and its final judgment — a comprehensive, detailed report — will be submitted to the 1967 state legislature.

Current building requests, Olson said, exceed those of 1965 by $50 million. The requests for that year, $142,309,767, were cut by the building commission to $64,110,754. This figure included anticipated federal grants. The 1965 Legislature approved total expenditures of $60,903,804 plus anticipated federal grants.

Requests for higher education institutions total $159,685,260 this year, compared with $92,468,483 two years ago. State colleges have asked for $76,139,993 this year, against $35,658,300 in 1965. The University of Minnesota increases its 1965 request of $48,560,183 to $71,045,267 for this year. State junior colleges seek an estimated $12,500,000 from the 1967 session, compared with $8,250,000 asked from the 1965 session.

Requests from mental institutions amount to $6,740,829; from children's institutions, $8,279,445; from youth correctional institutions, $2,430,618; from adult correctional institutions, $4,570,618; other state departments such as highways, conservation and administration have requested a combined total of $11,187,640.

Olson said that since August 12, 1965, the legislative building commission has conducted 46 days of meetings. These have been held throughout the state at the various institutions. Documented background information and building requests have been reviewed and discussed item by item at each institution. The commission also inspected all installations for concentrated, on-the-site study. Members walked a good many miles, climbed ladders, inspected attics and floorless basements, missing nothing that was in need of repair or replacement.

"While there still is much to be accomplished under the state building program," Olson continued, "the commission members were impressed with the buildings that have been completed since 1955 when the commission was created to arrange an orderly 10 year capital improvement program."

To complete its report to the 1967 legislative session, the commission will be meeting another 12 to 14 days between now and the first of the year.

Ten legislators, appointed on a non-partisan basis, comprise the commission. State Senator Harold R. Popp of Hutchinson is chairman. Other senators are William C. F. Heuer, Bertha; P. J. Holand, Austin; Lew W. Larson, Mabel; and John L. Olson, Worthington.

Commission members receive no extra compensation for their efforts, but are reimbursed for actual mileage traveled, lodging and meals, Olson said.

Ellingson Named Insurance Firm's Top Counselor

Morgan Ellingson of Thief River Falls has been selected as Fraternal Insurance Counselor of the year for Modern Woodmen of America, based on outstanding performance in 1965. He topped all FIC candidates in the Modern Woodmen organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellingson Julie and Jimmy recently returned from Pittsburgh, Pa., where Ellingson attended the legal reserve fraternal life insurance society's national agency sales conference and 30th national convention. He earned the trip on the basis of "production, high quality business, strict ethical standards and studies of the life insurance profession." He has received the "Million Club" designation in 1964 and 1965.

Theatre Group To Plan New Play

Thief River Falls Community Theatre association will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Thief River Falls city auditorium. Discussion will be held on the group's third play, "Bell, Book and Candle", which will be directed by Richard Norquist of Oklee.

Among items to be considered at the meeting will be a date for auditions and assignment of committees for the production. All persons interested are invited to attend. The production is tentatively scheduled for late September or early October.

39 Undesirable Wheat Varieties On ASC Listing

List of undesirable varieties of wheat for discount under the 1967 crop wheat price-support program includes the same 39 varieties that were discounted for 1966, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. Such varieties will not be eligible for premiums and will be discounted 20 cents per bushel in the price-support loan and purchase rate for 1967 crop wheat.

As last year, the undesirable varieties are designated nationally except for Cache and Wasatch (undesirable except in Utah and Idaho) and Gaines (undesirable when grown east of the Continental Divide). The wheats are listed as undesirable because of inferior milling or baking qualities. Varieties named as undesirable for the 1967 wheat support program include:

Hard Red Winter—Blue Jacket, Cache, Chiefkan, Cimarron, Early Blackhull, Kanking, Kharkof MC22, New Chief, Pawnee Sel. 33, Purkof, Red Chief, Red Hull, Red Jacket, Stafford, Wasatch and Yogo.

Durum — Golden Ball, Pelles and Pentad.

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

Ted Hoversteh field representative of the Social Security district office in Grand Forks, North Dakota, will be in Thief River Falls at the city auditorium on Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Most MDTA Trainees Now Among Employed

Minnesota department of employment security reported today that 81 per cent of the trainees who have been graduated in Minnesota under the manpower development and training act program (MDTA) and who are still in the labor force, are now working.

Robert J. Brown, commissioner, noted that 78 per cent of them are engaged in occupations related to the type of training they received. Among these courses was a clerk-typist course held in Thief River Falls area vocational - technical school last year.

Since the start of the program in late 1962, through June of this year, approval has been granted to train 12,294 applicants in 182 occupations, in 488 classroom or on-the-job training projects. Since June 30, approval has been received for another 618 trainees, bringing the total trained or about to be trained to almost 13,000 according to Brown.

Applicants selected for MDTA training courses are either unemployed or under-employed, Brown said. Trainees are referred on the basis of aptitudes and interest to courses designed to fill openings for which a need has been found in the community or the state. The courses are set up by the state department of education after they have been approved by the bureau of employment security, U. S. department of labor; and the office of education, U. S. department of health, education and welfare.

Trainees enter the courses unskilled or with skills for which there is no longer demand, Brown pointed out. They emerge as graduates with skills for which there exist labor shortages. Although job obtainment varies with the trainee's abilities, most are employed within a short time after completing training. In other cases, employment is waiting for them even before they complete training.

The impact of MDTA is demonstrated by some of the characteristics of the trainees, Brown added. Thirty-nine per cent have less than a high school education. Forty per cent have been unemployed for more than 15 weeks (17 per cent for more than a year).

Fifteen per cent were receiving unemployment compensation, and another 10 per cent were receiving public assistance at the time they enrolled for training. More than half the trainees are heads of households.

"The aim of MDTA is to help persons develop skills which not only make them more employable, but raise them on the job scale by more productive use of their own talents," Brown said. "When they join the labor force, they not only become taxpaying, self-sustaining citizens, but because they have increased self-respect, they contribute to their communities in many other valuable ways. They begin taking on new responsibilities."

Trainees may receive living and housing allowances, travel expenses, and free tuition. Higher subsistence allowances are provided for heads of households.

Information on courses which are available through MDTA is available from any of the state employment service offices or youth opportunity centers. The office for the local area is located at Thief River Falls.

Karen Ferber Is Member of 1966 All State Choir

Karen Ferber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Ferber of Thief River Falls, spent five days at Bemidji State college during the all state high school choir and all state high school band summer camp. She was a member of the all state choir, which performed with the band in concert Sunday, July 31. Miss Ferber will be a senior at Lincoln high school this fall.

Mrs. Roger Kilen of Gatzke is shown accepting a $100 check from Modern Woodmen of America Director and Agency Manager Ray F. Selken of Minneapolis, right, on behalf of her sister, Carolyn K. Anderson; the check was the first installment of the legal reserve fraternal life insurance society's Orphan Benefit. Mrs. Kilen is Carolyn's legal guardian.

Also participating in the presentation ceremonies at the Kilen home was Morgan J. Ellingson, left Thief River Falls. As Modern Woodmen of America District Representative fo this area, Mr. Ellingson has served as liaison between the Modern Woodmen home office in Rock Island, Illinois, and Gatzke throughout the processing of Carolyn's Orphan Benefit application.

Through this Orphan Benefit, Mrs. Kilen will receive $100 on the first of each month until Carolyn, now age 15, reaches the age of 19, or until she marries or becomes self-suppoting, or until she begins the Modern Woodmen Orphan Benefit college scholarship plan.

If Carolyn is accepted by an accredited college or university, she may make application to the society for this college scholarship plan. When her application is formally approved by the Modern Woodmen Board of Directors, she will receive a scholarship for tuition and maintenance up to, but not exceeding, $7,200, which shall be paid for benefit in periodic payments not exceeding $1,800 for any school year.

Thus, Mr. Selken and Mr. Ellingson explained, Carolyn's four-year college education will be assured, so long as she maintains suitable standards of scholastic progress.

Carolyn Anderson became orphaned May 9, 1966, when pneumonia took the life of her father, Ernest. Her mother, Ellen, passed away September 18, 1965.

More Than 3,000 4-H Members Attend Fair

More than 3,000 4-H boys and girls, ranging in age from 11 to 19, are busy putting the final touches on demonstrations and exhibits they will bring to this year's Minnesota state fair.

The state fair means the climax of many of their year's activities. The 3,000 young people have won county honors which entitle them to compete for further awards at the state level, according to Leonard Harkness, state 4-H club leader at the University of Minnesota and superintendent of 4-H activities at the state fair.

During the event-filled 10 days Aug. 27 - Sept. 5, they will demonstrate, model clothing, display exhibits, show or judge livestock, perform in a talent festival and compete in a tractor operators' contest. The 4-H building on the state fair grounds will be the center of their activities.

Demonstrations will begin on seven platforms on the main floor of the 4-H building at 8 a.m. Saturday. The 800 demonstrators will cover topics ranging from food and nutrition to conservation and electrification. Demonstrations will continue throughout each day except Sunday. On Labor Day demonstrations using live animals will be given in the livestock and sheep barns. Purple and blue ribbon winners will be announced daily.

An educational program for approximately 800 project exhibitors is scheduled for Monday, August 29. Their sessions will include an evaluation of exhibits and a review of factors considered in judging exhibits.

More than 200 county dress review winners will model in three public dress revues held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 30, 31, September 1, at 3 p.m. on the second floor of the 4-H building. A court of honor will be selected for each of three revues.

Thursday, September 1, at 8 p.m. the share-the-fun festival in the 4-H auditorium will feature a variety of entertainment acts by 4-H members selected from auditions at district events throughout the state. Talented 4-H'ers from 18 counties will be represented.

Some 1,300 club members will exhibit in the 4-H livestock show on the last Saturday of the fair, following the open class livestock show. All 4-H livestock and poultry exhibits will be in place and open to the public by Friday, September 2, at 2 p.m. Included in this year's exhibits are 730 dairy cattle, 150 gilts, 120 ewe lambs, 130 beef heifers, 150 pens of poultry and 50 pens of rabbits.

4-H'ers and FFA members will show their skill in the state tractor operators' contest to be held on Machinery Hill September 1, at 8 a.m.

On the main floor of the 4-H building 80 county booths and 1,200 exhibits will highlight work the 4-H members are doing in a variety of projects.

Special guests of 4-H members during the fair will be six International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) delegates from Norway, Germany, the Netherlands, India, Peru and Venezuela who have been living on Minnesota farms since August 6. They will be made members of the 4-H club at a special ceremony.

The public is invited to view demonstrations, exhibits, the dress revue, livestock show and the share-the-fun festival.

Correction

In the obituary of Mrs. Ogla Foss, mother of Ray Bren of this city, the name of one daughter, Mrs. Sanford Goplin of Warren was inadvertently omitted. In the mechanical commission of one line, the obituary read as though Mrs. Bren was a daughter. The Times is sorry for this error.

Wool Growers in Marshall County Receive $27,549

Payments to Marshall county producers under the 1965 national wool program now are virtually completed, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Such payments in the county, as of August 18, amounted to $27,549.30. Throughout the country, payments on 1965 marketings under the National Wool Act, through May 31, amounted to about $35 million. Of this, about $27 million was on shorn wool, $6 million on unshorn lambs and $2 million on mohair.

Each grower's shorn wool payment is determined by multiplying his dollar return from the sale of wool (less marketing charges) by the payment rate of 31.6 per cent (for 1965). This is the percentage necessary to bring producers' 1965 sales returns up to the announced support level of 62 cents a pound. The percentage method of payment is designed to encourage growers to improve the quality and marketing of their wool. Under this method, the grower who gets the best possible price for his wool also gets a higher incentive payment.

Lamb payments are made under the program to encourage the normal marketing of lambs with the wool on and to prevent unusual shearing of lambs. The unshorn lamb payment rate for 1965 is 60 cents a hundredweight. The payment rate on mohair is 9.9 per cent of the return each grower received from the sale of mohair, based on a difference of 6.5 cents between the support price of 72 cents and average price of 65.5 cents a pound received by growers.

The chairman also reminded growers of the continuing need to keep complete records on their sales of wool and lambs and to report their purchases of unshorn lambs when filing applications for program payments. Where lambs have been owned by more than one producer, the program payment is pro-rated among the various owners.

For 1966, the support price for shorn wool is 65 cents a pound, three cents a pound higher than the support price for 1965. The 1966 support price for mohair is 75.8 cents a pound, 3.8 cents a pound higher than the 1965 support price.

Local Girl Gets M.A. Degree from Michigan "U"

Ellen M. Zenner of Thief River Falls received a master of arts degree from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Friday, August 12, at the university's Waldo stadium. She was among more than 2,000 students who received degrees at the ceremonies, including 597 master's degrees and over 1,420 bachelor's degrees.

Dr. Maurice F. Seay, associate dean of the school of education at Michigan State University, gave the commencement address, entitled "A New Dependence upon Social Sciences." A former chairman of the Education department of the University of Chicago, Dr. Seay was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree by Western Michigan University during the program.

Peace Camp Band Wins World Music Festival Medal

Miss Jodi Martin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Martin of Thief River Falls, will return next week to Bismarck, N. D., from a tour of Europe with the European tour band and choir of the International Peace Camp at the International Peace Garden in North Dakota.

Miss Martin informed her parents by letter recently that the Peace Camp band had gained first place among 250 bands from throughout the world at the Fifth Annual World Music Festival held in Kerkrade Holland. The band received a gold medal and a scroll for its efforts.

Jodi left on the tour July 25 and has visited a number of European countries. She will be attending Lincoln senior high school upon her return this fall.

Airman Third Class Rodney K. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hoffman of Goodridge, has been graduated with honors at Chanute AFB, Ill., from the training course for U. S. Air Force aircraft instrument repairmen.

Airman Hoffman, a 1964 graduate of Goodridge high school, attended Moorhead State college. He is being assigned to Luke AFB, Ariz., for duty with the Tactical Air Command.

New Conservation Dep't. Booklet Now Published

A new, colorful and well-illustrated publication on how hunting, fishing and trapping license dollars were put to use in 1965 will be ready for distribution this month, according to Governor Karl F. Rolvaag.

The 24-page magazine - style booklet was prepared by the department of conservation. This is the first time the department has had funds to print a publication of this type.

"We face an urgent challenge and need for informing the public of the conservation work being done in Minnesota. The conservation department is to be congratulated on the job done on this publication," said the Governor. "It represents the type of literature that can be available to the public if sufficient funds are provided."

Governor Rolvaag said that he would encourage the next legislature to meet the needs of an expanded conservation education and information program.

The booklet briefly relates accomplishments such as the acquisition of wetlands, public access sites and northern pike spawning areas and pinpoints major development and management projects. Law enforcement activities and major research projects also are covered.

The brief summary of work accomplished in 1965 emphasizes the extensive programs and projects carried out to maintain game and fish resources, according to Ted Shields, director of the department's game and fish division.

"We have a limited supply of these booklets," said Shields, "and it is hoped that each copy will be shared by many. We want to make the best use of what we have."

Copies may be obtained by contacting local conservation employees or by writing directly to the Minnesota Department of Conservation's Game and Fish Division, Centennial Office Building, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

Cold Rain Slows Harvest in Area

Barring an unforeseen change in the weather, it appears that summer is over in northern Minnesota. Days have been growing progressively cooler lately; Sunday's high was only 58 degrees. Cold rain and drizzle, steady for hours at a time, has made the early harvest outlook bleak. A total of 1.15 inches of rain has been measured at the airport in the past three days.

Some relief from the cool, wet weather may arrive by Tuesday. Forecast calls for cloudy skies with intermittent rain or drizzle today and cooler in the extreme north night. Fair to partly cloudy and a little warmer is the outlook for tomorrow. Highs today will range from 52 to 64; lows tonight from 42 to 54.

Temperature and precipitation readings recorded by North Central Airlines at the airport during the past week are as follows: 77 and 53 on Monday; 82, 59 and .10 inch on Tuesday; 73 and 48 on Wednesday; 73 and 49 on Thursday; 67 and 48 on Friday; 64, 47 and .11 inch on Saturday; and 58, 42 and .42 inch on Sunday. Another, .92 inch was measured this morning.

Mother of Tami Steen Attends Coffee Hour at 'U'

Mrs. Leland Steen of Thief River Falls, mother of Tamra Steen who will be a new student at the University of Minnesota this fall, attended a coffe hour for parents of new students Tuesday, Aug. 9, at Coffman Memorial union.

The coffee hour, sponsored by the University of Minnesota Dads association, are part of the new students orientation program conducted by the dean of students office of the university.

The program is planned to provide the parents of new students—both new freshmen and transfer students—with an opportunity to talk with university staff members and to obtain information about the university, according to Edmund G. Williamson, dean of students.

Happy Homemaking

In the previous article we established a few rules for ground work while canning. Now we will cover two of the more popular canning methods — the pressure canner method and the boiling water bath method.

Pressure Canner Method: Your pressure canner must be in good condition before the canning season starts. Test the pressure gauge and safety valve, clean all parts and replace broken or missing parts.

Two to three inches of boiling water should be in the pressure canner. Place the jars on a rack, allowing some space between jars and between the jars and the side of the canner. Fasten the lid to pressure canner and open the petcock. Leave the petcock open until the steam becomes nearly invisible for one to two inches from the petcock, then close it.

The pressure should be raised rapidly to two pounds less than required, then reduce the heat and bring up to required pressure. Hold the pressure at 10 pounds to avoid liquid loss.

Remove the canner from heat when processing time is up, and allow it to cool. After the pressure returns to zero, wait one or two minutes and slowly open the petcock. A vacuum may form inside the cooker if the petcock is not opened a few minutes after the pressure has dropped to zero. Unfasten the cover and tilt the far side up so that the steam escapes away from you as you slowly remove the cover. Jars are removed with jar tongs or by lifting them out in the wire basket.

To cool the jars place them on a perfectly dry, no-metallic surface spaced for free air circulation. When jars are thoroughly cooled test seals, then wash, dry, label and store them.

Boiling Water Bath Method: This method is used only for acid products such as fruits, tomatoes and pickeld vegetables. When using this method, the jars should be placed on a rack and be covered with at least one inch of boiling water. Lower the jars quickly into the water. Add water, as it evaporates, to keep it one inch above the jar tops. Start counting the time when the water begins to boil and keep at a rolling boil.

Remove jars when processing time is completed. Tighten closures at once on all jars except self-seal jars which should not be disturbed. Set the jars on a dry surface, spaced for circulation. When jars are cool test seal, remove screwbands from self-seal closure, label and store.

For additional information about home canning, stop at the county extension office and ask for the bulletin "Home Canning Fruits and Vegetables," Extension Folder 100.

Three from Area Graduate from Moorhead State

Robert Joel Rosengren of Thief River Falls, Signe Sabo Nelson of Newfolden and Franklin Delmer Rouland of Gully are among 215 students (a record for summer) who will receive degrees from Moorhead State college at summer commencement exercises Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in the stadium. Nelson and Rosengren will receive bachelor of science degrees; Rouland a bachelor of arts degree.

Speaker for the commencement program will be Peter Popovich, St. Paul attorney, former state representative and a member of the Minnesota State College board. Degrees will be conferred by President John J. Neumaier. The invocation and benediction will be given by Rev. Paul Hanson, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church in Moorhead.

In case of rain, the program will be moved to Weld Hall auditorium. A reception for graduates, parents, faculty members and friends will be held on the south lawn at the stadium following the program and will be moved to the campus school gymnasium in case of rain.

Naval Officers Training Exam Slated Dec. 10

Vice Admiral B. J. Semmes Jr., chief of naval personnel, has announced that the 21st annual national competitive examination for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) will be given December 10.

The regular NROTC program prepares a young man for a Navy or Marine Corps commission while he is studying at one of 52 civilian colleges. All tuition, fees, uniforms and books are furnished by the $50 per month subsistence allowance for not more than four years. During the summer, the student takes part in training cruises as a mid-shipman. After successfully completing a baccalaureate level college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps.

Eligible high school seniors and graduates should submit their applications before November 19. Application forms are available from high school counselors and Navy recruiting stations, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel (Pers-B6261), Department of the Navy, Washington, D. C. 20370.

Bemidji State Notes Increase In Grad Students

A marked increase in the number of graduate students on the campus at Bemidji State college this summer was noted by Dr. William A. Sellon, director of graduate studies.

During the first summer session, Dr. Sellon reported, 462 graduate students were enrolled at BSC while a year ago only 344 were studying on campus.

Dr. Sellon attributes this increase to special features which broadened summer offerings. Some of these were institutes in English and humanities plus workshops in electronics, mental health, music therapy, mathematics and German. These brought many out-of-state students to BSC.

Mental Health Center Operates On Surpus Funds

Dr. Robert I. Williams, program director of the Northwestern Mental Health center at Crookston, recently announced that a surplus of funds exists because of recent staff shortages.

The board of directors, because of this temporary surplus, decided that the eight participating counties would not be assessed their contribution for the quarter July 1 to September 30, and the monies used for current operating expenses.

The counties participating in the mental health center are Kittson, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau. Approximately one-half of the center's funds come from these counties, with the community mental health services division of the state department of public welfare providing the remaining half.

North Central Plans to Convert Convair Aircraft

Hal N. Carr, North Central airlines president, today announced that the company will convert its Convair 440 aircraft to Allison 580 prop-jets.

The 31-aircraft program calls for the initial conversion of 20 Convairs, with an option on the other 11. The project is scheduled to begin later this month and be completed in 1968. At present, North Central operates 31 Convair 440's and 16 DC-3's over its 7,000-mile route system.

The Convair 580's, combined with the 10 Douglas DC-9 fan-jets on order, will give the airline an all jet-powered fleet by 1968. North Central is now phasing out its DC-3's, and the first of the DC-9's will arrive next Spring.

"The Convair 440 was originally designed for conversion to prop-jet engines, and many factors entered into our decision to convert to the Allison 580", Carr stated.

"Passenger service has always been one of our major goals, and the Allison 580 prop-jet will provide faster, more comfortable flights. The Convair 580 flies 100 miles an hour faster than the Convair 440 and reaches a comfortable cruising altitude of 10,000 feet in only five minutes. The 580 also allows us to increase seat availability and provide improved schedules for our passengers," Carr said.

Marine Sergeant Hanson in Viet Aerial Combat

Marine Gunnery Sergeant Harold E. Hanson, son of Mrs. Emma Sophie Stromberg of Thief River Falls, is serving in Vietnam as a member of Marine Fighter Attack Squadron 542, a unit of the First Marine Aircraft Wing.

His squadron's mission is to attack and destroy surface targets, escort helicopter operations and conduct other types of air operations. Since arriving in Vietnam, 542 has completed more than 4,000 combat missions and dropped nearly seven million pounds of "ordnance" from its F-4B Phantom jets.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gullingsrud and Bruce of Bismark, N. D. visited from Wednesday until Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mayme Gullingsrud.

Mrs. Ervin C. Malm and Becky of Detroit Lakes were Thursday afternoon visitors at the Wilbur Hallstrom home. Mrs. Amanda Hallstrom returned home with them after visiting at the Malm home since Sunday.

Mrs. Wilbur Hallstrom attended a bridal shower on Friday evening for Sharon Vigness at the Lester Vigness home in Thief River Falls. Miss Vigness became the bride of Roger Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Peterson, on August 20th.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hesse and Henry Hesse had the misfortune on Saturday noon of having their barn burned to the ground. The St. Hilaire fire department was called but they were unable to save the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Barstad and family and Carol Beyer of Harvey, N. D. visited from Monday evening until Wednesday morning at the Mayme Gullingsrud home. They came to attend funeral services for Henry Anderson on Tuesday afternoon at Viking.

Magdalene Hesse was guest of honor at a bridal shower on Friday evening at the St. John's Lutheran church parlors in Red Lake Falls. Hostesses were Mrs. Howard Hesse, Mrs. Ronald Tollefson, Mrs. Cliff McGregor of Radium and Mrs. John Kruse Jr. of St. Hilaire. Games were played and a short program was given with a reading called "Essay on Husbands" by Debbie Tollefson and a song, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" by Anita and Marya Hallstrom and Debbie Tollefson. Miss Hesse will become the bride of Art Rubino of Cleveland, Ohio on Monday, August 22. Attending the shower from this area were Mrs. Dick Kruse, Mrs. Wm. Kruse, Mrs. Mayme Gullingsrud, Mrs. Edgar Naplin, Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mrs. Lily Person, Mrs. Howard Hesse and Robin, Mrs. Amanda Hallstrom, Mrs. Wilbur Hallstrom, Anita and Marya, Mrs. John Steiger, Mrs. Floyd Olson, Mrs. Douglas Steiger, Mrs. Ronald Tollefson and Debbie, and Mrs. Maurice Steiger.

Mrs. Myrtle Larson of Holt was a Monday visitor at the Mayme Gullingsrud home. Visitors later in the day were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson. Also coffee guests there in the afternoon were Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mrs. Lily Person, and Mrs. Amanda Hallstrom.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson visited on Sunday at the Willard Knackendoeffel home at Moorhead. Mark and Nancy Knackendoeffel returned home with their grandparents to spend the week.

Mrs. Douglas Steiger and infant daughter, Vicki Ellen, were honored at a pink and blue shower on Wednesday evening at the Dick Kruse home with Mrs. Clifton Johnson as assisting hostess. Several games were played after which Mrs. Steiger opened the many gifts from the group. Lunch was served from a table centered with a cake made and decorated by Mrs. Donald Mosbeck. The cake was made in the form of pink and white blocks and topped with the letters Vicki Ellen. Guests attending were Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mrs. Lily Person, Mrs. Amanda Hallstrom, Mrs. Wilbur Hallstrom, Mrs. Wm. Kruse, Mrs. Minnie Erickson, Mrs. John Erickson, Mrs. James Erickson, Mrs. John Steiger, Mrs. Maurice Steiger and Bridget, Mrs. Ronald Tollefson, Mrs. Edgar Naplin, Mrs. Alice Hartwig of St. Paul, Mrs. Warren Mosbeck, Judy and Joni, Mrs. Howard Hesse, Mrs. Kenneth Swanson, Mrs. Bob Sorvig, Debbie and Carol, and MaJean, Pammy, and Angela Steiger.

Mrs. Bob Sorvig and Carol and Mrs. Don Radzak of Minneapolis were Tuesday evening visitors at the Amanda Hallstrom home.

Thursday afternoon visitors at the Wilbur Hallstrom home were Nancy and Mark Knackendoeffel of Moorhead, Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mrs. Lily Person, and Amanda Hallstrom.

Mr. and Mrs. August Scholin, Harry Johnson and Mrs. Lily Person were Tuesday afternoon visitors at the Carl Anderson home.

SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS

August 22
OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
PENNINGTON COUNTY, MINNESOTA
AUGUST 4, 1966

The Board of County Commissioners met in special session in the Commissioners' Room in the Courthouse at 8:30 p.m., August 4, 1966.

All members waived the 10 day Statutory notice requirement for special meetings.

Members present: Hanson, Olson, Anderson, Lindberg and Tass. All present.

Commissioner Olson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, The Counties of Pennington, Red Lake, Roseau, Kittson, Clearwater, Lake of the Woods and Marshall now comprise the Northwestern Probation District, and

WHEREAS, The County Commissioners, Juvenile Judges and other Officials of the above listed Counties have been striving for some time to solve the problem of supplying probation services that would be deemed adequate for all Counties concerned, and

WHEREAS, The Juvenile Judges of the aforementioned Counties have tried to hire at least one agent for the District without success,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, That the County of Pennington, through its Board of Commissioners, hereby petitions the State of Minnesota to provide the needed probationary services to the County of Pennington at its earliest convenience, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Northwestern Probation District be dissolved at the earliest convenience of the Counties involved.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Hanson and declared carried.

The matter of the lack of a Director for the Civil Defense program was discussed.

Moved by Olson seconded by Lindberg that Deputy Director of Civil Defense, A. E. Jorgenson be appointed acting Director of Civil Defense effective August 1, 1966 at a salary of $75.00 per month. Motion carried.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Anderson that meeting adjourn. Motion carried.

LEGAL NOTICE

Mrs. Roy Rude, Rt. 1, City, 681-2234

Mrs. Marshall Kays, Mrs. Johnnie Nelson, Mrs. Wilbert Jablinske and Mrs. Roy Rude from Elizabeth circle took birthday cake to the Hanson Rest Home Tuesday and enjoyed lunch with Grandma Hanson and the rest of the patients last Tuesday. Mrs. Kays had a short devotion and they sang a song and happy birthday song for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Forsberg and family have returned home after spending about two weeks vacation at the west coast with relatives.

Debra and James Rude helped their cousin Timmy Collins celebrate his birthday last Monday evening.

The Pioneer local met at City View hall Friday evening. A short meeting and family poll was read and discussed. Lunch was served by the Jessie Bakke family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rude motored to Bemidji Saturday and spent the weekend with their son and daughter-in-law the Jerold Rudes at their cottage near Lake Andrusia.

Miss Norma Holmes arrived Saturday by plane from Brainerd school to spend a few days with the Wilbert Jablinskes and Roy Rudes.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Jablinske received a phone call Sunday morning from Anoka that a baby girl had arrived to their daughter and son-in-law the Harvey Hempstedts and the Roy Rudes are the great-grandparents.

MAVIE . . .

Mrs. Clara Stein and Mrs. Marie Jordain of Minneapolis were house guests several days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Szymanski. They also visited relatives and friends at Wannaska and Badger and at the A. W. Oski, Thad Szymanski and Florian Szymanski homes.

Eight Zones Noted for Minnesota Deer Season

Minnesota division of game and fish has released a map showing eight different firearms hunting zones established for the 1966 deer season. There are only slight modifications from last year's season.

The firearms deer season will start on November 12. One, two, three, five or nine days of hunting will be allowed, depending upon the zone being hunted. Four zones will be open to all legal firearms while four are limited to shotguns with single slugs.

There will be one large zone closed to firearms hunting in the south central and southwestern part of the state this year. The season was opened in this area last year, and Shields said that size of the herd in this agricultural area does not warrant a season every year.

The firearms zones were adjusted slightly this year to continue to provide proper harvest and still preserve an adequate breeding population throughout the state.

The nine-day season in the north is the maximum allowed by law. The November 12 opening date is the latest possible whereby two full week ends may be included within the legal season framework. The law allows the comissioner of conservation to set a season lasting not more than nine days during the period November 1-21.

A state-wide archery season will run from October 1 through October 31. Bow hunters also will be able to hunt in all eight zones during the November firearms season. A late season archery hunt will permit hunters to take deer by bow and arrow from December 3 through December 18 south of U. S. highways 10 and 210 and state highway 39.

Shooting hours are from sunrise to sunset each day for both firearms hunters and bow hunters. A hunter is allowed only one deer for the entire fall season whether he hunts with firearms, bow and arrow, or both. The deer may be of either sex and any age.

Zone I in the northeastern part of the state will have the maximum season of nine days. This area consistently produces the most deer, attracts the most hunters and has the highest success ratio. Last year 127,310 deer were taken by legal firearms. Of these, 75 per cent or about 95,000 deer were shot in the nine-day zone.

Shields said that the 290,000 big game firearms licenses sold in 1965 was an all time record and that the 127,310 deer harvested was a record kill. Hunting success averaged 44 per cent statewide—the same as in 1964.

Last year 15,803 archers took 850 deer for a hunting success ratio of 5.5 per cent. Archers will be allowed to wear camouflaged clothing during the October and December bow seasons, but all hunters, trappers and those assisting them must wear blaze orange or red caps and outer coats during the season open for firearms deer hunting. This regulation also includes small game hunters afield in areas where the firearms deer season is open.

Game and Fish Director Shields said the deer herd remains large in spite of the heavy snow last winter and hunters can expect another good season this year. Snow crusts in the northeast last winter permitted deer to move on top of the snow. The department's "Emergency Winter Care of Deer" program carried out last winter in cooperation with sportsmen and conservation organizations also helped to reduce losses, he said. Deer losses were limited primarily to fawns and only in certain areas. Starvation was not widespread nor generally severe enough to require special regulations.

Shields said that with favorable weather during this year's hunting season the kill could again exceed the 100,000 mark.

Three Shoot-offs Necessary for Trap Tournament

Three shoot-offs were necessary to determine individual class titles in the 50-bird trapshooting tournament held on Wednesday evening. The members of the local trapshooting league were arranged into five classes, based on their season's averages.

Sandy Wilson won the Class A title by defeating Al Tonder, 23-21 in a shoot-off. The two marksmen had deadlocked at 45x50 at the end of the 50-bird event.

Don Kamrowski of the Coast-to-Coast team won the Calass B trophy, posting a 44. And in the class C competition, Elmer Hanson and Goodwin Olson, members of the league champion Jensen Mink Farm, were forced into a shoot-off. Both shooters finished with 41's, and in the shoot-off, Hanson scored a 19-17 win.

Jim Amundgaard and Joanie Wilson shared top honors in Class D competition, with both shooters posting 38's. In a 25-bird shoot-off, Amundgaard scored a 17-15 win over Mrs. Stan (Joanie) Wilson Jr.

In the Class E competition, Yvonne Hedlund of the Mostue's Floral team won the trophy with a 27.

The Froseth's Market foursome of Steve Larson, Tim Carlson, Jay Moum and Billy Olson, shooting a net 157, picked up a couple of strokes on the second place Union State Bank team and won the junior golf league title by a margin of 12 strokes, 1465 to 1477.

For the winning Froseth's squad Larson had a gross 45 and net 38; Carlson scored a gross 46 and net 40; Jay Moum had a gross 51 and a net 42; and Billy Olson had a gross 40 and net 37.

Emory Wicklander, with a net 34, won the low net honors, while Billy Olson's 40 won the low gross honors.

Non-Residents Included Among Warden Arrests

Violations of Minnesota's fishing laws by non-resident anglers figured prominently in the total of 220 arrests made by game wardens during July, the conservation department reported this week.

There were 57 residents and 32 non-residents arrested for fishing without licenses. Game Wardens also discovered 62 persons fishing with more than one line of whom 23 were non-residents. Over-the-limit catches resulted in 12 arrests during the month.

Wardens also stepped up their efforts to crack down on littering and 14 persons were arrested for littering public lands or waters during July.

Six persons were arrested for transporting loaded or uncased firearms in a motor vehicle. There was one arrest for deer shining and one for changing the contour of a lake without a permit from the conservation department.

Miscellaneous violations accounted for the balance of arrests during the month.

The Froseth's Market golf team continues to hold a commanding lead over the second place Standard Oil foursome in the city golf league standings. In last week's play, the Froseth's marked up a 153-stroke net total, while the Standard Oil foursome scored a net 150-stroke total. The Froseth's squad holds a 19-stroke lead over the second place Standard Oil.

In last weeks league play the Bjorkman's team, with a net 144, had the low team total and moved up in the team standings, from eighth place to fifth place. For the Bjorkman's squad, Dick Bjorkman had a gross 43 and net 38; Chuck Follett scored a gross 48 and a net 38; Mike Kelly had a gross 38 and net 32; and Don Goodrich had a gross 45 and a net 36.

Mike Kelly's 32 won the low net net honors in Wednesday evening's play, while Ron Kvikstad, with a one-under-par 35, had the low gross total.

Give Regulations Regarding Wild Rice Harvesting

General regulations governing the harvesting of wild rice this fall were released today by the Minnesota conservation department. The actual date harvesting will begin will be announced later following surveys to determine the exact time the rice will ripen.

No major changes have been made in the regulations this year from those which were in effect last year. Paul Krueger, state game warden and director of the wild rice harvest, said the wild rice crop this year is very poor in most areas.

"Only extremely favorable weather could result in a harvest equal to last year's, which means that less than one-third of the normal crop can be expected.

"Harvesting pressure is expected to be concentrated on the relatively few good rice beds and restrictive regulations may have to be established on these areas to prevent damage", said Krueger.

Under laws established by the last legislature, game wardens have the authority to open or close individual lakes and to shorten the hours of harvesting when necessary. Krueger said that every effort will be made by the wardens to allow the ripe rice to be fully harvested without doing damage to the rice beds.

Where public waters lie within the original boundaries of the White Earth, Leech Lake, Nett Lake, Vermillion, Grand Portage, Fond du Lac and Mille Lacs Indian Reservations only persons of Indian blood or residents of the reservation may harvest rice.

Watercraft used to harvest wild rice must be hand-propelled, not more than 18 feet in length or more than 38 inches in width. No machine or device may be used to harvest rice other than a flail which must be no longer than 30 inches or weigh more than one pound.

Persons interested in harvesting wild rice must obtain a $3 license. These licenses are available only from state game wardens.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

On the Firing Line

It was won on the firing line. Referring to the Thief River Trap Club team title that was won by the Jensen Mink Farm squad this season. The Jensens moved into the final week of competition holding a two-point lead over the runner-up Wilson Bros. team. And when the firing was concluded on Wednesday evening, the Jensens held that two-point margin, and are the league champions for the 1966 season.

The lone loss on the Jensen's record was the 124 to 116 defeat that was administered by the defending league champion Times squad several weeks ago.

The runner-up team in the league competition was the Wilson Bros., fivesome, and in man-to-man competition against the high-average Wilson marksmen, the Jensen team recorded a pair of wins. In the first match between the two teams, Al Jensen's squad scored a 125 to 123 win; and in the second round match, a couple of weeks ago, the Jensens gained a 123 to 121 win. So it is evident that the Jensen Mink Farm team, a newcomer to league competition this season, deserved the league championship.

So it is in order to cite the Jensen Mink Farm trapshooting squad of Al Jensen, Harold Cyr, Bud Bakken, Goodwin Olson, Ken Moum, Pat Fischer, Elmer Hanson, Vern Cyr, Mark Mattson and Steve Johnson as the "team of the month". They are the league champions for the 1966 season.

And commenting on trapshooting, Stan and Sandy Wilson left town on Saturday for Vandalia, Ohio, and participation in the Grand American trapshoot. Stan and Sandy have been regular participants nn the trapshooting events at Vandalia the past several years, and the pair have been doing all right on the "options".

The Holzknecht System

I am in receipt of a letter from Holzknecht Publications — Al Holzknecht publisher, owner, etc.—in which he states that he will conduct a class on how to make successful bets, etc.

Says Al: "After many requests I have decided to form another class of juniors in the hope that I can get some in the senior division. The former classes have helped many others. The local students seem to have their problems. Former students listed have requested a refresher course at this time on subjects in which they have failed:

"Robert Carlson, city, Athletics—any system of athletic training by gymnastic exercises or outdoor sports. Example—the Green Bay Packers vs. the College All-Stars; and the Minneapolis Twins vs. the California Angels.

"Robert Craik, city, Political—pertaining to politics or to the national and state elections. Example—the recent presidential election. The up-coming course will cover state elections.

"Don English — Middle River. The professor or teacher type: covering world affairs. This type seems to know so little on almost any affair although in the classroom the student is carried away on appearance only.

"Huck Olson — city. The real political type. Keeps his hand in his pocket and is a real fence rider. Covers such subjects as hockey played at the North Pole and is about to cover some subjects at the South Pole. Has access to far away papers and so his quotes are such that he will not be questioned for proof.

"I will be unable to have more than eight in this class because of the individual attention needed for each student."

I think that those of us mentioned in the letter will request a legal opinion to determine whether or not Al's letter (it came through the U. S. mail) is verging upon libel. I'm sure, though, that Al had assistance in composing this letter for it contains words of more than two syllables!

There is one thing in Al's favor, and I have checked the school records on this. Al was never a school drop-out. On the contrary, Al, who should have graduated with the class of 1903 or 1902 or so, kept going to school until 1916 or 1917, and then was requested to take his under-hand basketball shot and his football shoes, with the cleats nailed on to a pair of his dad's shoes by Carl Froseth the shoe-repair man in those days, and leave.

I think Bob and Craik and Don and I will have a meeting and decide what strategy we'll use.

Group Studies Ways to Increase Rural Doctors

Rep. Richard W. Fitzsimons, Argyle, recently met with University of Minnesota President O. Meredith Wilson and Dr. Robert Howard, dean of the university medical school, to discuss long-range plans for graduating more medical doctors to serve, particularly, the rural areas of the state.

In addition to his duties as chairman of the House appropriations committee, Rep. Fitzsimons is chairman of a special committee studying this need for providing more doctors to serve citizens of our state.

At a meeting of the sub-committee, President Wilson and Dr. Howard gave a detailed analysis to questions raised in a letter to President Wilson from Rep. Fitzsimons on the subject of what the university might be able to do to graduate more medical doctors.

President Wilson indicated that if given approval by the Legislature, the university would propose to increase the entering class in the medical school from 150 to 200 and the entering class in the school of dentistry from 110 to 150. This would be at some future date because new building requests would have to precede this increase in students.

President Wilson also indicated he would ask the next session of the Legislature for an appropriation to explore the possibility of adding to the medical curriculum at the university a course in medicine that would graduate an individual in the title of family physician.

On July 28 at the state capitol the special sub-committee heard a request from the Northern Association for Medical Education seeking state support in starting a new medical school in St. Paul. The proposed new college would be expected to eventually graduate 90 medical students per class. The sponsors of this proposed new college indicated that its sponsors would like to orient the college toward the general practioner or family physician.

At the next meeting of the sub-committee the Minnesota Medical association and the Minnesota Academy of General Practice will present their views on how to increase the number of medical doctors in the state and particularly in rural areas in the state.

287 Families in State Receive FHA Loans to Poor

Over 287 families in Minnesota received family economic opportunity loans during fiscal year 1966 according to Arthur Hansen, Farmers Home administration state director.

Hansen reported on progress of a lending program administered by the USDA Farmers Home administration for the office of economic opportunity.

In the past fiscal year, 287 loans totaling $487,720 were made to rural families in the lowest income group to provide tools, supplies and working space they need in order to earn a better living, Hansen said. Since the program began in January of 1965, loans totaling $982,160 have been made to over 533 families throughout Minnesota.

Hansen said the economic opportunity borrowers are following more than 127 different kinds of nonagricultural enterprise, in addition to farming, as a result of the helping hand extended them through the program. Loans average $1,843 a family, with a maximum of $1,500 in effect.

"These are loans to families at the bottom of the economic ladder. Nation-wide more than half of them are exisiting on less than $1,500 a year for family living expenses," Hansen said.

"The borrowers are rural people who have been isolated in poverty, with nowhere to look except to their own capacity for self-employment.

"Their most common handicap has been lack of money or credit to equip themselves for the more profitable work they might do if they had the tools.

"Economic opportunity loans help them overcome this obstacle. The loans stake them to the things they need for a profitable farming enterprise or to increase their income by following a trade or performing a service needed in their home communities," Hansen said. Loans are being repaid, he said, on the average of eight per cent ahead of schedule.

LHS Instructor Completes Studies At Scranton, Pa.

Miss Helga Ceravsky, a faculty member at Lincoln high school, Thief River Falls, was one of 40 high school teachers from 15 states who completed advanced studies in German Friday at University of Scranton, Pa.

The educators participated in a special National Defense Education Act institute, conducted by the university in cooperation with the U. S. Office of Education. Dr. Joseph G. Brunner, U. of S associate professor of modern languages, directed the institute.

Supported by a $65,010 federal grant, the institute offered a seven-week intensive course in the study of modern foreign language teaching methods, the use of electronic equipment, audio-visual aids and other teaching materials. Participants in the program used the German language in formal courses and lectures, conversation and entertainment.

Dahl Reelected To Head Marshall ASC Committee

Farmers recently named to serve as the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee are: Marcel Dahl, Eagle Point township, chairman; Francis Haack, Valley township, vice chairman; and Arthur Vansickle, McCrea township, regular member.

Dahl and Haack were elected to the committee last year for three and two years, respectively; Arthur Vansickle was elected this year for a three-year term on the committee. Alternates elected were Hans Anderson, Nelson Park township, and Clarence Lian, Whiteford township.

The 1966 election was held at a county convention Monday at the courthouse in Warren. Electors were farmers chosen as convention delegates at recent ASC community committee elections throughout the county.

The ASCS county office at Warren is headquarters for the county committee, and serves as the farmers' local contact for business connected with participation in the programs administered by the committees. These programs encourage conservation and increase farm returns by means of price supports and market-supply-management, as well as by payments, Dahl said.

3 County Girls Enter State Fair 4-H Dress Revue

Appearing in the 4-H dress revue at the Minnesota state fair is a thrill that comes to a selected number of 4-H girls in each county every year, according to Miss Beverly Tvelto, Pennington county home agent.

That thrill will be shared by three pennington county 4-H girls this year, who will model their winning costumes in the state 4-H dress revue. They are Kathy Breiland, Happy Acres; Debbie Halverson, Steiner; and Pat Radniecki, Deer Park.

They will be among 250 county dress revue winners who will model clothing they have made themselves. Three public dress revues will be held—on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 30, 31 and September 1, at 3 p.m. in Erickson hall in the 4-H building on the state fair grounds, with about a third of the total group modeling each day. Pennington county's representatives will take part in the dress revue on August 29 and 30.

Dress revue activities will cover two days. The first day will be given over to evaluation of the girls' outfits, to tips on modeling and to choosing members of the court of honor. Participants in each dress revue will choose their court of honor.

The second day will include a trip to a downtown store for a teen fashion show in the morning, individual conferences with home economics specialists and 4-H staff members on their costumes and the public dress revue at 3 p.m.

"The dress revue provides an opportunity, with guidance, for an actual decision-making experience based on past learning in the clothing project," Miss Tvelto said. "By careful and critical evaluation of others' costumes, the girls will become more objective in analyzing their own costumes," she points out.

The girls participate in evaluation sessions on poise and grooming, choice of pattern, texture, color, style and fit of various outfits, as well as on construction and accessories.

Six from Area Receive UND Scholarships

Fifty-eight incomeing freshmen and 62 upperclassmen at the University of North Dakota have been awarded O'Connor Scholarships for the 1966-67 academic year.

Among the recipients are Nancy Christensen and Linda Reeve, both of Thief River Falls; Lowell Larson, Gatzke; Jon Erickson, Badger; DeLyle Ames; Strathcona; and Beatrice Kasprowicz, Strandquist.

Recipients are selected on the basis of high academic ability, high qualities of character, a capacity for leadership and financial need.

Funds for the awards, now in their sixth year, come from the income of a $350,000 trust which UND received from the estate of the late J. F. T. O'Connor, prominent judge and attorney and a Grand Forks native. O'Connor received the bachelor of arts degree from the university in 1907.

Banks Provide Most Credit to State's Farmers

Minnesota banks were serving farmers with more credit and other financial services than any other lenders at the beginning of this year, according to J. J. Womack, president of Union State bank, who represents the Minnesota Bankers association as Pennington county district director. During 1965, the state's banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services.

Based on the 25th annual farm lending summary of the agricultural committee of the American Bankers association, Womack reported that at the beginning of 1966, Minnesota banks were helping farmers with $439 million in loans, nine percent more than a year previous. This total included $348 million in production loans and $91 million in farm mortgages.

At the same time, $205 million in farm loans was held by life insurance companies; $199 million by the Federal Land banks; $102 million by Production Credit associations; and $28 million in nonreal estate loans, plus $47 million in real estate loans by the Farmers Home administration. About 73 per cent of the production credit extended by lending institutions to Minnesota farmers came from banks.

Womack said that "bankers in Minnesota are conscious of the large capital investments required in agriculture today and are making a concerted effort through improved lending programs to meet these changing credit demands of the state's farmers."

The increased use of credit by farmers, according to Womack, has been accompanied by a substantial gain in the total assets of farm families. Therefore, in the aggregate, the equity position of farmers, contrary to public opinion, is being maintained at a satisfactory level. Nationally, farm families have $212 billion of their own funds invested in agriculture. This represents 84 per cent of the total capital requirements of farmers.

Womack stressed the importance of farmers and bankers working closely together to improve farm financial arrangements. He reported that nine out of ten insured banks throughout the country had agricultural loans outstanding, with nearly 92 per cent of the banks in Minnesota extending credit to farm people.

What Do YOU Read?

It was a little disturbing a short time ago when one of our readers came to us with a request for news and photo coverage of a service activity by a group of local young people. The request itself was not disturbing, but the manner in which it was presented did raise our ire a little.

We don't remember the exact words that were used, but the general thought was that "the occasional bad youngsters are always given publicity while the good kids don't get any news coverage. When a young person gets in trouble he has his name splashed all over the paper and we think that those who are doing good deeds should get some publicity too."

It gave us cause to wonder what news this individual chooses to read in the newspapers she receives—particularly our own semi-weekly effort. We would wager no little amount that she would be shocked if she went through our files of past issues and compared the coverage we have given "good" youngsters with the news items devoted to "bad" ones.

She has perhaps forgotten (or failed to read) the 4-H club news, school reports of students, special projects, FFA, FHA, Latin club, art show, home economics style and scholarship winners. Maybe she skipped over the reports of young people away from home in college or the armed services and the stories on those attending the local junior college and vocational school.

Somehow she may have missed the news coverage of the summer recreation program with its many activities, church youth groups, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, junior garden club and others.

Perhaps, like many other people, she has been guilty of selective reading to a greater degree than we have been guilty of selective reporting. Of course we cover the stories dealing with the "bad" youngsters, for the public has a right to know how well the laws are being obeyed in the community and how the authorities are dealing with offenders. It is a gross injustice, however, to intimate that these youngsters "get all the headlines".

Persons who make such a charge apparently are more interested in reading about the misdeeds of occasional youngsters than about the many, many fine things which our young people are doing.

More On Guns

Spurred by the actions of Charles Whitman in his shooting spree recently in Texas, nearly every editor and columnist around the nation has felt moved to express comment. In most of these cases, the shooting incident itself is secondary to comment on federal firearms control, with writers expressing their opinions either for or against legislation.

Eager to capitalize on an issue of current interest, politicians have also issued statements in regard to control of firearms. Again, the opinions have been widely divergent and, in many cases, wonderfully nebulous. Most of those advocating control are eager to simply "pass a law", assuming that such federal action will automatically halt the use of guns in crime.

Several admit readily that such action would not prevent such incidents as the Texas sniper slayings, but use them as a basis for contending that ". . .there ought to be a law". Others sincerely believe that such controls as regulated sals and registration would deter criminals from using firearms. We believe it is folly to hope that any governmental body—municipal, state or federal—can legislate guns out of the hands of those who want to obtain them for illegal use.

Far too many writers have condemned the National Rifle association—an organization of some 750,000 people who enjoy hunting, competitive target shooting and collection of firearms—for defending the right of Americans to keep and bear arms. The NRA has played a key role in preventing restrictive and ineffective legislation in the past, using logic as its weapon. The uninformed say the NRA is opposed to all firearms control. They are wrong.

In its statements of policy over the years, the NRA has consistently offered its support of measures which would prevent criminals, mental incompetents, drug addicts and alcoholics from using firearms. It actively supports a training program which trains youngsters in the safe and proper use of guns, working through volunteer instructors in communities throughout the nation. It is a good organization, and its motives are logical, reasonable and noble.

Supporters of gun "control" point to carefully selected statistics, compare the United States with other nations, and appeal to the emotions of the public. They ignore the overall ineffectiveness of existing laws and completely ignore or dismiss the Second Amendment to the U. S. Constitution which states: "A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

Time Magazine, after discussion of the question of control, makes the following less-than-intelligent summation: "Since Americans usually need licenses to marry, drive a motor scooter, run a shop or even own a dog, it is difficult to see why a license to keep a lethal weapon would be any abridgment of their freedom."

The magazine should not have stopped there. It should have noted that "lethal weapon" registration should include knives of all types and descriptions, poisons, explosives, broken bottles, pitchforks, shovels, ropes, wire, etc., etc. It should have noted how innocent, law-abiding citizens who registered firearms under such a law could be implicated when a firearm was stolen and used in commission of a crime. And it should have added that each individual of the millions of people who own guns in the United States is being personally considered a threat to society.

It was reported in one of two articles by Leigh White in the Minneapolis Tribune that in 1963 ". . .firearms accounted for the deaths of 16,984 Americans". He noted that 35 per cent of these were homicides—the rest were suicides or accidental shootings. The Time magazine article notes that there are some 100 million handguns, rifles and shotguns in private hands.

The question is: Shall all the owners of 100 million firearms be penalized (and licensing, registration and restrictive sales on a non-selective basis would be penalties) because a minute percentage of the total was used illegally? A second pertinent question is: Is there any assurance that such penalties would prevent those who want a gun for illegal purposes from obtaining one?

The answer to both questions is no.

Your Flag Speaks

Leland C. Scott, a member of the Bensonville, Ill., VFW post, wrote the following article after viewing lack of respect for the flag during a parade. It is a good reminder of patriotism which all of us could and should take to heart:

"HELLO, REMEMBER ME? Some people call me Old Glory, others call me the Stars and Stripes; also I have been referred to as the Star-Spangled Banner. But whatever they call me, I am your flag, or as I proudly state, the flag of the United States of America. There is something that has been bothering me, so I thought that I might talk it over with you. Because it is about you and me.

"I remember some time ago — I think it was Memorial Day — people were lined up on both sides of the street to watch the parade. The town's high school band was behind me and naturally I was leading the parade. When your daddy saw me coming along waving in the breeze, he immediately removed his hat and placed it against his left shoulder so that his hand was directly over his heart. Remember?

"And you — I remember you. Standing there as straight as a soldier, you didn't have any hat but you were giving the right salute. They taught you in school to place your hand over your heart. Remember little sister — not to be outdone, she was saluting the same as you. I was very proud as I came down your street. There were some soldiers home on leave and they were standing at attention giving the military salute. Ladies as well as men all paying me the reverence that I deserve.

"Now I may sound as if I am a little conceited. Well, I am. I have a right to be. Because I represent the finest country in the world, the United States of America. More than one aggressive nation has tried to haul me down but they all felt the fury of this freedom-loving country. You know. You had to go overseas and defend me.

"What happened? I'm still the same old flag. Oh, I have a couple more stars added since you were a boy. A lot more blood has been shed since the Memorial Day so long ago. Dad is gone now. The old home town has a new look. The last time I came down your street I saw that some of the old landmarks were gone, but in their place, shining majestically in the sun, were a number of new buildings and homes. Yes sir, the old town sure has changed.

"But now I don't feel as proud as I used to. When I come down your street, you just stand there with your hands in your pockets and give me a small glance and then look away. When I think of all the places I have been, Anzio, Guadalcanal, Korea—and now, Viet Nam. Then I see the children running around and shouting. They don't seem to know who I am. I saw one man take his hat off and then look around. He didn't see anybody else with their hats off so he quickly put his back on.

"Is it a sin to be patriotic any more? Have you forgotten all the battlefields where men fought and died to keep this nation free? When you salute me, you are actually saluting them.

"Take a look at the Memorial Honor Rolls sometime. Look at the names of those that never came back. Some of them were friends or relatives of yours. Probably went to the same school with some of them. That's what you are saluting. Not me.

"Well it won't be long until I'll be coming down your street again. So when you see me, stand straight, place your hand over your heart and you'll really see me waving back—my salute to you. And I'll know that you remembered."

Better Homes and Gardens has produced a new cookbook, "Cooking with Cheese." Glamorizing the lowly cheese is a cinch with the help of this book with its delectable illustrations of everyday dishes enhanced with this dairy food, right up to creations which are called a "gourmet's delight". Among the samplings of its offerings are the green bean cheese bake which is so in tune with the calendar and with waning summer appetites.

You'll find others equally as enticing, such as cheese enchiladas, rolled chicken Washington, and fresh strawberry tart, for starters. Get the book and have the family drooling with anticipation, and laurels heaped on your head as the best cook in town.

In an entirely different mood, "Unsafe at Any Speed," by Ralph Nader, unmasks what he points out as glaring failures of the auto industry to build safety into its cars, in some cases, and in others a lack of promotional zest in publicizing the much-neglected and terribly vital seat belt. Even elemental safety devices are listed as "optionals," he declares, and sets about exposing these shortcomings.

Insisting that a safety car can, must and will be built when the public outcry reaches uncompromising levels, Nader points out step by step what should be done without delay.

He calls attention to the deadly waste being poured into our air by the automobile in increasing amounts and in many other areas shows the dangers and health hazards we take for granted and do nothing about as far as automobiles are concerned. Something to think seriously about, this book has not gone unheeded. It should be a must on everyone's list.

An addendum in this vein is Carr's "The Breath of Life." Carr also takes verbal swips at the donothing society which stands dumbly by while the air it breaths staggers with pollution. He is amazed that we, who make personal cleanliness almost a national fetish and the deodorant and cosmetic industries into multi-million-dollar enterprises, should blithely ignore the garbage which is being dumped into the very breath of life surrounding us.

His book is designed to pack a wallop, and it does, in its zealous effort to make the public aware of the dangers, before time, and the clean air we need, run out. A shocking summation of the problem is contained in the question, "Will the average American citizen continue to drive his lethal car, just as he will continue to smoke cigarettes?"

It is hoped that the concerted efforts of his voice and his pen will compel the automotive industry to confront the problem head-on and find a workable solution. And that we finally realize that the air we breathe is as "deadly as nuclear fallout." This is another book that should make the "must read" list.

On the brighter side is "A Rainbow of His Own,' a colorful little book by Don Freeman and slanted toward the very young, or more correctly, curved toward them. It's the story of a small boy who, upon seeing a rainbow, sought to capture it for his own. When it disappeared, he dreamed of its pursuing him, and lives in a fantasy world as he slides down its curve and in other ways amuses himself with it. In his pursuit of the real thing, which continues to elude him, he finally discovers another rainbow in a very unlikely place.

Something else to brighten your day: on Monday of last week four young fellows ranging in the 13-15 year age group, came to the desk and asked if there was something, anything that we would find for them to do. They weren't looking for pay, merely something to relieve the boredom of a summer afternoon, and to be useful. For several hours these willing workers scurried up and down stairs with books that needed to be re-arranged, and filled the entire north wall with them.

A salute to the industry and willingness and thoughtfulness of the four lads, and to the fifth one they recruited the following day: Donn Haugen, Bill Norman, Allen Rugland and Danny Sullivan, who worked both days, and to Mike Munt, who joined them the second day. They moved ponderous volumes from the basement to the new library building with an ease that astonished everyone. Our thanks also to the many others of varying ages who have asked to be notified when we need help in making our big move sometime early in September. They will be called upon, with gratitude, as the need arises.

Interest in the new library manifests itself by your multitudinous questions. We can at last give you a target date to shoot at, although this is still tentative. With luck, we hope to be in our new home by the first week in September, or shortly thereafter. In the interim, we find your interest heartening and indicative of your desire to enjoy the expanded services we will then be able to offer.

Your impatience is understandable and your questions, of course, welcome. We'll fill you in on latest developments when there is something definite to report. Meanwhile, stop by and use what we have to offer right now. There have been many new additions in recent weeks, and they are awaiting your selection.

Another new one in the "easy" book section, for instance, is Joan Lexau's "I Should Have Stayed in Bed." All those who have woefully made that remark at one time or another will know about what to expect, and they won't be disappointed. Syd Hoff, the illustrator, attunes the pictures to the text with his usual flawless feel for mood.

You'll chuckle at the mis-spent day in the life of the youngster who starts out with putting his shoes on the wrong foot, then gets late to school, gets himself in bad with a girl, merits a dressing-down from the teacher and covers himself with disgrace generally. His attempts to salvage at least part of the ill-begotten day will doubtless bring back a memory or two, the youngster's misfortunes reminding many readers fo similar dark days in their own childhood. Read it with or to your kids; you'll all enjoy it.

"Call Me Mister," with Barry James as the author, lays down guidelines for men, all the way from etiquette to grooming, from care and selection of clothes to personality development, from public relations to care and styling of hair. Just everything to make the man poised, confident, well-turned out and successful in his professional and social life. This one definitely should not be sitting on the shelf gathering dust. It's too valuable not to be used.

Best sellers? Of course they're here, although they may not be on the shelves the day you come to ask for them. "Valley of the Dolls," "The Adventurer", "Tai-Pan," "The Source", "The Double Image", "Tell No Man", "The Detective", "Those Who Love", "The Kremlin Letter", and "I, the King," all of them fiction, are available, and among the non-fiction works on the list are "The Last Battle", "Papa Hemingway", "In Cold Blood," "The Crusades", "Two Under the Indian Sun", "The Big Spenders," and "Churchill". Some have a waiting list; if they are temporarily off the shelf, we will be happy to reserve them for you.

Summer library hours remain in force until after Labor Day. The library opens daily except Saturday and Sunday, at noon, and closes at 7 p.m. Winter hours will be announced in advance of their being put in force. Watch this column and also see the announcement in the Times at the end of August. Meanwhile, read often. See you here.

Council Approves Deed To Plat New Addition

Robert A. Wurst, Thief River Falls city attorney, presented to the city council at its regular meeting Tuesday night a deed to permit the platting of the First Southeast addition, which is the area around the new Redeemer Lutheran church edifice. The deed was authorized.

Plans are to divide the land into private lots with a park nearby. Streets will run in a curving pattern, each reaching a dead end, to discourage speeding traffic. It is expected that high-quality homes will be constructed in this area.

Building permits were awarded to Bernard Elseth, corner of Nora street and Kneale avenue, for a $19,500 dwelling, and to David Wetenkamp, 826 Tindolph av. S., for a $500 remodeling job on his dwelling.

Upon recommendation by the water and light committee, Justin Dahlen was hired as operator of the municipal water plant. His starting salary was fixed at $365 per month with a $10 increase every six months up to a maximum of $30.

The library board requested the release of $2,500 from the city emergency fund for purchase of new books. The request was granted. The sum of $4,000 had been held in the emergency fund for this purpose.

Fire Chief Roy Langevin showed pictures of three houses in the city which are abandoned and have deteriorated, and have been declared public nuisances and hazards. The council voted to allow the owners 60 days in which to remove the buildings or correct their adverse condition.

The council granted a request from the library board to employ two Manpower students from the area vocational - technical school as assistant librarians. Their appointment is subject to approval by the board of education. Of the student's total wage of $1.25 per hour, the city's share will be 35 cents.

Bills were paid to the Tunberg Motor company in the amount of $822.70 for a pickup to replace the park department truck which was damaged in an accident last spring, and to Lee Plumbing and Heating in the amount of $7,812 for equipment installed in the library.

Classes Close At Vocational School Next Week

All departments of the Thief River Falls area vocational - technical school will be closed next week, according to Arnt M. Aune, director. Classes will be dismissed to permit teachers to attend the pre-school workshop.

Kenneth Swenson, principal at and Mark Twain elementary schools, has also noted that additional qualified substitute teachers are needed for the coming school year. Intersted persons, who have some type of teaching certificate in force, are asked to call any of the elementary schools. Those on the substitute list last year need not call; their listing will be continued.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hayes attended the Griffin - Anderson wedding at the First Lutheran church at Middle River on Saturday.

Good Attendance Noted at Grygla Fall Festival

Good attendance was noted at the annual Grygla fall festival Saturday in spite of cloudy weather, occasional drops of rain and cool temperatures. The home talent review in the evening drew a large crowd.

Several skits and comedy acts were presented at the evening program. A minstrel show included Sheldon Peterson Ralph Rundell, Dale Wilkens, Leo Sorenson, Allard Morken, Ray Sorenson, Adolph Erickson and Kevin Sorenson as members of the cast.

Rundell portrayed the harried psychiatrist in the "Dr. Doodle" skit with office visitors including Dale Wilkens, Lee Sorenson and Mrs. Roy Nordby.

Mrs. Arnold Larson and Mrs. Norman Newton, portraying Ole and Maud, kept the audience laughing with their costumes and stories.

Vocal music was presented by the "Poor Boys", a girl's quartette comprised of Carol Nordby, Julie Hagen, Sandra Warne and Lois Byklum. A shadow - picture of a doctor and nurse performing an operation presented in silhouette behind a large sheet, featured the dexterity of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Verbout.

Also appearing on the program as guest performers were the Happy Songsters from Shelly, accompanied by Miss Gayle Stene, and Mary Dahlquist of Roseau, Miss Thief River Falls of 1966. Mrs. Sheldon Peterson was chairman of the evening program.

Oen's Appliance Is Purchased by Home Lumber Co.

Home Lumber company in Thief River Falls has purchased the business property of Oen's Appliance in Thief River Falls from Roy Oen, according to an announcement made this week. The property transfer will become effective September 15.

Norris Melander of Home Lumber said the property was acquired to provide for expansion of the office and display area of the lumber company in the near future.

Oen told the Times he plans to retain the bulk fuel oil and farm fuel station which has been operated since 1930. He also plans to lease the warehouse from the new owners for use in sales and service of outboard motors and other items. The Oen business is a continuation of the Oen Mercantile company which has been in operation in Thief River Falls since 1889.

Knutson, Hanson Attend Sunflower Meet in Canada

Harland Knutson and Silas Hanson of Thief River Falls attended the Second International Sunflower conference held August 17 and 18 at Morden, Man., Canada. Knutson is manager of Farmers Grain and Milling company in Thief River Falls, a firm which processes sunflowers and other crops into packaged wild bird food, and Hanson is an interested producer of sunflowers on his farm east of this city.

Participating in the conference were speakers from Minnesota and other parts of the United States as well as Canada, Chile, Russia and Poland. Primary consideration was given to the production of sunflowers as an oil seed crop, much as soybeans are produced for that purpose.

Knutson and Hanson told the times that soybeans yield from 20 to 22 per cent oil, while sunflowers will yield 40 to 44 per cent. Sunflower varieties generally grown in this area are not produced for their oil, but are of additional eligible applicants. These will be only "fill-in" personnel whose employment will be terminated upon the return of the re- varieties more suitable for bird food and human consumption. Oil varieties could easily be grown here, however, while soybeans are seldom successful in this area.

Both men termed the conference extremely interesting and were impressed by the research done on sunflowers in foreign countries, especially Russia. The Russian speakers were extremely proud of their accomplishments in sunflower breeding, Hanson said, and were enthusiastic in telling the conference about their research projects.

Robert D. Benson Of Newfolden Is Traffic Victim

Robert D. Benson, 41, a resident and business man of the Newfolden community, was killed early Monday morning when hit by a car on Highway 220, about three miles north of East Grand Forks.

Benson had just stepped out of the car in which he was a passenger when he was struck by a southbound car driven by Forrest English of Toronto, Ont., a student at the University of North Dakota.

The car in which Benson had been riding had gone out of control, spun around and stopped in the southbound lane. The driver of the car was Chester Wesolowski of Stephen. Benson was apparently trying to flag down another vehicle when he was hit. It was raining and very foggy at the time of the accident.

Funeral services for Robert Benson will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the Bethlehem Lutheran church in Newfolden. Rev. Loren Nielsen will officiate and interment will be in the Oak Grove cemetery. The American Legion Post 427 of Newfolden will conduct full military rites at the cemetery.

The body will repose at the Green Funeral home from this evening (Wednesday) until 11 a. m. Friday and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services.

A complete obituary will be in the Times on Monday.

Newfolden HS Registration Set August 31

Announcement of the opening of the 1966-67 school term in Newfolden Tuesday, September 6, has brought with it a schedule of registration for the new term.

Registration is scheduled for Wednesday, August 31, with seniors and juniors registering in the forenoon and sophomores and freshmen in the afternoon. Seventh and eighth graders are to register the opening day of school September 6.

Registration will be held in the cafeteria. Lunch and shop tickets will be available at this time.

City Schools Prepare For September Opening

FIREMEN were called to the alfalfa pellet plant north of Thief River Falls Tuesday morning to extinguish a small fire in the hammer mill machine, which grinds hay. The fire was drowned before it could do any damage to speak of, but Fire Chief Roy Langevin reported that this was the third fire to ignite in the machine. Action of the electrically-powered machine causes heat by friction, he said. The machine and its housing are set apart from the main plant to minimize fire danger.

Thief River Falls school ranging from kindergarten through junior college levels, will open next month, according to administrators in charge of the various schools. Several pre-school activities are planned on the junior and senior high school and junior college levels, as well as pre-school workshops for elementary teachers.

Elementary and junior and senior high schools will open for classes on Tuesday, September 6, with a full day of instruction to be held and hot lunch to be served the first day. Buses will run on the same approximate schedule as last year, but students are asked to be ready about 10 minutes early on the first day to allow for any schedule changes which might occur. Drivers on kindergarten routes will notify parents of those route schedules.

Junior college classes will officially begin Monday, September 19, according to Dean Victor Charles. Sophomore class registration will be held Monday and Tuesday, September 12 and 13, while freshmen orientation, testing and registration will be held Wednesday through Friday, September 14-16.

Junior college faculty workshop will be held September 7, 8 and 9. Activities planned for orientation or welcome week include a welcome dance Wednesday, September 14, from 8 to 11 p. m. in the high school cafeteria, and a "Varsity Hullabaloo" Friday, September 16, from 8 to 10 p. m. at the Tindolph park.

Dean Charles notes that 193 freshman applications have now been received by the junior college with 175 of these having paid their initial $10 fee. Sophomore enrollment will not be known until actual registration, but is expected to number about 100 students. Twelve full-time instructors have been secured for the college faculty with part-time instructors employed in art and music.

Richard Edlund, senior high school principal, has requested that all students new to the Thief River Falls school system and who will be attending Lincoln senior high school for the first time this year (exclusive of local sophomores), meet at 1 p. m. Thursday, September 1, in the high school auditorium for an orientation session. He also reminded members of the graduating class of 1967 to have their senior pictures taken and turned in at the principal's office as soon as possible so they may be included in the annual.

A two-hour orientation program for all seventh graders and those eighth and ninth grade students who will be new students in the Franklin junior high school this fall will be held Monday at 1 p.m. in the Franklin gymnasium. At 7:30 p.m. the same day a parents' night program will be held to explain the junior high school program and give parents an opportunity to ask questions.

Hot lunch program tickets will be handled in the same manner as last year, but a change in rate structure has been made by the board of education. Meals for elementary school students will remain at 20 cents each, while high

Pennington ASCS Officers Elected

At the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee convention held August 15 in Thief River Falls, the new Pennington county committee was elected as follows: Winton Knutson, chairman; Oscar J. Houske, vice chairman; and Clifford Vad, regular member.

In taking office, chairman Knutson made this statement:

"Our Committee's aim will continue to be good service and fairness to farmers, a desire to make programs succeed in improving farm income and strengthening the business of the county; and through conservation practices, stopping waste of soil and water resources needed for future survival."

Farmers are chosen to serve as the county committee by ASC community committees throughout the county, who are elected by their neighbors in annual elections, under legal provisions administered by the U. S. department of agriculture.

Terms of office for county committeemen were established last year on a three year term basis with one new member being elected each year for three years. This, however, varies according to the number of actual vacancies on the committee.

In addition, first and second alternates are elected for one year each. Of the Pennington county committee, Knutson is serving his first year of a three year term, Houske is serving his first year of a two year term, and Vad was elected this year. The newly elected alternates are Verner Arveson, Oklee, and Orvin Anderson, Goodridge.

The farmer - committee system is unique. No other group of citizens has so direct a voice in running government programs. The elected committees have responsibility for the local administration of federal programs, including expenditures of federal funds, but they are not federal officeholders.

Congress holds the department of agriculture responsible, and the department in turn relies on the judgment and leadership of the locally - elected farmers and the county office employees. The county office serves as he headquarters for farmer business connected with program participation.

Major ASC activities in Pennington county include the Agricultural Conservation program; price - support loans on oats, wheat, barley, flax and rye; and feed grain, wheat, wool and conservation reserve programs.

In Pennington county last year, total farm program business handled by the ASCS county office amounted to $1.4 million, which both improved the income of farm producers and strengthened the economy of the whole county and area,

Knutson said. Program payments to farmers included: $128,000 in cost-sharing for ACP practices; $173,600 in price-support loans on crops grown in the county; $150,000 in feed grain diversion and $118,500 in wheat marketing certificates; and $7,000 under the national wool program.

Mrs. H. Johnson Heads Department Convention Group

Fifty-four delegates and alternates from Minnesota will attend the American Legion auxiliary national convention in Washington, D.C. Sunday through Thursday, September 1, under the leadership of Mrs. Harold M. Johnson, Thief River Falls, Department president. Mrs. James Walker, Robbinsdale, will act as the delegation's chairman.

Speakers on the convention agenda are the Hon. Dean Rusk, secretary of state; Mrs. Ton Won Lee, wife of the Korean foreign minister; the wife of Premier Ky of South Viet Nam; and Dr. Frank Rose, president of the University of Albama. Dr. Ivamae Applegate, National Education association president from St. Cloud, will address the convention on August 31.

Mrs. Merrill K. Smith, Elmore, national vice-president of the auxiliary, will report to the convention the year's accomplishments of the seven Northwestern states. Minnesota stands at an all time high in membership, reporting over 45,000 auxiliary members.

Highlights of the convention will include a concert by the United States Navy Band, a memorial service at Arlington National cemetery and President John F. Kenedy's grave, national American Legion senior and junior drum and bugle and color guard contests and a seven-hour parade through downtown Washington, D. C. While in Washington, Mrs. Johnson will stay at the Sheraton Park hotel, headquarters for the Minnesota delegation.

Current Summary Of City Mishaps

There were no accidents reported during this period in 1965 and only two in 1966.

Duck Depredation Subject of Study By MORRC Group

Interviewers from Minnesota Outdoor Recreation Resources commission studying the problems of duck depredation in northwestern Minnesota are now visiting farmers in the vicinity of wildlife refuges in this area, according to Representative Andrew Skaar, Thief River Falls.

The interviewers are calling on farmers with a detailed questionnaire prepared as background for a report on duck depredation now being prepared by MORRC as a result of a special request from the legislators in northwestern Minnesota.

"It is anticipated," according to Rep. Skaar, "that all farmers in the area of major destruction will be interviewed during August. However, if MORRC staff people should miss any farmer interested in participating in the survey, MORRC field personnel can be contacted by calling my home at Thief River Falls."

50th Anniversary Observed Jointly By Three Couples

Three couples observed their 50th wedding anniversaries recently when approximately 350 relatives and friends gathered at the Glen Larson home at Gatzke for an open house celebration.

The couples honored were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Tonder of Gatzke and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grondahl of Grygla. Mrs. Tonder and Mrs. Grondahl are sisters.

Hosting the event were their children and their families, who were all at home for the occasion. They were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Larson (Karyl Grondahl) of Gatzke; Mr. and Mrs. Donnie McMillan (Betty Grondahl) of Roseau; Mr. and Mrs. Royal Holthusen (Ardell Grondahl) of Grygla; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Larson of Seattle, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grondahl of Naples, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Tonder of Thief River Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tonder of Pierz and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hoffman (Audrey Tonder) of Sauk Centre.

The honored couples were presented with corsages of red roses accented with white carnations and white carnation boutonnieres from the children. Each couple also received a guest book with "50th" embossed in gold on the cover.

A buffet style lunch was served assisted by neighbors and friends. Three anniversary cakes, each a tiered and pillared creation decorated with gold roses and topped with the golden anniversary emblem, centered the serving table. Golden candles flanked the cakes, baked and decorated by Mrs. Ingvald Anderson, Mrs. George Severts, Mrs. Edwin Lund, Mrs. Royal Holthuson and Mrs. Vernon Holthuson. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Gertie Abrahamson and Mrs. Petra Larson assisted by Mrs. Willie Tale and Miss Ruby Larson.

Those who poured were Mrs. Donnie McMillan of Roseau and Mrs. Royal Holthuson of Grygla while Pamela Holthson and Layne McMillan served the punch. Registering the guests were Susan Larson of Gatzke, Diane Larson of Seattle, Wash., and Nancy Parnham of Thief River Falls.

The couples were presented with many gifts, cards and money from those attending.

Out-of-state guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thorval Knutson and Florence of Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Larson and Diane of Seattle, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grondahl, Douglas and Lisa and Mrs. Olga McMillan of Naples, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Ray McMillan, Gary, Duane and Randy of Chokoloskee Island, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Loven of Beaver Lodge, Canada.

Others attending were from Minneapolis, New York Mills, East Grand Forks, Crookston, International Falls, Pierz, Sauk Centre, Roseau, Salol, Thief River Falls, Goodridge, Warren, Newfolden, Strathcona and Middle River.

Horticultural Society To Mark Its Centennial

Minnesota State Horticultural society will hold its Centennial convention Thursday and Friday at the Nicollet Hotel in Minneapolis. The convention theme is "Growing for 100 Years".

Sessions will begin at 10:30 a. m. Thursday with President Carl Holst of Minneapolis, in charge. Registration is from 9 to 10:30 a. m. Speakers at the convention will include professors from the department of Horticulture at the University of Minnesota. Several tours will be conducted including the Como Park conservatory, the Lyndale Rose Gardens and the University of Minnesota Landscape arboretum. The convention will include Friday with a Centennial banquet featuring the recognition program.

The Minnesota State Horticultural society was organized in October of 1866 by a small group of fruit growers and has grown into one of the largest horticultural societies in North America. Organized during the state fair at Rochester under the name of Minnesota Fruit Growers organization, it changed its name to Minnesota Horticultural society in 1868. Its purpose was to advance the art and science of horticulture in Minnesota. Col. D. A. Robertson of St. Paul was its first president.

Beginning in the 30's, garden club organizations, affiliated with the society, caused the rapid increase in membership, with 9,000 listed in 1966. Majority of present members are hobbyist amateurs but professional groups are also included. In the 50th year, about 90 per cent of the members were men. Today over 50 per cent are women. Many women have held offices but only one Mrs. Veral Nicholson of Duluth, has served as president.

Among the many activities of the organization during the past 100 years was the establishmnt of the Minnesota Landscape Arboretum in 1958. This was then presented to the University but the society is continuing as the major soliciting agency for funds to improve and maintain the arboretum.

The society is made up of 10 district horticultural societies and 400 affiliated local groups. Thief River Falls is listed in the 13th district.

Injuries Result From Crash at Highway Junction

A two-car collision resulting in personal injuries and extensive property damage occurred Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the intersection of Highways 1 and 219, south of Goodridge.

A car driven by Ray Bren of Thief River Falls, with his wife and two children as passengers, was traveling east on Highway 1 and struck a vehicle driven by Robert Kriel of Goodridge, which was crossing the highway while proceeding south on Highway 219, according to state highway patrolmen who investigated the mishap. Charges are pending.

Mrs. Bren received a scalp laceration and is in good condition at Northwestern hospital. Bren and one of his children were treated at the hospital for bruises and released. Both cars were damaged extensively, with Bren's car possibly being a total loss.

60th Anniversary Marked Here by The Joe Vixies

Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Vixie of Goodridge, formerly of Alvarado, observed their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon, August 7, at an open house celebration at the Seventh Day Adventist church school in Thief River Falls.

Hosting the event were their four daughters, Mrs. Harry (Adeline) Nelson of Goodridge; Mrs. William (Bernice) Trickey of Crookston; Mrs. Carl (Louise) Nelson of Everett, Wash., and Mrs. Grace Roisum of East Grand Forks.

A short program preceded the reception with Millard Dalley of Red Lake Falls in charge. He read a brief history of the courtship of the honored couple during the horse and buggy days and of their marriage with the bride's sister, Malie, and the groom's brother, Oscar, as their attendants. He also read a peom, "To Grandpa and Grandma" composed by Mrs. Mavis Bergrem of Grand Forks, N. D., granddaughter of the couple.

A medley of songs was sung by Mrs. Ray Nelson, sons, Ronald and Arlie, and daughter, Mrs. Don Nelson. Other songs were a duet "Is It Far to Canaan Land" by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blom of Middle River and Maynard Molskness played the guitar and sang, "I Know Who Holds Tomorrow". Following a brief version by Mr. Vixie of how he had asked for his bride from her father, the couple expressed their appreciation to all who attended.

A reception followed. Centering the serving table was a floral arrangement of pink gladioli and carnations, a gift from Mr. Vixie's brother, Levi and wife, Agnes of Loveland, Calif., who were unable to attend due to illness. Mrs. Vixie wore a corsage of pink rose buds and Mr. Vixie's boutonniere was a pink carnation.

Highlighting the table was a three-tiered and pillared anniversary cake trimmed with pink roses and white wedding bells and topped with a 60th wedding anniversary emblem. Made and decorated by Mrs. Darell Glass of Red Lake Falls, the cake was cut and served by a granddaughter, Mrs. Gary Nelson, of Fargo, N. D.

Out-of-town guests attending were from Everett, Wash.; Fargo and Grand Forks, N. D.; St. Paul, Minneapolis, Crookston, Oslo, Alvarado, Warren, Viking, Red Lake Falls, Goodridge and Middle River.

A number of the Vixie's 16 grandchildren and 34 great grandchildren were also in attendance.

Unable to attend but sending special greetings were the attendants, Malie, now 89 years old and residing in Saskatchewan, Canada and the groom's brother, Oscar, now 81 years old and residing in Walla Walla, Wash.

Corina Haraldsen of Sweden To Be Honored

Open house will be held Sunday at the Benhard Wold residence at 316 South Tindolph for Miss Corina Haraldsen of Stockholm, Sweden who has been employed since September at the Oakland Park rest home. Another guest will be her friend, Ingrid Karlsson of Karlstad, who will be returning to Sweden for a visit with Miss Haraldsen.

The event will begin at 3 p.m. with all friends and relatives welcome.

NOTICE OF HEARING

TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN PENNINGTON COUNTY DITCHES NO. 33, 50 & 32, IN PENNINGTON COUNTY:

YOU, AND EACH OF YOU WILL PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, that the County of Pennington, by Joseph Seidel, its Highway Engineer, has filed Petitions with the County Auditor of Pennington County, pursuant to Section 163.17, Minnesota Statutes, 1965, praying that he be allowed to make minor alterations or changes in Pennington County Ditches No. 33, 50 and 32. That attached to said Petitions now on file with the County Auditor are plans and cross sections showing minor alterations or changes petitioned for.

That County Ditch No. 33 runs along and parallel on the east side of C.S.A.H. No. 20 from T.H. No. 1 north to the Northwest Corner of the SW¼ of Section 18, T154N, R42W and it is proposed that County Ditch No. 33 be moved twenty feet East from its present location and improving and flattening the slopes to blend with the new road construction.

That County Ditch No. 50 runs along and parallel on the east side of C.S.A.H. No. 22 from the Southwest corner of the NW¼ of Section 18, T153N, R41W, to the Northwest corner of Section 4, T153N, R41W and it is proposed to move the location of said County Ditch No. 50 twenty feet East from its present location on that part parallel with C.S.A.H. 22 and improving and flattening the slopes to blend with the new road construction.

That County Ditch No. 32 runs along and parallel with the East side of C.S.A.H. 22 from the Southwest corner of the NW¼NW¼ of Section 28, T153N, R41W, (Sta. 91-00) to the Red Lake River (Sta. 127-63) and it is proposed to alter the inslope of said County Ditch No. 32 to blend with the new road construction on that part parallel with said C.S.A.H. No. 22.

Said Petitions allege that it is advantageous and desirable in the construction and maintenance of County State Aid Highway No. 20 and 22 that said minor alterations or changes be made and that said minor alterations or changes petitioned for will not affect the functioning or impair the efficiency of said County Ditches 33, 50 or 32.

YOU WILL FURTHER TAKE NOTICE, that said Petitions will be presented to the County Board of Pennington County, in the County Commissioners' Room in the Court House in Thief River Falls, Minn., on the 12th day of September, 1966, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, at which time all persons interested in said ditches may appear and be heard and present arguments for or against granting of said Petitions.

Dated this 8th day of August, 1966.
C. W. RODEKUHR, County Auditor
Pennington County, Minnesota.

Card of Thanks

We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation and thanks to those who helped during our recent bereavement of our beloved mother, grandmother, great - grandmother and great-great - grandmother. Especially do we wish to thank Rev. A. B. Hellne for his words of comfort, Green's for their kind service, Mrs. Hammer and Mrs. Marquis for their music and songs. To all who gave flowers and memorials. The ladies who served lunch. The pallbearers and all who helped in anyway. God bless you all. The Helga Thoreson family. 1t66p

Card of Thanks

We extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to relatives friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us in the illness and death of our beloved husband and father; to the pastors, Harold Peterson and Reuben Wangberg; those who gave memorials and flowers; Mrs. Larson and Golden Years Choir for music; Martha circle for serving; the pallbearers, and Sinding's Funeral Chapel. Mrs. Ole Hedalen and family. 1t66p

Card of Thanks

We extend a very hearty thank you to all who came to our home to help us celebrate our golden wedding anniversary. Thank you for your kind greetings and precious gifts with all good wishes. This also includes all who sent greetings and gifts by mail. We will long remember this happy event planned and arranged by our children and others. Thanks again to all for everything. Sincerely, Mr. and Mrs. Selmer O. Swenson. 1t66c

Card of Thanks

I want to give sincere thanks to all who sent cards, letters and visited during my stay at the University of Minnesota hospitals. May God bless you all. Alvin Landsrud. 1t66c

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank everyone for their visits, cards and gifts. Thanks to Dr. Berg and the nurses, to Rev. Kubik for his visit. May God bless you all, Pauline Dahl. 1t66p

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our son and brother Ivan Bundy who passed away Aug. 27, 1964.

A loved one from us has gone.
A cheerful voice is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home.
Which never can be filled.
God in his wisdom has recalled
The joy his life has given
And though his body slumbers here on earth
We hope to meet in heaven.

Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bundy Marian Kulus, Lois Anderson. 1t66p

45-Day Duck Season Allowed in Minnesota

Deputy Conservation Commissioner Rober L. Herbst today announced a 45-day duck season and a 70-day goose season for Minnesota hunters.

The duck season will open Saturday, October 8, and run through November 21, which is five days longer than last year's season. The daily bag limit will be four ducks and the possession limit will be eight. The daily limit may not include more than two mallards, two wood ducks and two canvasbacks, with the possession limit on these species being twice the daily limit.

A daily bonus of two scaup (bluebills) and a possession limit of four will be allowed beginning November 1. Ringnecked ducks may also be included in the bonus since they are difficult to distinguish from bluebills. However, few ringnecks will be left in the state by this date. This means that from November 1, hunters may shoot six ducks daily provided at least two of them are bluebills and - or ringnecks. The possession limit will be 12, provided at least four of these are bonus species.

The seasons on coots and mergansers run concurrently with the duck season. Limits on coots are 10 daily and 20 in possession. Merganser limits are five daily and 10 in possession of which not more than one daily and two in possession may be hooded mergansers.

Except for a noon opening on the first day of the duck and goose seasons, shooting hours will be from ½ hour before sunrise until sunset.

The goose season will open on October 1 and run through December 9. Limits are the same as last year. The daily and possession limits are five geese which may include not more than two Canada-type, two white-fronted, or one Canada-type and one white-fronted.

Ted Shields, game and fish director, said that department personnel are very pleased with the federal framework provided this year. For the first time in several years, Minnesota is taking full advantage of the framework. This year's framework should provide for an overall increase in next year's duck breeding population of 15 to 20 per cent. "With good reproductive success next year, we may be able to have season lengths and bag limits which will better satisfy all of our hunters," Shields said.

"The only restriction we are adding to the federal framework this year," Shields said, "is that hunting will begin at noon on the opening day instead of the allowable ½ hour before sunrise. This will allow hunters a better opportunity to find a spot to hunt and to identify some birds before shooting begins."

The most significant changes from last years regulations are the limits on mallards (two daily instead of one), 45 days of duck hunting instead of 40, inclusion of the bluebill bonus beginning November 1, and morning shooting beginning ½ hour before sunrise rather than at sunrise.

The earlier morning shooting hour is being allowed throughout the country and results from studies which indicate that fewer birds are crippled and lost before sunrise than after. "Apparently hunters have more opportunities to shoot ducks at close range during this period and therefore are better able to make clean kills. With restrictions on fewer species this year, hunters should have no trouble with species identification during this early morning period," Shields concluded.

Banding Program At Agassiz Refuge Gives Information

Much valuable and interesting information continues to be obtained from banded ducks shot and reported by waterfowl hunters, according to Dave Cline of the Agassiz National Wildlife refuge staff.

A total of 3,497 ducks were banded at the Agassiz National Wildlife refuge staff.

A total of 3,497 ducks were banded at the Agassiz National Wildlife refuge in 1965. These included 2,739 mallards with the remainder consisting of birds representing 11 other species of ducks. This banding was done during a three month period prior to the October hunting season. This year's banding program is now in full swing at the refuge.

Many of the birds banded were undoubtedly produced on or adjacent to the refuge, while others had moved in from other midcontinent breeding grounds. Canada annually contributes a significant portion of the ducks frequenting the refuge, as the birds retreat south before the threatening weather of the fall season

To date, 213 bands have been recovered from the birds banded in 1965. This represents a recovery rate of six per cent. Recovery information shows that banded ducks were shot by hunters in 21 states including Minnesota, and in two Canadian provinces. One bird was shot in South America, but not a single band recovery was obtained from Mexico.

The return of bands from 171 mallards showed that 61 (36 per cent) were shot in Minnesota. Of these 44 (72 per cent) were taken in the northwestern part of the state, many in the immediate vicinity of Agassiz refuge.

Twenty other states accounted for 57 per cent of the mallard returns, while the remaining six per cent came from the provinces of Ontario and Manitoba in Canada.

"This information provides evidence that the thousands of mallards which frequented Agassiz Refuge in 1965 provided hunting opportunities to sportsmen over a widespread area of the United States,' Cline said. "It is also apparent that at least a limited number of mallards fly north to Canada following early fall banding in northern Minnesota. Minnesota hunters, however, annually take by far the greatest share of mallards which frequent the state in comparison to any other single state or province.

Information obtained from banded ducks and geese aids wildlife workers in learning more about the behavior of the birds, their longevity and distribution and size of the hunting kill. For example, band recovery information has shown that the blue-winged teal, an early migrating duck which has pretty much vacated northern Minnesota by the time the October general duck season opens, flies as far south as Central American and northern South America to winter. One teal banded at the refuge last September was shot by a hunter near Maracaibo, Venezuela, this past March.

All of this information is vital to scientific management of the continent's waterfowl resource, Cline added. It is used to make recommendations as to season lengths and bag limits, and to prescribe management practices which will better provide for the needs of ducks on their migration and breeding ground habitats.

"Action is being taken in these regards so as to assure hunting opportunities in the future as well as to provide people the chance to enjoy observing our interesting and beautiful waterfowl in their natural habitats," Cline concluded.

Trap Club Will Be Open Tonight

The Softball Season's Climax

The 1966 city softball program will come to a close (except for the awards banquet to be held at the VFW club on Monday, August 29) this evening, Wednesday, when, on the fairgrounds diamond, the Vets and the Schmidt's Beer meet in the finals of the city league playoffs.

During the regular schedule Pat Poole's Vets squad finished with a nine wins and one loss mark for the league title. The Schmidt's had an eight wins and two losses mark. And both of the Schmidt's losses were administered by the Vets, by 8-2 and 3-2 scores.

In playoff semi-finals play this week, on Monday and Tuesday, the Vets and the Schmidt's were winners. On Monday evening, in a game played on the East Side diamond, the Vets defeated the Hartz Stores team, 7-3. And on Tuesday evening, in a game played on the fairgrounds diamond, the Schmidt's broke up a 3-all game by scoring three runs in the sixth inning to win a 6-3 game from Bob Carlson's ever-trying Bridgeman's squad.

Ordinarily, championship games have a tendency of falling short of the hopeful expectations of the fans, but this evening's tilt should be a good one. It will pit Kerm Malberg, perhaps the city's best pitcher, against the strategy of Pat Poole, Wally Grovum, Roy Pederson, Vern Solheim, and Don Engelstad, the 'elder statesmen' of the Vets. That's odds of five to one for the Vets, and that's about right for Kerm to handle. In their last game, just a couple of weeks ago, the Vets eked out a 3-2 victory and they didn't brag about the win!

Game time for this evening's playoff finals is listed for 7 p.m.

The Other Side of the Coin

Last week I reported an article that was carried in the current issue of the "Sports Illustrated" magazine and which was highly critical of firearms legislation now pending in Congress. But here is what a London writer, a Paul Johnson, comments in the "New Statesman": "By what right does American seek to police the world when it cannot even maintain law and order at home? In half a dozen great U. S. cities, race-insurrection flares. Thousands of soldiers are brought in to reinforce the police. Snipers take pot shots at citizens. . .

"A new book by Cark Bakal, 'The Right to Bear Arms', gives some startling facts about the number of lethal weapons in the States and the powerful pressure groups which keep them in circulation. There are 17,000 fatal shootings every year in the United States. In 1964, 5,090 people were murdered by firearms, against twenty-four in England and Wales. The police, it seems to me, set the pace. When I accompanied a police-sergeant on a Saturday-night patrol in the central (largely Negro) district of Oakland, California, I was astonished by the number of variety of weapons he carried—including a huge repeater-shotgun, padlocked to the dashboard, which he patted affectionately. 'It sure scares the—out of A Negro mob', he said. Where policemen use their guns freely, ordinary people have no standards from which to condemn violence. The result is that, since 1900, 750,000 have been killed by guns in the United States—220,000 more than America has lost in all her foreign wars."

This gentleman has apparently read his history books, and is resentful of the fact that it was a rag-tag group of militiamen, armed with deer rifles and other arms who defeated 700 British who were on their way to destroy at Concord, Mass., in April of 1775.

Sure that's ancient history, but it wasn't so long ago, in the early days of World War II, that American sportsmen sent thousands of handguns and small arms to England to assist the British in what was expected to be the "Battle of Britain". And as for his statement that the police in England are without sidearms, well, it was just a week ago that three British policemen were slain by thugs who were equipped with pistols.

Tuesday afternoon callers at the Pete Sorter home were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Torfin of Roseau.

Krikstad Wins City Golf Title Over Stordahl

Ron Kvikstad won the 1966 city golf title on Sunday by scoring a 3-1 win over youthful Bob Stordahl in the finals of the city tournament. Kvikstad, who is attending the University of Minnesota, and Stordahl, who will be in his sophomore year at Concordia, played excellent golf. Stordahl was at even-par figures, and Kvikstad (who won the city title as a 15-year old high school sophomore several years ago) was two under par.

Kvikstad, in moving through the championship flight, defeated Wally DuChamp in a first-round match, and then bested the Prowlers' Dave Wegge in the semi-finals. Stordahl defeated Rudy Mehlhoff in a first-round match and then eliminated a former city champion, John Moum, in a semi-finals encounter.

Jon Larson won the championship flight consolation honors.

Other flight winners, runners-up, and consolation winners in the tournament, which was concluded on Sunday were as follows:

First flight — Mark Steen, Erling Olson, and Bob Flynn.

Second flight — Frank Womzek, Gary Flynn, and Mike Kelly.

Sixth flight — Walt Wicklander and Dr. Ed Gilbert.

More Children Need Help for Hearing Defects

Though more than 75 per cent of the 2,023 children examined in Minnesota's field clinics in 1965 were under 10 years of age, Dr. Mildred Norval, director, declared: "There are still too many children with hearing deficiencies not brought to us early enough. We want to help them before their cases become so serious that expensive and lengthy treatment is necessary."

Similarly, she pointed out, earlier reporting of school children not functioning up to their normal potential would result in greater benefits to the youngsters' well-being.

The clinics, under supervision of the Minnesota department of public welfare, are geared to early discovery and diagnosis of ailments common to children. As part of the treatment, welfare works with the department of education to help get children on the right track scholastically.

Children brought to the clinics, usually via referral from their personal physician through the local welfare department, are given a complete screening evaluation. They are first examined by a pediatrician, and an orthopedic surgeon. Counseling is provided by the field nursing section of crippled children services, the local public health nurse, and-or social service of C.C.S., and local welfare department.

When the child has eye or ear difficulties, an ophthalmologist, otologist and audiologist are available. A cardiologist examines such cases as are referred to him when chest X-ray and EKG results warrant.

Clinics are held in 25 communities located throughout the state, for ready accessibility to children in all of Minnesota's 87 counties. Diagnostic services are arranged in advance through contact with the local appointment chairman, usually upon referral by the family physician.

Scalding Corn Necessary for Best Freezing

Delicious goodness of corn on the cob can be captured for out of season eating by freezing—if the corn is processed and frozen properly.

Among steps to success in freezing corn are harvesting it at the best stage for eating, scalding and cooling it the recommended length of time and completing the freezing process as soon as possible after picking.

"Run from the garden to the freezer" is a good rule when it comes to freezing corn, says Mrs. Shirley Munson, assistant professor of horticultural science in charge of the food processing laboratory at the University of Minnesota. A delay in processing of more than a few hours after harvesting may result in a significant loss of quality unless the corn is refrigerated.

Scalding is probably the most important step in preparing sweet corn for freezing, according to Mrs. Munson. By inactivating the enzymes, scalding preserves the fresh quality as well as color and vitamin content of the corn and also lengthens storage life. Laboratory experiments indicate that unscalded corn stored in the freezer soon takes on a straw-like flavor.

For scalding, Mrs. Munson recommends the use of a large kettle that will hold at least 12 to 15 quarts of water. Bring the water to a rolling boil. Place the husked corn in a wire basket or a cheesecloth bag and submerge it in the boiling water. Keep the kettle covered during the scalding period and have the heat on high. Always count time from the second the vegetable is put into the boiling water.

Recommended scalding time for corn - on-the-cob is 8 minutes for midget and for small-to-medium cobs. Whole kernel corn to be cut from the cob should be scalded 4-½ minutes before cutting.

The cobby taste some homemakers complain of in frozen corn is due to insufficient scalding, Mrs. Munson points out. But if the corn is mushy, it has not been cooled long enough. A strong smell of corn in the freezer is also caused by insufficient cooling of the corn once it is scalded.

Immediately after scalding, the corn should be chilled in ice water preferably, or in cold running water. If you use ice water, chill the corn for at least the same length of time as given for scalding. Cold running water from the tap will require a longer cooling time, Mrs. Munson suggests breaking a cob in two after cooling to see if it is actually cold.

After cooling the corn, drain, package and freeze it. Be sure to store the corn at 9 degrees F. Freezer compartments in refrigerators are not satisfactory for long-time storage.

State Acquires 22 Northern Pike Spawning Areas

State fisheries supervisor Hjalmer Swenson reported today that 22 northern pike spawning areas were acquired during the fiscal year ending July 1. The spawning areas, usually shallow backwaters or marshes adjacent to larger bodies of water, are essential for the natural propagation of northern pike.

With the addition of the 22 new spawning sites, the conservation department now has ownership of 68 such areas comprising 3,135 acres.

Swenson said there are also 56 spawning areas under option or in the process of being optioned at the present time.

Many of the areas require development work, usually construction of a water control structure, channel improvement and in some cases a pumping station to assure desirable water levels for good production pike.

Swenson said very little development work was accomplished during the past 12 month period due to lack of funds.

"There is a large backlog of site development awaiting the appropriation of funds for this purpose," he said.

He added that it was essential to bring the areas into state ownership as rapidly as possible even if development monies are not immediately available, since such areas are continually being lost through drainage and filling for lake shore home site construction.

Editorials . . .

"A great philosophy is not one that passes final judgments and establishes ultimate truth. It is one that causes uneasiness and starts commotion." —Charles Peguy

The Equalizer

Some time ago we wrote an editorial called "Parable of the Equalizer", and during the past weeks have received several requests for reprints. It was reprinted in the "Editorials of the Week" publication of American Way Features in Los Angeles, Calif., and has since apparently been picked up by several West Coast papers, since most reprint requests have come from California and Oregon, plus one from Nebraska.

Subject of the editorial is as pertinent now as ever, and we reprint it as follows:

Once upon a time there were two men who lived on farms across the road from each other. One of these men labored from early to late to plant and tend his crops, care for his livestock, improve his buildings and repair his machinery. His wife took part-time employment in the nearby town to supplement the family income and provide for the education of their children.

The other man preferred to rise at his convenience, spent many of his days in the nearby town playing cards, talking on the street corner or relaxing in an airconditioned bar. His crops — seeded later than his neighbor's — were infested with weeds. He had no livestock, for they were too much work and his buildings were in too poor repair to keep them. His wife joined him in town or went her own way, letting the housework slide and neglecting her children.

By virtue of his effort, enterprise and initiative, the first man harvested a good crop, his livestock and their products brought top prices and his farmstead had a neat orderly appearance. Because of his indolence and carelessness, the second man harvested little crop and his buildings deteriorated.

Then along came a being called Equalizer. He looked upon the second man and said, "Your children are undernourished and underclothed; I will provide you with sustenance for yourself and for them. You are poverty-stricken because you have little income; I will give you more money. Your house is in poor condition; I will build you a new one."

He looked upon the first man and said, "You have more income than you require to provide your family with necessities; I will take the remainder from you. Your land and buildings and machinery are of great value; I will exact payment in relation to their value. Your production has created surpluses; next year I shall restrict the acreage you may plant. I shall take much of what you have and give it to your neighbor who is less fortunate than you."

Other neighbors heard what the being called Equalizer had to say, and they reasoned thus: "Why should we labor when the returns of our labor are taken from us? Why should we not do as we please, forsaking our labors, when the being called Equalizer will care for our wants and educate our children? Let us then pursue the course of leisure and pleasure."

Now the country in which this parable took place was called the United States of America and the being called Equalizer was the federal government. And the people grew lazy and dependent upon the Equalizer, and he lost his power to sustain them and they disappeared from the face of the earth.

A Worthy Project

If weather the past two weeks is any indicator, area farmers are going to be in for another long fall. Crops in the area held promise for being about average in general this year, but each day of damp weather will reduce the quality of small grains to be harvested.

And it won't be long—perhaps it has already started—before ducks will be making their annual invasion on a number of grain fields in northwestern Minnesota. With the arrival of the ducks will come legitimate complaints from farmers who can do little but watch as their tangible hopes for family income become gizzard stuffing for marauding mallards.

Scarecrows and exploding devices have been used with some success in past years but neither has proved completely effective in keeping ducks out of unharvested grain fields. Even the time-consuming and expensive task of guarding fields with a fully-loaded and properly aimed shotgun has proved futile in many situations.

Just the other day we heard of something, however, which could be a great boon to this area, and it behooves farmers and sportsmen alike to take note. In casual conversation, a friend of ours noted that a major oil company is conducting research on a bird repellant, and expects to have it commercially available in the near future. It is said to be safe for use on crops destined for human consumption and to be economically feasible.

This could be just what is needed in this area, and a supplement to a program we advocated last year and continue to think is a good idea. Support of this plan was voiced by Lloyd Nelson, Marshall county farmer and a candidate for Fifth District commissioner, in a visit to the Times office this week.

Nelson agrees with a plan to appraise the crop value of fields being depradated by ducks, make a payment to the farmer for crop loss out of game and fish funds, and permit the ducks to feed on the fields as well as opening them to public hunting. The program could be financed by a surcharge on the small game hunting license—similar to the surcharge for wetlands acquisition now in effect.

The idea of a repellent, however, could supplement this program. If it is effective—even combined with scaring devices — it could be used on fields with the best crops to divert ducks to poorer fields on which crops had been purchased. We believe such a program to be not only workable and feasible but needed and necessary.

It could provide a common bond between sportsmen and farmers—a situtation which has been sadly lacking as the rift has widened over the years. It could do so with a widely-spread license charge which would help eliminate undesirable possibilities like leased hunting rights, shooting preserves, posted land and wasteful shooting of ducks to protect unharvested fields.

Not every year is a bad year for duck depredation, although the past several years have been bad and this year holds little promise for dry weather. In dry years, however, the surcharge funds could accumulate with interest against the wet years when one year's funds might not cover the payments required.

Neither do we believe it would be necessary to pay 100 per cent crop loss, since sustained wet weather would make it impossible for farmers to harvest some crops at all. Appraisal should be made when ducks first start feeding in a field. A waiting period should then be allowed, permitting the farmer to harvest if he can or determining whether or not the field could be harvested at all.

Final determination of loss should be made just before the opening of duck season, and inexpensive, temporary signs posted on purchased fields which would thus be open to public hunting.

Naturally, nothing can be done on this proposal until the 1967 session of the legislature, and 1967 small game licenses will be sold before the session opens. Unless retroactive action for reimbursement for crop losses can be taken through legislative appropriation, the license surcharge program could not begin until 1968. We believe this is the latest permissible date for such a program to be implemented.

The conservation department must provide a more acceptable and effective program of preventing crop loss. While the value of waterfowl to the economic base of the area should not be minimized, the economic loss to year-around residents of the area should also be given due consideration.

Would You Believe It?

Sweden is often pointed to as the showplace for socialism. With this in mind, one would suppose that the land area in Sweden would be predominantly publicly owned. But, of Sweden's 112 million acres of land, only 25 per cent is owned by the government, while the remaining 75 per cent is held by private owners.

By contrast, in the United States, supposedly the stronghold of capitalism, free enterprise and private property ownership, 39 per cent of the nation's 2,300 million acres of land is owned and controlled by federal, state and local governments.

Mixed Up Politics

Minnesota's political scene is often one of gnarled and knotty situations, and that is what makes it interesting year after year. If all other contests are cast aside, there is enough drama in the gubernatorial race to keep interest high for the September primary and November general election.

GOP-endorsed candidate for governor, Harold LeVander, finds himself fighting on two fronts until September. While there are definite weaknesses in the DFL defenses, LeVander may have problems in getting enough troops to take advantage of these spots and score a decisive break-through. And if he should, he could find out in September that the victory was won on the wrong front. He would then have to withdraw his forces, regroup, and hope to launch another attack before November.

On the other hand, the DFL will be forced to fight a delaying action until the September primary, then try to coordinate troops and launch some sort of offensive of its own. The main difference in situtation between the GOP and the DFL is that the latter will not only be fighting the opposition until September but will have to curb animosity within its own ranks. This might not be an easy task.

While Vice President Humphrey maintained an embarrassed (and unique) silence in Washington, Gov. Karl Rolvaag decided to buck party convention power and test his popularity with the public. We expect to see him give his ambitious lieutenant governor with the Kennedy hair-do a lesson in political campaigning and a sound defeat in September.

Gov. Rolvaag is in the position of the businessman's three-tray desk file which this editor recalls seeing in a cartoon some time ago. The trays were individually labeled: "IN", "OUT" and "BACK AGAIN". So it is with the governor's political situation.

Minnesotans have a variety of things to do this year. They can fish in the state's 14,000 lakes, talk about last year's one-mallard duck season, listen to the Twins lose on the radio or watch the governor try to upset his party's apple cart. The latter promises to provide the most action.

Economist Says Government Will Continue Control

Although farm employment and farm numbers continue to decline, a University of Minnesota agricultural economist sees no reason to expect a withering away of government farm price and income programs.

Vernon W. Ruttan, professor and head of the department of agricultural economics, feels that programs aimed at regulating the production and marketing of agricultural commodities will continue. But they will be oriented less toward achieving income goals in the agricultural sector.

In a speech delivered at the annual meeting of the American Farm Economic association, Ruttan said that farm programs in the future will be directed more toward protecting urban consumers from undue price fluctuations and toward achieving international trade and development policy objectives.

He listed several areas in which changes in agricultural policy can be expected:

•Minimum wage legislation covering a substantial share of the hired farm labor can certainly be anticipated in the next several years.

•Efforts to organize agricultural labor are likely to receive more effective government support than in the past.

•There will be increased pressure for legislation regulating bargaining and other relationships between suppliers, growers, processors and retailers participating in vertically integrated systems.

•In spite of intervention in product and factor markets, the land and labor markets will continue to function in such a manner that the average hourly wage of a farm operator will not exceed the hourly wage rate of a hired farm worker doing the same kinds of work.

With family median incomes in metropolitan areas nearing $7,500 per year, Ruttan feels that "It is clearly only farms with sales of $20,000 or more that can come near providing family incomes sufficient to permit a level of participation in the market for consumer goods that is consistent with American standards."

Concerning the drop in farm employment that would accompany this trend toward fewer production units, Ruttan explained that "With the level of farm employment less than unemployment in the rest of the economy, even during periods of high level economic activity, there is no longer any question of the capacity of the non-farm sector to absorb displaced farm workers."

A food and fiber industry in which 80 to 90 per cent of the total farm output could be producted by 50,000 or 100,000 production units is not only technically feasible, but is in the process of evolving.

And with this evolution, Ruttan said, we can expect a corresponding evolution in agricultural policy.

"It is now both technically and economically possible," he said, "to develop policies designed to organize a food and fiber roduction industry capable of permitting that part of the population engaged in food and fiber production to participate fully in the level of material and cultural consumption that is available only in a modern urban-industrial society."

Loftstrom Named To Thorp Post At Grand Rapids

Appointment of Delmar A. O. Lofstrom as assistant manager at the Thorp Loan & Thrift office at Grand Rapids, Minn., has been announced by Glenn D. Hammitt, executive vice president.

Lofstrom formerly worked at Thorp offices in Thief River Falls and Hurley, Wis., and prior to joining the firm had served in the U. S. Navy and attended Bemidji State college.

The son of Hjalmer Lofstrom of East Grand Forks and Mrs. Frances Lofstrom of Cass Lake he is married to the former Shirley Ann Lokstad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Lokstad of Newfolden.

Slower Growth Rate Noted in Reserve District

Most major economic indicators in the Ninth Federal reserve district have continued to push ahead in recent months, but at a somewhat slower growth rate than those registered earlier in the year, the Federal reserve bank of Minneapolis reported today in its monthly economic review.

The district's two major indicators of industrial production, industrial use of electric power and production worker manhours, in the second quarter of 1966 showed only small changes from the first quarter. They continued to register, however, substantially above 1965's second quarter.

District consumer retail sales for the first five months of 1966 expanded about eight per cent over the similar time period in 1965—about the same as nationally. Sales appeared to slow somewhat in both the district and in the nation during the early part of the summer.

One indication of a moderation in sales, the bank said, was a slowdown in the expansion of consumer installment credit at commercial banks during the second quarter. A reduction in automobile sales also was a factor in the installment credit slackoff.

Although the district's construction industry has expanded substantially in terms of employment since the first of the year, the year-to-year gain during the early part of the summer was relatively small. Construction contracts let, however, have shown a gain, mostly in nonresidential building. Single family housing permits issued have been sharply below year-earlier levels.

Loan demand at Ninth Federal reserve district banks was strong at mid-year. Loans for businesses were particularly strong with increases during June about double that of a recent five year average. Deposits at district banks also increased in June.

The district is made up of Minnesota, Montana, North and South Dakota, upper Michigan, and northwestern Wisconsin.

Otter Tail Power Plans Another Rate Reduction

Otter Tail Power company today announced another in a series of electric rate reductions designed to encourage the increased use of electricity by its customers.

Effective September 1, subject to the approval of regulatory bodies, electric rates for water heating and certain other miscellaneous uses will be reduced. This will result in savings, primarily to residential customers of the company, of approximately $160,000 annually.

This reduction, coupled with others placed into effect by the company since July 1, 1963 brings the savings to customers to more than $1 million on an annual basis. nual basis.

Medicare Cards Meant to Carry

People enrolled in medicare should carry their health insurance identification card at all times, according to Clifford Kittelson, social security district manager.

The card should be shown at the hospital, doctor's office or any other place where medical services are received.

If a person should lose his health insurance card, he should notify his social security office so a duplicate card can be issued.

Safety Belt Use Increases During Buckle-Up Drive

Use of safety belts by drivers increased over a three-month period this spring, Minnesota Highway Commissioner John Jamieson reports. He noted that driver usage increased from 34 per cent to 41 per cent, while the use of these belts by passengers increased even more, from 34 to 43 per cent, over this same period.

These figures are based on a survey conducted by the highway patrol and local enforcement agencies in March and a follow-up survey in June. The two surveys were scheduled as "before and after" checks in conjunction with the "Buckle-Up" campaign.

Although the survey also showed a marked increase in the number of cars equipped with safety belts, the increase in use was greater than the increase in equipment, showing that many people who were not using belts already installed prior to the campaign are now using them.

Investigation of the survey results by age brackets of drivers and passengers indicates that the greatest increase in use was by passengers over the age of 50, with an increase from 32.9 per cent in March to 49.1 per cent in June. The least change was found in the passenger group under 25 years of age, with an increase from 27.9 per cent in March to 30.1 per cent in June.

AT THE CHURCHES

Evangelical Free Church
Wesley Johnson, Pastor

"A Friendly church with a faithful message.

Harvest time in a busy time of the year for the many farmers in our area. And rightly so, for the crops must be brought into the barns and granary if they are to be preserved and useful. The Lord has told the church to be fairthful in season and out of season and thus we must be busy for Him at all times.

We invite you to the services of our church, a warm welcome awaits you.

Wed. Aug. 24, 7 p.m. FCYF meeting. 8 p.m. Family night. Bible study and prayer service. A Bible study group for every member of the family. 9:15 p.m. Senior choir rehearsal.

Thurs. through Sat. Young People plan camping retreat.

Sunday, Aug. 28, 9:45 a.m. Sunday school hour. It has been said that when person stops learning he must be close to dead. Come along and learn some wonderful truths from God's word. 11 a.m. Pastor Johnson will be speaking at this morning worship service on the subject "Are the Heavens Brass or are the Lines Broken?" 8 p.m. We begin a series of services in joint meetings with several other churches in our community. Doctor Robert Smith of Bethel college will be speaking at the Armory each night at 8:00 p.m. August 28 through Sept. 2.

WITH AN EYE TO PERFECTION

An artist takes a strip of glass with flaws and imperfections (something you and I would carelessly discard), and transforms it into stained glass of unbelievable beauty.

And God makes possible another transformation . . . although our souls are scarred, He can help us develop into creatures of inward beauty and usefulness.

Through Him we can learn to overcome weakness with new-found strength. We can learn to have faith because we know the anguish of despair. We can learn to love—both God and man—because we know the emptiness of living without love.

Through regular church attendance and prayer, we too, can transform our flaws and weaknesses into beauty of character and fitness of purpose.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Got All The FACTS?

Take a minute . . . think!

Before you go off the deep end, got the facts first we say. One of the best and most logical ways is to ask your fuel oil man. He's your neighbor and in most cases has been supplying you for years with dependable, low cost home heating. In fact his price has been the same for the past 15 years . . . yes, many other items you buy have gone up in price, but not oil heat.

What Does Oil Heat Offer!

• PRICE •

Stable for the past 15 years. NO INCREASE. Others fuels, in some instances, have doubled.

• DEPENDABLE •

Unlike other types of heating that succumb to the elements, oil heating is right on the job working day and night—Yes dependable is the proper word.

• SAFETY •

You'll have to look a long way into the record books to find where anyone has been a victim of oil heat. Oil heat is one of the most trustworthy, safest heats you can have around.

If you have any questions about oil heating ask a member of the Oilmen's Association a person you can trust and have dealt with for years, he'll be gald to talk to you.

Meet the Candidate Series Will Include 10 Sessions

Although several dates have not been set, a series of 10 "Meet the Candidate" sessions has been confirmed by the legislative committee of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce. Announcement of the series arrangements was made by Donald L. Olson, chairman of the legislative committee.

Plans call for five noon luncheon meetings and five mid-afternoon meetings during the series. Tickets will be on sale this week at $9 each to cover the cost of the entire series of 10 sessions. Advance tickets must be sold, the chairman said, so that the committee knows how many meals must be prepared for the meetings.

Noon sessions will run from 12 noon to 1:15 p.m. and will start and end on time; Olson said. Currently on the noon schedule are Keith Davison, DFL candidate for Seventh District Congressman, September 6; Robert Forsythe, GOP candidate for U. S. Senator, September 27; and Harold LeVander, GOP candidate for governor, October 4. Sen. Walter Mondale and Congressman Odin Langen have also agreed to appear at noon luncheon meetings with dates to be arranged when the Congressional session ends in Washington.

Scheduled for afternoon meetings will be the DFL candidate for governor (Gov. Rolvaag or A. M. Keith) selected in the primary September 13; incumbent State Senator Donald Sinclair of Stephen and his opponent, Judge Herman A. Kjos of Thief River Falls; incumbent State Representative Andrew Skaar of Thief River Falls and incumbent State Representative Everett Battles of Warroad. Rep. Skaar and Rep. Battles will meet as incumbents as a result of the reapportionment adopted at a special meeting of the legislature this year.

C. W. Rodekuhr is in charge of ticket sales for the series. While efforts to sell tickets will be concentrated on Chamber of Commerce members, the legislative committee emphasizes that anyone interested is encouraged to purchase a ticket and attend the series. Political party chairmen have indicated a desire for tickets, Olson said, and an effort is being made to contact a number of women who might be interested in the series.

The first session—which featured Gov. Karl Rolvaag as the speaker and set the format for the series—was held two weeks ago. In addition to permitting the speakers an opportunity to express their opinions and programs, time is permitted at each meeting for questions from those attending.

Grain Sought for Old Mill Park

Marshall county's famous Old Mill may not grind flour this year for lack of grain. Old Mill Park Superintendent Glen L. Jensen has issued a plea for grain to grind for the running and so far has received no offers.

Grain must be run through the mill when it is in operation, Jensen said, or the millstones running against one another will overheat and explode.

Unless at least 20 bushels are scheduled the mill will not be able to operate this fall. Minimum lot for grinding is one bushel and the charge is $1 per bushel. Jensen is anxious to be able to run the mill in September or October to give residents of the area a chance to see the old Case engine and the mill itself in operation.

Anyone with grain to be ground may contact him at Old Mill State Park, Argyle, Minn., or telephone 437-2612.

Librarian Gives Explanation on Help Request

Further explanation of a request by Carnegie Public library to the city council for employment of two students from Manpower classes at the Thief River Falls area vocational - technical school was offered last week by Miss Bertha Hastad, librarian.

She noted that the request was made subject to approval by the Thief River Falls board of education and that the students would be employed as library assistants for only a short time, possibly about a month.

Workshop Shows Sisters How to Teach Religion

A 10-day workshop on the teaching of religion was conducted August 8-18 under the patronage of Bishop Laurence A. Glenn at Mount St. Benedict, Crookston.

Interested persons from North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Minnesota attended. Among them were: Rev. Keough Patnode, Rev. James Ditzler, both of St. Bernard's church; Mrs. Ward Votava, Sister Caroline, Sister Avila and Sister Gerald—all members of St.Bernard's school faculty.

The program featured a review of recent biblical, liturgical and doctrinal catechetical matter. Also included on the agenda was a consideration of methods and materials used in audio-visual teaching and a refresher course in educational psychology.

Faculty members for the workshop included William Hill, instructor in the Department of Philosophy, College of St. Teresa, Winona. Hill just spent a sabbatical year in the graduate school of Marquette university under Rev. Bernard Cooke, S. J. prominent educator in the field of religion.

Hill discussed current developments in theology, the world, current notions of God and the Bible, sin and repentance, law and love, grace, faith, and sacraments in general, the Eucharist and the church as a community.

Sister Garcia McGraw O. S. F., a teacher in the St. Cloud Diocese and a member of the St. Cloud Diocese Confraternity of Christian Doctrine board, presented methods of teaching catechism on the various grade levels and reviewed the newest and best audio-visual materials in the field.

Virgil Burns, assistant director of family service of St. Paul and a part-time teacher at St. Catherine's College, also was on the faculty. Burns concentrated on "the art of putting across what one knows."

His treatment involved the practical and personal dynamics of growth and development, the relationship between what is taught and how the pupil absorbs the material and the various methods of helping children in the learning process.

Keith To Speak Here Wednesday

Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith, DFL-endorsed candidate for governor of Minnesota, will visit in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, according to local party officials making arrangements. A brunch is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in the Rex cafe with the public invited to attend and visit with the candidate.

Sister Madonna Goes to Colombia

Sister M. Madonna, OSB, former teacher at St. Bernard's will leave for Bogota, Columbia on September 10. She will teach at Collegio San Carlos, a school for boys in Bogota. This school is staffed by the Sisters of St. Benedict.

Sister Consuela, another former faculty member of St. Bernard's, is presently teaching at Collegio San Carlos.

Absentee Ballots Available at Auditor's Office

Absentee ballots for the September 13 primary are now available at the county auditor's office in the courthouse, it was announced today by County Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr. Anyone who, for legitimate reasons, will not be able to reach the polls on election day may vote by absentee ballot by mail or at the auditor's office.

Rodekuhr also announced that the election judges' instructional meeting is slated for 8:15 p. m. Wednesday at the courthouse. All chairmen of election boards are required to attend. This includes head judges in Thief River Falls, the villages of Goodridge and St. Hilaire and all townships in the county.

Police Report Two-Car Mishap

A two-car collision resulting in $325 property damage was reported today by the Thief River Falls police department. Friday at 11:30 a.m. a car driven by Thomas O'Gorman, city, was traveling north on Knight avenue and was struck in the right front by one driven by Verna Schmitz, city, which was proceeding west on Second street. Damage was estimated at $150 to the O'Gorman car and $175 to the Schmitz vehicle. The mishap is under investigation.

On Wednesday a juvenile shoplifter, age 12, was apprehended by personnel of a local store. He was turned over to police for questioning and released to his parents.

It was reported last week that a purse containing $20 owned by Mrs. Glenn Sevre of St. Hilaire was stolen from her car which was parked in a residential area.

Karen Axtheim Named Marshall Co. Home Agent

Marshall County Extension committee and the University of Minnesota have appointed Miss Karen Axtheim as Marshall county home agent effective August 18. Prior to her appointment she was an assistant to the Pennington county home agent.

Miss Axtheim, a native of Colorado, graduated last spring from the University of Nebraska in home economics with a major in human development and the family. She was a 4-H club member for 12 years and was an assistant club leader following her years as a member. In college she was active in 4-H work, Rodeo club, Home Economics club and student affairs organizations.

Miss Axtheim succeeds Mrs. Sharon Gilsrud who has been the home agent this summer and who was home agent for two years prior to Oct. 1, 1965. The Gilsruds will return to Mankato State college September 1, where Gilsrud will resume his teaching duties.

Bid Awarded for Hwy. 89 Project

Bids on three state maintenance projects were received July 29, reports the Minnesota highway department. Among these was a low bid in the amount of $7,940 submitted by W. T. Thorson of Bemidji for production and stockpiling of mineral aggregate for TH 89, 3½ miles west of Fourtown.

Faculty Is Complete for Start of '66 School Term

With teachers to report Tuesday for a pre-school workshop, the faculty and non-teaching staff at Thief River Falls public schools is now complete, according to M. R. Hankerson, superintendent of schools. Classes will begin Tuesday, September 6, when all students will attend a full day of school and the hot lunch program will be in operation.

The pre-school workshop will last three days—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday—with several general sessions scheduled. At 10:30 a.m. Tuesday the general session will include talks by Supt. Hankerson; Mayor Orin Green; Rev. Dennis Rodin, representing the Thief River Falls Ministerial association; Rufus Olson, president of the board of education; and Victor Charles, dean of the junior college.

Afternoon sessions during the three days will generally be devoted to classroom work or teacher group meetings.

Two Men Injured In 2-Car Crash This Morning

Two middle-aged men from the local area are hospitalized in Thief River Falls as a result of a two-car collision which occurred at approximately 7 a.m. today (Monday) at an intersection one mile south and three miles west of the city, it was reported by the Pennington county sheriff's office.

The deputy sheriff stated that a car driven by John Hoffman, 48, of Goodridge was traveling west on CAR 61, a gravel road, and collided with a vehicle driven by Walter Toulouse, 49, of Plummer, which was proceeding south on SAR 16, also a gravel road.

Following impact, both vehicles came to rest in the ditch southwest of the intersection—the Hoffman car on its top facing in a northwesterly direction and the Toulouse vehicle on its wheels closer to the intersection and facing in a southeasterly direction.

Extensive damage was done to the entire front end of the Toulouse car and the right side of the Hoffman vehicles. Both machines are considered total losses. Both drivers, who were alone in their cars, were taken to Northwestern hospital where they were admitted and treated for injuries. Both received fractured ribs, and Toulouse also suffered cuts and lacerations. Toulouse is reported in fair condition; Hoffman in satisfactory condition. The mishap is under investigation by the sheriff's office.

Youth Killed in Bicycle Accident

Thief River Falls recorded its first traffic fatality of 1966 Saturday when a 13-year-old boy died of injuries sustained in an accident involving a pickup truck and bicycle. Dead is Robert Charles Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamarr Hanson of Thief River Falls.

According to police reports, the accident happened about 9 a.m. at the intersection of Pennington avenue and Greenwood boulevard (near Greenwood cemetery on the Airport road at the south edge of the city).

Police said the Hanson youth was riding a small (20-inch) bicycle south on Pennington avenue near the intersection with Greenwood boulevard when struck from the rear by a pickup truck owned by Harry Oen, rural Thief River Falls, and driven by James Bren, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bren, also of this city. The pickup was also traveling south on the airport road. Impact took place in the right lane of traffic, police said.

The Hanson youth was taken to Northwestern hospital by ambulance and died about 45 minutes after arrival there, a hospital source said. Death was believed due to a skull fracture, although the youth suffered multiple injuries.

The accident is under investigation by the police department and the Pennington county sheriff's department which was called to assist in the investigation.

Funeral services for Robert Charles Hanson will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in Redeemer Lutheran church with Rev. Dennis Rodin officiating. A complete obituary will be published in the Wednesday edition of the Times. Sinding's Funeral chapel is in charge of arrangements.

Alvin Grandstrands Of Viking Feted On 25th Anniversary

About 225 relatives and friends gathered at the Zion Lutheran church at Viking on Sunday, August 14, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Grandstrand on their 25th wedding anniversary. Registering the guests was Mrs. Halward Anderson, while Agnes Halvorson presented a musical program of appropriate selections as the guests were escorted to their seats.

LeRoy Gustafson presided at program which included devotions led by Mrs. Hannah Halvorson; a duet, "Lord Be their Companion", by Mrs. Douglas Gloude and Mrs. Mervin Anderson; a special 25th anniversary poem read by Mrs. William Rupprecht and the solo, "Bless This House" by Barbara Stokke. Mrs. Egbert Malberg extended greetings from the ALCW and from Charles Gustafson, one of the attendants at the wedding 25 years ago, who was unable to attend the anniversary celebrations The devotional message was given by Rev. T. J. Weltzin and Winslow Grandstrand, representing the family, gave a tribute to his parents. Gifts from relatives and friends were presented to the honored couple by LeRoy Gustafson.

Following the words of appreciation by Mr. and Mrs. Grandstrand and the solo, "My Task", by Glen Halvorson, Rev. Weltzin concluded the program with the benediction.

A social hour and reception followed with Mrs. Harold Kagg and Agnes Halvorson as hostesses. The head table, where 15 guests were seated, was centered with an anniversary cake consisting of two heart-shaped cakes trimmed in pink and silver. On either side were arrangements of pink and white sweet peas and silver candles. The serving table featured a centerpiece of pink and white flowers. Mrs. Orville Peters of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Harvey Hoper poured while Barbara Stokke and Shar Ray Melvie attended the punch bowl. Waitresses were Susan Stokke and Joan Rupprecht.

Guests attending were from Los Altos, Calif.; Minneapolis, Moorhead, Stephen, Karlstad, Warren, Thief River Falls, Newfolden, Goodridge and Viking.

Carol Y. Teigland Weds Andrew Wells At Grygla

Miss Carol Yvonne Teigland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Teigland of Grygla, and Andrew James Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wells of Goodridge, were united in marriage on Saturday, July 23, at St. Petri Lutheran church at Grygla in the presence of about 200 guests.

Lighted candelabra and a floral arrangement of white mums and pink carnations provided the altar setting for the double-ring, evening ceremony with Rev. Herbert Larson officiating. Mrs. Walter Jelle was at the organ for the traditional nuptial music and accompanied Miss Karen Sandland as she sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer".

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of all white chantilly lace styled with a scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and a sheath skirt with a bouffant chapel train. A crown of pearls and crystals secured the veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses with cascades of pink sweetheart roses. Her gold corss pendant was a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Richard Ness attended her sister as maid of honor and Miss Rita Wells, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They wore street-length dresses of light blue brocade with matching, veiled headpieces complemented by white shoes and gloves. Each carried three long-stemmed pink roses and wore heart pendants, gifts from the bride.

Pamela Smeby, the bride's niece was flower girl. She wore a dress and headpiece of light blue brocade, also, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her heart pendant was a gift from the bride. Bruce Smeby, nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow. His attire was a light blue coat and dark trousers and he wore a miniature carnation boutonniere.

The groom was attended by a friend, Kris Geisen, as best man and Sheldon Teigland, brother of the bride, as groomsman. Ushers were Roy Pederson and Gene Teigland. The men of the wedding party wore dark suits and white carnation boutonnieres. The groom's boutonniere was a white rose.

For the wedding, the mother of the bride wore a medium blue dress with white accessories and the groom's mother was attired in a white suit with rose and white accessories. Their corsages were of light pink carnations and pink roses. The groom's grandparents, Mrs. Anna Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wells of Thief River Falls, attended the wedding as honored guests and were presented with corsages and boutonniere.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's parents and served by the St. Petri Ladies Aid. Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Roy Pederson, sister of the groom.

The four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink and white roses and topped with a wedding bell, was baked and decorated by Mrs. John Smeby. Mrs. Smeby, together with Mrs. Gene Teigland, cut and served the cake while Mrs. Clayton Ostby poured. Waitresses were Kathy Wells and Sheryl Ostby. Mrs. Robert Smeby, Mrs. Wallace Teigland and Patty Ostby attended the gift table.

Guests attending the wedding were from Waukegan, Ill.; Grand Forks, N. D.; Eau Claire, Wis.; Miami, Fla.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Minneapolis, Duluth, Moorhead Crookston, Bemidji, Aitkin, Mahnomen, Fosston, Thief River Falls, St. Hilaire, Viking, Goodridge, Gatzke, Grygla and Oklee.

The bride is a graduate of Goodridge high school and is employed as secretary at the Grygla school. The groom is also a graduate of Goodridge high school and of Bemidji State college. Photo—Scherling Studio, Bemidji.

Prospective Theme Song Presented To Local Eagles Aux.

A song sheet of the "Eagles Auxiliary Song" was presented by

A song sheet of the "-agles Auxiliary Song" was presented by Junior past president, Teen Berg, to the Eagles Auxiliary at the regular meeting of the organization on Monday, August 15. The song, composed by Ben Ferrell, was dedicated to the Ladies auxiliary of the Bonne Aerie 2062, Lebanon, Ind., in memory of Ferrell's mother. In presenting the song sheet, Mrs. Berg stated that it had been given to her by the grand auxiliary representative, Elaine Stewart with the hope that someday this song would become the official song of the Eagles auxiliary.

Due to her absence at a previous meeting, Mrs. Berg also gave the final report of the state convention.

President Muriel Steinhauer was in charge of the meeting. She also presented the membership quota pin to Teen Berg for meeting and exceeding the quota during the year she was president of the group. Mrs. Berg expressed her appreciation to the organization and thanked all those who had helped make it possible. Darlene Davidson received her quota membership pin at an earlier meeting.

Chairmen were chosen and preliminary plans were made for the annual State Eagles auxiliary bowling tournament to be held here with the local auxiliary as hostesses. Further plans will be made at the next meeting which will be held Tuesday, September 6, as Labor Day falls on the regular meeting date.

Doris Seefeldt and Helen Dahle were in charge of entertainment, prizes were won by Muriel Steinhauer and Inga Shetler and the hostesses were Cyrilla Rodekuhr, Darlene Bottem and Dorothy Chapman.

Gust Wibergs of Gully Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Wiberg of Gully observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, August 21, with all of their children and their families home for the event. They were Mr. and Mrs. George Wiberg and family of Faribault, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wiberg and family and Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Olson and family, all of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Van Ness and girls of Sioux City, Iowa and the Rev. and Mrs. Erling Aarthun and family of Fargo, N. D.

Together they attended worship services at the Sand Valley church at Trail. Special music was provided by a grandson, Dan Aarthun of Fargo, who sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," accompanied at the organ by his sister, Janice.

Following the services, the children served a dinner at the parental home for the family. A decorated anniversary cake centered the table.

Many relatives and friends called at the Wiberg home to extend congratulations. Many telephone calls were also received.

Making Pickles Requires Special Time and Skill

Unless you raise your own cucumbers or use a great many pickles, it may be more practical to buy than to make them, according to Verna Mikesh, extension nutritionist at the University of Minnesota. Pickle-making involves a great deal of time and skill. Furthermore, making sweet pickles may be rather expensive because of the sugar required and especially if you must buy the cucumbers.

It may be difficult in some localities to get certain ingredients for pickling. For example, pure granulated bag salt, recommended rather than table salt, is not always available. Vinegar, an essential ingredient of pickles, should contain from four to six per cent acetic acid (or 40 to 60 grain). Check the label on the bottle for the acetic acid content. It is best not to use vinegar from jugs which have no labeling as to acetic acid content.

Processing in a hot water bath is now being recommended for all home preserved pickles and relishes to prevent spoilage, to maintain color and flavor and to insure a good seal. Pack pickles into glass jars according to directions in the recipe; then immerse the jars into actively boiling water in the canner or a deep kettle, cover the container tightly and bring the water back to boiling as quickly as possible. Start to count processing time and boil gently and steadily five minutes for sweet gherkins, bread and butter pickles or piccalilli; 15 minutes for corn relish and fermented dills; 20 minutes for fresh-pack dills.

Use good quality, freshly picked cucumbers;

Wash cucumbers thoroughly to removed soil, brushing stem and blossom ends;

Allow up to 14 days for preliminary curing and gradual increase of the sugar and vinegar concentration for sweet and chunk pickles;

Cure pickles at cool temperatures to avoid spoilage;

Use kettles of unchipped enamelware, aluminum or stainless steel for heating acid liquids. Galvanized utensils should never be used for curing or cooking.

Recipes for making dill and sweet pickles are given by Miss Mikesh in home economics fact sheet 8, "Making Cucumber Pickles," available at county extension offices or from the Bulletin Room, University of Minnesota, St. Paul.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

of rural Thief River Falls

A large number of homemakers receive a special satisfaction in canning that is unequaled to many of the other household tasks. To them, regardless of the varying results, trying a new pickle recipe is an adventure.

Today's recipe for Old Fashioned Gherkins comes from Mrs. Victor Walsberg of rural Thief River Falls. In giving the recipe, she stated that it's one she has used satisfactorily for a number of years and although the process is rather lengthy, the pickles are well worth the time required.

OLD FASHIONED GHERKINS

Wash one gallon small cucumbers and soak for 36 hours in a salt brine made by dissolving 1½ cups of salt in one gallon water. Drain off brine and discard. Pour 4 cups vinigar over cucumbers and add water to cover. Simmer slowly for 10 minutes. Drain.

Combine:

2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spices, tied in bags
3 cups water
5 cups vinegar

Simmer about 10 minutes and pour over drained cucumbers and let stand 24 hours. Drain off liquid, reheat and add

3 cups sugar
1 tsp alum

Bring to a boil, pour over cucumbers that have been placed in jars and seal while hot.

The Walsbergs live in Rocksbury township on a farm located near the airport. Of a family of 14, at present there are only three children left at home. Of these, two attend the Thief River Falls area vocational - technical school. They are Ralph, who is enrolled in the welding department, and Dennis, a cosmetology student. Mary will be in her last year at Lincoln high school. Only one of the others, Mrs. Robert Walseth, lives in this area.

Mrs. Walsberg likes to sew, garden, especially raising dahlias, and does her own redecorating. Mr. Walsberg is retired. Currently he works part time for the Pretty-up program.

Local Home Ec. Teachers Attend Training Confab

Miss Peggy Stahl and Miss Linda Rolfson, home economics teachers in Franklin junior school were among some 600 high school home economics teachers from all parts of Minnesota who attended an in-service training conference in Johnson high school St. Paul, August 23 and 24. "Approaches to Teaching Housing" was the theme of the conference.

Edward Maranda, head of the social sciences division, Metropolitan Planning commission, and Allan Anderson, state director of housing and redevelopment, were headline speakers at the banquet for the entire group Tuesday evening, August 23. Maranda spoke on housing from the metropolitan standpoint; Anderson discussed housing from the standpoint of residents out in the state. There were also several other speakers and a symposium of home economics teachers.

Pollution Commission Gives Information on Dump Ground Location

Minnesota Water Pollution Control commission is issuing a warning to state municipalities regarding the proper location of municipal refuse dumps to prevent pollution of the state's water resources. The commission has sent a letter to all municipal councils outlining the safeguards necessary to keep refuse materials separated from surface and underground waters and to prevent drainage from dump areas into such waters.

As communities grow in size, the provision of adequate dumping facilities becomes an increasing problem. Some municipalities award contracts to private operators for the disposal of refuse, but even though the work is done on contract, the municipality should be sure that proper disposal methods are used to prevent contamination of water. The operation of refuse dumps should not only be controlled to avoid the potential pollution of the water supply, but should also avoid causing a nuisance to others in the vicinity.

The water pollution control commission recommends that the best location for a dump site is one above flood levels, far removed from lakes, wells or local drainage courses, and having a substantial depth of relatively impervious surface soil above the ground water table. Such sites present few, if any, water pollution problems and usually do not require special safeguards to protect state waters.

The following sites are considered undesirable and should be avoided whenever possible:

1. Areas where water is present at or near the surface, such as sloughs or swamps.

2. Areas in river flood plains which are subject to flooding. (During the 1965 floods, a great deal of dumped material was washed into streams and several municipal refuse dumps were lost because they were in a river flood plain.)

3. Areas which drain to adjacent lakes or streams.

4. Ravines or valleys which may at times carry run-off or snow melt.

5. Areas near municipal or private water supplies, either surface or underground.

If it becomes necessary to use an undesirable site for dumping, one or more of the following safeguards may be required:

1. Dikes around the site should be constructed of relatively impervious soils on stable foundations. Material containing large rocks, or excessive quantities of gravel or broken stone, should be avoided.

2. Surface drainage, whether natural or resulting from private or public works, should be diverted away from the dump site. If necessary, drainage can be carried through the site in a watertight conduit so that it will not come in contact with the dumped or stored material. The use of a site in a location where run-off from the site itself may enter water-bearing strata underground is not recommended.

3. In areas where pervious soil or fragmented rock formations either reach the surface or lie close to the surface, artificial sealing of the bottom of the site may be required to prevent percolation of contaminated run-off waters into the underground formations.

4. The dumped material should be covered to minimize erosion, and control drainage and storm water percolation. Except for the active face, dumps should be kept covered with relatively impervious earth and graded to shed water from the surface and drain it from the site without allowing it to come in contact with refuse. A stockpile of suitable earth should be on hand at all times in sufficient quantity for normal daily covering of the fresh refuse for over-winter use, and for a reserve to provide a ready source of cover material in the event of a flood.

5. The dumping of refuse should be supervised so that it is placed correctly in the fill, properly compacted, and covered.

6. An alternate site should be provided to serve during periods when the primary site is not usable.

Contamination of water supplies or of the surface of ground which drains into these water supplies can be responsible for a variety of intestinal illnesses. Pollution may also create bad tastes and odors in municipal water supplies, affect aquatic life, limit the use of surface waters for recreation, cause property damage to boats or create shoreline nuisances. Pollution of groundwater, that which is under the soil, is just as great a problem as pollution of surface water in lakes and streams. This is why it is especially important that refuse dumps be located where they do not drain into surface or underground water.

New Director Is Appointed for TB Advisory Group

Mrs. Hellen Ruth Olson, Bemidji, is the new director for the Northwest Regional advisory council of the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association.

As regional director, she will help plan health programs for this and 14 other counties in the northwest area of the state. Emphasis will be placed on tuberculosis case-finding surveys, respiratory disease education and campaign promotional activities.

Mrs. Olson will work with county Christmas Seal council officers and local representatives, and also with public health nurses and school personnel to develop health programs in the counties of Becker, Beltrami, Cass, Clearwater, Hubbard, Itasca, Kittson, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau.

The new director is a registered nurse, and has worked on the Christmas Seal association's tuberculin testing teams. She has done volunteer work for the polio, heart and cancer associations.

Livestock Show At State Fair Has Many Entries

Cattle showmen from throughout the midwest will compete in the Minnesota state fair open-class livestock show on the first five days of the 1966 exposition through Wednesday, August 31. The fair continues through Labor Day.

Judging of cattle and horses shown to halter will take place in the hippodrome and the recently completed judging arena situated behind the Horse Barn. Swine and sheep will be judged in their exhibit barns.

Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Red Poll and Hereford classes are being judged today. Guernsey, Holstein, Shorthorn and the French-bred Charolais breeds will be in competition Tuesday, followed by Angus, Jersey and Milking Shorthorn premiums of $38,427 are offered cattle showmen.

Berkshire, Chester White, Hampshire and Yorkshire classes are being judged today. Tuesday's judging in the swine barn will feature Duroc, Landrace, Poland China, Spotted Hogs and Tamworth breeds. Premiums of $21,946 are offered swine competitors.

Tuesday's schedule includes judging of Cheviot, Columbia and Suffolk classes, followed by Corriedale, Dorset and Hampshire breeds on Wednesday. Sheep showmen are battling for $13,788 in premium offerings.

Judging of horses shown to halter will feature Arabians, September 2; Morgans, September 3; and Appaloosas, Palominos and Quarter horses, Labor Day. Total premiums for performance and breeding class horses are $43,000.

MAVIE . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Don Cummings of Cheyenne, Wyo. arrived Thursday to visit for a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Wayne. They will leave here for San Francisco and Honolulu, Hawaii where Mr. Cummings will be stationed at Hickman Air Force Bse. Mrs. Cummings formerly was Myrtle Hanson.

Popular Programs Are Arranged for State Fair Shows

Sultry "Detroit sound" of The Supremes, most popular female trio in the nation, will be heard by thousands who plan to see the first five Minnesota state fair night grandstand shows.

The attractive 22-year-old singers have catapulted to the top in the popular music field in the past two years with an unprecedented string of six "million-plus" sellers in a row. The feat never had been accomplished by an American group in the fiercely competitive popular music field.

Florence Ballard, Mary Wilson and Diana Ross spent their childhood in Detroit's Brewster neighborhood housing project. Since then, the future has been much brighter. Each is expected to earn in excess of $400,000 this year.

Sharing the spotlight first five nights on the North Star Spectacular stage will be comedian Jerry Van Dyke. Van Dyke and his brother Dick, got their start in the entertainment business while still attending Danville (Illinois) high school. Jerry was a pantomimist and Dick an announcer.

Last five nights — Wednesday through Sunday—will find the Smothers Brothers and comedian George Kirby sharing the night show stage.

Grandstand programs begin nightly at 7:30. Joie Chitwood's auto thrill show is first on the program.

Grandstand reserved seats for all night shows are $2. Box seats are $2.50.

Receive Piano and Organ Instructions

Sister Placid and Mrs. Max Jensen returned Sunday morning, August 21, drom Chicago, Ill., where they attended the 29th annual seminar of affiliated teachers of the Sherwood music school August 8 through 19. The annual seminar is essentially a refresher course by means of which affiliated teachers of the school are kept in touch with the latest developments in music education. It included private lessons from distinguished artist teachers, advanced theory studies, and lectures on methods and materials. Special events of this year's seminar included daily luncheons, an evening at the famous Kungsholm restaurant for dinner and a miniature opera performance of Hansel and Gretel.

Mrs. Jensen studied piano under Dr. Leo Podolsky and organ under Dr. Herbert White Jr., while Sister Placid had private piano lessons from Leon Rosenbloom and organ instructions also from Dr. Herbert White, Jr.

8,000 Exhibitors Compete at State Fair This Week

More than eight thousand exhibitors expected to compete in one or more of the Minnesota state fair's 16 competitive departments will take home more than a quarter-million dollars in premiums this year. The gigantic exposition opens Saturday, August 27, and runs through Labor Day.

The lion's share—$66,000—is earmarked for race drivers who will compete in 10 afternoons of torrid race action on the fair's paved half-mile speedway.

Competitors in eight English-style and five Western-style horse shows will be bidding for $43,000 in prize money.

Open-class competitors with dairy and beef cattle will vie for $38,427; swine showmen, $21,946, and sheep and wool exhibitors, $13,788 at the midwest's largest open-class livestock show first six days of the fair. Poultry exhibitors will seek a share of $6,000.

More than $52,000 will go to 6,500 4-H and FFA members who earned their chance to exhibit at the state fair by showing prize animals, constructing award-winning exhibits or presenting top demonstrations at Minnesota's 96 county fairs this summer. The 4-H clubbers will receive $37,000, while FFA competitors hope to split $15,546.

Agriculture - horticulture entrants will vie for nearly $20,000 in premiums. Field crop exhibitors, including those competing in the "crop art" category, will receive $11,040. Fruits, flowers, potatoes, vegetables and Christmas tree exhibitors will earn $7,930. Bee and honey exhibitors will be awarded $705.

The education department will award $14,947 to youngsters competing with booth and industrial arts exhibits, demonstrations, FFA agricultural mechanics displays and in the Minnesota state fair quiz.

Minnesotans exhibiting handiwork form their kitchens, sewing rooms and workshops will be competing for $3,028 in premiums offered by the home activities department.

The remaining $3,575 in premiums will be divided among mink, fine arts and butter and cheese exhibitors.

Brummer Resigns As RLF City Clerk

Resignation of City Clerk William Brummer of Red Lake Falls effective September 15 was announced last week by Brummer, who has accepted a position as director's aid with the office of the Inter-County Community council at Oklee.

Brummer will oversee projects of the agency in the three-county area of Red Lake, Clearwater and Pennington which are administered by the Oklee office. He will work under Roy Jorgenson of Thief River Falls who was recently appointed to the office held by the late Edward Bilek.

Brummer became city clerk of Red Lake Falls in February, 1960 when he succeeded William Nieland. He is active in the American Legion and VFW, the Red Lake County Sportsmen's club and has held office in the Northwest Association of Conservation clubs.

Fair Visitors To Consume 70,000 Pounds of Meat

Minnesota state fair visitors are expected to consume more than a quarter-million hot dogs and an equal number of hamburgers during the 10-day exposition which opened Saturday and runs through Labor Day, September 5. In all, more than 70,000 pounds of meat will be served fair patrons during the 10-day period.

To insure the health of the million - plus visitors expected this year, the Minnesota department of agriculture will maintain a mobile food - testing laboratory on the west lawn of the crossroads building.

Food inspectors will visit each of the fair's 300 food dispensing stands and restaurants at least twice daily to make certain that high standards of food storage, preparation and cleanliness are maintained.

The mobile laboratory is equipped to handle rapid tests which are routinely performed in the department's central laboratory in St. Paul. These tests are useful in helping maintain high sanitation standards, checking foods capable of rapid spoilage and making sure that food is not adulterated.

Fair visitors will be able to observe members of the department of agriculture staff working in the mobile laboratory each day of the exposition.

Anna Harris, 89, The Former Mrs. W. Wood, Dies

Anna C. Harris, 89, of Brookfield, Ill., the former Mrs. Warren E. Wood of Thief River Falls, died August 14 at Brookfield, according to word received here Friday.

She was born Oct. 5, 1876 at Cokato, a daughter of Peter and Christina Bjorklund. When she was a young child, she moved with her parents to a homestead along Snake River, near where the village of Alvarado is now located.

In 1890 she married Warren E. Wood, manager of Pembina Farm at Warren. He was a widower with six children, Jane, Ula, Hattie, Edgar, Clara and Myles. (His deceased wife was the former Augusta Bergelon.)

In 1904 they moved to a homestead on Red Lake River, East of Thief River Falls, to what is now known as Smiley township. There Neil, David, Leonard and Laura were born. Albert, Edna and Fred were born while the Woods lived at Warren.

In 1919 they sold the farm to Walter Lendobejas and moved to LaGrange, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, in 1921. Mr. Wood died in 1930.

Mrs. Wood married Benjamin T. Harris, a widower and Spanish War veteran, in 1937. He died in 1940. Since then she has lived, most of the time alone, in her home at Brookfield.

Survivors are stepchildren, Hattie Hickman and Clara Wood, both of California; daughters, Edna Piver of Chicago, Ann Hayes of Downers Grove, Ill., and Dorothy Zenk of Broadview, Ill.; sons, Neil Wood of Brookfield, Ill., and Leonard Wood of Fort Myers, Fla., eight grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Rites Held Today At Trinity For Ole Skaar, 78

Ole Skaar, 78, a lifetime resident of Norden township, Pennington county, and the father of State Representative Andrew Skaar, died Wednesday at Northwestern hospital where he had been a patient for one day.

Funeral services for Ole Skaar were held today (Monday) at 10 a.m. at Trinity Lutheran church, Rev. Reuben A. Wangberg officiated. Hymns, including one in the Norwegian language, were sung by Mrs. Donald L. Olson, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Larson, organist.

Pallbearers were Andrew Skaar, Leonard Skaar, Erven Skaar, Richard Kinnunen, Charles Markine and William Markine. Interment was in the Park Ridge Lutheran cemetery located in Norden township. Sinding's Funeral chapel was in charge of funeral arrangements.

A son of John and Anna Hoyland Skaar, Ole Skaar was born Dec. 28, 1887 and lived all of his life on the Skaar farm in Norden township, Pennington county. He was baptized and confirmed in the Landstad Lutheran church and attended rural elementary schools. On Dec. 29, 1917 he was united in marriage to Olga Nelson in Thief River Falls.

Active in community affairs, Mr. Skaar was a longtime member of the township board and served for many years as a member of the board of Directors of the Consumers Co-op Ass'n, Thief River Falls. He was also a member of the Trinity Lutheran church and a former member of the Landstad Lutheran church.

Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. R. S. (Oline) Markine, Aberta, Canada; Mrs. Art (Thelma) Terrian of this city; Mrs. Robert (Elsie) Fairbank, Morro Bay, Calif; Mrs. H. R. (Fnythe) Kinnunen, Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Martha Parsons of Yelm, Wash., and three sons, Leonard and Andrew Skaar, both at home, and Ervin at Cambridge;

Also one brother, Lewis Skaar of Nester Falls, Ont., Canada; two sisters, Amanda Skaar, Thief River Falls and Mrs. Gina Holfer of Minneapolis; 15 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his wife in December of 1959; one sister and five brothers.

Services Held At Newfolden For Robert Benson, 41

Public Notices

Card of Thanks

We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation to thank those who helped during our recent bereavement of our beloved sister. Thanks to Rev. Niel Hendrickson for his word of comfort and his visits to the hospital, to Sindings for their kind service, to the pallbearers, to the Vaarblomsten Lodge, to the Rebekah Lodge for serving our dinner and to the circle for serving lunch, and to all who sent memorials, flowers and cards, to Mrs. Lindland and Mrs. Dalager for song and music; to the nurses, doctors Herber and Davidson and to all that helped in any way. May God bless you all. The family of Ella Erickson. 1t67p

VFW Wins City Softball Honors

The Vets squad captured city softball honors for the 1966 season when, on Wednesday evening on the fairgrounds diamond, they defeated the Schmidt's Beer team, 5-4, in an extra-inning game in the playoff finals. Earlier the Vets, with a nine wins and one loss mark, had won the city softball league title.

It was veteran Don Engelstad's drive into center field, scoring Rick Jensen from second in the top half of the eighth inning, that provided the Vets' with their game winning margin.

After the Schmidt's had scored two runs in the last half of the seventh inning, taking advantage of three Vets' errors, to tie the game at 4-all, the game was forced into an extra inning. Rick Jensen beat out an infield hit to open the Vets' rally. Wally Grovum was out on a sacrifice, pitcher to first. Engelstad then drove a double to center field. Pitcher Kerm Malberg of the Schmidt's retired Nickle Drees and Ron Erickson on fly balls to left field.

The Schmidt's made a game bid in the last of the eighth when John Ellis led off with a ground single past shortstop. The Vets' Harlie Drees forced Gene Halvorson to left, a fly to right field, which was gathered in by Grovum. Ron Shern drew a walk, and the Schmidt's had the tying run on second and the winning run on first with one out. Lyle Stokke lofted a pop to second baseman Dale Erickson; and the game ended when Howard Dalager lifted a short fly to first baseman Don Engelstad, who made the catch for the game-ending out.

The Froseth's Market foursome held off the challenge of the Standard Oil squad to gain the top honors as the second half of play in the city golf league was concluded on Wednesday evening. The Standard Oil team, with Dave Wegge shooting the evening's low net score, a 33, posted a team total of 142, and gained 11 strokes on the league leaders. The Froseth's Market carded a 153.

The two teams—the Froseth's Market and the Standard Oil—will join the first half leaders, the Hamm's Beer No. 1 and the Larson Music company squad, in a four-team playoff for the city league title for 1966. The drawings for the team pairings will be made on August 31, and the playoff rounds must be completed by Wednesday, August 31.

Handicaps will be adjusted on a basis of the scoring during the second half of the league schedule.

In last week's second half windup, the Standard Oil squad—Dave Wegge, Gary Flynn, Ron Olson and Greg Larson—earned the evening's low net honors. Wegge had a gross 38 and net 33, Flynn a gross 41 and a net 36, Olson carded a gross 39 and net 36 and Larson had a gross 42 and net 37.

Jon Larson had the evening's low gross, posting a par 36.

FFA Will Again Conduct Mallard Release Program

Minnesota game and fish division has announced that beginning in 1967, mallard ducklings for the Minnesota Future Farmers of America rearing and release program will be supplied by the Max McGraw Wildlife foundation of Dundee, Ill.

The foundation, established by the late Max McGraw, nationally recognized conservationist, operates a large game farm which produces over 65,000 mallard ducks annually.

The goal set for the 1967 Minnesota FFA program is 12,000 ducklings. Under the agreement, 10 cents will be charged for each duckling provided, with the full amount deposited in a special Max McGraw Foundation Wetlands Habitat fund to be administered by a special committee comprised of the cooperators.

The fund will be used to further interest Minnesota FFA boys in Wetlands preservation and development under a new FFA program to be initiated next year.

The plan and operation of the experimental mallard rearing and releases program will be conducted much as in the past, with full cooperation of the game and fish division and the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The birds will be released on selected wetlands at five weeks of age, with a sample of about 3,000 being marked with official Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife bands. Personnel of the Minnesota department of conservation did the actual banding in 1965 and this summer.

Birds banded in 1965 were recovered in Arkansas, Illinois, Iowa, Louisiana, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Tennessee and Wisconsin, in addition to many from Minnesota. Game officials hoped that the FFA mallard project will provide answers to many questions relating to the release of game farm mallards into the wild.

WINNERS of the men's softball honors in the city for the 1966 season was the V. F. W squad. The Vets, manager by Pat Poole, won the league title with a record of nine wins and one loss, and won the playoff title by scoring a 5-4 win over the Schmidt's Beer on Wednesday evening. The squad, left to right, front row, centerfielder Rick Jensen, pitcher Harlie Drees, second baseman Dale Erickson, leftfielder Ron Erickson, and shortstap Nicklie Drees. Back row, left to right, catcher Wayne Smith, first baseman Don Engelstad, rightfielder Wally Grovum, first baseman Dean Anderson, leftfielder Vern Solheim, third baseman Roy Pederson, and manager Pat Poole.

Public Access Coordinator Is Named in State

Game and fish director Ted Shields has announced the appointment of a public access coordinator, Satate Game Warden Arnold J. Niedorf, a 19-year veteran with the division who has recently been stationed at Cambridge, received the appointment. He previously was stationed in Grand Rapids and Onamia.

Niedorf will supervise and coordinate the acquisition and development of public access sites to lakes, streams and rivers throughout the state. The game and fish division presently owns nearly 500 such sites and is acquiring about 50 new sites each year. The entire program is carried out by game wardens.

Public access funds amount to about $140,000 a year and are derived from a portion of the unrefunded taxes on gasoline used in outboard motors.

The development of long range goals, priorities and standards for future acquisition will be one of Niedorf's primary responsibilities, Shields said. Also included will be a standardized program of development and maintenance of the sites.

The public access program has advanced remarkably during the past five years, Shields commented, and the appointment of Niedorf will provide direction to its continuation.

Potato Field Day Scheduled at GF Farm September 8

Potato growers of the Red River Valley are invited to witness activities scheduled for the annual field day at the Red River Valley Potato Growers association farm September 8. The farm is located four miles south on highway 81 and one mile west of Grand Forks, N. D.

Many commercial exhibits will be on display, beginning at 10 a.m. serving of the noon luncheon will begin at 11:30 a.m. and immediately following this, there will be a presentation on the current potato outlook by Fred Sobering, extension economist at North Dakota State university, Fargo. Following this will be a discussion of team strengths and weaknesses by Marv Helling, football coach at University of North Dakota, as he view the teams playing in the first annual Potato Bowl game September 24, University of North Dakota will oppose Idaho state in this contest.

Growers will then tour the research plots at the farm and view research results that will be discussed by specialists in charge of the various projects. There should be a high level of interest in the the stops to be made. One of these stops will deal with crossbreeding and new varieties and this year some of these new varieties are showing complete resistance to late blight, while many others are severly infected.

Coffee will be served by the East Grand Forks Chamber of Commerce, at the conclusion of the tours.

August Pheasant Count Indicates Number Increase

Game and fish director Ted Shields announces some encouraging news for Minnesota's pheasant hunters. Referring to the results of this year's August roadside brood counts, Shield's states. "Pheasant populations have improved over last year throughout our pheasant range, the only exception being in portions of west central Minnesota where populations are about the same as a year ago." This confirms the reports received from sportsmen around the state that populations in most areas are up.

For the state as a whole, populations are up approximately 35 per cent. Reproduction in all regions was average or better despite a slow start due to the late spring. "As a general rule," Shields said, "production was best in the south central counties.

"This area and the southwest and west central counties which have historically provided Minnesota's best pheasant hunting can be expected to be most fruitful to the hunter again this year."

While he noted that the 35 per cent increase is gratifying, Shields also pointed out that the St. Patricks' Day blizzard in 1965 killed over half of the state's brood stock and there still is a long way to go to return to the high populations of a few years ago. This year's population is still only about half of the average of the past few years.

Shields emphasized that the assistance of the federal farm program this year in providing good cover crops on diverted acres was an important factor in promoting favorable reproduction and survival rates.

"If we have a favorable winter and good reproduction next spring, we could be back to a normal pheasant population next fall," he said. "In the meantime, hunters in most areas should find hunting to be noticeably improved over last season," Shields concluded.

State Patrolman Assigned Here

Nine promotions in the Minnesota highway patrol and the appointment of five new officers have been announced by Patrol Chief John Harbinson. Among the new appointees in Sidney Hill, 30, of Heron Lake, who has been assigned to the Thief River Falls area.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

A Major Rebuilding Project

Head coach Jim Sims and his assistants — Whitey Olson, Lee Swanson and John Schmitz—are faced with a major rebuilding project as far as Prowler footbll for 1966 is concerned.

While Ross Hanson, captain of this year's squad, heads a list of 17 lettermen who are in the squad of forty-plus candidates who have been issued equipment, not too many of these players held the status of "regulars" last season. Gone from Prowler high school football, by way of graduation, are such boys as Rod Carlson, Monte LeMoine, Tommy Cummings, John Olson, Wayne Smith, Arlo Rude, Merle Sampson, captain Gary Olson, Glen Porter, Luke Kaushagen, Tom Miller, Dick Brown and Don Hanson.

LeMoine at fullback, Cummings at quarterback and John Olson at halfback leaves only Dave Halvorson of the starting backfield in last season's finale against Crookston as a returning backfielder.

And in the line, center Smith, guards Gary Olson, Merle Sampson and Glen Porter, tackles Arlo Rude and Luke Kaushagen, and ends Rod Carlson and John Ihle have left.

But there are some promising boys on hand, and with the start of school next week, the squad will be augmented. The coaches are sending the boys through two-a-day practice sessions, with one session at 7 a.m. and the other at 7 p.m. But with ideal harvest conditions prevailing the farm boys on the squad have had difficulty in attending the evening sessions.

The squad did have a "controlled scrimmage" against coach Howard Emerson's Warren Ponies at Warren on Saturday evening. While the scrimmage doesn't follow game rules to a great extent, it does give the coaches an opportunity to watch the boys against good competition.

Another "controlled scrimmage" is slated for this week, perhaps on Thursday or Friday evening, when coach Chuck Johnson and his Fertile Falcons will be here.

And the Prowlers need these "tough" scrimmage sessions as they are slated to open play on their 1966 schedule by playing the Grafton Spoilers at Grafton on Friday, September 9. The reports are that the Spoilers are a "power" in northeastern North Dakota high school football this season.

A Deserved Win and Championship

The Vets softball team, except for their nearest relations and closet friends, didn't have too many fans on hand as the squad entered the playoff finals against the Schmidt's Beer on Wednesday evening. And that is the penalty that the Vets had to pay for being the city's top-ranked team, and the playoff favorite.

Manager Pat Pool's team won the playoff title by scoring a 5-4 win in an extra-inning game. The game-ending out, a pop fly to Vets' first baseman Don Engelstad, came at 8:45 p.m., and it is doubtful if another inning of play could have been completed. And it is doubtful if the game could have been changed to the baseball diamond, with the lights being turned on. But this is only conjecture as the Vets won in the eighth inning.

So it's congratulations to manager Poole and his "boys" — Harlie and Nickle Drees, Dale and Ron Erickson, Roy Pederson, Wayne Smith, Vern Solheim, Dean Anderson, Rick Jensen and Wally Grovum. And to their strongest sideline supporter, Frank Harger, who was put out of softball action this season by a heart attack.

The softball banquet, with all of the city's softball players, and this includes the members of the girl's teams, will be held this evening (Monday) at the V. F. W. club. And it will be a fitting finale for a successful season.

A Nod for the Hamm's

That is, a slight edge for the Hamm's Beer No. 1 team as the four-team golf league playoffs get under way on Wednesday evening, or before. The playoffs, with the Hamm's, Standard Oil, Froseth's Market and the Larson Music company team competing, must be completed by Wednesday evening.

The Hamms' won the first half honors, posting a total of 874 strokes to hold a six-stroke lead over the runnerup Larson Music company team. But if the Hamm's are as smart as they claim, and it appears that the boys—Wally DuChamp, Hubert Matt, Morris Nystrom, Emil Larson and Ed Broughton—used the second half of play to build up their handicaps. In the second half of the split-season schedule the Hamm's had a stroke total of 912, finishing in seventh place. They should make a strong bid on Wednesday evening.

The Froseth's Market squad of Jon Larson, Frank Womack, Al Adams, Erling Olson and Russ Embury, finished the second half of the schedule and the league lead, with a total of 851 strokes. That gave the Froseth's an eight-stroke bulge over the youthful Standard Oil squad of Dave Wegge, Ken Moum, Greg Larson, Gary Flynn and Ron Olson.

And I must mention the Larson Music company team—Justus Larson, John Moum, Jim Solsten and Les DeBriyn—and if experience is to be a factor in deciding the league championship, this foursome has the experience, and the maturity.

But I will have to go with the Hamm's, and that handicap they built up during the second half of play.

NYC Work Aids Hunting, Fishing On State Lands

Minnesota sportsmen owe a word of praise this fall to some 1,300 Neighborhood Youth corps conservation project workers around the state, according to the state game and fish division.

Since March of 1965, NYC members working in small crews in every corner of the state have made a large contribution to game and other projects of direct benefit to sportsmen, the division reports.

Altogether, nearly 500,000 man hours of labor have been expended on game and fish improvement projects. NYC crews planted nearly 200,000 trees and shrubs for wildlife food and cover, cut browse and improved deer yards, maintained or developed 90 public access sites, cleared hunter access trails and brushed out shore lines of marshes to improve nesting areas for ducks.

Fishermen will benefit from the hatchery and stocking operations, winter fish rescue, rough fish removal and improvement of spawning habitat in lakes and streams.

IRS Answers Several Income Tax Questions

These questions most frequently asked by taxpayers on federal income tax matters with authoritative answers are provided by the office of the district director of Internal revenue, St. Paul.

Q — I went on a job interview out of town after I graduated and the company paid the cost of transportation, meals and hotel. Is that money taxable to me?

A — The reimbursement or allowance should be included as income only to the extent it exceeds your actual expenses. If all the money you received was spent on interview costs, then nothing need be included as income.

Q — Are tax refunds automatically forwarded by the post office or do you have to notify IRS when you have moved

A — Mail should be forwarded by the postmaster if you have a change of address with him but you should also notify our office.

In past years, IRS has been unable to deliver about 250,000 refund checks annually because taxpayers couldn't be located by IRS or the post office.

Our new computer process system credits an undelivered refund to the taxpayer's account but it has to receive his next return or other communication from him that bears his new address before the refund can actually be put into his hands.

Q — My return is being audited and they are questioning the dependency exemption I claimed for my mother. What records do I need to substantiate my claim?

A — You should be able to substantiate that you provided more than one-half her total support for the year, that her taxable gross income was under $600, and that she did not file a joint return with another taxpayer for the year in question.

She also must have been a citizen or resident of the U. S., or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Canal Zone or the Republic of Panama.

Q — If stock is listed in both the husband's and the wife's name do they both qualify for the $100 dividend exclusion?

A — Each owner of qualifying stock is entitled to receive up to $100 in tax free dividends, whether they file jointly or separately. On joint ownership, both husband and wife are still entitled to their separate $100 exclusions.

Q — My wife and I are expecting and the doctor says the baby will arrive either in late November or early December. Since the baby will be born this year we will be entitled to the $600 exemption this year. Can we start taking this exemption now for income tax withholding purposes?

A — No, you cannot. It is true that the baby can be claimed for the full $600 exemption regardless of the birth date during the year, but the exemption cannot be claimed for withholding purposes until the birth occurs.

Q — A foreign student is coming to live with us. Is there any tax deduction for us from this relationship?

A — The student generally cannot be claimed as a dependent, but you may, within limitations, be able to deduct as a charitable contribution what it costs to maintain him in your home.

To qualify for this deduction, generally, he or she must be a full-time student, in the 12th or a lower school grade, not a dependent or relative of yours, and a member of your household under a written agreement between you and a tax exempt organization to which contributions are deductible. If you receive any compensation or reimbursement for his maintenance, no deduction is allowed.

Usually the organization placing the student will be able to tell you whether any costs may be deducted.

Highway Use Tax Due August 31

Owners and operators of highway motor vehicles were reminded today by George O. Leihert, district director of Internal revenue, that annual highway use tax returns for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1967, must be filed on or before August 31.

Last year, 4,800 owners of certain trucks, truck-tractors and buses filed returns on Form 2290 and paid taxes of approximately $2¾ million covering this liability.

Taxpayers who file timely returns may elect to pay their tax in four equal installments, Leihert said. The first installment must be paid when the return is filed. Other installments are payable by December 31, March 31 and June 30.

Tax revenues collected under the highway use act, in effect since July 1, 1956, are returned to the states to help pay the costs of the Interstate highway system now under construction.

Drivers Urged to Drive Carefully As School Opens

Police departments all over the state and the Minnesota AAA once again are launching the "School's Open — Drive Carefully" safety campaign as thousands of boys and girls trek back to school.

Designed to make streets and highways as safe as possible for school children, the crusade is highlighted by colorful posters entitled, "School's Open—Drive Carefully." These have been posted throughout the state, reminding motorists that a record number of children will be crossing the streets and highways on their way to school.

Motorists are urged to be especially alert in school areas, since for many children this is the first time they have been completely on their own in a traffic environment.

Berg also asked parents to make sure their children are prepared to accept the new responsibility of being a safe pedestrian. He recommended parents review safe walking rules with their children and help them select the safest route to school. To help reduce congestion and hazardous traffic conditions in the vicinity of schools, parents also were urged not to drive their children to school unless absolutely necessary.

Boys and girls were reminded also to walk on left facing traffic.

What Is Charity

It's SILENCE when your words would hurt;
It's PATIENCE when your neighbor's curt;
It's DEAFNESS when a scandal flows;
It's THOUGHTFULNESS for others' woes;
It's PROMPTNESS when stern duty calls;
It's COURAGE when misfortune falls.
—Author Unknown

To Err Is Human . . .

We make at least our share of mistakes in news stories and advertising, but it's always easier to laugh at the mistakes of others. The following item came from the column written by publisher Harry Davey at International Falls:

Efunula, Ala. (UPI) — "A mother who already has six children today gave birth to a four-room, unpainted house set back in a tenant farmer's cotton field.". . .Atlantic City, N.J.—(AP—The new Miss America will be drowned later before a nationwide television audience. . .The Mission (Texas) Times almost printed: "John B., passed away last week. Our best wishes to him for a speedy recovery."

The director of the Miss Canada beauty pageant told a reporter the girls would be judged in evening dresses rather than bathing suits, adding: "I have fought for years to get the bathing suits off the girls."

The Pittsburgh Press covered the inauguration of Gov. John S. Fine and reported: "Mr. Fine wore a bow tie—all he ever wears."

"For 59 years he practiced medicine," eulogized the Pomeroy (Ohio) Democrat, "being responsible for most of the babies born in this community. . ."Stunned, dead passengers crawled from the wreckage," said the Los Angeles Daily News. . .Even a little black dot can cause trouble. A woman who lectured on dress reform was a bit startled when a period crept into the last sentence of a story in the Lakewood (Ohio) Times. . .

It was supposed to say: "The lady lecturer on dress wore nothing that was remarkable."

But it came out: "The lady lecturer on dress wore nothing. That was remarkable."

Getting Anxious

Although it will be a few weeks before upland waterfowl seasons open in Minnesota, we must admit that we are getting a little anxious. A chill in the air on recent mornings, coupled with the announcement of season openings and bag limits by the Minnesota conservation department, tend to make the avid hunter more than just a little eager.

This is the season when hunters start to check their hunting clothes, guns, ammunition supplies, boots and favorite hunting spots. Subjects at evening coffee sessions center around memorable events of previous years' hunts and plans for the coming seasons. Men who have been too busy all summer to devote any time to their children suddenly are able to find time to get in a little extra time with their hunting dogs.

To the non-hunter, of course, all of this is foolishness. To him the taking of game is cruel and contributing to extermination of the species; the time spent in the field could better be spent at more productive endeavors; there is no "sport" to sitting in the cold or trudging long miles in heavy clothes; and besides, wild game isn't fit to eat anyway.

Hunters don't mind the criticism of non-hunters, for the more non-hunters there are the less congested will be the outdoor haunts which the hunter has come to appreciate and admire. The more people who are content to prop their posteriors in front of the "boob-tube" on Saturday and Sunday, the fewer there will be in the field to disturb the relationship between the hunter, his dog, the fields he tramps, the pot-holes he watches and the game he hunts.

And although various hunters have their favorite types of hunting, there are special qualities in each that make them attractive.

The duck hunter finds his thrills in finding a good spot before daylight, secluding and watching bluebills whistle over his set Every flock sighted in the distance is considered as a prospective target and the waiting game begins. It's a game of patience and persistence, and a thrilling game to play. Cold, dark and wet weather provides a beautiful day for a duck hunter.

The ruffed grouse enthusiast is often one of the most appreciative of nature. He enjoys a warm autumn day with sunlight filtering through a blaze of colored leaves and the crisp crunch of newly-fallen leaves underfoot. Time is his own as he wanders through the woods, enjoying the change in the season as summer slips into winter. Only the sudden, explosive burst of a concealed grouse near his feet disturbs his mood, and the time taken to reconstruct his thoughts often is the time required for the bird to place several heavy trees between itself and the hunter.

Those who hunt the sharptail grouse can count on plenty of pedestrian mileage. They live with the illusion that the next couple of steps they take will flush a covey of birds which will give them the opportunity for several varied shots. They also enjoy the solitude to be found in the expanse of open fields, grassland and low brush in the early morning dampness, and the chuckle of birds put to flight.

Pheasant hunters — those who are not content to drive their cars and watch the roadsides—make hard work of their sport. They thrill to the array of color as brilliantly-colored ringneck bursts upward from its place of cover, cackling about having its rest disturbed.

But the incurable optimist is the goose hunter—the man who rises well before dawn on morning after morning, each day expecting to find himself under a flock of honkers as big as barn doors and most days lucky to get a passing shot. His problem is to be in the right place at the right time and to out-think some of the smartest, most wary birds on which the Lord ever put feathers.

And the deer hunter. . .but that's another story. Deer season doesn't open until November 12. We have enough waiting to do right now until the goose season opener October 1 heralds the opening of hunting seasons in northwestern Minnesota.

A Wise Law?

Granted that the city of Thief River Falls does not pass a large number of ordinances in the course of transacting its business, but we can not recall having taken exception to any of them in the recent past. The most recent ordinance, adopted by the council on a six to one vote, appears to us to be conceived in haste and not entirely necessary.

The ordinance prohibits "the use of mobile homes, trailer coaches or camp cars within the city of Thief River Falls except in duly licensed trailer coach parks". It provides that they may not be used "for living or sleeping quarters" in the city "except in a trailer coach park duly licensed by the state of Minnesota".

Passage of this ordinance seems to be unnecessarily restrictive. The sections which the ordinance replaces seem adequate. They provided for prohibition of parking such vehicles on public property; restricted them to at least 5,600 square feet of ground space on private property; necessitated water connections and toilet and garbage facilities on the premises or adjoining premises; and provided that no waste water, garbage or other waste be deposited on the surface of any ground in the city.

Perhaps such rules should apply to all of the houses now in use in the city.

Just why it should be a municipal problem that someone chooses to live in a trailer house on private property is a mystery to us. Perhaps the council has some valid reasons why it adopted the outright prohibition ordinance. If so, we believe a public explanation is in order. We will be happy to publish such an explanation in our public opinion column.

Just what will happen if the ordinance is violated is not quite clear; there is no penalty provision for violation in the ordinance. Neither is there a stated exemption for the city's own tourist park—unless it happens to be a state licensed trailer park. This park is an asset to the city, but it would appear that the council has—technically, at least legislated it into an illegal operation.

Perhaps the ordinance in itself is not extremely damaging, but it does leave some doubt as to the possible wisdom of other laws enacted in the form of ordinances. Members of the city council—indeed, of any law-making body—must keep in mind the far-reaching effects of their actions.

In this case, we believe the council was guilty of acting in haste and of adopting (pardon the slang) a "sloppy" ordinance. We invite the council to show us that we are wrong.

Law Enforcement

The following editorial appeared in the Waseca Herald:

When Al Capone and his gang were running wild in Chicago and things got so bad that many people were afraid to go to Chicago we thought the laws were too favorable to the criminal.

It is sort of a sad commentary on the law to acknowledge that the only way the Capone gang could be jailed was through evasion of the income tax laws.

Hundreds of murders, liquor truck hijacking, the Valentine Day massacre and the "last ride" were common in Chicago and the other large cities. Mobsters were known and the Chicago Tribune called them by name, but the only convictions of any consequence were for income tax invasion.

Now the supreme court has so liberalized the laws that we likely couldn't make an income tax evasion stand.

Today a policeman must almost be trained in the law to know what he can and cannot do after making an arrest. Every break is given the man under suspicion.

The Dr. Shepperd and the Dr. T. Eugene Thompson cases bring to mind the restrictions placed on law enforcement officers.

Everyone saw how carefully the "law" had to walk a narrow line in the case of the killing of eight nurses in Chicago.

It appears now that the police and sheriff will have to give the press, radio and television all the information they can, then let the public help find the wanted persons. That was what happened in Chicago and the word passed out on the tatoo, "Born To Raise Hell," resulted in the arrest of a suspect by a civilian.

Maybe it is well for the courts to protect the individual, we cannot say. We are concerned about what this could do to law enforcement.

NORMAN HAGEN
Candidate for Marshall County
TREASURER

I respectfully solicit your vote and support in the September 13 Primary Elections. Serving as your county assessor since March 1, 1958, I feel I have the experience for which there is no substitute. Since I have worked with both assessment and tax books, I can answer your questions when you come in to pay your taxes.

It is my pledge to give the office full time service and to administer the affairs of the office with the highest degree of honesty and ability. Due to the busy season in my office, it has been impossible for me to call at your homes as I would like to have done. I still trust you will remember me with your vote on September 13. Thank you.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Q — Children of a deceased veteran may have some pension rights—do they forfeit these rights when their mother (the veteran's widow) remarries?

A—Eligible children of a deceased veteran retain their pension rights after their mother remarries until they become 18, or 23 if they are going to school.

Q -- Under the terms of the G.I. loan benefit, can a veteran mortgage his present home to obtain money for other expenses?

A--Only for home improvement. GI loans are not available to pay doctor bills, buy furniture, etc.

Q—Is a member of the Reserves injured while in inactive duty training, eligible for disability compensation from the VA?

A—Yes. The law provides compensation for injuries incurred in line of duty by reservists during a drill or other period of authorized inactive duty training. Application should be filed with the nearest VA regional office, and should be accompanied by an official statement from the unit commander showing the date and nature of the inactive duty, the date, circumstances, nature and line of duty status of the injury.

The Library Corner

by Flora Allison

Users of the library of late have no doubt wondered at the apparent chaotic appearance of the place, and not without reason. But moving day is approaching, although not as fast as we had hoped it would, and moving involves planning, among other things. Moving the trappings of a library does not in any way compare with the usual moving procedure. There must be orderliness at the beginning of the assembly line so that order can prevail at its end.

Books stored in the basement, which is being refurbished for use by the junior college, have had to be moved to the main floor and integrated with those already on the shelves up here; no small job. Please pardon the confusion. The moving date has been set up to mid-September, as things appear to be shaping up at present, and when the dust settles, a smooth and orderly operation will once more be the order of the day.

Meanwhile, routine business continues: new books arrive constantly. . .among them being the much-publicized "How to Avoid Probate," by Dacey. Here's the one you requested, a book that is already the target of claims and charges, assertions and flat denials, pans and plaudits. You, the reader, are the judge, as far as we are concerned, but we have attached inside the front cover a commentary on its merits or the lack of them, a clipping we thought might be of interest. Its source is the "Books Today" section of the "Chicago Tribune." You'll find the book in the "300" section on the shelf.

"Time Out, Ladies," by Dale Rogers Evans has not made any best-seller or outstanding books lists, but we recommend it. As in some of her preceding books, the movie star of Western fame lets her hair down concerning a variety of subjects, and does it sweetly, diplomatically, and yet with characteristic directness. It's also been on your request list and we are happy to have received it at last. Its appeal is to the distaff side of the household, and is sort of a blueprint of the Golden Rule in action. It offers pleasant appealing reading, with a distinct set of values for Christian living in a confused world

"The Right to Bear Arms", Carl Bakal's highly controversial new book delves into and attempts to solve the knotty problem of legislating to control the possession of firearms. The question seems to boil down to whether this is an area in which government has rightful jurisdiction, whether it is a question of morality, public safety or strictly an individual matter to be decided on that basis.

Rev. Capon's "Bed and Board" is a book which is winning numerous laurels for its author. Men and women of all faiths acclaim it, recommending it for the engaged couple, the newlyweds and for those long in the double - harness, whatever the couple's status. Delightfully witty, yet down to earth when it matters, the book expounds the joy-in-marriage theory, while not minimizing the complexity of building a life together and keeping it joyful despite the difficulties it engenders.

Rev. Capon, far from preaching up a storm, or if that is the category into which it falls, sweetly sugar-coating the pill to make it easy to swallow, talks from life and straight from the shoulder. It's a book you don't want to overlook, just for the sheer pleasure of reading it.

The title of "Paddy on Sundays" may give a clue to the dual role played by the lead character, an English schoolboy, Lenny Price. Paddy is his Only-on-Sunday monicker, when he steps into a totally different life from the shabby existence of home, where happiness is not even a Sunday commodity. In the circus environment where he weekly sheds his identity he meets a multifarious crowd and with several of them finds escape as he wanders far afield.

Inevitably he must know that family and friends will meet, and it is through one of these friends, a strange and disturbed woman that his great conflict engulfs him. The circumstances surrounding this strange alliance provide a profound character analysis that lends intense interest to the story of a confused boy and his search for his true identity.

Gwen Griffin's Putnam award winning novel "A Last Lamp Burning", is a strange tale of horror, depravity, the insanity of jealousy, in which the survivors of a wealthy, disillusioned bachelor maneuver to divide the spoils of his lifetime of amassing that fortune for which they would sell their very souls. Naples, where they live and where the jockeying for top spot begins, is the product of two cultures, the old of which romantic dreams are spun, and the new era of growth that sprawls, burgeons, crowds.

Crammed with sharply-defined characters who, despite the depravity of many of them are so brilliantly drawn as to make them seem believable even in a civilized age, the book moves at a terrific pace. Embattled family members fight each other with tongues and the weapons at hand, regressing full steam backward into a savagery out of place in our era which holds fast to a theoretical refinement called civilization but sees the theory shot full of holes with mounting frequency. However, the good people can and do come in for a share of attention, rubbing shoulders with the seamy elements of their environment. A brilliant piece of writing, in which the macabre and the tender are narrated with equal ease.

Another new library service which we are most happy to make available is the acquisition for borrowing, of a record album from Project Head Start. These excellent records, prepared by experts in the area of education in early childhood, will be available without charge to teachers P T A groups, clubs or individuals interested in making use of them. They will prove an invaluable source of help for those planning pre-school programs or desirous of expanding any such programs already inaugurated. A service from the Office of Economic Opportunity, these records should find ready acceptance among those interested in the preschool child and his needs.

The winter schedule of the library will be resumed on the day following Labor Day. We will be closed for the holiday, naturally, and on Tuesday will open at 11:30 a.m. and hold forth until 9 p.m. daily, except Saturday, when closing time is 6 p.m., and Sunday, which is the day of rest for librarians and patrons alike.

Happy Homemaking

by Karen Axtheim
Assistant County Home Agent

Almost all types of frozen food containers now on the market will give you good results. Base your selection on convenience for use, space occupied in the home freezer and cost.

Unsatisfactory containers for freezing foods are the unwaxed, lightly waxed or plastic coated cartons in which ice cream, cottage cheese and milk are packaged.

Wide mouth canning jars may be used or a clean can with a tight cover is adequate. Reuse only enamel-lined cans for fruits and vegetables and other moist foods.

Bulky frozen vegetables (such as corn on the cob) may be stored in used potato chip or popcorn cans. For best results, tray freeze them before placing in large containers.

New polyester film boil-in-the bag containers have two advantages: good protective qualities in the freezer, and you can cook or heat frozen foods in water without removing the bag.

Most bag containers may be satisfactorily closed by twisting the tops and tying them with soft twine, rubber binders or twist-ems.

Now that the proper containers has been selected, it is necessary to start preparing the vegetables to be frozen.

Process and freeze all garden products with as little delay as possible. Scald the vegetables in boiling water or steam to prevent loss of quality and to preserve the vitamin content.

To water scald, follow this procedure:

1. Bring water to rolling boil. Use one gallon of water per pound of vegetable—two gallons for leafy greens.
2. Clean and prepare vegetable.
3. Place prepared vegetable in a wire basket or large, loose cheese cloth bag and submerge it into boiling water.
4. Keep kettle covered during scalding and keep heat high.

Each vegetable requires a different scalding time. Softening of texture and unnecessary loss of water-soluble vitamins and nutrients occurs if scalding period is too long. Scalding time starts as soon as the vegetable is put into the boiling water.

To steam scald, place about one inch of water in a large kettle and bring to a rolling boil. Place thin layer of vegetable in a wire basket or a loose cheesecloth bag and suspend over the water. Keep covered.

Immediatley place the scalded vegetable into running cold or ice water one pound ice per one pound of vegetable. The chilling should be only long enough to cool the vegetable to conserve water-soluble nutrients. Then pack and freeze.

Additional information about freezing may be found in the extension bulletin 244, "Freezing Foods for Home Use" available at the county extension office.

With home canning in full swing, the county extension office would like to call your attention to a few tips on canning. Here are four points to remember which could improve your canning or get you off to the right start if you are trying your hand at canning for the first time.

1. Your canning process will be more effective if your product is clean to begin with. Avoid using bruised fruit and vegetables.
2. As utensils are used, spoilage organisms may develop. These organisms may be reduced by washing, rinsing and scalding utensils and work surfaces between batches. This is especially important if the product is starchy or milky.
3. Salt in small amounts adds flavor but does not help in the preservation process. Never add sugar when canning vegetables. Add salt and sugar when reheating the vegetables for serving.
4. Never use canning powders or drugs (boric acid for instance) or aspirin in canning. Boric acid and aspirin are drugs, not preservatives. Canning powders are effective and reliable only in large amounts, which may be harmful and will change the flavor of your product.

Hope these tips will be useful to you while canning this year. If you have any further questions about home canning, call your county home agent or stop by the county extension office and ask for the bulletin "Home Canning Fruits and Vegetables", extension folder 100.

Maturity Dates On CCC Loans Change in 1967

Later price-support loan maturity dates in 1967 for most 1966 crops should encourage redemptions of loans and reduce program costs, according to Harold Lang, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Maturity dates for 1966 crops range from one to two months later. This will give producers maximum opportunity to take advantage of seasonal price rises.

The chairman pointed out that extending the loan maturity dates will result in increased storage deductions for warehouse stored loans if the commodity remains under loan during the whole time since the loan storage charges would cover the longer loan period.

Another important change in the price-support loan program, to become effective in 1967, is the elimination of advance applications for loans. In the future, farmers will be able to obtain a loan on an eligible crop up until one month before the applicable loan maturity date.

Commodities not placed under loan may be purchased by Commodity Credit corporation upon timely notification by the producer to his ASCS county office. The 1967 loan availability closing dates and the maturity dates for 1966 crop commodities placed under price support are wheat, barley, oats and flax, May 31, 1967; rye, April 30, 1967; and pinto beans, June 30, 1967.

Land Use Shifts In State Noted By Agronomist

Amount of harvested cropland in Minnesota changed very little overall from 1945 to 1960, yet there were extensive land use shifts within the state during the same period.

Lowell D. Hanson, extension soils specialist at the University of Minnesota, described the changing cropland patterns in Minnesota at the annual meeting of the American Society of Agronomy.

Hanson said that drainage is the prime reason for the 20 to 30 per cent increase in cropland in some sections of south central and western areas of Minnesota between 1954 and 1959. These areas, known as the Skyberg-Floyd and Aastad - Flom Soil associations, have added acreage mostly through drainage and to a certain extent through farm consolidation.

He noted a corresponding decrease in cropland in the sandy soils areas found in central Minnesota.

Hanson said that the impact of drainage in the quality and quantity of the agricultural land in the western and south central areas has been overlooked by many agronomists and economists.

The future yields of these areas are likely to be higher than in the past because of improving technology and substitution of high yielding land from drainage for lower yielding cropland.

Some of the reclaimed land is high quality cropland, but the Aastad - Flom area of western Minnesota, which is made up of sandy soil, is an example of the trend toward acreage increase rather than yield increase.

While this area is not highly productive, during the study period Hanson found significant increases in total yield due to the acquisition of land by drainage.

He said that although the number of acres of sandy soil land in production has been declining there is some evidence that technological changes, such as reduced costs for irrigation, may bring back into production soils which have been abandoned as cropland.

Congress Votes Spending Beyond Dep't. Requests

Congress is acting as if most Americans really want higher taxes or more inflation, or both, Charles P. Stone, executive director of the Minnesota Taxpayers association, said recently.

"In recent weeks the President has warned Congress that it has already appropriated nearly $1 billion more than he asked for, and that adding to his proposed deficit is undesirable," Stone said. "But both Senate and House committees have since added nearly $1 billion to one school aid bill.

"Even officials from the health, education and welfare department have said this additional sum is unneeded and will result in wasted funds because of inadequate planning and a shortage of the required 'skilled manpower'."

Noting that some Congressmen have assured the President that they are acting only in response to "great public demand," Stone commented: "This 'great public demand' they keep hearing in Washington certainly doesn't come from the taxpayers in Minnesota."

BSC To Inform Students of Post HS Opportunities

Bemidji State college will conduct a northern Minnesota youth development project over the next 12 months in an effort to inform high school students of post-secondary school educational opportunities.

The project is made possible through a $43,911 grant from the department of health education and welfare under Title IV of the higher education act of 1965 under that section which encourages the full utilization of educational talent.

Counties to be served under the project are Aitkin, Beltrami, Cass, Clearwater, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Pennington, Roseau, Crow Wing, Hubbard, Red Lake and parts of Polk, Wadena, Becker, Marshall and Itasca.

Indian reservations to be served are Red Lake, White Earth, Leech Lake and Nett Lake.

Purpose of the program is to seek out and identify those youth who need or who might require encouragement to continue their educational or vocational training.

These high school students would be advised of the financial assistance available to them, and would be counselled on academic and vocational training opportunities available. The area secondary school would be encouraged to cooperate in a concerted effort for early identification and continuous encouragement of financially distressed students.

The project staff will attempt to visit every junior and senior high school in the 22-county area and inquiries should be addressed to James D. Taylor, youth project director at BSC.

Langen Reminds ICC of Need for Railroad Boxcars

Congressman Odin Langen has reminded the Interstate Commerce commission that the midwest harvest season is now in full swing and that the peak need for boxcars is almost at hand.

"It is hoped that every effort is currently being made to keep an adequate supply of boxcars on hand in areas such as the Red River Valley of Minnesota and North Dakota," Langen said in a letter to the I.C.C. "As the harvest begins to move into the elevators and other storage facilities, it is imperative that whatever steps are necessary to move cars into the area be taken now."

Langen said he is hopeful that legislation passed by the Congress this year, designed to provide the I.C.C. with additional rate-setting authority, will eventually lead to a greater supply of boxcars on the nation's railroads.

"However," Langen said, "such legislation has been in effect too short a time to contribute to a larger fleet of cars. Therefore, every effort must be made at this time to make sure the boxcars on hand are in the harvest areas of greatest need."

Sheep Producers Urged to Vote in Wool Referendum

All eligible wool growers were urged today to cast their ballots in the referendum on the wool and lamb market-development program. Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said that he hopes for the most representative vote possible.

Growers eligible to vote are all those who have owned sheep or lambs six months of age or older for at least 30 consecutive days since last January 1. The vote will be held at the ASCS county office through September 23. Voting may be in person or by mail as soon as the ballots are received.

The vote will determine whether or not deductions will continue to be made from payments to producers under the wool program. These deductions finance a program of advertising, promotion and related activities to enlarge or improve the market for wool and lambs. The promotion program is carried out under an agreement made between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers council (ASPC), a producer organization, as authorized by the national wool act.

A similar agreement has been in effect since the 1955 marketing year, following approval by growers voting in referendums. For the agreement to be extended through 1969, as authorized by law, the September referendum must show approval by at least two-thirds of the total number of producers voting or by producers having at least two-thirds of the volume of production represented by the total vote. If a new agreement is not approved by producers no deductions will be withheld from payments on 1966 marketings, and ASPC programs will be continued only as long as the present reserve fund permits or until some other agreement may be approved by producers.

By approving the proposed new agreement, producers would authorize deductions from payments of up to one and one-half cents a pound on shorn wool and seven and one-half cents a hundredweight on unshorn lambs, compared with one cent and five cents in the past. The higher deductions, recommended by most of the state and regional member organizations of ASPC, would finance moderately expanded promotion programs for both wool and lamb.

The chairman said that ballots will be mailed to all known wool and lamb producers by the ASCS county office serving the county where the producer's farm headquarters is located, and this county office is where the ballots should be cast. Ballots may be mailed to the county office or delivered in person as soon as they are received; they should reach the office no later than the close of business on September 23 in order to be counted.

Persons Over 72 To Get Monthly Social Security

Many persons 72 and older not already getting monthly social security benefits will receive them starting this October, according to Clifford Kittelson, district manager for social security.

Checks for October will arrive about November 3. A single person will receive $35 a month. A married man will receive $35; his wife, if she is 72 or older, will get $17.50.

A person will not receive this check if he is getting a monthly benefit under any governmental system, such as a railroad annuity, old-age assistance or any other kind of government pension. A 72-year-old getting workmen's compensation or a service-connected disability benefit may become eligible.

Those who have applied for medicare have also applied for the $35 benefit. They will receive a questionnaire to answer before October. Not all who received the questionnaire will be eligible. It will help determine who is eligible. There is no need to contact the social security office unless a person wants help to complete the questionnaire.

Swedish Girls Return to Sweden After Living Here

Two natives of Sweden begin an adventurous journey today on a trip that will take them back to their homeland. They are 19-year-old Ingrid Karlsson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfon Karlsson of Karlstad and a 1966 graduate of Karlstad high school, and 22-year-old Carina Haraldson, who has been in the United States about a year. Miss Haraldson has been employed during the past year by Oakland Park Nursing home in Thief River Falls.

Miss Haraldson plans to be married in Stockholm around Christmas time this year, and she stopped at the Times for a wedding information blank. The call provided an opportunity for an interview with Carina and Ingrid.

Carina worked in a 50-unit apartment house in Stockholm which was owned by Ingrid's father. She became interested in coming to the United States, and through correspondence with the Karlsson family was able to make the necessary arrangements. Before coming to this country, however, she had never met her actual employer, for Karlsson naturally employed a manager for his apartment house while in this country.

After working as a nurse's aid at Oakland Park, Carina gave up her job in May and did some traveling in the western part of the United States. Her return to Sweden with Ingrid will take her through the eastern part of the country, including stops at Chicago, Washington, D.C., and New York City.

At the tender age of 19, Ingrid has done a considerable amount of traveling. She was born in Stockholm and came to the United States with her parents and sister in 1952 at the age of five. They settled in the Karlstad community where Karlsson purchased a hotel which is currently operated as Karlsson's Rooming house.

The family later moved to Cambridge, then spent 16 months in Sweden before returning to Karlstad in 1959 where Ingrid completed her education. During her school career she attended five schools in two countries, but found the transition from one to another was not difficult.

On Wednesday, September 7, the girls will sail from New York City for Sweden—on a Norwegian boat. They will have a nine-day crossing.

What will they do when they get to Stockholm? Carina has arrangements to make for her wedding—an event which could have taken place in the United States if immigration and other conditions would have permitted. Ingrid's plans are simple—get a job and earn some money.

"It's easy to get a good job in Stockholm if you are willing to work," she said. "I love to travel. Maybe I could get a job with an airline, but I'll have to find out when I get there."

SWEDEN is the destination of these two girls who will leave today from Karlstad enroute to New York City by way of Minneapolis, Chicago and Washington, D.C. Ingrid Karlsson, 19, left, has lived with her parents in Karlstad since 1959, although she is still a Swedish citizen. Carina Haraldson, 22, came to the United States from Sweden last August, and part of the past year has been employed at the Oakland Park Nursing home in Thief River Falls.

Junior College Workshop Slated

Pre-college faculty workshop for Thief River Falls state junior college will be held in the college rooms of Lincoln high school on September 7, 8 and 9. The three day session will include participation by all faculty members individually or by panel discussion groups on various phases of the college program, from curriculum to student activities, according to Dean Victor Charles.

Faculty members for the 1966-67 college year and their assignments are:

Alan Adams, physical education and athletics; Victoria Dahlen English, speech, drama; James Dalager, mathematics and physics; Cyril Dickson mathematics and science; Mary Isaacson, librarian; Donald Lerud, art; David Morken, music and Marlene Maher, English;

Also Russell Matuska, accounting, economics, business; Merle Kruschke, history and political science; Lisbeth Olson, French, German, English; Charles Samuelson, biology; Doug Soderstrom, counselor, psychology; Maxine Thompson, typing, shorthand, secretarial and Jean Matt, college secretary.

Registration week activities begin September 12 and continue through September 16 and classes begin Monday, September 19. Students are being accepted for the fall quarter until September 12. A total of 196 freshmen has applied for admission to date; 178 have been accepted and have paid the $10 application fee.

Adult education evening classes are being planned for the first week of school and will be announced at a later date, Dean Charles said.

Building Permits Issued Here in July Up from 1965

Four permits having a valuation of $20,300 were issued in Thief River Falls during July 1966 for new buildings and repairs and alterations. According to the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, this was an increase from $19,500 for seven permits issued in July 1965. The cumulative total for the first seven months of 1966 shows that 54 permits valued at $274,790 were issued compared with 37 permits valued at $289,850 last year.

Throughout the Ninth district, the total valuation of building permits issued during July 1966 in 296 permit issuing centers was $69,766,580 for 4,203 permits. In July 1965 there were 5,588 permits issued with a valuation of $67,119,624. The report also stated that the cumulative total for the year showed an increase from $396,112,668 for 28,181 permits in 1965 to $422,452,970 for 26,748 permits in 1966.

Newfolden School Opens Tuesday, September Sixth

Newfolden community school will open its doors on Tuesday, September 6, for the new school term. Registration for the four upper high school classes was held on Wednesday, August 31. Elementary grades and the seventh and eighth grades will register in the morning on Tuesday.

School will commence at the same time as in the past year. Buses will run approximately the same as in the past and students are asked to be a little early in meeting the buses the first days of school. Anyone new on the routes will be informed to their pick-up time.

The hot lunch program will begin operation the first day of school. Meals will be the same price as last year. Meal tickets are sold for 20 meals at the following prices: $4.50 for the first member of a family eating; $4 for the second member of a family eating; and $3.50 for the third and succeeding members of one family. Individual meal price will be 25 cents.

Much renovating has been done on the building this summer both inside and out. The street to the east of the building has received the curb and gutter improvement and it will be surfaced this fall. New sidewalks for loading of buses have also been installed.

School To Open At St. Hilaire

St. Hilaire elementary school will open Tuesday, September 6, with classes the first day to run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to H. Budahl, principal. The hot lunch program will be in operation the first day.

Some bus routes will be reversed in accordance with the practice followed in previous years. The same bus drivers will be employed this year. Parents in doubt about routes are asked to call their bus drivers.

City Library To Close Thursday

Carnegie Public library in Thief River Falls will be closed starting Thursday to permit the junior college to move books into the old building and the city library to move books into the new structure. Announcement of the date for reopening in the new location will be made in a later edition of the Times.

Senior Citizen Day Center To Open at Grygla

Opening Wednesday, September 7, at Grygla will be a senior citizen day center which will operate from 2 to 5 p.m. All senior citizens of the Grygla, Gatzke, Fourtown and Thorhult areas are invited to participate.

The session will be the first of a tri-weekly organization for the senior citizens of the area to get together and enjoy recreation, hobbies, crafts and entertainment. Coffee and refreshments will be served.

Seek Members For Concert Association

Campaign Will Begin September 14; Four Concerts Are Offered

Announcement of a one-week membership campaign starting Wednesday, September 14, was made today by Justus Larson, president of the Thief River Falls Concert association. Membership in the association will permit attendance at concerts to be sponsored during the fall and winter months.

First concert of the season will be held in October and feature "The Revelers" quartet. Advance publicity indicates that this group "has won a reputation for singing everything you would hope to hear a male quartet sing, and does just a little better than you have ever heard it sung."

A kick-off dinner for campaigners will open the one-week membership drive which will continue through September 21. During the week of city-wide solicitation of memberships will be conducted, offering season membership of $3.50 for students, $7.50 for adults and $20 for families.

"Three outstanding concerts have already been contracted for, and the fourth is in the process of being negotiated," Larson stated. In addition to "The Revelers" quartet, appearances have been scheduled for the Texas Boys choir and concert pianist Desire N'Kaoua.

Through an agreement with the Crookston Concert association, members of the Thief River Falls association will be permitted to attend both Crookston and Thief River Falls concert series on just one membership ticket. This will permit attendance at seven or eight concerts at the normal rate for four events, Larson noted.

Admission to all concerts will be by membership card only. There will be no tickets sold for individual concerts.

Persons interested in active work on the membership campaign are encouraged to call Mrs. George Martin and express their interest. The concert association will appreciate the offer of assistance, Larson added.

Rule No Criminal Negligence in Car-Bike Mishap

Elton Cummings, chief of police, said today that he had submitted facts regarding the Saturday morning auto-bicycle accidental death of 13-year-old Robert Hanson to County Attorney Curtis Charlson. In a reply received this morning (Wednesday), the county attorney advised Cummings that no criminal negligence action was warranted.

Board Adds Swimming Pool to Bond Election

Sample Ballots For Primary Vote Published Today

Remindful of the fact that the Minnesota primary election will be held on Tuesday, September 13, sample ballots are published in today's issue of the Times. Persons voting in the primary election are reminded that they must not cross party lines and may vote only for candidates of one political party.

Three Cases of Vandalism Noted By Police Dept.

Vandals did an undetermined amount of damage in three areas of the city early this week, the Thief River Falls police department reported today. Monday morning it was reported that mischief-makers had entered the new addition to the L. B. Hartz warehouse.

Five tractor lights were broken on Hartz trucks parked in the building, several cement blocks were broken and a helmet was removed from a welder. The incident is under investigation.

Vandals were active Monday night in the alley between State and Kinney avenues from Third to Sixth street. A street light was broken at the corner of Kinney and Fourth. Some garbage cans were overturned and garbage can racks broken. Garbage was dumped in one party's yard. A fence along the alley was pulled out and the archway of a gate was broken. Police are investigating the incident.

Sometime after 6 p.m. the same night vandals entered the new Clark service station and scrawled "PIG 1968" in fresh cement on the floor of the washroom and punched a hole in a side panel. This case is also under investigation.

A two-car collision occurred at 12:55 p.m. Monday on East Third street. A car owned by Orville E. Dahl and driven by Ursula Marie Dahl was traveling northwest on Third street in the right-hand lane. In attempting a left turn onto Mussey street, the vehicle was struck in the left front fender by a pickup owned by Ingrid Dau of Viking and driven by Kenneth Russel Dau, which was proceeding in the same direction and attempting to pass the Dahl car. Damage was estimated at $50 to the car and $90 to the pickup. The mishap is under investigation.

CONSIGNOR to the 17th annual purebred ram show and sale in Thief River Falls Monday, September 12, is Alvin Fjeld of Goodridge. Fjeld has consigned registered Columbia rams to the sale since 1951, and that year his ram brought the highest price ever paid for a Columbia at the sale—$155. In 1965 his ram was the Columbia breed champion at the show—one of several champions he has shown over the years. About 100 animals in his flock of 150 ewes are registered. With the market outlook good for sheep in the future, the show and sale are expected to be well attended this year, according to Peter Probasco, sale manager.

Area Vocational Technical School To Open Sept. 6

Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school begins its 17th year of operation September 6 with an enrollment of approximately 275 students and a staff of 22 teachers.

New members on the staff this year will be Dwight Wilson in carpentry, Gerald Wigness and Miss Joan Young in office education, and Mrs. Sylvia Jensen in practical nursing.

Course offerings this year include aviation mechanics, auto mechanics, auto body repair, architectural drafting, carpentry, electronics, practical nursing, cosmetology, welding and office education. A few scattered vacancies exist and interested persons are asked to contact the school as soon as possible.

In the past 17 years more than 1,200 people have completed the courses offered by the school. A survey, now in progress, indicates that these people are gainfully employed and they are making significant contributions to society, according to Arnt Aune, director.

Summer session of the vocational school closed on August 26. Departments operating during the summer were architectural drafting, auto body repair, welding, cosmetology, office education and practical nursing. Total enrollment was 125.

Area Farmers Get Reprieve from Wet Weather

Eight days of warm, dry weather have provided many farmers in the local area with an opportunity to engage in harvest operations, although some areas, particularly around Mavie and Goodridge, are still wet. Rain has frustrated most harvest efforts during the past month, and the real stinger was three straight days of rain starting August 20 which accumulated to 1.45 inches.

More rain is likely today. Forecast calls for occasional cloudiness with scattered showers and thunderstorms today through tomorrow. Temperatures will become cooler today through tomorrow. Highs today will range from 80 to 88; lows tonight from 52 to 62. Winds today will be from the south at 10 to 20 miles per hour, shifting this afternoon to a westerly direction.

Chances of rain are 60 per cent today, 40 per cent tonight and 30 per cent tomorrow. Outlook for Friday is partly cloudy and cooler.

Temperature readings recorded during the past week at the municipal airport are as follows: 75 and 42 on Wednesday, 86 and 50 on Thursday, 87 and 53 on Friday, 89 and 59 on Saturday, 86 and 43 on Sunday, 84 and 58 on Monday, and 86 and 54 on Tuesday.

Viking School To Open Tuesday

Viking school will open Tuesday with registration. School will be dismissed about 11 a.m. Students will meet the bus at approximately the same time as last year except that students living east of town will meet the bus a little earlier.

The faculty includes Mrs. Ray Bren, first grade; Mrs. Wallace Boman, second grade; Mrs. Norman Voldness, third grade; Mrs. Richard Ness, fourth grade; Arvid Wallestad, fifth grade; and Dave Lunde, sixth grade.

School at Holt To Open Tuesday For Full Day

Elementary school at Holt will open at 9 a.m. Tuesday with a full day of classes scheduled for opening day. The hot lunch program will also be in operation with Mrs. Tillie Johnson as cook.

New teachers include Mrs. Sigurd Folkedahl, grades 7 and 8 and principal; and Mrs. Oliver Grondahl, grades 5 and 6. New Vocational School Reviewed; Architect Here

October 18 will be a big day for voters in the Thief River Falls school district, following action taken by the board of education in a special session Monday evening. On that date the voters will be asked to express their opinion on two questions: (1) Issuance of bonds for construction of a new vocational-technical school to be located immediately adjacent to the projected junior college campus; and (2) issuance of bonds for addition of an indoor swimming pool to the south end of the Franklin junior high school.

In attendance at the meeting was Richard Whiteman of the architectural firm of Jyring and Whiteman of Hibbing, the local district's consultant for vocational school construction. He presented plans for both the vocational-technical school and the swimming pool proposal.

Considerable discussion was held by the board on a letter received from the state department of education in regard to federal funds which the district is anticipating for construction of the vocational school. The letter asked the board not to award bids until a Congressional appropriation for the state had been received.

It was noted that Congress has made the appropriation for a number of years and that few appropriation bills have been passed in Washington at his session. In agreeing to continue with plans for a bond election, the board concluded that it must have funds committed for the project before it can make official application for matching money. No contracts will be let until such time as federal funds are committed by the state department of education to the local project.

Architect's estimates for the new vocational-technical school are near the $800,000 mark. The district currently has about $100,000 on hand and plans a bond issue of $300,000 in anticipation of $400,000 in matching funds from the federal government through the state education department. Location of the building is planned on a site acquired by the district on the north-east side of the city–north of highway 1 and east of the Thief river. The site would be immediately adjacent to the proposed site of the city's junior college campus.

The six board members in attendance voted unanimously to place a separate question on the October 18 ballot for a bond issue to finance construction of a swimming pool addition to Franklin junior high school. Detailed cost estimates have not yet been made, but preliminary estimates place the probable cost at about $200,000.

Plans presented by Whiteman Monday evening indicated a 42x75 pool with additional locker space and the equipment necessary for pool operation. The architect emphasized the "Top-notch" construction necessary for such an addition. "When the temperature outside is 40 below and the temperature inside is 80 degrees with 95 per cent humidity, only top-notch construction can assure the prevention of frost problem and so forth," he said.

While board members agreed that swimming instruction is highly desirable in the physical education program of the district, they also agreed that the vocational school should have priority in the board's collective thinking. The issue will be presented by the board with cost and projected use information, but it is the intent of the board to offer the question as a voter option in the vocational school election.

In other action Monday night, the board voted to approve the resignation of Wayne Meisner as instructor of marketing in the vocational school, and to discontinue the marketing class for one year due to lack of enrollment. Bids were also authorized to be called for at the next regular meeting on conversion of boilers at Franklin junior high school to natural gas.

Westlake And Austad Vows Exchanged At Plummer

Ruthella Westlake, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Westlake of Plummer, became the bride of Vincent Austad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grunde Austad of Oklee at 2 p. m. Saturday, July 16, at Immanuel Lutheran church at Plummer. Rev. Robert Amundson officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Miss Sandra Groven was organist and accompanied LaRae Lanman as she sang "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony and "The Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Forming the chancel setting for the ceremony were two baskets of pink and white carnations on either side of the altar.

Given in marriage by her brother, George Westlake, the bridee wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon net over acetate taffeta. Fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring long tapered sleeves and a scalloped neckline, the gown was designed with an A-line skirt that swept to fullness in the back. Delicate seed pearls and French sequins enhanced the scalloped neckline and formed the crown that secured her delicate veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascading bouquet of roses in shades of ight and dark pink, accented with white carnations.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Phyllis Westlake of Plummer and bridesmaid was Diane Haugen of McIntosh, a friend of the bride. The were attired in identical mint green floor-length gowns in Empire fashion styled with bodices of mint green lace. Each wore matching bow headpieces with veils, white shoes and gloves and carried two long-stemmed carnations in a delicate shade of pink, centered by a dark pink carnation. Their pearl earrings were gifts from the bride.

Attending the groom as best man was Charles Westlake, brother of the bride, Bruce Moen, friend of the groom, was groomsman and the ushers were Roy Westlake and David Arveson. They all wore black tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres tipped with green. The groom's boutonniere was a pink rose. Also presented with white carnation boutonnieres were the groom's grandfather, Frans Logdahl of Northome, the groom's father and the bride's brother, George Westlake.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Westlake chose a two-piece mint green dress with black accessories. The mother of the groom was attired in a shocking-pink two-piece ensemble with beige accessories. Their corsages were pink tea roses accented with white carnations.

A reception followed in the church parlors decorated with green and white streamers and white wedding bells. Highlighting the serving table was a five-tiered wedding cake iced in white and decorated with pink flowers and green trimming. Descending the winding stairway from the church that topped the cake was a miniature wedding cake iced in white and decbride and groom and their attendants. The top tier and stairway later served as centerpiece at the bridal table.

The cake was cut by Mrs. Rose Riendeau, an aunt of the bride, and served by Mrs. Alfred Austad, an aunt of the groom. Miss Grace McMunnes and Mrs. Kenneth Ettestad, aunts of the groom, poured. Waitresses were Mrs. Kenneth Blofield, Mrs. Darol Brasgula, Jackie Hoftus and JuaNita Lieske, all friends and classmates of the bride. Their white nylon aprons were gifts from the bride.

Grace Austad, a cousin of the groom, attended the punch bowl and the gifts were opened and arranged by Nellie Bruggeman and Mrs. Roy Van Den Einde, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Ole Westlake, a sister-in-law. Mrs. Milton Sande, a friend of te couple, presided at the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of the Plummer high school and the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, department of cosmetology. She is currently employed at the Mono Rose beauty salon at Hibbing. The groom is a graduate of the Oklee high school and is employed at Keewatin by the Becktal corporation.

Ray Elseths Of Newfolden Mark 25th Anniversary

On August 14 at 2:30 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Elseth were honored at a 25th wedding celebration at the Bethlehem Lutheran church at Newfolden. A program preceded the social hour with Mrs. Emil Dyrud playing "O Perfect Love" as the couple were ushered into the church by Clarence Westman. The President of the ALCW, Mrs. Oscar Amundson, welcomed the guests. She also introuduced Evonne Olson who was in charge of the program which opened with the group singing the hymn "O Happy Home". The scripture reading and prayer was led by DeElla Hoberg.

Musical selections rendered were a solo, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" by Mrs. Alfred Hagenbeck; a trio, "The Riches of Love" by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Salmonson of Warren and Mrs. Harry Sahlberg of Winthrop and a duet, "May the the Good Lord Bless and Keep You" by Mrs. Floyd Bakke and Lester Elseth.

A poem written by Mrs. Albin Folden of Norwalk, Calif., was read by Mrs. Willard Elseth and congratulatory greetings were given by Helmer Lind as he presented the gifts to the honored couple from the assembled guests. Russell Elseth, in behalf of the children, expressed appreciation to the guests for attending and also gave a tribute to his parents. The program concluded with Rev. Loren Nielson giving the devotional message and leading the group in the Lord's Prayer and the table prayer.

The reception which followed in the church parlors was served by members of the ALCW group one, with Mrs. Magnus Bakke as hostess. Mrs. Warren Stone was at the guest book, which was a gift from the children, as were the corsages and boutonieres.

Mrs. Harvey Haberg and Mrs. Harry Sahlberg cut and served the anniversary cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Oscar Amundson. Mrs. Gordon Elseth and Mrs. Gunnar Lindquist poured. Marlys Hjelle and Charmaine Johnson assisted by serving the punch. The ushers were Floyd Bakke and Clarence Westman.

Dr. Smith Will Continue Series At Armory Here

Dr. W. Robert Smith, chairman of the department of philosophy at Bethel college in St. Paul, will continue his nightly series of "Christian Maturity" meetings through Friday at the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls. The public is invited to attend.

Sponsorship of the meeting series is provided by the Evangelical Free, Mission Covenant, First Baptist, Community Methodist, Our Savior's Lutheran, Assemblies of God and Lutheran Brethern churches in Thief River Falls.

Dr. Smith told the Times Monday that his series deals with three main areas of Christian maturity - the integrated self, the the objective self and the expanding self.

The first refers to a person having well-defined goals and working toward those goals; the second includes self-analysis in the light of these goals; and the third means raising above the personal self to take an interest and help others, becoming involed in their problems.

Services are held nightly through Friday at 8 p.m.

AWARDED scholarships by Consumers Cooperative association in Thief River Falls for the 1966-67 school year were two children of members of the cooperative. Silas Hanson of the board of directors is shown awarding the checks to Sharon Wold, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benhard Wold, and Rosemary Liedberg, daughter of Mrs. Harry Liedberg of Goodridge. Sharon is a 1966 graduate of Lincoln high school and will be attending Swedish Hospital school of nursing in Minneapolis. Rosemary graduated this year from Goodridge high school and will be attending North Dakota State university at Fargo. The $250 scholarships awarded by the cooperative replace the traditional small Christmas gifts which Consumers distributed prior to starting the scholarship program several years ago.

Nonfarm Employment Breaks July Records

Minnesota's nonfarm employment continued to break all kinds of records last month when it reached a new all-time high of 1,149,000, according to Robert J. Brown, commissioner of the Minnesota department of employment security.

The July increase was 55,100 (5 per cent) over a year ago and marked the second month in a row that the one-year employment gain in the state has set a new record. It also continues the 57th consecutive month in which nonfarm employment in Minnesota has exceeded the year-ago level.

Jobs also jumped 6,000 from June to July, the highest one month gain since 1957.

Brown reported that unemployment in the state in July dropped to 44,606. This was 12,100 below a year ago and down 9,700 from June. He said that the unemployment rate of 2.7 per cent was six points below the June rate of 3.3 per cent, and seven points below the year-ago rate of 3.4 per cent. The seasonally adjusted rate was 3.3 per cent; up one point since June, and eight points lower than July of 1965.

Nonmanufacturing industry employment dropped 1,400 from June, largely because of a labor dispute in the transportation industry, Brown said, but still maintained a level 38,600 above July, 1965. The largest over-the-month decreases occurred in government (-3,100), transportation (-2,400) and services (-2,000). Decreases in the government and service industries normally occur seasonally at this time.

Manufacturing firms added 7,500 jobs from June to July, approximately 3,000 jobs more than the normal increase. Nondurable goods manufacturing continued to increase seasonally, with 6,600 jobs added since June (4,500 over 1965), while durable goods manufacturing increased 900 jobs during the month, maintaining a level 12,000 jobs above a year ago. Nondurable goods manufacturing of 133,300 and durable goods manufacturing of 147,900 combined to a total of about 281,300 jobs in manufacturing.

Mining employment continued upward to 14,800 the highest level since October of 1960. Gains of 200 in taconite and 300 in nontaconite operations, since June, contributed to 10.5 per cent and 3.7 per cent over-the-year increases, respectively.

Construction employment climbed by 3,800 jos from June, about 700 more than normal. The level at 74,700 an all-time high, was 5,200, or 7.5 per cent, above a year ago. All of the gain occurred in highway - heavy and special trades construction. Building construction showed a 700 decrease from 1965.

Employemnt in trade inched up to 265,700 in July, 200 above the June figure and 6,500 above a year ago. All of the gain from June was accounted for in wholesale trade, as retail trade dropped 400 workers. The decrease in retail trade is normal and occurs seasonally at this time.

Brown reported that manufacturing production workers in Minnesota generally earned less in July than in June because of less overtime in many firms, with some reporting a shorter work week because of vacations. Average weekly earnings for July were $115.94 for 41.7 hours of work at $2.78 per hour. Each of these averages was down slightly from the June figures of $117.70 per week for 41.9 hours of work at $2.81 per hour. This drop in earnings occurs each year at this time. The corresponding figures for last July were $112.19, 41.3 and $2.72.

Allen Gilbert To Spend School Year in Austria

Allen Gilbert, son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward L. Gilbert of Thief River Falls, is among 14 high school juniors at St. John's preparatory school in Collegeville who will participate in a foreign exchange program with a Benedictine Abbey in Austria.

The group will leave Minneapolis today (Wednesday), stop for a day in New York and leave Kennedy International Air Terminal Friday. The students will make three stops along the way, at Luxembourg, Coblenz and Munich, and will arrive at the Abbey of Melk Tuesday.

Rev. Meinulph Schmiesing, O.S.B., a St. John's faculty member, will accompany the group as counselor and chaperone. He will also act as the students' prefect at Melk and instruct them in German, Latin and English.

Other classes in mathematics and science will be taught by the English-speaking monks of Melk Abbey. The program of study will be sufficiently flexible, however, to allow for excursions to several Austrian cities as well as to Switzerland and Rome. During the Christmas and Easter holidays the exchange students will live with Austrian families to learn and appreciate the customs and culture of the country.

Although the program is called an "exchange program," there will be no official exchange until the fall of 1967 when an equal number of Austrian students will enroll at St. John's.

The city of Melk has a population of 4,800 and lies only 60 miles by fast train from Vienna. Within bicycling distance of the Abbey are ruins of many medieval castles. The Abbey itself, which was established as a Benedictine monastery in 1089, is considered one of the best examples of baroque art and architecture in Europe today.

Nearly $2 Billion In Federal Taxes Collected in State

Total federal tax collections in Minnesota for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1966 increased nine per cent over the previous year, on the basis of preliminary figures available, according to George O. Lethert, district director of Internal revenue.

Total collections of all federal taxes amounted to $1,957,056,000, an increase of $174,161,000 over the total for the June 30, 1965, period of $1,782,895,000.

Largest part of the increase is accounted for by income tax collections which amounted to $1,308,258,000 which reflects the high rate of profits, earnings and employment during 1965, Lethert said. This category was up $110,055,000 over the $1,198,203,000 collected during the 12 months ending June 30, 1965.

Corporation income taxes increased $38,146,000. Comparative figures are: 1966, $467,129,000; 1965, $428,983,000.

During this same period, excise tax, railroad retirment and federal unemployment tax collections decreased, Lethert said.

Reduction or elimination of taxes by the excise tax reduction act of 1965 resulted in collections of $115,298,000, down $7,129,000 from the previous year total of $122,427,000.

Another category in which an increase was recorded was estate and gift taxes, which added $37,442,000 in collections, an increase of $4,160,000 over the 1965 fiscal year total of $33,282,000.

Billy Graham Group Holds Classes Here

In preparation for the coming to Thief River Falls of the new film "The Restless Ones," a series of counselor training sessions is being conducted each Sunday afternoon, with the second class scheduled for 3 p. m. Sunday. The sessions are conducted in the conference room of Northwestern hospital by Mike Bovie, a layman trained by the Billy Graham organization for this leadership role.

Rev. Merrill Harris, local counseling chairman, said that many persons enrolled in the classes are expected to serve as counselors at the film showings, although there is no obligation. The training classes will continue through Sunday afternoon, Seterber 18, with the first showing of "The Restless Ones" scheduled for September 23.

ACP Practices Given Approval in Marshall

Two ACP practices have been approved by the Marshall county development group for the 1967 ACP program for Marshall county, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The A-7 practice is the establishment of interplanting of a stand of trees on farmland for purposes other than the prevention of wind or water erosion. No federal cost-share will be allowed for the planting of trees or orchards or ornamental purposes or where less than 1,000 trees are planted. Cost-sharing paid or advanced for services for site preparation will not be considered as earned unless the land is planted to eligible species of trees by June 1, 1968.

Cost-share: Site preparation: (1) Mechanical—80 per cent of estimated cost not to exceed $24 per acre. (2) Herbicides—80 per cent of cost not to exceed $6 per acre. (b) Hand planting—$3 per 100 trees planted. (c) Regular machine planting—$2 per 100 trees planted. (d) Machine planting with heavy equipment on brushland, $2.50 per 100 trees planted. (e) Hand planting on predominant slopes of 25 per cent or more, $3.50 per 100 trees planted.

The A-2(b) practice is the reestablishment of a permanent vegetative cover for soil protection. This practice is applicable only to land which is suitable for, is now in, and is intended to remain permanently in use as pasture or hay and on which a complete reestablishment of cover is determined to be necessary for protection against wind or water erosion. Land which has been seeded at any time during the preceding five years is not eligible.

This practice is not applicable to any land which is considered a part of the rotation system of the farm irrespective of the length of the rotation. It must remain in vegtative cover for at least four yars after the year of seeding. A prior inspection by a representative of the county committee is required to determine the eligibility of this practice.

To be eligible for cost-sharing a soil test made since Jan. 1, 1964, is required to determine the need of commercial fertilizer, and the rate of application shall not be less than 75 per cent of the recommended rate per acre of total available plant food. At least 45 pounds of available plant food must be applied at or before the time of seeding unless the soil test shows a lesser amount is needed. The remainder of the required plant food must be applied in 1966 or 1967.

To be eligible for cost-sharing the request must be filed before tillage operations have begun. Where tillage has been started prior to filing the request, cost-sharing may be authorized only under practice A-2-(a). Must seed at least eight pounds of grasses or 10 pounds of a mixture of legumes and grasses containing at least five pounds of grasses.

Cost-share: (a) $8 per acre for seedbed reparation, seed and seeding, (b) four cents per pound for the application of not more than 120 pounds of available plant food per acre as approved by the county committee.

Anyone interested in signing up for these practices should contact the Marshall county ASCS office in Warren.

NW School Sets Horticulture Day Nearly $2 Billion

Plans are now complete for the annual horticulture day to be held at the Northwest School and Experiment station, Crookston, on September 15. Members of garden clubs in the 11th, 12th and 13th District Horticultural societies, as well as other persons interested in horticulture, are invited to attend.

B. C. Beresford, horticulturist at the station, is in charge of arrangements. Dr. David W. Davis, vegetable crops specialist, department of horticultural science, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, will assist with horticulture day and also speak at the afternoon program.

The program and registration will begin at 1 p.m. in the animal products building. Beresford will give a report on projects in horticulture at the experiment station. Dr. Davis will discuss vegetable crops and varieties for this area.

Arnold Gunderson Wins Cash Award At Boeing Plant

Arnold Gunderson, 1936 graduate of Lincoln high school and now an employee of the Boeing Aircraft company, was in England recently with his family. The trip was financed by an award of $2,829 which he received from the company for a suggestion offered to the firm. His wife is a native of England.

After military service, Gunderson was stricken with polio and has spent the past 15 years in a wheel chair. In spite of this he drives his own car, is active in church work and bowls with a league team.

Arnold's late father, George Gunderson, was county superintendent of schools in Pennington county for several years. His mother now lives in North Dakota with her children. Mrs. Lawrence Wold of Thief River Falls is a second cousin.

Gunderson's suggestion resulted from his observation that artists spent a lot of time doing hand detail work on models for layout of Boeing buildings. "Why not use inked vellum to stimulate vertical siding, doors and windows on the models?" he suggested.

NOTICE OF HEARING

TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN PENNINGTON COUNTY DITCHES NO. 33, 59 & 32, IN PENNINGTON COUNTY:

YOU, AND EACH OF YOU WILL PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, that the County of Pennington, by Joseph Seidel, its Highway Engineer, has filed Petitions with the County Auditor of Pennington County, pursuant to Section 163.17, Minnesota Statutes, 1963, praying that he be allowed to make minor alterations or changes in Pennington County Ditches No. 33, 59 and 32. That attached to said Petitions now on file with the County Auditor are plans and cross sections showing minor alterations or changes petitioned for.

That County Ditch No. 33 runs along and parallel on the east side of C.S.A.H. No. 20 from T.H. No. 1 north to the Northwest Corner of the SW¼ of Section 18, T154N, R43W and it is proposed that County Ditch No. 33 be moved twenty feet East from its present location and improving and flattening the slopes to blend with the new road construction.

That County Ditch No. 59 runs along and parallel on the east side of C.S.A.H. No. 22 from the Southwest corner of the NW¼ of Section 16, T153N, R41W, to the Northwest corner of Section 4, T153N, R41W and it is proposed to move the location of said County Ditch No. 59 twenty feet East from its present location on that part parallel with C.S.A.H. 22 and improving and flattening the slopes to blend with the new road construction.

That County Ditch No. 32 runs along and parallel with the East side of C.S.A.H. 22 from the Southwest corner of the NW¼NW¼ of Section 29, T153N, R41W, (Sta. 91-00) to the Red Lake River (Sta. 127-65) and it is proposed to alter the inslope of said County Ditch No. 32 to blend with the new road construction on that part parallel with said C.S.A.H. No. 22.

Said Petitions allege that it is advantageous and desirable in the construction and maintenance of County State Aid Highway No. 20 and 22 that said minor alterations or changes be made and that said minor alterations or changes petitioned for will not affect the functioning or impair the efficiency of said County Ditches 33, 59 or 32.

YOU WILL FURTHER TAKE NOTICE, that said Petitions will be presented to the County Board of Pennington County, in the County Commissioners' Room in the Court House in Thief River Falls, Minn., on the 12th day of September, 1966, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, at which time all persons interested in said ditches may appear and be heard and present arguments for or against granting of said Petitions.

Dated this 8th day of August, 1966.
C. W. RODEKUHR, County Auditor
Pennington County, Minnesota.

Harvest and Fair Slow Development Of Football Team

Captain Ross Hanson, a tackle, heads the list of returning lettermen who have reported to coach Jim Sims and his assistants as the 1966 Prowler football squad engages in its two-a-day pre-school practice sessions.

Veterans reporting, in addition to Hanson, are Bill Dicken, Karl Poppenhagen, Bob Brodin, Ward Johnson, Les Nordhagen, Dave Halvorson, Paul Ihle, Rod Colliver, Ken Ose, Jerry Engen, Gary Almquist, Jerry Droppo, Brian Nelson, Mark Haugen, Scott Dowers, John Womack, Kent LeMoine, Tommy Tunberg and Nickie Drees. Drees missed much of last season's play when he suffered a broken arm in the East Grand Forks tilt, the fourth game of the 1965 schedule. And Brian Nelson a center, suffered a broken leg in the Bemidji game last year.

With the beginning of school next week, and the completion of the harvesting in the area, it is expected, and hoped, that the squad will be augmented by a number of boys who will be completing their summer work. The practice sessions this week have been disrupted by the fact that several of the candidates are attending the Minnesota state fair.

The Prowlers will begin play on their nine-game schedule on Friday, September 9, when they meet coach Carl Hasche's Grafton Spoilers on Grafton's Chandler field gridiron.

The 1966 Prowler varsity football schedule:

Sept. 9th, Grafton, there, 8:30 p.m.
Sept. 16th, Red Lake Falls, here, 7:30 p.m.
Sept. 23rd, East Grand Forks, here, 7:30 p.m.

Glencoe Girl Is Crowned State's New Princess Kay

Named attendants to Miss Kottke were Barbara Wencl, 18, Medford and Evelyn Wolkow, 17, Farmington. Representing Region one, the Northwest Dairy Day area, was Kaye Webster of Beltrami.

Princess Kay XIII will reign for the coming year as the official goodwill representative of some 67,000 dairy farm families and hundreds of dairy processors. She stands five feet, seven inches, weighs 120 pounds, has blue eyes and dark brown hair.

Her family, which includes three younger sisters and a brother, lives on a 183-acre dairy farm eight miles southwest of Glencoe. The Kottkes have a herd of Holstein dairy cattle.

Linda graduated from Glencoe high school in 1965 and now is an art education student at the University of Minnesota. Her interests include sketching, painting, water skiing, swimming (she's a qualified lifeguard), horseback riding, pheasant hunting and reading.

Linda is the first girl from American Dairy Association Region Six to win the Princess Kay title. She represented Carver, McLeod, Meeker, Nicollet, Renville and Sibley counties in the state contest.

TROPHY for the highest batting average in the Thief River Falls Softball association for the 1966 season was won by Jeff Vacura, member of the Hartz store team. Vacura was not present at the annual softball banquet Monday night at the VFW club, and Buzz Olson, also a member of the team, accepted the trophy for Vacura from Association President Bob Carlson. Vacura attained a batting average of .400 during the season.

Planning Is Key To Safe Travel During Holiday

Holiday travel need not be any more hazardous than other times of the year, the Minnesota AAA points out as motorists prepare for the summer's last three-day holiday, Labor day weekend.

The key to a safe and enjoyable holiday, according to the motoring organization, is proper trip planning. Extent of advance planning may well determine whether the holiday will bring full benefit and pleasure or whether the holiday will be marred by disappointments due to poor accommodations, fatigue and long delays.

The AAA points out that holiday campaigns stressing death on the highway not only present a sordid and false impression of holiday hazards, but also leads to undue complacency during non-holiday periods. The overall effects of these fear-inducing holiday campaigns is detrimental to traffic safety and, if anything, causes a poor driving climate for many motorists.

With just a little foresight one could eliminate the disappointments fatigue and long delays, any one of which could cause anxiety and increase the chance of an accident.

In preparation for the coming Labor Day holiday, the Minnesota AAA suggests:

Plan your trip. Know where you are going, how to get there and how long it will take.

Have your car checked to be sure it is in good condition.

Be sure you have accommodations at your destination and any overnight stops along the way. If you are staying at a hotel or motel, make advance reservations.

Make frequent stops for rest and comfort.

Do not try to drive to far. Avoid over extending yourself.

Steer, Inc., Sets Weekend Roundup September 10-11

Steer, Inc., will hold a weekend roundup September 10 and 11 at the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls. Speaker will be Dr. W. Robert Smith, chairman of the department of philosophy at Bethel college in St. Paul.

The roundup banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. Saturday on a freewill offering basis. Advance reservations will be necessary and may be made by calling the Steer, Inc., office in Thief River Falls (681-1163).

At 3 p.m. Sunday, September 11, a missionary rally will be held in the armory. Other speakers at the rally will be announced later.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Report from Vandalia

Sandy and Stan Wilson returned this week from Vandalia, Ohio, and a week-long participation in the annual trapshooting tournament held there. For the past several years this trek to Vandalia, which is a round trip of about 2,200 miles, has been an annual event for the Wilsons. And the father-and-son combination have been able to "make" their expenses, and in a couple of years they even gather in some "velvet".

In this year's shooting, Sandy had a 96x100 in the doubles event, and that score gained a tie for third place. The winning score in the doubles was a 99x100.

In a 200-bird event, from 16 yards Sandy scored a 196. In another pair of events Sandy had a 91x100, and a 92x100, from 16 yards.

In the Grand American handicap event, shooting from 27 yards out, which is the maximum handicap, Sandy an 86x100 and in a 16-yard, 100 bird shoot, Sandy had a 96x100.

He didn't compete in one event, and a result he wasn't eligible for the over-all total.

While the shoot wasn't a "bonanza", Sandy and Stan, playing their options, managed to just about cover their expenses. And that could be quite an accomplishment.

A Disappointing Turnout

The retiring officers of the men's softball association were disappointed at the turnout at the annual meeting and awards banquet held on Monday evening. And it is evident that the newly-elected officers, and the board of directors that they will appoint, will have to put in an active winter in keeping up the interest in the softball program.

Elected president of the association for the 1967 season was Pat Poole, manager of the Vets title-winning squad. Roy Pederson, also a member of the Vets, was elected vice president. And Larry Skaller was elected secretary-treasurer. These three executive officers will appoint a four-man board of directors, and the fortunes of the softball program for 1967 will be controlled by these seven men.

Attention: Junior High Gridders

All boys of junior high school age, and attending junior high school and who intend to play football, are requested to have their physical examination slips filled out by their doctor before school opens.

George Schlieff will direct the junior high school football program, and equipment will be issued to the boys who are qualified to participate as soon as school opens.

But varsity coach Jim Sims will be keeping an eye on these junior high boys, for it is from this group that the future Prowler football greats will come.

By the way, coach Sims is somewhat disappointed at the meager turnout of sophomores for the Prowler varsity. But it is expected that the number of sophomores reporting for football will be given quite a boost when school starts.

Miscellany

Peter Prichard, who graduated from Dartmouth last spring and who will be teaching in Massachusetts this year, left town on Tuesday morning. And he had as a passenger Paul Klungness, who will be in his senior year at Dartmouth. Paul will begin football practice with coach Bob Blackman's Indians on Wednesday, today. Paul was a right halfback on the Dartmouth team last season, and he expects the "Big Green" to have another successful season this year. Dartmouth, last season's "Ivy League" champions, has a number of returning regulars and lettermen available . . . Tommy Cummings, a three-sport athlete for the Prowlers the past couple of seasons—Football, basketball and baseball—has enrolled at Concordia college in Moorhead. Tom is on a football and baseball scholarship, but he does hope to be able to play some basketball, too.

Questions Asked on Federal Income Tax

These questions most frequently asked by taxpayers on federal income tax matters with authoritative answers are provided by the office of the district director of Internal revenue, St. Paul.

Q—I have a summer job but plan to return to college in the fall. Can I file my 1966 tax return this September since that will be the last job I plan to have for the year?

A—No. Income tax returns cannot be filed until after the close of the taxable year. However, if you file your return early in January, whatever refund you have coming can be processed quickly.

S—I am financing a car over a two-year period. How do I figure my deduction for interest I pay?

A—Interest is deductible in the year it is paid. Therefore, you may deduct the amount of interest you paid in 1966 if you itemize deductions when you file next year. After determining what part of your monthly payment is interest, multiply that amount by the number of payments you make in 1966 to obtain the amount you may deduct for interest on the loan.

Q—I just won a prize in a magazine contest. Is there any tax? We didn't get money, just some home furnishings.

A—The prize you won is taxable at its fair market value. Prizes normally are not taxable if received in recognition of past accomplishments in religious, charitable, scientific, educational, artistic, literary or civic fields. Nobel and Pulitzer awards are examples of tax-free prizes.

Q—I got a letter from your service center asking for my social security number. Where should I send it—to the service center or to the district office?

A—Replies to inquiries from the service center should be sent back to the service center unless the letter indicates you should send the information to our office.

Q—What are the rules for establishing a theft loss? My son lost a typewriter and some other items at school.

A—To establish a deduction for a theft loss you must: (1) show the date the theft was discovered; (2) show the property was stolen and not lost or mislaid; (3) establish ownership; (4) show evidence of value of property; (5) show any amount taken or allowable for depreciation; and (6) show the amount of insurance or other compensation for the loss received or recoverable.

Only the unreimbursed amount of each theft of nonbusiness property in excess of $100 is deductible.

Q—Is there any connection between the U. S. tax court and the Internal Revenue service?

A—None. The tax court of the United States is an independent agency. Taxpayers unable to reach an agreement with IRS over a proposed tax deficiency may petition the tax court to hear their case.

Q—One of my customers told me that if I put a punch board in my bar I would have to pay a gambling tax on it. Is that right?

A—Punch boards and similar devices make the businessman operating them subject to a ten per cent wagering tax. In addition, the $50 federal occupational stamp tax on wagering must also be paid.

Arizona Disease In Turkeys Cited As Major Problem

University of Minnesota college of veterinary medicine has received a $5,000 grant from the Minnesota Turkey Growers' association (MTGA) for research on Arizona infection of turkeys.

According to Roy C. Munson, the association's executive secretary, the grant is the second MTGA has made for study of Arizona infection in Minnesota. The association gave the university a $10,000 grant to study the disease in 1965.

The project is also supported by funds from the U. S. department of agriculture's animal disease and parasite research division. Scientists in the college of veterinary medicine's department of veterinary bacteriology and public health will conduct the research.

Benjamin S. Pomeroy, D.V.M., department head, said the grant will be used to evaluate and improve diagnostic procedures for detecting the infected birds, as well as to study methods of eliminating Arizona infection from Minnesota breeding turkey flocks.

Arizona infection is a salmonellalike disease that primarily infects turkeys. The disease is generally transmitted through the egg and can cause high mortality rates among young poults.

The disease has increased tremendously since 1962, causing serious concern among growers and researchers, said Dr. Pomeroy. In Minnesota, the rise of Arizona infection is shown by the number of breeder flocks identified as infected: 1963 none; 1964, four; 1965, nine; and 1966, 33.

The disease has rapidly become a serious nationwide problem for turkey growers, according to figures from the national animal disease laboratory at Ames, Iowa, which verifies salmonella and Arizona infection cultures sent in from researchers and diagnostic laboratories throughout the United States.

From 1957-62, the laboratory reported less than 100 cultures of Arizona infection identified. However, the number of verified cultures climbed tremendously between 1962 and 1965. The total for 1965 stood at 922, more than a nine-fold increase from 1962. The number of cultures approximates the number of infected turkey flocks detected in the nation.

Dr. Pomeroy said the rapid spread of Arizona infection can be traced to a dramatic change within the turkey industry over the past three to four years.

Formerly, turkey breeders selected breeding stock from their own or local flocks on the basis of physical characteristics. However, breeders now rely on relatively few primary breeding flocks composed of birds with desired physical characteristics, plus superior performance records.

Less than 10 out-of-state primary breeders supply most of Minnesota's breeding stocks. If any of these flocks become diseased—as some did with Arizona infection—the stage is set for rapid spread.

Besides financing study of better detection procedures and methods to eliminate the disease, Dr. Pomeroy said the grant will help researchers find out if the reservoir of infection exists in Minnesota.

In some states, for example, a constant reservoir of infection exists because the disease is present in cold blooded animals such as snakes and lizards. This means Arizona infection is hard to eliminate permanently in turkeys, since these reptiles can reintroduce the disease to subsequent broods.

Dr. Pomeroy said university researchers will study wheather the disease can live outside turkeys from one year to the next in Minnesota. He said, the state's hard winters may provide natural protection against the formation of a reservoir of infection.

Tree Seedling Orders Accepted After Sept. 1

Minnesota conservation department will begin accepting orders for tree seedlings from state nurseries September 1, it was announced today.

The seedlings, some 25 million of them, will be shipped next spring for planting in reforestation projects, wind breaks and for erosion control, wildlife habitat and other conservation purposes.

Price of the seedlings is $10 per thousand and orders will not be accepted for less than 500 trees. Several species are available but must be ordered in multiples of no fewer than 100.

Several species of pines and spruces are available while broadleaf types include silver maple, green ash, caragena and black walnut.

Trees are either shipped by express from one of three state forest nurseries at the expense of the purchaser or may be picked up by the purchaser at the nursery.

No orders will be accepted until September 1. Price lists and application forms may be obtained from state forestry field offices, county agents, ASCS offices or the forestry division headquarters in the conservation department, third floor, Centennial building, St. Paul.

Former Goodridge Man Given Air Force Honor in S.D.

Master Sergeant Philip G. Noble, son of Mrs. Olga S. Noble of Madison, Wis., has been named Outstanding Maintenance Man in his unit at Ellsworth AFB, S.D.

Sergeant Noble, a missle systems analyst technician, was selected for his leadership, exemplary conduct and duty performance. He is a member of the Strategic Air Command which keeps the free world's mightiest missile and jet bomber force ready to counter the enemy threat.

The sergeant, a graduate of East high school, is a veteran of the Korean War. His father, P.M. Noble, resides in Goodridge.

Politics and Prunes

Just why is it that some national legislators and department leaders believe it is necessary for the government to tell the consumer how many prunes he may purchase in a package, how they shall be identified and how the package shall be labeled? Doesn't our government have enough to worry about with an escalating war in Viet Nam, run-away inflation at home, population growth projected to produce food shortages and a multitude of other problems?

The Industrial News Review recently stated the following in regard to so-called consumer-protection, and it makes good sense:

No reasonable person denies that umpire-type regulation is necessary. Private enterprise in a free market has shown a capacity to flourish with this kind of regulation. But the philosophy of proponents of regulation in the field of consumer protection has been undergoing a change. They are not satisfied with government in the role of umpire.

Advocates of consumer legislation now wish to see government, rather than consumer choice in a free market, become the dominant factor in the marketplace. Their approach, exemplified by bills introduced in Congress dealing with truth in packaging and labeling, is based on the premise that consumers should not have to face the "frustrations" of making a rational comparison among products in the market.

Their solution for reducing the difficulty of making a choice is simple—they would reduce the number of choices available. As one publication has pointed out, ". . . That's like making it easier to play the violin by eliminating some of the strings."

The plain fact is that many of the current proposals having to do with protecting the consumer are aimed primarily at fundamental changes in the American economic system, which has managed to produce the world's highest standard of living.

The proposals in reality, far from having the consumer's interest at heart, are inspired mainly by politics, and when politics is mixed with economics, consumers are destined to come out on the short end of the stick. It may be that those who are endeavoring to mix politics and economics are due for a surprise.

Recent surveys show that consumer satisfaction with current packaging and labeling practices ranges from 70 to 90 per cent. Thus, there is no great public outcry over the alleged chicanery of the manufacturers and distributors who have to try to please the American housewife.

Politics, Politics

Even the most avid follower of politics must admit that the coming elections have plenty to offer in the way of interest. There are a number of contests for which the outcome is certainly uncertain, and that makes the campaigning more interesting and intense.

At the present, of course, the primary election holds the most excitement. Topping the interest in the primary is the race between Gov. Karl Rolvaag, the man nobody seems to want except the rank and file DFL party, and A. M. Keith, his ambitious lieutenant who is making a bid for leadership in the party.

An interesting question will be resolved in the primary. That question is: Will DFL party members in the state go along with the endorsement of their party leaders or will they vote independent of party endorsement? The question of party organization power is being put on the line in this election.

The Republicans are urging their fellow members in the GOP to stay out of the DFL squabble—and wisely so. They have problems enough of their own in attempting to boost their own standard-bearer, Harold LeVander. And LeVander has the problem of simply running for governor since the DFL has not provided him with a clear-cut opponent to run against.

Whether by error or design, the DFL has developed a master political move in this election campaign. The party has created a situation where an incumbent governor—who defeated an incumbent believed by many to be unbeatable—is established in the role of an underdog. The power struggle between Rolvaag and Keith forces has grabbed all the headlines and resulted in high public interest. Democrats are choosing sides and becoming active, bringing out old and new party members to work in the campaign.

Meanwhile, back at GOP headquarters, the Republicans are spinning their wheels in trying to get something started for LeVander. He hasn't been getting the public exposure he should have—all things being equal—and he won't until dust settles after the primary. He might as well circulate among the party faithful passing out ammunition and hold his fire until his opponent is clearly visible after September 13.

About the only other race of immediate local interest is the contest for register of deeds in Pennington county. Seeking the post are Gordon Reierson, Mel Burrell and Harlow Johnson, with one of the three to be eliminated in the primary.

In Marshall county there are several primary election contests. Close races are developing for county treasurer and fifth district commissioners. Two veteran office holders, John Sands as county treasurer and Sofus Bjerkness as commissioner, have announced their retirement. There are some good candidates for both posts, and the primary election will be close.

Looking forward into November, there will be a number of good races, including that for State Representative where two will be running against each other. It's going to be a busy fall.

Politics, politics.

Another Tragedy

Saturday morning's accident which took the life of a young Thief River Falls boy was another tragedy in our community. Sympathy is certainly due to the family which suffered the loss.

Tragic as it is, the accident serves to graphically illustrate the need for caution in walking, riding bicycles or driving motorbikes on streets or highways in our area. Pedestrians or cyclists are not always easy to see, and due to their slow rate of travel are quickly overtaken by much faster motor vehicle traffic.

The airport road, site of the accident Saturday, is a good case in point. Although surfaced and heavily traveled, the road is narrow and has virtually no shoulders for slower traffic. Bicycle and pedestrian traffic is also heavy on the road.

On a number of occasions we have been appalled by the complete disregard which some of these people show for traffic. Anyone who has traveled the road from the city to the airport to any extent knows what we mean. Some of the most flagrant in disregard to their own personal safety are young people — and we don't necessarily mean young children. We refer to teenagers who should be well aware of the hazards of walking or riding in traffic lanes, and realize that common courtesy dictates that they should yield to vehicles.

Since Saturday's tragedy, we have heard several comments in regard to near accidents which have been avoided only by alert, defensive driving. In each instance, the persons we talked to cited the distinct bad manners of youngsters who hogged traffic lanes and defiantly challenged drivers to avoid hitting them.

There is no immunity from accidents, whether proper care is exercised or not. Failing to exercise that care only increases the chances of being involved in an accident. Unless some youngsters wake up to that fact and mend their ways, there will be other serious accidents which need not happen in the future.

Back in Harness

With the opening of a three-day preschool workshop Tuesday, Thief River Falls teachers find themselves back in the educational harness again. For them, as for the rest of us, the summer season has gone far too fast and the "back to school" march seems too soon in coming.

The community welcomes its teachers in all levels—elementary, junior and senior high, vocational and junior college. The welcome is equally warm for those who are teaching in Thief River Falls for the first time as it is for those who are returning after teaching here in previous years.

We wish to inform the new teachers that they are joining a faculty which is held in high community regard, and which has made the Thief River Falls public schools highly successful as educational institutions. A precedent has been established, and the new teachers have a reputation to uphold as well as an opportunity for pride in their associations here.

A special word of welcome to the junior college faculty should not be out of line. These educators have before them the challenge of building a proud tradition in a field of education new to this area of the state. We hope that in several short years we will have a new junior college campus ready for occupancy, and that higher education will blossom from the bud that has now appeared on the local scene.

It is our hope that the summer interruption of the teaching routine has been a refreshing one for our teachers, and that they are eager to be back in harness for a new school term.

Time to Brag

W. T. Rice, president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, told a meeting of the Railroad Public Relations association recently that ". . . it's time to brag". Some of the things to brag about were listed as follows:

The taxes railroads pay. "In many counties schools couldn't operate without railroad taxes," Rice pointed out.

The payrolls railroads maintain; the new industries they bring to towns along their lines; the space-age technology they are harnessing; the little - appreciated fact that railroad freight rates have declined by 13 per cent during a period when the consumer's price index has climbed by 12 per cent.

"And let's brag," said Rice, "about the fact that when the federal government operated the railroads during World War I, it was at a net loss of $2 million a day, but that when the railroads were permitted to run themselves, during World War II, they actually paid $3 million a day in taxes, for a net gain to the taxpayers of $5 million a day."

"It has long been apparent that our national transportation policy needs to be revised. Fully 35 federal agencies are now involved in the nation's transportation industry. The result has been muddled and inconsistent policies relating to transportation and unequal treatment of the various modes of transportation."

GREAT MONUMENTS

STATUE OF LIBERTY

". . . Send me your tired, your poor.
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free.
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me.
I lift my lamp beside the golden door!"

These words by Emma Lazarus are graven on the pedestal of the Statue of Liberty Enlightening the World, which towers 305 feet above New York Harbor. The mighty statue is a monument to opportunity, to man's basic right to be free.

. . . embody the responsibility of ideals

Happy Homemaking

by Beverly Tvelto
Pennington County Home Agent

When selected for freezing, fruit should be slightly riper than for canning. Prepare the fruit for packing as for table use. Three types of packs are used: sirup pack, sugar pack and dry pack.

Sirup Pack: Dissolve needed sugar in cold water (approximately three quarts water, nine cups sugar per crate of fruit). Do not heat. Allow to stand until sugar is dissolved, stirring occasionally. This pack best preserves vitamins.

You may replace one-third of the sugar with light-colored corn sirup which may improve texture, flavor and color of fruit.

Place prepared fruit in containers and cover with sirup. Leave one-half inch at top of container for expansion. Crumpled waxed paper between lid and fruit will keep fruit submerged and thus prevent darkening.

When packing such fruits as peaches, apricots, figs and sweet cherries, add ascorbic acid (vitamine C) to help prevent rapid darkening and loss of flavor when thawed. Use one-half teaspoon ascorbic acid for each quart of water just before pouring sirup over fruit.

Sugar Pack: Place prepared fruit in a bowl. Sprinkle required amount of sugar over fruit and let stand until sugar begins to dissolve. Stir gently until each piece of fruit is coated with sugar and juice. Pack fruit snuggly into containers.

Dry Pack: Simply pack prepared fruit in containers without sugar, sugar sirup or other liquid.

Maybe instead of freezing the whole fruit, you would rather freeze just the juice for later use in beverages or for jelly. Below are the University of Minnesota nutritionist's directions for preparing juices from apples and plums for freezing.

Apples: Wash fruit, put through food chopper, using coarsest blade. Do not heat. Squeeze juice through strong, clean cloth bag. Strain. Add one-half teaspoon ascorbic acid per gallon of juice to preserve the flavor. Do not add sugar.

Plums: For juice choose firm, tree-ripened fruit of deep color. For juice to be used for jelly, select fruit as recommended in specific jelly recipe. Wash plums, then simmer until soft in enough water to barely cover. Strain through jelly bag. Cool. If desired for beverages, sweeten with one to two cups sugar for each quart of juice.

Blends of apple and plum juice make appealing beverages and jellies.

To freeze, fill containers leaving one-half inch space at top for wide-mouthed pints, one inch for wide-mouthed quarts, three-fourth inch for narrow-mouthed pints and one and one-half inches for narrow-mouthed quarts.

If you have any further questions on freezing fruits, ask at the county extension office for a copy of "Freezing Foods for Home Use", Extension Folder 244.

Social Security Queries Answered

Q—Is it necessary for a person who has never worked under social security but has signed up for medicare to recontact a social security representative to see if he is eligible for the new payments to be made to many people over age 72?

A—No. A form will be mailed to those persons who may be eligible for this payment beginning October 1966. Their answers will enable social security to determine if they meet the requirements. Of course, anyone who wants help completing the form should contact a social security representative.

Q—How much are these payments?

A—$35 per month will be paid to each eligible single person. In the case of a married couple, the payment will be $35 to the husband and $17.50 to the wife.

In a very few cases it may be necessary to adjust the amount of the payments because of some other type of government cash payment being received.

Q—How will this program be financed?

A—The checks sent to persons who have never worked under social security will be taken from general revenue. Social security will determine who is eligible and issue the checks to them.

BSC Placement Bureau Finds Jobs for Grads

Dr. John Brady, director of the Bemidji State college placement bureau, reported this week that nearly all members of the class of 1966 will have employment before September 1. He said a larger percentage than usual of the BSC teaching curriculum graduates were able to find employment in Minnesota due to such combined federal-state programs as Operation Headstart, Job Corps, Community Action Programs and the Economic Opportunity Act.

The expanding bachelor of arts curriculum at BSC has placed graduates in 14 industries, most of them in Minnesota and the midwest. Government agencies and graduate fellowships have called a number of outstanding students and 13 graduates are serving in the armed services.

Among those entering the teaching profession were Kathleen J. Zimmerman, Thief River Falls, teaching English and French at Kelliher; Diane A. Lovly, Goodridge, teaching junior high English at Thief River Falls; and Corella Christianson, Trail, Teaching grade two at Cambridge.

Also Sharon Luxemburg, teaching kindergarten at Thief River Falls; Mary G. Hoefer, teaching girls junior high physical education at Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Stephen J. Olson, teaching social studies at East Grand Forks, all from Red Lake Falls; and Patricia Wright, teaching art at Mora; Donald Fox, teaching science and math at Plummer; and Orrin G. Linder, teaching social studies at Littlefork, all from Plummer.

Among the 1966 bachelor's degree graduates who will continue in graduate study are Milan E. Alby, Thief River Falls, at North Dakota State University; Connelly J. Dyrud, Thief River Falls, Lutheran seminary, St. Paul; and Steve Demarais, Red Lake Falls, University of Minnesota. Warren C. Anderson of Grygla and James S. Strong of Red Lake have entered military service.

Among those going into industry are Jerry Phillon, Red Lake Falls, social worker at Salt Lake City, Utah; Gene A. Haugen, Goodridge, Boeing Aircraft; and Dave Odegaard, Gonvick, professional football with the Houston Oilers. Nola Studer of Red Lake is employed by Project Headstart.

SBA Man Will Be in Bemidji

Harry A. Sieben, regional director of the Small Business administration, announced today that John R. Cronholm, loan specialist, will be in Bemidji Wednesday, September 14.

In making the announcement, Sieben urged small businessmen in the area who are interested in learning more about the various SBA programs to make plans to visit with Cronholm. Appointments can be made by contacting the Chamber of Commerce, Bemidji avenue and Third street, Bemidji, Minn. Telephone number is 751-3540.

AT THE CHURCHES

Mission Covenant Church
John E. Lind, Pastor

Our church is cooperating in the union services at the National Guard Armory which continue each evening at 8:00 o'clock. Dr. Bob Smith, chairman of the department of philosophy at Bethel College, St. Paul, is the speaker. The interested public is cordially invited to attend.

Covenant Women's Prayer Fellowship will meet at the home of Mrs. Paul Hoglin, 213 St. Paul Avenue South.

Services next Sunday will be as follows: Teachers prayer time at 9:30. Sunday Bible school at 9:45 with classes for every age group. Worship at 11:00. Sermon: "I Believe in the Resurrection of the Body and the Life Everlasting," concluding a series of Sunday morning sermons on themes of the Apostles Creed. Gospel service at 7:45 An addenda to Sunday morning's message will be given on the subject, "The State After Death Apart from Eternal Life in Christ".

On Tuesday, Sept. 6, at 7:45 p. m, Einar Waermo will give a concert. Mr. Waermo is an opera-trained tenor who is known as a Christian soloist whose voice has unusual brilliance and charm. His interpretations of hymns and gospel songs we love have attracted audiences in many parts of America.

Midweek services, with Bible study and prayer, are regularly held each Wednesday evening at 7:45.

Evangelical Free Church

"A friendly church with a faithful message".

The Labor Day weekend is often called the 'last fling' of the summer. Some world leaders tell us that unless there are some great changes in the direction the world is on its 'last fling!' In these days there is only one hope and that is Jesus Christ. We invite you to come and worship Him with us.

This week - each evening thru. Friday we invite you to the Armory to listen to Dr. Robert Smith of Bethel College. The services start at 8:00 p.m. Here is a man with practical and timely words for people who need direction in life.

Next Sunday 9:45 a.m. Sunday School hour. Classes are available for you and all your family. 11:00 a. m. Morning worship service. Pastor Johnson will be speaking. 8:00 p.m. Evening Gospel hour. This is also broadcast over station KTRF and is known as the Bread of Life Hour.

Next Tuesday, Sept. 6: Women's Missionary Society will meet at the church. All ladies are cordially invited to join in this evening of inspiration, information and fellowship.

Merrill M. Harris, Pastor

You still have three opportunities to hear Dr. "Bob" Smith, of Bethel College, St. Paul, who will be speaking at the Armory each night through Friday of this week, at 8 o'clock. How to arrive at Christian maturity is the general theme Dr. Smith is dealing with each night, and he speaks from a solid philosophical premise, with crisp logic and sparkling humor in his presentation. Don't you think you would profit from these remaining messages?

Counsellor Training Classes, in preparation for the coming to our community of "The Restless Ones" film, will be continued each Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the Conference Room of Northwestern Hospital. All interested persons are cordially invited to the second session this next Sunday afternoon, Sept. 4.

By the way, we still have worship service at 9:30 each Sunday morning, and on Sunday, Sept. 11 you may select either the 9:30 worship service or one at 11 o'clock And that same Sunday, all Sunday school classes will be resumed at 9:30 as we observe Rally Day.

Our midweek Bible study this season will be conducted from 8 to 9 p.m. on Thursday evenings, with our first session scheduled for Thursday, September 15. We shall be studying the Book of James. Of course, you are welcome!

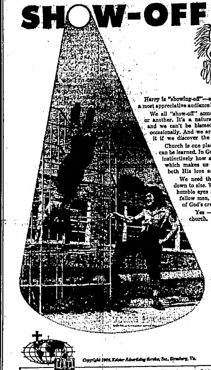
SHOW-OFF



Harry is "showing-off"—and he certainly has a most appreciative audience!

We all "show-off" sometimes, in one way or another. It's a natural human tendency, and we can't be blamed for expressing it occasionally. And we are not apt to overdo it if we discover the need for humility.

Church is one place where this lesson can be learned. In God's House, we know instinctively how small we really are, which makes us more thankful for both His love and compassion.

We need this sense of coming down to size. We need to look with humble eyes at ourselves, at our fellow men, and at the miracles of God's creations.

Yes — we need to go to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Officers and Committees For Local MEA Announced

Officers and committees of the Thief River Falls Education association for the current school year have been announced by Orall Johnson, association president. Other officers include Francis Womack, vice president; Mrs. Gladys Johnson, secretary; and Richard Fugere, treasurer.

Several members of the local association are also serving important roles in division and state organizations. Francis Hamerlinck of the local association serves as president of the Northern division with Bill Blankenfeld as an area director and Al Sollom as a member of the newly-organized citizenship committee. Lawrence Brown representes the Northern division on the state executive board.

Hamerlinck, Brown, Sollom, Johnson and Patrick Klemisch represented the local association at a leadership workshop held August 16-18 at St. Joseph. Plans were made for the state MEA convention October 20-21 in Minneapolis and for a Northern division "drive-in" to be held September 17 at Cass Lake.

The workshop at Cass Lake will provide an opportunity for officers and committee representatives from the Northern division school to plan together a course of action for the coming year, Johnson said. It is planned to have a representative from each of the local committees in attendance.

The local MEA group began the current year's activities by sponsoring a welcome luncheon August 30 for all teachers new to the Thief River Falls school system. A busy year is anticipated, the president noted, with plans already being made for support of A. J. Kramer of Roseau as a candidate for president of the state association.

Meeting dates of the association have been tentatively scheduled as follows: September 28, Lincoln; November 2, Washington; December 7, Northrop; February 8, Knox; March 29, Franklin; and May 10, Lincoln. Members will be notified of special meetings or change in schedule of regular meetings.

Serving as building representatives are Miss Cynthia Paulson, Lincoln; Miss Anita Theis, Franklin; Ted Mills, vocational - technical; Mrs. Betty Walton, Northrop; Pat Klemisch, Knox; Mrs. Ade-

State Bar Holds Plebiscite on Court Justice

David C. Donnelly, chairman of the judicial selection committee of the Minnesota State Bar association announced Saturday the result of a preference poll conducted by the association as to the six candidates vying for the vacancy on the Minnesota supreme court created by the resignation of Thomas F. Gallagher.

The results were as follows: District Judge Theodore B. Knudson 1,387; District Judge Harold W. Schultz, 565; Attorney C. Donald Peterson, 402; Attorney Thomas Patrick Gallagher, [illegible]; District Judge Daniel Foley, 245; Attorney Peter S. Popovich, 152.

Donnelly said that in conducting the plebiscite an attempt was made to contact all lawyers and judges in Minnesota regardless of whether they were or were not members of the state bar association. Voting was done by secret ballot.

Oklee OEO Office Successful, Says Charles Dexter

Year-end evaluation and progress report for the Inter-County Community council shows that the organization ends its first year's operation with a reflection of considerable success, according to Charles "Harpo" Dexter, assistant director.

Speaking before the education association's annual work-shop dinner in Bagley, Dexter said, "Our council has more programs in operation and has received more funds through the office of economic opportunity than any other council of comparable size in the north half of the state.

"Project 'pretty-up' has crews of elderly citizens developing camp sites, improving recreational facilities and doing general clean-up in each of the 21 villages we serve. Our nursing home activity program is providing seven nursing homes with much-needed services," he stated.

Later in his talk, Dexter said, "Our head start program for three of our schools was a complete success and provided pre-school training for 155 youngsters. Our school social services program will begin in September and concentrate its efforts toward solving a major problem—the drop-out and potential drop-out. The school psychological program will begin as soon as qualified personnel can be employed."

Dexter concluded his talk by stating, "throughout the year it has been our constant aim to develop projects that show progress toward solving a specific problem. Now, of course, it is our responsibility to evaluate these on-going programs with a view toward their expansion, Curtailment, continuation or termination."

The council serves the counties of Pennington, Red Lake, East Polk and Clearwater. Total funds received, including the council's share of the 16-county NYC program and upward bound at Bemidji state college, comes to $491,280.

Of this, the employment program, pretty-up, accounts for half of the funds received. According to Dexter, 90 cents of each pretty-up dollar goes directly to the people employed in the form of salary.

Hess Presented Plaque by State Jewelers Ass'n.

Phil Hess, owner of the Jewel Box in Thief River Falls, was presented with a plaque "for outstanding service as president of the Minnesota Retail Jewelers association for 1965-66 at a meeting of the board of directors of the association held last Sunday in Minneapolis.

Presentation of the award plaque was made by John Kokkeler, St. Paul, current president of the association. Hess has been on the board for eight years and is serving as past president this year.

Ernest Swanson

Swanson Honored At State Fair Education Day

Ernest Swanson of Goodridge, selected as Pennington county's outstanding school board member for 1966, attended the Minnesota state fair Sunday through Tuesday together with his wife and daughter Linda.

The Swansons were guests of the Minnesota School Boards association at a buffet dinner Sunday evening in the St. Paul hotel prior to Education Day activities Monday at the fair.

These activities included tours of the Minneapolis and St. Paul campuses of the University of Minnesota and of the state fair grounds, noon luncheon, tour of the education building including part of the quiz contest, evening dinner and recognition before the grandstand as well as attendance at the grandstand show.

Each of the county winners in attendance was presented with a certificate of recognition for community service.

Poverty Program Council Plans Annual Meeting

In announcing the quarterly meeting of the Inter-County Community council, Roy A. Jorgenson, staff director, also extended an invitation to the public.

"The full council meeting to be held in the Oklee school library, September 14 at 8 p.m. is important. We must decide upon program priorities for the coming year and this decision is the responsibility of the full council. I urge every council member to be present," Jorgenson said.

Director Jorgenson included the public when he stated, "Because we have several programs in operation, project pretty-up, nursing home activity, and others, and because all programs carried out by our organization should be of interest to all citizens, we invite the public to attend our council meeting."

Jorgenson concluded by saying, "Only by knowing the public's response to our programs can we give each one a fair evaluation. Only through a thorough understanding of our programs can the public provide us with intelligent and usable criticism. We welcome the interest of everyone and present the public with this invitation to attend our council meeting."

TO SCHOOL

EDUCATION takes on a very personal nature for Thief River Falls area youngsters this week as the 1966-67 terms opens Tuesday at 9 a.m. Assisting the Times cameraman in dramatizing the school opening through the above photo are Robbie Swenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Swenson, who will be starting seventh grade at Franklin junior high school; Mary Dahlquist, Miss Thief River Falls, who is teaching English in the junior high school in St. Cloud; and Joanne Wefald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wefald, who will be in Miss Ruth Haycraft's first grade at Knox elementary school.

Faculty Workshop Ended Thursday; All in Readness

Not entirely with regret, area mothers will hustle their youngsters out the door Tuesday morning as Thief River Falls schools open for the 1966-67 term. A full day of classes starting at 9 a.m. is in store for students at all Thief River Falls public schools and St. Bernard's elementary school on opening day, with the hot lunch program to be in operation at Lincoln, Franklin, Mark Twain, Knox, Washington and Northrop schools.

The area vocational - technical school will begin its 17th year of operation on Tuesday with an enrollment of 275 expected for the departments staffed by 22 teachers. More than 1,200 people have completed courses offered by the school in the past 16 years.

Junior college classes will officially begin Monday, September 19. Sophomore class registration will be held Monday and Tuesday, September 12 and 13, while freshmen orientation, testing and registration will be held Wednesday through Friday, September 14-16. Junior college faculty workshop will be held September 7, 8 and 9.

Faculties are complete for all schools in Thief River Falls and it is expected that all schools will have near record enrollment. Because of transfers both in and out of the community, no attendance estimates have been made by the public school administration. The Junior college is basing its second-year plans on an expected enrollment of 100 sophomores and 200 freshmen.

Orientation sessions for junior and senior high school students who are new to the respective schools this year (with the exception of sophomores who are not transfer students) have been held to acquaint them with the schools. Bus routes will be basically the same as last year, but students are requested to be ready to board the bus about 10 minutes ahead of schedule on opening day. Hot lunch will be served for 20 cents per meal to elementary students, but the fee has been raised to 25 cents for high school students.

The pre-school workshop for elementary and high school faculty was held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Administration of the public schools includes M. R. Hankerson, superintendent; Richard Edlund, Lincoln senior high school principal; Neal Taverna, Franklin junior high school principal; Francis Hamerlinck, administrative assistant; Kenneth Swenson, Knox and Mark Twain elementary principal; William Desrocher, Washington and Northrop elementary principal; and Arnt Aune, director of the area vocational-technical school.

Victor Charles is dean of the Thief River Falls state junior college. Sister Caroline is again principal at the St. Bernard's parochial school.

Six Sophomores To Aid Frosh at Junior College

Six sophomores have volunteered to assist Dean Victor Charles and the faculty of Thief River Falls state junior college during the three days of registration and orientation beginning September 14.

Naming themselves the "Committee of Six", the group headed by Mary Jo Walker of Oklee will host the freshmen from the time the new students enter the building until classes start. During this "Welcome Week," the committee has volunteered to act as building guides, conduct a panel discussion in a freshman assembly on the various phases of college life, and help students and faculty in the many facets of registration, purchasing of textbooks and in testing program.

Members of the "Committee of Six," all of whom attended the college last year are: Mary Jo Walker, chairman; Neil Jenson, Carol Hafdahl, Pam Torkelson, Sandra Steinert and Ken Mount.

List 24 Cases On Court Term in Marshall County

Twenty civil actions and four criminal cases are included in the calendar for the September term of district court in Marshall county. The term will open at Warren at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, with Judge H. O. Chommie of Thief River Falls presiding.

The jury will report on Wednesday, September 14, at 9:30 a.m. unless notified to the contrary, according to Miss Sandra Brekkestran, clerk of court.

All four of the criminal actions are being brought against Leo Gutierrez Jr., as a result of a shooting incident in Argyle early in July in which two persons were killed and another seriously wounded.

Davison To Speak In City Tuesday

Keith Davison, Wheaton attorney seeking election as U. S. Congressman from Minnesota's Seventh district, will speak in Thief River Falls Tuesday. The noon luncheon meeting in the Elks club rooms will be one of a series of "Meet the Candidate' sessions sponsored by the legislative committee of the local Chamber of Commerce.

Davison will make the Thief River Falls appearance among several stops during a full day's schedule in northwestern Minnesota. Admission to the luncheon—which is open to the public—will be by "season ticket" now being sold by the committe or by individual ticket which may be purchased for $2 at the door.

According to a schedule received by the Times Saturday morning, Davison will leave Wheaton at 5 a.m. and arrive in Red Lake Falls at 7:50 a.m. A breakfast will be held from 8 to 10 a.m. at the American Legion club in Red Lake Falls, with the remainder of the morning in that city spent visiting the Detroiter Mobile homes plant and door-to-door campaigning.

Davison is scheduled to arrive morning in that city spent visiting the Detroiter Mobile homes plant and door-to-door campaigning.

Davison is scheduled to arrive to be present at the "Meet the in Thief River Falls at 11:45 a.m. Candidate' luncheon. Door-to-door campaigning will be conducted in the afternoon with a fund-raising dinner scheduled at 6 p.m. in the Rex cafe.

At 7:45 p.m. he will leave Thief River Falls for Karlstad where a fund-raising event will be held at the Kay Peterson residence. That event is scheduled to last until 11:30 p.m.

Donald L. Olson, chairman of the legislative committee, noted that this is the second "Meet the

Keith Davison

Candidate' meeting, although it is the first of a scheduled series. Gov. Karl Rolvaag spoke at the first session here several weeks ago.

The series will include five noon luncheon meetings and five afternoon information sessions. Noon speakers in addition to Davison will be Robert Forsythe, GOP candidate for U. S. Senate; Harold LeVander, GOP candidate for governor; Sen. Walter Mondale and Congressman Odin Langen.

Speakers at the afternoon sessions will be the DFL candidate for governor (following the primary election September 13); Rep. Andrew Skaar, Thief River Falls; Rep. Everett Battles, Warroad; Sen. Donald Sinclair, Stephen; and Judge Herman A. Kjos, Thief River Falls, candidate for state senator.

Season tickets are still available at $9 each and will include all 10 programs. C. W. Rodekuhr is in charge of ticket sales for the series.

Girl Scouts Paddle Canoes Through Wilderness Area

by Jim Wills
Times Reporter

After five days of paddling, packing, camping and generally getting a taste of the rugged forest and lake country along the Minnesota-Ontario border, seven members of Senior Girl Scout Troop 133 and their three adult leaders returned to Thief River Falls, Friday, August 26.

The girls, Sherry Adamson, Barbara Bacon, Paula Forsberg, Debbie Hall, Nancy Flynn, Darlene Kelley and Lorray Owen, accompanied by their troop leader, Mrs. Gunder Legvold, and Morris Owen and Ted Mills, arrived in Ely Sunday afternoon, August 21. There they were outfitted with canoes and outdoor gear by Bill Rom's Canoe Country Outfitters, who also helped chart their course.

The party made camp at Moose Lake, the main access point for modern voyageurs who penetrate the Quetico-Superior wilderness area. Jumping-off point for the girls was Rom's private canoe landing on the lake, located about 20 miles east of Ely. The popularity of wilderness canoeing was apparent when Mills counted 80 cars and buses from many states parked in the lot next to the landing. There are 11 canoe outfitters in the Ely area.

Two girls packed one change of clothes (no curlers) in a knapsack. With other packs containing five days' rations, tents and other camping equipment, there were 12 packs to be loaded into four 17-foot canoes. Soon after the girls shoved off, Mrs. Legvold reported, it became apparent that there was a lot to learn about canoes and some rearranging was necessary to keep the center of gravity low and the not-so-beamy canoes on even keel.

The starting point was crowded with canoeing parties, Mrs. Legvold said. "All campsites close at hand were filled and it was not unusual to see a mother holding a baby with a dog at her feet as Dad and another child fixed the campsite. Every once in awhile a motorboat would whiz by and you couldn't help but wish that they would pick another lake and leave the wilderness to the wonderful quiet of the canoe."

Two girls were navigators each day and with compass, map and good paddling led the group, found the portages and looked for campsites. First leg of the trip was a long paddle through Moose, Newfound and Sucker Lakes. Rather

Miss Donna Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Anderson of Grygla, and Oliver Fabian, son of Alfred Fabian of Minneapolis, exchanged marriage vows recently at St. Lukes Lutheran church at 17th avenue and 37th street in Minneapolis. Rev. J. N. Parbst officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church organist, Michael Samuleson, presided at the organ for the traditional nuptial music and also accompanied the church soloist who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

For the afternoon wedding the chancel of the church was graced with baskets of white carnations, yellow and white gladioli and palms. The pews were marked with green and white bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length nylon-over-satin gown styled with elbow-length sleeves. French lace enhanced the fitted bodice and front of the skirt that swept back to form a chapel-length train. A crown of tear-drop pearls secured the finger-tip veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white miniature carnations and trailing ivy.

Miss Janice Penke of Minneapolis, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a sleeveless, floor-length, mint green linen gown fashioned with a scooped neckline. To complement her attire she wore white wrist-length gloves, mint green satin shoes and a matching bow headpiece. She carried a basket of yellow and white daisies accented with ivy.

Paul Johnson of Minneapolis, friend of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Ernest Hanson of Chicago, Ill., uncle of the bride, and Ferdinand Fabian of St. Paul, brother of the groom. The men wore dark business suits and white carnations.

Mrs. Anderson choose a beige dress with brown accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Fabian, step-mother of the groom, wore a blue dress with coordinating accessories. Both mothers wore pink carnation corsages.

The reception following the ceremony was given in the church parlors by the parents of the bride with Miss Marie Fabian, sister of the groom, as hostess. Centering the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. White daisies and ivy surrounded the base of the cake. Mrs. Vernon Hanson of Moline, Ill., aunt of the bride, presided at the silver service and Ann Martinson served the punch. Guests were registered by Mrs. Andrew Welsch.

Waitresses were Janice Anderson and Gail Holthusen while Rita Topel, Mary Anderson and Mrs. Glen Holthusen arranged the gifts. Harold Anderson, brother of the bride, and David Hanson served as gift carriers.

Guests attending the wedding were from Chicago and Moline, Ill., Iowa, Grygla, International Falls, Breckenridge, Rochester, Minneapolis and towns surrounding the Twin Cities.

For travel on a wedding trip through the Ozarks and to New Orleans, La., the bride wore a yellow dress with black patent accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Goodridge high school and is employed at Northwestern hospital in Minneapolis. The groom owns and operates a service station in St. Paul where the couple is at home at 2204 West Seventh Street.

Since Monday is Labor Day, all members of the Eagles Auxiliary are reminded that the regular meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6, at 8 p.m., at the local club rooms. The officers meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Entertainment and lunch will follow the meeting.

Walton-Gullikson Vows Spoken At Middle River

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walton and Thomas Gullikson, all of Middle River, and the late Mrs. Gullikson.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her cousin, Mrs. Darrell Bakko of Thief River Falls. Bridesmaids was Miss Sharyl Carlson, friend of the bride. They were attired in aqua floor-length gowns with matching bow headpieces. Each carried a single white rose.

Robert Prickett of Grand Forks, N. D. friend of the groom, was best man and Jeffrey Walton, brother of the bride was the groomsman. Acolytes were Stuart Walton, cousin of the bride, and Robbie Hanson, nephew of the groom. Charles Walton and Dr. Clark Searle of Winnipeg, Man., Canada, cousins of the bride and groom, respectively, served as ushers. The men of the wedding party were attired in black business suits with white boutonnieres.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors with Mrs. Ing Gullikson, aunt of the groom, as hostess. Approximately 175 guests were greeted by the bride and groom. Miss Kathy Engevik registered the guests and Misses Lorrie Ann Waltonen and Pam Berger served the punch.

The three-tiered wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Wesley Waltonen of Middle River and Mrs. John Waltonen of Thief River Falls, aunts of the bride. Mrs. W. C. Searle of Middle River and Mrs. Salma Halme of Thief River Falls presided at the coffee service.

Opening and arranging the gifts were Mrs. Gary Carter, Miss Mary Schenkey, Mrs. William Halme and Mrs. Charles Walton.

For going away the bride chose a two-piece brown and beige linen dress with matching accessories. The couple plan to attend Bemidji State college this fall.

Lana Kay Sumbs Marries Ronald O. Moen At Fisher

Miss Lana Kay Sumbs of Grand Forks, N. D., and Ronald Orrin Moen of Fisher exchanged marriage vows at a candlelite ceremony Saturday, August 20, at the Fisher Lutheran church. Rev. Clayton E. Engan officiated. Lighted candelabra and tall baskets of white gladioli and mums formed the setting for the nuptial service attended by approximately 100 relatives and friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Johanna Sumbs of Sauk Rapids and the groom is the son of Mrs. Evelyn Moen of Fisher.

Miss Janet Haug of Fisher played the wedding music. She also accompanied the soloist, Raymond Eggebraaten of Fresno, Calif., sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "O Perfect Love".

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her brother-in-law, Cal Ripley of Thief River Falls, who also gave her in marriage. She was attired in a floor-length gown of white peau de soie fashioned with a three quarter-length sleeves, round-ed neckline and a modified bell skirt featuring a chapel train. Her waist length veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bridal cascade bouquet of white gladioli, cream roses and stephanotis.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Cal Ripley of Thief River Falls. She wore a floor-length empire fashioned gown of pink-on-pink bonded lace, made with simulated front wrap and button trim. Her head-piece was fashioned of pink satin ribbon and she carried a cascade bouquet of deep pink carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was Donald Vanek of Key West and the ushers were Donald Reitmeier of Fisher and Lyle Berg of Climax, all high school friends of the groom. The men of the wedding party wore black tuxedos and boutonnieres. The groom's boutonniere was white stephanotis, the best man's was a deep pink carnation and the ushers wore white carnations.

The mother of the bride wore a light blue lace ensemble with coordinating accessories and the groom's mother was attired in a light green dress. Both had corsages of baby pink roses.

Following the ceremony, the couple received their guests at a reception in the church parlors with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tinkham serving as host and hostess. At the guest book was the groom's sister, Mrs. Raymond Eggebraaten, of Fresno, Calif., and serving punch was a friend of the couple, Mrs. Larry Krostue of Grand Forks, N. D. In charge of the gift table were Cheri Ripley of Thief River Falls, niece of the bride; Mrs. Elwin Richardson of Grand Forks, N. D., and Mrs. Robert Bratingham of East Grand Forks.

The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated in pink and topped with a single bell ornament. It was cut by Mrs. Roy Rynning of Fisher and Mrs. Lester Hoans of East Grand Forks. Pouring coffee were Mrs. George Herman of Sauk Rapids and Mrs. Ruth Midthun of Gilby, N. D., aunts of the bride and groom, respectively.

Waitresses were Anita Schjeldrup and LaVerne Schjeldrup of Fisher and Mrs. James Grove of Climax. Others assisting with the reception were Mrs. Donald Cameron, Mrs. W. C. BeBolt, Mrs. Ernest Jordahl, Mrs. Connie Schjeldrup and Mrs. Alex Drumheller.

Guests attending the wedding were from Fresno, Calif.; Gilby, Honeyford and Grand Forks, N. D.; Minneapolis, St. Cloud, Sauk Rapids, Fisher, Thief River Falls, Crookston and East Grand Forks.

The bride completed her high school education in St. Cloud. The groom, a member of the National Guard graduated from Fisher high school and completed two years at the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school. He is currently employed at Rydell's in Grand Forks.

Mr. and Mrs. Moen are at home at 1204 Oak Street, Grand Forks, N. D.

Mrs. Anna Roos had as guests recently, Mr. and Mrs. John Pihl of Duluth and Mr. and Mrs. Albin Roos of Chicago, Ill.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

MRS. OLE AUSTAD
OF OKLEE

With the ringing of school bells and the rescheduling of various activities we are again reminded that these nice summer days are soon at an end. Simultaneously homemakers are again rearranging their activities to comply with the needs of the family. Included in these changes are the meals prepared and served to the family. Cold-cuts and salads will be replaced by soup and hot meals. Today's recipe, given to us by Mrs. Ole Austad of Oklee, is for a hot meat dish, suitable for the approaching cool days.

BEEF ROLL-UPS

Salt and pepper a round steak and cut into strips about 2-2½ inches wide. Spread a thin layer of prepared mustard on each strip; sprinkle lightly with flour. Then add a layer of thin carrot strips and onion slices. Roll up like a jelly rool, and tie with a string. Brown in grease on all sides and place in a roaster. Cover with a quart of tomato juice and bake one hour.

Mrs. Austad of Oklee is the Mayfield correspondant for the Times. She and her husband have five children and a three-month-old grandson. Two of their sons are carpenters and are employed in Minneapolis. They are Lyle, who is married to the former Jayce Boman of rural Thief River Falls, and Russell. The other three children are attending school at Oklee. Gary, 17, is a senior; Judy, 14, a freshman and 10-year-old Jean is in fifth grade.

Mrs. Austad's hobbies are piecing quilts, sewing doll clothes, reading and working crossword puzzles. The Austads are members of the Ebenezer Lutheran church.

George Monroes Honored On Their 25th Anniversary

In observance of their 25th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. George Monroe of Radium were honored recently at an open house celebration held at the Immanuel Lutheran church at Radium. There were approximately 250 relatives and friends gathered to extend best wishes and congratulations. At the brief program presented, Mrs. Douglas Thun of Strandquist sang "Bless This House" and Jill Monroe sang "The Lord's Prayer".

Assisting with the open house duties were Jill Monroe, Milo Monroe, Mrs. David Hanson of Grand Forks, N. D.; Mr. and Mrs. James Monroe, Mrs. William Hansen, Mrs. Douglas Thun of Strandquist; Mrs. Alvin Nelson of Newfolden, Mrs. Dennis Monroe of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Arthur Monroe.

Mrs. Arthur Rassmusen of Drayton, N. D., cut the anniversary cake and Miss Gustie Monroe of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Ella Thun of Strandquist poured. Debra Thun was at the guest book.

Among the guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thun and Judy, Mrs. Richard Ruchheim and Ryan of Parkers Prairie; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rasmussen of Drayton, N. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Larson of Colton, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Conely, St. Hilaire; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Wagner of Middle River; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Borneman and family and Mrs. William Gadde of Karlstad, Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Larson and family of Hillsboro, N. D., and Lois Rokke of Minneapolis;

Also Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Carpenter and family, Mrs. Louis Carpenter; Gustie, Walter and John Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Zutz, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Monroe and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cerny, Mrs. LoAnn Walters and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hendrickson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Malberg and Mrs. Paul Erickson, all of Thief River Falls;

Also Mrs. Ella Thun, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thun and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Hansen, Holger Hougard, Philip Hougard, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hougard and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kranz, all of Strandquist; Mr. and Mrs. Kore Mybrer and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nelson of Newfolden; Mr. and Mrs. Ray McGregor and Mr. and Mrs. David Hanson and Jami of Grand Forks, N. D., and Barbara Laudal of Crookston.

A smile costs nothing, but gives much. It enriches those who receive without making poor those who give. It takes but a moment, but the memory of it sometimes lasts forever. Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen; for it is no value to anyone until given away.

August Rain Delayed Area Harvest Schedule

Precipitation continued to overshadow average figures during August of 1966, as it had during July, much to the distress of farmers who hoped for dry weather for the late summer and early fall harvest. Moreover, the rain fell at regular intervals, with no lengthy dry spells occurring.

The last eight days of the month were warm and sunny, and this proved a break for many farmers, but many others, with farms in low-lying areas, found the soil still too wet to work. A thunderstorm belt moved through the area the evening of August 31, giving the ground another soaking.

Total precipitation for the month was 3.70 inches, or .43 inch above the average August total of 3.27 inches. Highest single amount to be measured was .92 inch August 22 which, together with the rain measured the two previous days, made the three-day total 1.45 inches.

Temperatures were generally moderate throughout the month. On only one day, August 31, the mercury topped the 90-degree mark. Lowest high recorded was 58 on the 21st, which occurred in the middle of a period cool and wet enough to give an avid waterfowl hunter "fall fever."

Mean temperature for August was 64.4, or 2.4 degrees below the average August mean of 66.8. Average high was 76.8; average low 51.9. Despite the rain, the month's weather was redeemed by never being hot and muggy enough to cause tornadoes or damaging thunderstorms.

The following is a list of temperature and precipitation readings recorded daily by North Central Airlines personnel at the municipal airport.

Welcome Week at Tech Institute Being Planned

Welcome Week activities are now being arranged at the new University of Minnesota Technical Institute at Crookston. The three-day orientation week begins with a general assembly at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, September 21. Dr. Stanley D. Sahlstrom, director of the institute, will preside at the opening event and will introduce the college faculty to the first freshman class of the new educational institution.

The three-day program will consist of a variety of experiences for the beginning freshmen. Among these will be individual meetings with faculty advisors for the purpose of counseling students on their class schedule, their vocational interests and their extra-curricular interests.

A complete tour of the campus the first day will acquaint students with the facilities which are available at the new institute. The campus mall will be the site for an outdoor barbecue on Wednesday evening.

Organizational meetings will be held for the various varsity and intramural athletics. Clubs will also be organized for such activities as drama, music, religion, 4-H, FFA, library, photography, science and various other groups.

Actual registration for classes will begin on Thursday September 22, according to Richard D. Christenson, supervisor of admissions and records, and will be completed by Friday afternoon. Well over 200 students have applied for admission to the new institute.

Convocations will be held periodically during the three-day event for the purpose of enlightening students on general policy, rules and regulations, financial aids and library orientation.

A student and faculty talent show and a comedy film will be a highlight of Wednesday evening. Conrad H. Kvamme, supervisor of public relations, will be in charge of the evening program.

On Thursday evening, September 22, the Crookston Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a "college mixer" with dancing and a social hour. An invitation has been extended to the girls at Corbette college, Crookston, to participate in this event.

Dormitories will open at noon, Tuesday, September 20, to enable freshmen to move in and get settled prior to the three-day Welcome Week.

Faculty members who comprise the committee for Welcome Week, in addition to Christenson and Kvamme, are: Harold Opgrand, supervisor of instructional resources chairman; Herschel Lysaker, athletic director; Harland Hasslen, coordinator of student affairs; Wayne Little, chairman, division of business; and Eugene Miller, supervisor of plant services.

Mary Bennes Is Chairman of UMD Parents' Day Event

Mary Bennes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd N. Bennes of Thief River Falls, has been named chairman of the annual Parents Day event at the University of Minnesota at Duluth.

Parents Day, scheduled Sunday, September 19 at 1:30 p.m. is the concluding event of the UMD New Student Orientation - Registration program which opened Monday, August 29, and will continue until Freshman Camp weekend September 16-18. On this day, parents of new students are invited to the campus to learn what college life will be like for their sons and daughters.

Art Headley Has Show at Mpls. Art Institute

Art Headley, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. Dean Headley, former pastor of Community Methodist church in Thief River Falls, is conducting a showing of nature paintings through September 21 at the Minneapolis Institute of the Arts.

A brochure from the institute notes that the paintings were made this year in acrylic medium and are based on phenomena of nature in the Duluth area.

Headley was born in 1940 in Rapid City, S. D., is a graduate of Dakota Wesleyan in Mitchell, S. D., and was married in 1962. He has done graduate study at the State University of Iowa and is a full-time painter and potter with a studio on Long Lake at Twig.

His past exhibitions include five one-man shows in Minnesota and Iowa, 16 group shows in Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa and South Dakota, and 24 competitive shows in Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota. A feature article on Headley and his exhibition appeared in Sunday's edition of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Study Reveals Several Factors Affecting Speed

Auto speed is affected by many factors, including even your marital status, according to the Minnesota highway department.

Citing a study made by highway research board, the highway department reported that single women and divorcees of both sexes tend to drive faster than married men and women.

On a long trip you will drive faster than on a short one, and out-of-state cars maintain higher speeds than in-state cars, according to the study. The greater the annual mileage, the higher the average speed.

Ownership affects speed, too, the study revealed. The average driver will not drive his own car as fast as he drives a rented or fleet car. New cars average higher speeds than old ones, expensive cars higher than low-priced ones and heavy cars higher than light ones. Buses are the fastest vehicles on the highways, passenger cars next and trucks are slowest.

54 at Crookston Institute Given Financial Aids

Fifty-four students who will be attending the University of Minnesota technical institute at Crookston this fall have been granted financial aids totaling $51,645. These aids were awarded to needy students who would not be able to attend college had they not been available.

Awards ranging from $300 to $1,800 were granted on a variable basis, determined by set formulae with a team from the financial aids division of the University of Minnesota, Twin Cities campus, and assisted by Harland Hasslen, coordinator of student affairs; Karl Bornhoft, business manager; and Herschel Lysaker, admissions counselor and athletic director of the technical institute.

The money grants to students are given in five different forms. These are: (1) National defense education loans which students must repay within 10 years after leaving college and at the low interest figure of three per cent; (2) Educational opportunity grants which are outright awards to students from exceptional low family income resources, which are granted out of federal funds; (3) college work-study programs wherein some 44 students will be awarded the privilege of working at campus jobs up to 15 hours per week at pay scales ranging from $1.38 to $1.63 for total awards of $500.

Also (4) Regents scholarship assistance reserve awards which is money given to needy students as a simple grant which does not need to be paid back, and does not require work. The money comes from student tuition enrolled at Crookston ($1 per student) and is matched by university regents; and (5) Scholarship awards granted by interested business places in the Crookston area, and by alumni of the school. Students are awarded this money on the basis of academic excellence, financial need, student activity, interest and test scores.

354 Finish MDTA Program; More Training Offered

Shortage of skilled workers will be eased for some Minnesota employers within the next six weeks as 354 persons complete courses in the Manpower development and training program, according to Robert J. Brown, commissioner of the state department of employment security.

Twenty-six classes located in various communities around the state will have graduates in 18 skilled occupations during that period.

They include diesel, auto and maintenance mechanics, service station specialists, combination welders, electronics draftsmen, woodworking machine operators, electrical appliance servicemen, rubber applicators, general farmers, agricultural sales technicians, dinner cooks, medical laboratory assistants, key punch operators, general office and accounting clerks, clerk-typists and stenographers.

The department is issuing a bulletin to employers on applicants available from current classes, Brown said. Subsequent bulletins will provide information on future graduating classes.

While the graduates will help ease the shortage of skilled workers in some categories, many more are needed to meet increasing demands, Brown noted.

The state employment service is accepting applications now for new classes which are opening this fall. In September, four classes will begin training 75 persons as chemist assistants, electronics mechanics, stenographers and combination welders.

Persons who are either unemployed or underemployed are eligible; referrals are made on the basis of the applicant's aptitudes and interests. During their schooling they may receive living and housing allowances, travel expenses and free tuition.

At the present time, 73 classroom or on-the-job training projects involving 201 youths and 1,981 adults have been approved for this year, Brown stated. "Vocational counselors, social workers, and other interested persons need up-to-date information on when these classes start," he said. "In September, the department's manpower utilization section will begin distributing a newsletter designed to fill this need."

Interested parties can receive the newsletter by contacting any office of the State Employment Service, or the Youth Opportunity Centers in Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Duluth.

The local office of the State Employment Service for this area is located at Thief River Falls.

Cloudy Skies May Clear for Holiday Weekend

Chances for pleasant weather during the Labor Day weekend are expected to improve, despite the cloudy skies and light rain that took place this morning. Partly cloudy skies with widely scattered thundershowers are forecast today through Sunday, with no important temperature change likely. Rainfall probability will decrease from 20 per cent today to 10 per cent tonight and Sunday. Highs today will range from 74 to 82; lows tonight from 45 to 55.

Temperature and precipitation readings recorded since Wednesday at the municipal airport are as follows: 91 and 58 on Wednesday; 82, 57 and .44 inch on Thursday; and 80 and 48 on Friday.

No Harvesting on Diverted Acres Is Permitted

Patrick W. Culkins, officer manager of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service office, announced today that all producers who signed up in the feed grain and-or wheat diversion program in 1966 are warned that no harvesting of hay or grass-seed is permitted on land diverted under either program. Grazing, however, will be permitted after Oct. 1, 1966. No hay or grass-seed can be harvested until after Dec. 31, 1966.

Culkins stated further that any producer harvesting or grazing the diverted acreage prior to the dates listed above will be in violation to the agreement, and will be required to refund any payments received from the government under the program.

A continuous spot-check of farms in the county will be carried out during the balance of 1966 to determine whether or not any producer has violated his agreement.

Girl Scouts Back From Canoe Trip To Superior Area

than entering Canada at Prairie Portage on Sucker Lake, the group made a short portage east into Birch Lake, keeping to the Minnesota side.

It was a new experience to empty the canoe, shoulder the packsacks and hike over the rocky portage to the next lake and, with the men as instructors, learn how to carry the canoe. This is done by means of a shoulder yoke clamped to the center of the craft. A 17-foot lightweight aluminum canoe weighs only 65 pounds, but makes a considerable burden due to its bulk.

Camp was set up on a point of land on an island in Birch Lake. There were a few flies but, thanks to a lake breeze, no mosquitoes. Neither sand nor dirt pose a problem to campers in this area, as it is part of the great Canadian Shield which was scoured clean of soil by southward-moving glaciers during the Ice Age. The terrain is chiefly solid rock.

Tents were tied to trees and bushes. Rocks replaced tent stakes. While getting breakfast the first morning, the girls were thrilled to see a doe and her fawn come up behind the tents to see who had invaded their privacy. They were gone before cameras could be unlimbered, however.

Daily excursions were made to nearby lakes from the base camp. With food the only load in the canoes, more speed was possible. One portage was around a rapids, and the girls got wet by electing to pull the canoes up the rapids instead of following the adults over the portage. One one trip, while gliding along a rocky shore, they saw two mink.

Weather was generally favorable, with rain occurring only on one day. The tents were slightly leaky, Mrs. Legvold said, but the girls took the hardships in stride, probably due in part to the superb food.

The last night the girls dubbed their lake area "Loon Bay" as they saw much of the Minnesota state bird. The bird resembles a duck, but is unmistakably a different bird due to its call, which resembles a shrill laugh.

The girls and their chaperones made the return voyage Friday. Mrs. Legvold commented that "After five days without pop, hamburgers, French fries and curlers the girls were eager to head for home. Do it again? I wouldn't be surprised. The beauty, the quiet and the lack of clocks is intriguing." She speculated that next time they might shorten the trip through the first long stretches of water by attaching a small "kicker" to the lead canoe. They would cache the motor upon reaching the end of the connected chain of lakes, and use the time saved to paddle and portage deeper into the wilderness.

Absentee Ballots

In close elections, the absentee vote often decides the issue. In the 1960 presidential election, Richard M. Nixon carried the state of California by the absentee vote. There are countless examples of absentee votes making "the" difference between defeat and victory in close elections.

It has been estimated that there are nearly a million Americans presently outside the continental limits of the United States. In addition to this, there are always countless thousands of potential voters away from their home precincts on election day but still within the borders of the United States. The mobility of the American people makes the absentee ballot a highly significant factor in every election. It enables millions of American citizens who would otherwise be disenfranchised to cast a ballot for the man of their choice.

If you expect to be away from your permanent residence on election day, you owe it to yourself as a citizen to obtain an absentee ballot. The right to vote is the most fundamental of all our rights. The behavior and performance of officeholders, at every level of government, is dictated by the knowledge that periodically they must come before the bar of public opinion in the polling booths.

The caliber of men in public life is a direct reflection of the wisdom and judgment exercised by the voters. When it is time to vote, you are the only person in the booth. If you cannot be there personally, let the absentee ballot serve as your proxy.

Two Big Questions

Two proposals will be offered to the residents of School District 564 in a bond issue election on Tuesday, October 18. The first will deal with construction of a new building for the area vocational - technical school, and the second involves the possible addition of an indoor swimming pool to the south end of the Franklin junior high school building.

Since these will be separate questions on the ballot, we would like to express our opinions on them as such.

It is our belief that the school board will have little trouble in convincing the public that the new area vocational - technical school would be a bargain. Assuming that federal aids are forthcoming—and the local board has verbal commitment of such funds if and when they are made available to the state—the district can obtain an $800,000 building for an additional investment of $300,000.

At present the district has $100,000 on hand. A $300,000 bond issue would make $400,000 available locally, with this amount to be matched by federal funds to be appropriated by Congress for vocational construction purposes. Of course, federal funds come from the taxpayers' pockets like any other tax money, but at least some of it will come back to the area in such a grant.

Furthermore, state aids for vocational school operation are based on pupil unit cost, and that cost includes the cost of debt retirement for buildings. As a result, much of the district's investment will be returned through state aids over a period of time.

Because of these two points—federal payment of one-half of the cost and state reimbursement by installments over the years—it will be difficult to mount an argument against the project based on cost alone.

Neither should location be a legitimate excuse for not favoring the plan. Coordination between the local district, state department of education and the state junior college board has been gratifying. Erection of the vocational building in immediate proximity to the proposed junior college campus makes a lot of good sense.

There would be convenience for students wishing to take courses at both schools — surely an added incentive for attendance. A complex of new buildings for higher education would also have a great deal of appeal to prospective students, as well as adding to the area's status as an educational center. The site provides ample room for parking and eventual expansion, and certainly expansion is a desirable goal.

With about 275 students enrolled this year and a waiting list in some departments, the school has outgrown its quarters. Even the rental quarters which would be eliminated by the new building (except for aviation mechanics which would remain at the airport) are filled to overflowing. If the school is to grow and new departments be added, a new building is necessary.

As for the swimming pool addition, that is another question entirely. There is no question that such a pool would be a valuable addition to the school district's physical education program. We are sure that it would have full utilization during the school day as well as being available for adults, families, groups and individuals during the evening.

It is not an absolute necessity, however, and it would cost the district some money. Preliminary costs have been projected at about $25 per square foot or $200,000 for the project. While the board believes in the value of the pool, we doubt that any concentrated effort will be made to "sell" it to the voters. It will be placed on the ballot October 18 for the public to decide upon. If the voters reject it, the project will likely be dropped for some time. If approved, it will be constructed.

The architect attending last Monday's meeting of the board did indicate that construction costs have climbed 30 per cent since Franklin and Mark Twain schools were constructed several years ago with a $1,495,000 bond issue. If the district wants a pool, it will never get it any cheaper.

The Other Side

Wednesday's editorial in regard to young people walking or riding in a dangerous manner on the city's streets and area roads—the airport road in particular—has evoked a very justifiable comment from one of the city's residents.

This person has every right to complain—his son was killed in an accident involving a bicycle and pickup truck on the airport road just a few days ago.

There are two sides to the situation, he notes, and this is definitely true. Traffic on the road habitually moves in excess of speed limits—most often quite a bit over the posted speed regulations. Since the road has practically no shoulders, there is no place except the traffic lanes for youngsters to ride their bicycles. Responsible drivers should exercise added caution when driving under such conditions, but slow motor vehicle traffic on the road is an exception.

We continue to remain critical of pedestrians and bicyclists who show no regard for their own safety nor respect for the rights of others. By the same token, motorists have an obligation to protect their driving privilege by obeying traffic laws and driving with caution.

LEGAL NOTICE

August 29, September 5, 1966
ADVERTISEMENT FOR PROPOSALS

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota will receive sealed bids for the purchase and removal of the former residence of Mr. and Mrs. Art Nelson, which house is located at the East end of Seventh Street in Thief River Falls, at the office of the City Clerk until 4:00 p.m., September 20, 1966, at which time all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Specifications covering the equipment to be furnished are on file at the Office of the City Clerk and may be obtained from that office on request.

The bids shall be unconditional and accompanied by a Certified check or bank draft in the amount of at least five per cent (5 per cent) of the amount of the proposal payable without condition to the City Treasurer of the City of Thief River Falls, which check shall be forfeited as liquidated damages in the event said bid shall be accepted and the bidder shall fail to enter into a contract and give a performance bond required by law.

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota reserves the right to hold all bids for a period of thirty (30) calendar days after the date of opening bids and to reject any or all bids, to waive any irregularities, and to award the contract as it deems to be for the best interest of the City.

Dated this 26th day of August, 1966.
William E. Fahey
City Clerk.

Larson Music Co. Wins Golf Title

The veteran Larson Music company golf team—Justus Larson, John Moum, Jim Solsten, Ted Hellie, and Les Debriyn—won the city golf league title on Wednesday by carding a net total of 180 strokes, edging the runnerup Standard Oil squad by two strokes. The Froseth's Market team totaled 188 strokes for third place, and the Hamm's Beer No. 1 squad had a team total of 189 strokes for fourth place.

The win for the Larsons marked the third or fourth time in recent years that the squad had won the city golf league honors, with their most recent victory having been in 1962. In their victory on Wednesday, with five-man teams competing, the Larsons posted the following scores: Justus Larson a gross 46 and a net 38, John Moum a gross 39 and a net 35, Jim Solsten a gross 39 and a net 34, Ted Hellie a gross 45 and a net 39, and Les DeBriyn a gross 39 and a net 34.

The runnerup Standard Oil team turned in the evening's low gross total, a 207 to the Larsons 208. For the oilmen, Dave Wegge had a gross 41 and a net 38, Greg Larson a gross 42 and a net 36, Ken Moum a gross 40 and a net 33, Gary Flynn a gross 41 and a net 36, and Ron Olson a gross 43 and a net 39.

The Froseth's Market team, leaders in the second half of league competition, had a total of 188 strokes. Erling Olson carded a gross 43 and a net 38, Al Adams had a gross 43 and a net 37, Frank Womack scored a gross 42 and a net 37, Russ Embury had a gross 49 and a net 40, and Jon Larson, scoring the evening's low gross with a 38, had a net 36.

And the Hamm's Beer No. 1 had a 189, with Wally DuChamp posting a gross 42 and a net 37, Morris Nystrom a gross 46 and a net 37, Emil Larson a gross 43 and a net 36, Ed Broughton had a gross 39 and a net 34, and Hubert Matt had a 45 coming to the eighth when he was caught in a rainstorm and did not finish his round. Up to the eighth, Matt had a 45.

The Larson Music company team will have its name engraved on the Hamm's trophy, which is a presentation to the Thief River Golf club by Cy Glass.

Karlstad Whips Skippers 26-14

Coach Terry Mills' Middle River Skippers suffered a defeat in their first game of the 1966 season when the Karlstad Rabbits whipped them 26-14 Friday afternoon. Karlstad led 14-7 at halftime.

Next game for the Skippers will be on Friday at Newfolden.

Harness Racing Now Popular at Assiniboia Downs

Harness racing at Assiniboia Downs, Winnipeg, has provided a lot of entertaining evenings since it opened on August 20, according to Bruce Boreham, publicity director at the track. The new post time has been set at 7:30 p.m. and racing is under the lights providing many a thrill each evening. There are eight races each evening except Tuesdays and Sundays.

A special feature has been arranged for the convenience of the race fans south of the border and the Labor Day program today, (Sept. 5) will have a 2:30 p.m. post time which will be the final afternoon race program of the season. The season closes September 27.

There are many thrills to the racing of the pacers and trotters and one of the highlights is the mobile starting gate with the entire field following the gate closely. The spirited dash from the folding gate when the signal is given is quite a sight to watch and the racing has been of high calibre, Boreham said.

IN THE VIKING HUDDLE
By Coach Norm Van Brocklin

One of the brightest aspect of our play to date has been the work of defensive ends Jim Marshall and Carl Eller.

After a disappointing 1965 season, Marshall and Eller came to training camp this summer determined to do a better job in '66. They have worked extremely hard—they show more enthusiasm than any of the rookies we've had in camp.

And the results have been obvious. Our front four has thrown the opponent passers 20 times for 171 yards in losses to date. We feel that our defensive will be much improved this fall with outstanding play by Eller and Marshall.

We have a special need for improved defensive play for the ends this year, due to the fact that we have lost several key veterans on our defense. Rip Hawkins and Bill Jobko have left us. They were both regulars last season. That means that we have relatively new men at the linebacking positions, Roy Winston, Lonnie Warwick and John Kirby. It becomes the duty of the front four to supply an additional pressure on the rush against the passer to take up the slack for new men who will be learning the linebacking position.

We've been pleased so far with the play of our linebackers despite their inexperience. Lonnie Warwick has shown us he has the equipment to become one of the league's best middle linebackers. We feel Lonnie has superior speed to Rip Hawkins and certainly is equal as far as strength and toughness go.

Roy Winston has had experience over the past four seasons and seems to have accepted the challenge to being our veteran linebacker. He has turned in an excellent performance to date as has Kirby who is now a third year man but who is playing regularly for the first season. We are satisfied with these three fellows.

The Vikings biggest problems in 1965 revolved around the defense which means this is the area where we have sought to improve for '66.

We feel the veteran players in our defensive unit are capable of playing winning football in the NFL. Last year, incidents of breakdown caused us losses in close ball games. However, we feel people like our defensive backs - Ed Sharockman, George Rose, Jeff Jordan, Karl Kassulke and Dale Hackbart — are capable of playing the brand of football it takes to win in this league. We will expect improved performances from all of these men this season.

The 1966 season presents an immense challenge to the Vikings to improve on last year's fifth place finish. The Western division will be greatly improved with teams like San Francisco and Los Angeles making serious bids for the championship. When you throw in Green Bay as the champions and an established power in addition to Baltimore and Chicago as teams with great personnel, you realize that the Vikings will have to work hard to attain a high finish this season.

However, from our training camp and pre-season games we feel the spirit of the squad is excellent. The boys are here to work, they are here to win and we hope that we'll accomplish these goals in 1966.

The Golf Champions

It was a case of too much tournament experience as the golf league playoffs got under way last Wednesday, and the result was that the Larson Music company team, a veteran squad that has played as a unit for about ten years, won the 1966 title. But just barely. The Larson squad—Justus Larson, Ted Hellie, John Moum, Jim Solsten and Les Debriyn—had a net total of 180 strokes. And that score was two strokes better than that posted by the youthful Standard Oil team, which came in with a 182.

But it took an assist from the elements to give the Larson squad their win. Dave Wegge and Greg Larson, two of the low handicap golfers on the Standard Oil team, were playing number nine when the Wednesday evening downpour began, and the two golfers finished up with a bogey and double-bogey on the ninth hole. In the meantime, the Larson Music team was enjoying the comforts of the club house, and their 180-stroke total.

And last week, in making a prediction on the outcome of the four-team playoff, I gave a nod to the Hamm's Beer No. 1 team, the first half leaders. A few more nods like that and my head will roll off my shoulders. The Hamm's finished in fourth place, carding a 189. They do claim though that the elements, meaning the heavy rain shower that plastered the course, proved a handicap. Hubert Matt, a golfer with an 11-stroke handicap, was approaching number eight when the rains came, having a 45 up to that point, and he picked up. The tournament officials refused to allow Matt to finish his round after the rains. The Hamm's boys claim that Hubert would have scored a birdie duece on number eight, and a birdie four on number nine and a net of 40, giving the team a 184 and third place money. They will have to wait until next year, and I'll have to be a bit more wary about my nods.

What was the reason why Happy Holz, the publisher of the "Holz Publications", left town the other day on an early-morning plane? Was it because he had made a couple of miscalculations and had lost several modest wagers? And that he did not wish to make payment in public, feeling that it would harm his image as a "sports authority"?

But if Happy Holz wins a wager or two, then he's around, on daylight saving time, in making his collections. And with suitable comments! And Happy Holz is lavish in issuing "power of attorney" to friends in aiding in making these collections! It's just about impossible to escape the "network" that Holz has established; but on the other hand, he exhibits the nimble footwork of his football days, back in the early 1900's, when he is to make a payment. And do you think that he will write out a check, so that his loss would be a matter of record? Or so that a photostat could be made!

Miscellany

The two teams that will represent northwestern Minnesota in the state amateur baseball tournament at Belle Plaine this week, competing in a 32-team Class B division, are the Karlstad Pirates of the Northwest Border league, and Halstad of the Norman-Polk league. Halstad, with left Duane Ramstad expected to get the pitching assignment, will meet Brownton at 6 p.m. on Sunday. And Karlstad will play Arlington of the Carver-Hennepin league at 8 p.m. on Monday. Of the two clubs, the Karlstad Pirates, making their first trip ever to the state baseball tournament, will be up against the tougher opponent in meeting Arlington. Over the years, the Carver-Hennepin league has been one of the state's best. In the Region Seven Class B playoffs, Arlington scored a 6-2 win over Brownton. . . It is reported that big Lon Szymanski, who completed his freshman year at Utah State university at Logan, Utah last year will be taking a couple of years from his college career and become a missionary for the Church of the Latter Day Saints. Lon, of course, will be remembered as the six-foot nine-inch center that led the Goodridge Huskies to the District 31 high school basketball title a couple of years ago. In a Region Eight first-round game against the Ada Vikings, Szymanski scored a total of 50 points, setting a single-game tournament record as the Goodrige Huskies defeated Ada, 75-53. Big Lon had a total of 22 field goals and six free throws.

Davison Speaks at C of C Meet the Candidate Series

Campaigning for the office of Seventh District Congressman, Keith Davison of Wheaton was the second guest of the legislative committee of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at its "Meet the Candidate" series Tuesday noon. The luncheon meeting was held in the Elks club rooms with Donald L. Olson, chairman of the legislative committee, serving as master of ceremonies.

Olson introduced the guest speaker, adding that the next meeting of the series would be held Tuesday, September 27, when the speaker will be Robert Forsythe, Republican candidate for U. S. Senator. Gov. Karl Rolvaag opened the series several weeks ago. The "Meet the Candidate" series is designed to be a public forum with anyone interested in attending the sessions encouraged to do so.

Davison, DFL-endorsed candidate for the U. S. House of Representatives, introduced himself as "a country lawyer from Wheaton" and noted that he had served as county attorney for 12 years. He added that the Seventh district is the largest in land area in the state—with its 23 counties covering more than one-third of the state.

"There is a story to be told of the problems of the district," Davison said, adding that it is his contention that the incumbent congressman is not telling the story and not doing the job in representing this area in Congress.

Davison said the problem of outmigration of the population is of the "utmost importance" to the district. In the past five years 14,000 have left our farms, he said, and "every town in the district, with the possible exception of Moorhead, is either standing still or moving backward." When farmers sell their farms or businessmen close their stores, they move to the metropolitan areas, adding to the population and welfare problems of these areas, he contended.

Farm prices are at the base of the problem, he said, and cited his proposal to include oats for direct payment under a government program as one way to help the farm price situation. Rural areas must be developed on a cultural, educational and economic basis to

TB Tests Slated Sept. 26 and 27 In TRF Schools

A testing team from the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association will be in this area during September and will administer Mantoux skin tests in Thief River Falls schools September 26 and 27.

Mantoux permit cards will be sent home with every student during the first week of school. Parents are asked to read the accompanying brochure, sign the permit and return the card to school immediately.

In accordance with the school health program as established by the School Health council a few years ago, all students are tuberculin tested every other year, and all adult school personnel every year. A Minnesota statute provides that all teachers must have either a chest X-ray or a tuberculin test each year. This is the year for testing students in Thief River Falls schools and also in Goodridge, St. Hilaire and in neighboring counties.

FEATURED in the concert series arranged by the Thief River Falls Concert association will be the Texas Boys choir. One of three concerts now arranged by the association, the choir will appear February 3 at 8:15 p.m. in the Lincoln senior high school auditorium.

Blood Bank Seeks More Membership

Another appeal for donor members has been launched by Northern Blood Bank, Inc., Thief River Falls, according to Vern Erickson, president. The blood bank has headquarters at Northwestern hospital in this city.

"Blood bank membership has two-way benefits," Erickson stated in announcing the membership campaign. "Donation of blood by members enables the hospital to have its needed supply of this irreplaceable fluid on hand for routine and scheduled surgery, as well as available on call in the event of an emergency.

"It also provides the member and his or her family with all the blood they would need when hospitalized without cost (except for the administering of transfusions) or replacement," Erickson noted. "When large quantities of blood are needed, such as major surgery or following a serious accident, the cost or replacement of blood can become a difficult matter."

Since the Northern Blood Bank, Inc., is affiliated with the Minneapolis War Memorial Blood Bank, this ever-available supply of blood can be obtained virtually anywhere in the United States. Whole blood drawn in Thief River Falls and not used by the hospital is shipped to Minneapolis where it is either used in the whole form or processed into plasma. The local blood bank is given credit for these shipments and its members may draw upon them when needed through a nation-wide blood bank system.

"There is no substitute or synthetic which can replace blood," the president emphasized. "The only way in which a person who has lost blood can have such loss replaced is for another person of the same blood type to donate some of his own blood for transfusion. The blood bank establishes a list of donors and their blood types so that such persons can be found when they are needed."

Members of the blood bank are called on a rotation basis to donate blood to the bank. The blood is

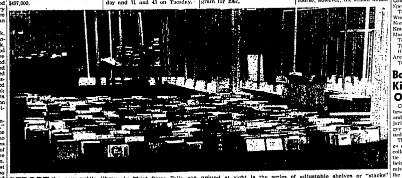
Bond Sales in County Total 49.2 Per Cent of Goal

Sales of E and H savings bonds in Pennington county in July amounted to $9,084 making the total to date this year $75,297 or 49.2 per cent of the county's goal of $153,000, reported J. M. Roche, county chairman.

Minnesota's savings bond sales for the first seven months of 1966 amounted to $39,698,965 or 56 per cent of the state goal of $71,300,000. The E bond sales during July were $5,401,979 which is one per cent higher than the same month last year, and the H bond sales were $497,000.



BEFORE the new public library in Thief River Falls can open to the public in its usual regimented order, books must be moved from the old Carnegie library building across the street to the new structure. Taken last night, this Times photo shows some of the books arranged in orderly disorder on the carpeted floor of the new building. The upright framework in the background at right is the series of adjustable shelves or "stacks" which will become the new home for books when the library opens. Due to numerous delays in furnishings, equipment and materials, the library opening is about five months behind the original schedule. The old Carnegie library building will be used by the Thief River Falls state junior college for a library and student lounge.

Concert Ass'n. Sets Membership Drive Next Week

Volunteer workers interested in the Thief River Falls Concert association series of concerts will kickoff a membership sales campaign Wednesday, September 14, with a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. in the St. Bernard's hall. Mrs. George Martin is chairman of the membership campaign.

It is expected that about 80 persons will be making contact during the week-long period extending from September 14 through September 21. Memberships will be sold at a price of $3.50 for students, $7.50 for adults and $20 for families. Admission to concerts will be by membership tickets only—there will be no sales at the door.

In addition to the concerts contracted for by the local association, the membership will entitle members to attend the concerts scheduled by the Crookston concert association. Emphasis is being placed on entertainment for all of the concerts booked to appear here.

The Revelers quartet will open the concert series on Saturday, October 29. They will be followed by the Texas Boys choir on February 3 and pianist Desire N'Kauoua on March 3. All concerts will be held at 8:15 p.m. in the Lincoln senior high school auditorium.

Area 4-H'ers Win Blue Ribbons at Minn. State Fair

A Hampshire sheep owned by Tom Duke of Thief River Falls was judged the champion of its breed in 4-H sheep competition at the Minnesota state fair Saturday afternoon. Blue ribbon winners in sheep competition included Jennifer Duke, Thief River Falls, Columbia; Carol Olson, Middle River; Shropshire; and Darwin Huartson, Greenbush, Commercial. The general livestock judging team was third among 55 teams entered.

Blue ribbon winners in other events included the following: Tommy Melin, Red Lake Falls, agronomy; Paul Lendobeja, Goodridge, shop; Regene Radniecki, Oklee, photography; Judy Oski, Goodridge clothing; Jerry Muzzy, Thief River Falls and Mary Kay Kasprick, Angus, Holstein purebred calf; Tim Duke, Thief River Falls, Commercial Swine; and Lynnell Sande, Thief River Falls and Cheryl Swanson, Radium, home improvement-family living.

Labor Day Windy; Fair Skies Ahead

Partly cloudy skies, cool temperature and a stiff breeze ruled the weather picture during the long Labor Day weekend. The holiday was free of rain, but the stiff north and northwest wind made the weather unfavorable for some summer holiday activities, like big-water fishing.

Fair skies are in store for the area today through tomorrow as a mass of cool, dry air has engulfed the region. High today may reach 85; low tonight will be from 58 to 62. Chance of rain is pegged at near zero today and less than five per cent tonight and tomorrow.

Temperature readings recorded by North Central Airlines at the airport are as follows: 78, 54 and trace of rain on Saturday, 70 and 35 on Sunday, 67 and 46 on Monday and 71 and 43 on Tuesday.

SPEAKER at the Steer, Inc., fall roundup to be held Saturday and Sunday in Thief River Falls will be Dr. W. Robert Smith, chairman of the philosophy department at Bethel college in St. Paul. The rally will include a banquet Saturday evening and a rally at 3 p.m. on Sunday. All events are in the National Guard armory.

Hit-Run Mishaps Reported by Police

Two hit-run accidents were reported today by the Thief River Falls police department. Saturday at 4:45 p.m. a car driven by Bernice Maijala, rt. 1, Middle River, was traveling north on Pennington avenue and was struck in the left rear door and fender by one driven by Henry G. Thompson, city, which was proceeding south on Pennington. Damage was estimated at $275 to the Maijala car and $100 to the Thompson vehicle. Thompson was charged with careless driving and leaving the scene of an accident and appeared in court Tuesday.

Tuesday at 12:45 p.m. a car driven by Donald Lerud, city, was traveling west on First street and in the vicinity of Conley avenue stopped behind another car which had stopped behind a grader. The second vehicle backed into the Lerud auto, damaging it to the extent of about $100, then left the scene.

Theft of articles of feminine clothing from a clothesline which occurred Thursday was reported to police Tuesday. The garments were valued at $13.

Two juvenile shoplifters were apprehended by personnel of a local store Friday. They were questioned by police and released to their parents.

Barley Will Not Be Included as 1967 Feed Grain

There will be no diversion requirements for substituting wheat for barley or oats-rye under the 1967 wheat program according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

Barley growers who wish to substitute wheat under the program can do so on an acre-for-acre basis, but they should request a special barley base for the purpose from the ASC county committee, Dahl said. Oats and rye producers who wish to substitute wheat will have their oats-rye base adjusted to allow for the difference in feeding units produced per acre.

Dahl said that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has announced that barley will not be included in the feed grain program for 1967.

Expect Large Turnout For Primary Tuesday

Pennington county officials are anticipating a large turnout for the primary election to be held Tuesday, according to C. W. Rodekuhr, Pennington county auditor. Neighboring counties also expect a good turnout of voters with several contests on the county ballots as well as high state interest.

All polling places will close at 8 p.m. according to the auditor's office. Most rural precincts will open at 9 a.m. while polls in the city of Thief River Falls and North township will open at 7 a.m.

Polling places in Thief River Falls include the following: Ward 1, Northrop elementary school; Ward 2, Masonic hall; Ward 3, city auditorium; Ward 4, Knox elementary school; and Ward 5, Franklin junior high school.

The consolidated primary election ballot which voters will receive at the polls Tuesday contains candidates for office in both parties. Voters must mark only the Democratic - Farmer - Labor or Republican side of the ballot, however; cross-over voting is not permitted in the primary voting. Write in voting also is prohibited and there is no provision for write-in votes on the primary ballot.

Main interest in the election on the state ballot centers around Gov. Karl Rolvaag's bid to upset the convention endorsement of A. M. Keith for governor. Four other names appear on the DFL ballot for governor but none are considered to be serious challengers to either Gov. Rolvaag or Lt. Gov. Keith.

The Rolvaag - Keith split in the party carries over into two other main races on the DFL ballot. These races include Robert E. Short against the endorsed Gerald W. Christenson for lieutenant governor and Wayne Olson against the endorsed Robert Lutz for attorney general.

On the ballot of candidates to be elected without party designation, six candidates are listed for the post of associate justice of the Minnesota supreme court. They include Daniel Foley, Thomas Patrick Gallagher, Theodore B. Knudsen, C. Donald Peterson, Peter S. Popovich and Harold W. Schultz.

The only Pennington county race is that for register of deeds. Three candidates have filed and one will be eliminated in the primary. Candidates are Mel Burrell, Harlow C. Johnson and Gordon P. Reierson.

Marshall county has spirited competition in at least two races. The contest for fifth district commissioner is rated as a toss-up in the primary, as is the race for county treasurer. In both offices, veteran office holders have declined to seek reelection, leaving the field wide open to candidates. John Sands as treasurer and Sofus Bjerkness as commissioner have announced their retirement.

LONG-TIME resident and former chief of police of Thief River Falls, Leonard C. Hanson, 71, died Tuesday at the Veterans hospital at Fargo, N.D. Funeral services for Leonard C. Hanson will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Community Methodist church. Rev. Merrill M. Harris will officiate and interment will be in Greenwood cemetery. The body will repose at Sinding's Funeral chapel from 7 p.m. Thursday until Saturday noon and at the church for one hour prior to the time of services. A complete obituary will be in the Times on Monday.

Enrollment Down In City Schools

Opening day enrollment at Thief River Falls schools showed a slight decline from 1965 enrollment figures on opening day, according to statistics released this morning by the office of Supt. M. R. Hankerson. The opening day figures are not complete enrollment, however, since there are still some children who have not attended school due to illness, vacations with their families, farm work or other reasons.

Elementary enrollment has shown the largest decrease in opening day figures with a drop from 1,401 in 1965 to 1,337 this year. Enrollment at Franklin junior high school is up from 588 last year to 612 in 1966. Lincoln senior high school enrollment is down by two students from 634 in 1965 to 632 this year.

Opening day enrollment in the area vocational - technical school was 249 as compared with 267 in 1965. Since 23 of those enrolled last year were in a short-term Manpower Development Training act course, however, the school actually shows a net enrollment increase of five students.

St. Bernard's parochial school has a first day enrollment of 145 this year as compared with 161 in 1965 while the Seventh Day Adventist school has 18 pupils this year as compared with 23 a year ago.

Comparative enrollment figures for opening day in 1965 and 1966 in the Thief River Falls public schools are as follows:

Barn Collapse Kills Five Cows On Brooks Farm

Collapse of an overloaded barn brought death to five milk cows and narrowly missed killing or injuring several people on the Ludger Tougas farm near Brooks Saturday evening, August 27.

The barn loaded with 3,000 bales of hay in the second story loft, collapsed and buried numerous cattle in the rubble. The cows were being milked at the time of the mishap and several people were in the barn. Tougas, last to leave, suffered a cut and bruised leg.

Neighbors scheduled a working bee the following Tuesday morning to help clean up and stack the bales.

Mrs. Weigelt To Head Friends of Public Library

New officers of the Friends of the Library in Thief River Falls were introduced by Mrs. Lowell Swenson, past president, at a meeting of the organization held recently.

Mrs. Walter Weigelt heads the group as president with Mrs. Milton Reierson as vice president, Mrs. Earl Anderson as secretary and Mrs. Melvin Ernst as treasurer.

Announced as appointive chairmen were Mrs. Kern Olson and Mrs. C. E. Bloomquist, membership co-chairmen; Mrs. Stanley Mortenson, decorations; and Mrs. Donald L. Olson, publicity.

A history of the Thief River Falls public library has been compiled and written by Mrs. Lowell Swenson, Mrs. Orin Green, Mrs. Gaston Ward and Mrs. Norman Holen, it was noted at the meeting. When copies are printed they will be sold for one dollar each to coincide with the opening of the new library to the public in the near future.

A formal grand opening of the new library is planned for October, at which time a membership drive will be conducted by the Friends of the Library. Anyone is eligible for membership with dues of one dollar covering membership for two years. Membership cards will also be available from the library staff at all times.

Chervestad And Mathson Vows Exchanged At Oklee

Miss Karen Dianne Chervestad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juell Chervestad of Oklee became the bride of Richard Allan Mathson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mathson also of Oklee, in a candlelight service in the Oak Park Lutheran church at Oklee on Saturday, August 20, at 8 p.m. Rev. Herbert Larson officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Jane Ann Linder, organist, played a program of appropriate nuptial music and for the processional played "The Wedding March" by Lohengrin. She also accompanied Miss Jean Larson of Glyndon, a sorority sister of the bride, as she sang "Because" and "The Song of Ruth".

Forming the chancel background for the bridal party were split-leaf philodendron and candelabra with green and white candles entwined with ivy. White ribbon bows marked the pews.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She was attired in a floor-length sheath gown of crepe and lace in Empire fashion. The fitted bodice of Chantilly lace featured a scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves and topped a skirt of white crepe. Complementing the gown was a watteau train of matching Chantilly lace. A wide lace floral headband secured her bouffant veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli backed by dieffenbachia leaves.

Miss Ramona Chervestad of Minneapolis, the bride's sister, attended as maid of honor. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Robert Solheim of Moorhead, double cousin of the bride and the bridesmaid was Miss Joy Chervestad, sister of the bride. They wore identical floor-length gowns featuring flowing trains. The molded bodices with elbow length sleeves were of an olive green brocade, as were the trains, and topped the beige crepe sheath skirts. Their headpieces were crowns of pearls, accented by crystals and each carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli and ferns.

L. Loren Mathison of Fairview, Mont., a brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Robert Solheim of Moorhead and Daniel Baus of Pittsburgh, Pa., a fraternity brother of the groom. Ushers were Kory Chervestad of Oklee, a cousin of the bride, and Gary Johnk of Moorhead, a fraternity brother of the groom. The men of the wedding party wore black tuxedos with white pompon boutonnieres. The groom's boutonniere was a white rose.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Chervestad chose an olive green two-piece double knit dress with beige accessories. The groom's mother wore a royal blue two piece knit suit with coordinating accessories. Their corsages were two cymbedium orchids.

Honor guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Alal Langie, grandparents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Gunnie Gunderson, grandparents of the bride. Miss Erma Hammer served the bride as her personal attendant.

Approximately 350 guests were greeted by the bride and groom at the reception following the ceremony. Given by the parents of the bride, the reception was served in the church parlors by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Tasa served as host and hostess while Miss Polly Schlinck registered the guests and Merikay and Sally Waldvogel served the punch.

The wedding cake, baked and decorated in the form of a cross, was topped by a Bible. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Ingmar Molde and Mrs. Al Waldvogel while Mrs. Gilbert Langie and Mrs. Orlando Chervestad poured. Waitresses were Connie Tasa, Janet Molde and Carol Waldvogel. Those in charge of opening and arranging the gifts were Mrs. Loren Mathson, Susan Molde, Carol Sorenson and Linda Mathsen.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from St. Louis, Mo.; Fairview, Mont.; Omaha, Neb.; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Plummer, Trail, Moorhead, Glyndon, Montvedio, Erskine, Minneapolis, Solway and Halstad.

For travel on the wedding trip the bride's attire was a silver grey-double-knit dress fashioned with bell sleeves. To complete her attire she wore hematite and patent accessories.

The newly-weds are 1962 graduates of the Oklee Public high school. The bride is a 1965 graduate of Moorhead State college and is engaged as a high school teacher at Fullerton, Calif. The groom, a senior in Industrial Arts, also attended three years at Moorhead State college. Photo -Neal Fox Studio.

Ladies Golf Club Concludes Season With Luncheon

Thief River Falls Ladies Golf club concluded a successful season Tuesday August 30, with a luncheon served at one o'clock. Since the opening of the season last spring, weather had been favorable making it possible to play golf every Tuesday. Hostesses at the final luncheon were Mary Scheuneman, Ruth Granum, Joyce DeKay and Hazel Iverson.

Golf and bridge were again the activities of the day with Marie Biddick winning the high score at bridge and Margaret Weigelt second.

The golf event was the best score on a blond hole with number nine being chosen as the blind. Winners of the event were Yvonne Bredeson with a par five and Sunny Wold with a bogie six.

Although Tuesday's events concluded the Thief River Falls Ladies golf events, golfers were encouraged to meet at the golf club at 10 a.m. any Tuesday, weather permitting.

Members were also reminded of the bridge party and dinner to be held at the club house Monday, September 26, beginning at 7 p.m.

Sharon Larson Marries L. Cassavant, Crookston

Miss Sharon Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Larson of Red Lake Falls, and Louis Cassavant, son of Mrs. Dora Cassavant of Crookston, were united in marriage recently at the Black River Lutheran church with the Rev. Rodney Erickson officiating. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Donald Mosbeck of Red Lake Falls who also accompanied Mrs. Clifton Johnson as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of white organza over satin fashioned with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace. Matching lace panels with taffeta bows enhanced the skirt and chapel length train. A crown of pearls secured her elbow-length bouffant veil and she carried a crescent bouquet of pink and white roses. Her single strand of pearls was a gift from the groom.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Louis Ulrich of Red Lake Falls. Bridesmatrons were Mrs. Kenneth Ewing and Mrs. Robert Halseth, both of Crookston and Mrs. Gerald Larson of Red Lake Falls. They wore floor-length gowns of white lace over pastel pink with matching veiled headpieces and each carried a bouquet of pink and white roses entwined with ivy.

The groom was attended by his brother, James Cassavant of Crookston, as best man. Groomsmen were Gerald Larson of Red Lake Falls, Richard Larson of Hoyt Lakes and Joe Hanson of Brooks. Serving as ushers were Harry Cassavant and Kenneth Ewing.

The mother of the bride was attired in a green three-piece ensemble and the groom's mother wore a medium rose two-piece dress. To complement their attire, both mothers wore white accessories and identical corsages of white roses and ivy.

Following the ceremony a dinner was held in the church parlors with about 150 guests in attendance. Mrs. Leonard Larson of California served as hostess. Flowers in pink, in the bride's chosen color, formed the decorations.

Mrs. Forest Gaines and Mrs. Louis Doyea cut and served the cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Louis Ulrich. Others assisting in various capacities at the reception were Mrs. Richard Larson, Mrs. Minnie Stene, Mrs. Willard Boutain, Mrs. Roger Lappegaard, Mrs. Albert Doyea, Annette Langie, Donna Vonosek, Ray Ann Dempsey and Betty Grandbols.

County Mishaps Cause $524,172 In Economic Loss

Douglas M. Head state attorney general candidate, this week proposed stronger traffic laws to help reduce the slaughter on Minnesota highways, where more than 15 people a week have lost their lives since January 1.

Noting that traffic mishaps in 1965 cost Minnesotans more than $155 million in higher taxes, raised insurance rates and medical expenses, he said that the average economic loss for each fatality was $31,800.

"To bring this alarming situation closer to home," Head said, "last year's accidents resulted in a cost of $44 per person in Minnesota. In Pennington county, this comes to a loss of $524,172, based on 1965 population estimates.

Head is especially concerned with the drinking driver, who is responsible nationally for at least 50 per cent of all fatal accidents.

He therefore is calling for a more effective implied consent law, to aid police in obtaining chemical evidence of intoxication, and is also urging that the state of Minnesota adopt the national standard for evidence of intoxication.

"We must direct as much attention to deaths on the highway as we did to the recent mass-slaying in Texas and Chicago. In the hands of the drinking driver, an automobile is one of the most dangerous weapons available. At least 100 lives could be saved by stricter law enforcement," Head concluded.

Marshall County 4-H State Fair Entries Listed

Saturday, September 3, was livestock and poultry judging day at the Minnesota state fair in St. Paul.

In the Holstein division, Gale Wittman, Warren received a red ribbon, as did her sister, Kay on her heifer.

Two entries were shown in the sheep division. Carol Olson, Middle River, earned a blue ribbon on her Shropshire lamb; Karen Erickson, Warren, was awarded a white ribbon on her animal. Carol Olson was awarded an honorable mention in showmanship in the sheep division.

Charles Edgar, Warren, had Marshall county's only swine entry, receiving a white ribbon on his exhibit.

Kathy Yutrzenka, Argyle, was awarded a blue ribbon on her poultry, and Madelyn Kirkeide, Argyle, received a white award in the same division.

City Court Tries 13 Cases Tuesday

Thirteen cases were judged by Stanley N. Mortenson in Tuesday's session of Thief River Falls municipal court. DeWein Lappegaard, St. Paul, was charged by the highway patrol with speeding and forfeited $15 bond. Jacob Barnick, city, appeared on a sheriff's charge of driving while under the influence of liquor and was fined $100. In addition, his driver's license was revoked.

City police cases included Henry G. Thompson, city, careless driving, accident involved, $50 fine with $25 suspended; also leaving the scene of an accident, $50 fine with $25 suspended; Melvin Wang, Greenbush, speed $19 bond forfeited; also no driver's license, $30 bond forfeited; Derek Gullimore, Sarnia, Ont., speed, $19 bond forfeited; and Dennis Lee, rt. 1 Erskine, speed, $19 fine;

Also Phillip Gust, Minneapolis, speed, $20 bond forfeited; Harold Isaacson, Schiller Park, Ill., speed, $21 bond forfeited; Donald Corner, Motley, speed, $21 bond forfeited; Alex Abdalla, Rolla N. D., driving after cancellation of license, accident which occurred June 11 involved, $75 fine; and John L. Davis, Grand Forks, N. D., speed, found guilty after trial, $17 fine with $11 suspended.

Langen Expects Congress Session To Late October

Congressman and Mrs. Odin Langen have returned to Washington following a Labor Day weekend trip to Northwestern Minnesota. The Langens toured much of the seventh district in the limited time afforded them.

At a news conference in Moorhead, Congressman Langen said he was taking advantage of the holiday Congressional recess since the workload in Congress in the coming weeks would prevent him from returning home as often as he would like.

"The Congress is bogged down over a host of major legislation that should have been considered months ago," Langen said. "The result is the prospect of a long session that may keep us in the Capital until late October."

Langen also said that in view of the present budget situation that is contributing to rising inflation across the country, Congress should now pass only essential legislation to keep the government operating, and defer action on all other proposals.

"There are six or seven major appropriations bills that will be faced by Congress before we go home," said Langen, a member of the House appropriations committee. "Keeping in mind that appropriations bills should be passed by June 30 of every year, it is obvious that we will be in Washington for a number of weeks without even considering new proposals.

"While Mrs. Langen and I would truly like to tour the district and exchange views with the people, my first duty is to be on hand here in Washington as your representative until the work is completed."

1967 Wheat Allotment Given Large Increase

Increased 1967 national wheat acreage allotment will give farmers the opportunity to plant more land to wheat where wheat production is profitable while maintaining their eligibility for wheat program benefits, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman pointed out recently in announcing the action. Freeman's statement was released by the Pennington county ASCS office.

"We expect wheat prices, even with the larger acreage to be well above support levels next year because of strong commercial demand at home, continued export expansion and large food assistance requirements," the secretary said. "Therefore, farmers can expect increased income from increased production. . .

"No one can be positive how much wheat we will need or how much the world will produce between now and July 1, 1968. I have increased the wheat acreage allotment so that farmers who want to produce more can help make sure that we don't run short."

Secretary Freeman said acreage allotments for future years will depend on the wheat situation at the time the allotment is determined. Wheat stocks this year are being reduced below a desirable level "as a result of continued strong domestic and world demand," Freeman said.

The increase of 8.9 million acres brings the total 1967 national wheat allotment to 68.2 millon acres. With the 7.7 million acre increase announced May 5, the allotment for 1967 now is 16.6 million acres greater than for 1966.

The action does not constitute a request for additional production; however, it will enable those farmers who believe increased production will be profitable to plant more land to wheat while maintaining their eligibility for program benefits. Producers who plant within farm acreage allotments are eligible for price-support loans on all of their production and for price-supplementing certificate payments on the farm's share of the domestic food market for wheat.

The increase in the wheat allotment does not change the price-support level. The loan level for 1967 will be $1.25. Domestic marketing certificates, as required by law, will be issued on approximately 520 million bushels of wheat, and the value of the certificates will be the difference between the parity price of wheat on July 1, 1967, and the $1.25 loan value. (The 1966 certificate value is $1.32 per bushel.)

Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, explains that farm conserving base acreages will be reduced to correspond with the increase in wheat acreage allotments. No diversion program will be in effect for the 1967 wheat crop.

Blight Exhibit Part of Potato Field Day Show

Cliff Hagen, East Grand Forks, general chairman, has announced that an added feature of the annual potato field day to be held Thursday is an exhibit on late blight of potatoes. This exhibit will be set up and "manned" by plant pathologists from North Dakota state university, Fargo, and University of Minnesota, St. Paul.

Cultures of the late blight organism will be on display and can be viewed through special microscopes that will be set up at the exhibit. It will provide growers with an opportunity to actually see this minute growth that can be so destructive to their potato crop. Growers will also be able to discuss with these specialists any specific problems or questions that they may have about the disease. Questions on other diseases can be discussed, also.

"Potato growers should plan now to attend the field day and get answers to their potato disease questions," Hagen said.

Reduce Percentage Of '66 Marketing Certificates

Wheat growers who participate in the 1967 wheat program will be eligible for domestic marketing certificates for about the same amount of wheat as in 1966 but the percentage of allotted acres is less because of the increased allotment, according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The percentage is 35 compared with 45 in 1966.

The expected domestic food use for 1967 is 520 million bushels. Dahl explained that the law requires domestic certificates to be issued for no more than the expected domestic food use. The 520 million bushels is 35 per cent of the projected production of the 68.2 million-acre national allotment.

In the 1966 program, the 45 per cent of the farm projected yield for which program cooperators earned certificates was estimated to equal 500 million bushels. Thus cooperators in the 1967 program will be eligible for certificates on 20 million more bushels, Dahl said.

Domestic certificates, which are issued to help maintain farm income, will be valued in the 1967 program at the difference between the national average loan rate of $1.25 and parity next July 1. The certificates are valued at $1.32 in the 1966 program.

Details of the 1967 wheat program may be obtained at the Marshall county ASCS office.

ACP Cost-Share Will Aid Farmers In Conservation

The 1967 Agricultural Conservation program will continue to help solve major soil, water and wildlife conservation problems of the nation's agricultural lands, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman recently announced through the local ASCS committee.

"Particular attention," he said, will be given to lands of low-income farmers, to special projects with multi-benefits and to beautification conservation."

ACP is the federal program which provides cost-sharing assistance to farmers in carrying out needed conservation practices. Low income farmers are helped in establishing such practices on their farms through the use of higher rates of cost-share aid. The aim is to reach more of these farmers during the coming year as a way of further intensifying the attack on an urgent conservation problem that was too long neglected.

Beautification - conservation practices and special ACP projects emphasize not only solution to conservation problems, but also improvement in the appearance of farm and ranch land, as well as in the economic conditions of the farmer and the community, local ASCS officials said. Under special ACP projects, extra funds are allocated to participating farmers to carry out conservation practices designed to benefit both farms and communities.

For instance, a special project to control erosion on farms near a town or city helps to prevent siltation in the stream or reservoir supplying the town, thereby improving the water supply. Wildlife conservation practices under the 1967 program will include establishment of food or habitat for wildlife through plantings, development or restoration of shallow water areas and construction of permanent pond or dams. These and other conservation activities contribute to increased recreational facilities.

Allocation of funds to states for ACP practices for 1967, as in the past, will be based on conservation needs. Within the national program authority state and county ACP development groups formulate local programs of practices which best meet the conservation problems of the particular area.

Davison Speakers Tuesday at C of C Candidate Series

be competitive with the metropolitan areas, he said. It is neither inevitable nor desirable that the nation have a number of huge metropolitan complexes tied together by a network of superhighways, he added.

The Congressional aspirant proposed that rural areas make maximum use of the program which exist today, listing the multi-county library program as one of these. He also proposed outright grants to community development corporations and income tax incentives for business locating in rural areas.

Charging his incumbent opponent, Congressman Odin Langen, with a negative record, Davison said that the incumbent has not had one bill passed in eight years in Congress, and has voted against such legislation as the feed grain program and the establishment of the Area Redevelopment administration.

Questioned about his views on the increase of the minimum wage (to $1.60 per hour in 1968), Davison said he didn't believe the increase was "necessarily good" for the rural areas. Citing the out-migration of young people in particular, however, he asked "How long can we survive with low minimum wages."

In answer to other questions, Davison qualified his statements but expressed basic opposition to a sales tax, professed alignment with the A. M. Keith faction as an endorsed candidate in the DFL party, said higher interest rates were not the answer to inflation and said he would have to "study the proposed legislation" before voting on the repeal of Section 15(b) of the Taft-Hartley law.

Blood Bank Seeks More Members in Fall Campaign

drawn in the laboratory at Northwestern hospital and only a short time is required to make the donation.

One contributor from a family will generally provide protection for the husband, wife and children should any of them need blood. Details on membership qualifications and responsibilities are available by writing to Northern Blood Bank, Inc. Thief River Falls.

Application forms for membership may be received by calling Northwestern hospital (681-4240) and asking to speak to the blood bank technician.

"With membership in the blood bank comes the responsibility to donate blood on call unless there is a legitimate reason for not doing so," Erickson emphasized. "If such a reason is given, such as ill health or absence from the community, the member donor should notify the blood bank as soon as possible of his availability to donate. The blood bank has provisions for termination of membership for those who do not donate within a specified period after being notified."

Enlargement of the membership will decrease the frequency in which members are called upon to donate blood, "For the sake of your family, and the very lives of your friends, relatives and neighbors, join the blood bank now," Erickson concluded.

Keith Comments On Importance Of DFL Primary

Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith said this week rural Minneota has an "enormous stake" in Tuesday's DFL primary election for governor and he urged all eligible voters to turn out to the polls.

"The September 13 primary is significant in many ways," Keith said, "but nowhere is it more significant than in the rural areas of our state.

"The basic question is, who do you want running state government for the next four years? Karl Rolvaag, whose basic support has come from certain Twin Cities labor leaders and the wealthy Walter Butlers and Bob Shorts? Whose voice would really be heard in a Rolvaag-Short administration?

"Or Sandy Keith, who is responsible only to the DFL party and to the people of Minneota.

"My roots are in Rochester, and as a state senator I represented a part of rural Minnesota," Keith said. "I think I understand rural problems, and I think I know how to try doing something about them.

"In the last four years the governor has shown almost no concern whatsoever with rural Minnesota. It is only recently, since I have challenged the governor, that he has begun to even travel in the rural areas.

"He has had no program for the rural areas, and I have presented what I think is a sound economic development plan to bring new job opportunities to our smaller communities.

"But even a program is not enough. What rural Minnesota needs is a spokesman, someone to identify with the problems, someone to take the case to Washington or anywhere else it needs to be taken, someone to speak out for the farmers, the businessmen on main street and the working people.

"This is where the governor has failed as much as anywhere in the last four years, and that is largely what this DFL primary is all about. With your help, I will try to give rural Minnesota a strong new voice in St. Paul and anywhere else it needs to be heard."

Goodridge Man In Viet Action

Marine Private First Class Stanley B. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Wilson of Goodridge, is helping to hold certain sections northwest of Da Nang, Vietnam, as a member of the First Battalion, Third Marine Regiment, Third Marine Division. It is from this area that daily patrols and search and destroy missions are launched against the Viet Cong.

The battalion has participated in several multi-battalion operations. Civil affairs operations are also carried out extensively by the battalion in the local Vietnamese villages. The Le My village and the hamlet of Kim Lien are considered models of the Marine Corps' pacification program.

His battalion's primary mission is to meet and capture or destroy the enemy by weapons fire, maneuver, or shock action.

Beef Feeding Is Institute Topic At Shows Arena

Beef cattlemen and other persons interested in feeding beef cattle are reminded that the program for this year's cattlemen's institute is set for Thursday, October 6. The institute will begin promptly at 3 p.m. and will be held at the Red River Valley Winter Shows arena, Crookston.

This year's institute emphasizes the theme of, "Housing and Feed Lot Layouts for Beef Cattle Feeding"--including not only conventional housing, but also confinement housing and feeding.

The program will get underway with a tour of a confinement-feeding operation. The group will return to the Winter Shows arena for the program which will commence about 4:45 p.m.

Don Bates, agricultural extension engineer, will be on hand with a complete presentation on beef facilities including confinement feeding. Ken Egertson, extension economist, will speak on, "The Future of Northwestern Minnesota in Beef Production." Richard D. Goodrich of the departmen of animal science, will report on the research being conducted at Rosemount. All three men are from the University of Minnesota, St. Paul campus.

Central Livestock association, Inc. Fargo, N. D., is providing several lots of live feeder cattle for demonstration and discussion purposes. Harvey Windels will present a brief report on the 1965-66 beef feeding trials at the Northwest experiment station, Crookston.

A beef barbecue dinner will be served at 6 p.m. by the dining hall staff of the Northwest School of Agriculture.

All cattlemen, and others interested in feeding, are reminded to mark their calendar and set aside the afternoon and evening of October 6. This is one meeting where one can probe all aspects of the cattle feeding business.

Picnic Set for Former Residents

Former residents of Thief River Falls will hold a picnic in Live Oak park, Berkeley, Calif. from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, September 25. The park is located between Shattuck and Walnut streets about a mile north of University avenue, and the group will meet at the lower fireplace near the bridge on Walnut street.

Income Tax Questions Are Answered by IRS

These questions most frequently asked by taxpayers on federal income tax matters with authoritative answers are provided by the office of the district director of Internal revenue, St. Paul.

Q—Is it true that I can claim a $900 exemption for my dependent son who will return to school this fall?

A—No. A taxpayer is entitled to $600 for each allowable dependency exemption. However, if your son had a part-time summer job, he may earn up to $900 taxfree. This is because each taxpayer is allowed a $600 personal exemption, plus the $300 minimum standard deduction.

Q—My home was damaged in a storm. Will before and after pictures be enough to establish our casualty loss?

A—The photos will be helpful but you should be prepared to show evidence of the cost of the home, including improvements, the value of the property before and after the casualty, cost of the repairs and insurance reimbursement, if any. Records to show these things should be kept for tax purposes.

Q—We hired a tutor to help our son make up some work in school. Do we have to withhold income and social security taxes from what we pay him?

A—If the tutor is an independent contractor, like a lawyer or doctor, you would not be required to withhold income or social security taxes from amounts paid for his services since an employer-employee relationship would not exist between you. This same rule would also apply to amounts paid to a music teacher.

Q—Are fees paid to a veterinarian for a pet a deductible medical expense?

A—No, they are not.

Q—I joined a country club this summer so I would have a suitable place to entertain my clients. Will my dues be deductible?

A—Country club dues are treated as an expenditure for an entertainment facility and come under special rules. For any part of your dues to be deductible, you must show that during the year you used the facility—the club—more than 50 per cent of the time for business purposes. If you qualify under the 50 per cent rule, then you can deduct the pro rata portion of your dues that is "directly related" to the active conduct of your trade or business. Out - of - pocket costs of business entertaining would be deductible under general entertainment rules.

Q—My daughter is having a big wedding and I have invited quite a few of my business associates. Since there is this business connection, will any of the wedding expenses be deductible?

A—No. These are personal expenses and not deductible.

Q—When is the next installment of estimated tax due?

A—It is due September 15.

USDA Greenspan Program Converts Crops to Parks

Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, has noted that the eleventh Greenspan agreement has just been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

Greenspan is part of the cropland adjustment program which helps local and state governments buy cropland for conversion to park and recreational uses. Greatest interest in the program has been shown in the midwest, where six projects have been approved in Iowa and one in Ohio. Two New York state villages are in the program, as is one Utah city and one Texas town.

Marcel Dahl, chairman, quoted Secretary Freeman as saying "Through this new conservation tool, we are helping local leaders build a new and better rural America for all the people who want to live and work there."

These eleven agreements will provide over $50,000 in federal grants to help the local governments buy almost 400 acres of cropland for conversion to recreational areas. In addition, USDA, is providing up to $18,000 in cost-share assistance for installing the conservation practices the land will need in its new use.

Cropland these municipal and county governments have been helped to purchase, will be converted to a variety of uses: Wildlife ponds and nature study areas; athletic fields and golf courses; picnic grounds and camp areas; and even complete city parks.

The nation's first Greenspan agreement was with the Village of Newark, New York. The village bought 32 acres of farmland, 29.8 of which was cropland. It will be developed into a city recreational area including: Wildlife pond, picnic area, baseball and softball diamonds, ice skating rink, badminton courts and other recreational facilities.

Other examples of Greenspan projects include: The Wills Point, Van Zandt county, Texas, bought 50 acres of farmland to build a park and recreation area. USDA's grant of $6,392 helped buy the 49 acres of cropland involved and USDA will provide $396.80 in cost-share assistance to help with grass seeding and tree planting.

The city of Carroll, Iowa, will use the 39 acres of farmland it is purchasing for $16,923.06 to build a municipal golf course. Mayor William S. Farner said that Carroll's population (7,683 in 1962) has grown nearly 11 per cent in the past five years and additional recreational areas are much needed. A special ceremony was held August 5, 1966, in cooperation with the Carroll County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. A federal grant of $4,682.70 will help buy the 33 acres of cropland involved.

Dr. Wendt Will Participate in Court Conference

Dr. H. Paul Wendt, Thief River Falls, will participate in the Minnesota Citizens Conference on Courts Thursday through Saturday in Minneapolis.

Purpose of the conference is to evolve a plan to modernize and streamline the judicial system of the state in order to promote the more efficient administration of justice in the state. Participation is restricted to a limited number of leading citizens in the state qualified by background, interest and position in the community and the state.

The conference has been organized to help all interested citizens acquire an informed understanding of the need for judicial improvement. It is under the sponsorship of the Minnesota State Bar association, American Judicature society and the Judicial Council of Minnesota.

The conference will consider the adequacy of the present judicial system of the state, the need for modernization of the judicial process and ways and means by which more effective administration of justice may be secured, according to John C. McNulty, Minneapolis, conference chairman.

Subjects to be considered will include Minnesota judges and courts today; judicial selection, including compensation; judicial tenure, including discipline, removal and retirement; and court organization, including work load, administration, re-districting and organization.

Participants will include members of the bar as well as leaders in business, finance, industry, labor, professions, news media, education, religion and other civic and lay activities.

The study conference will proceed primarily through a series of intensive panel discussion of the topics selected for consideration. Recommendations will be made at the close of the conference.

Mondale Lauds Food for Peace Final Passage

U. S. Senate Wednesday gave final passage to the 1966 food for peace act. Senator Walter F. Mondale one of the leaders said during debate on the Senate floor, that the 12-year-old food for peace program is "one of the great examples of practical idealism in American foreign policy."

The program as enacted this year "goes beyond the surplus disposal principle" by authorizing the Commodity Credit corporation to go into the market-place and purchase American farm commodities for sale or distribution overseas, Mondale noted.

"Thus the food for peace program not only helps to fight hunger in the poor nations of the world, it also is a major boon to the American farmer."

As a result of the bill, Mondale said "the American farmer will be able to put more acres into production, and harvest a larger crop.

"Farm income will rise—and not just the families on the land will benefit. More land in production means more seeds required, more pesticides and fertilizer, more farm implements, more machinery and equipment.

"And these additional purchases will bring new economic vitality to Minnesota and all of rural America," he concluded.

Hold Class for "Restless Ones"

The third Counsellor Training Class in a series of four will be conducted this Sunday, Sept. 11, at 2:00 p.m. in the Conference Room of Northwestern Hospital. The earlier hour has been set in order not to conflict with the meeting on Sunday afternoon of Steer, Inc.

These training classes are being held in preparation for the coming to Thief River Falls of the Billy Graham film "The Restless Ones". Persons attending the training sessions will seek to assist inquirers at the film showings, although attendance at these counselling classes does not obligate anyone to serve in this capacity.

Rev. Merrill M. Harris, of Community Methodist Church, is chairman of the Counselling arrangements for the local showing of the film, and any inquiries concerning this phase of the program may be directed to him.

Widows Entitled To SS Benefits

Widows of workers insured under social security may now qualify for monthly benefits at age 60, according to Clifford Kittelson, social security district manager.

A widow taking her benefit at age 60 will receive a reduced benefit. The reduced benefit will continue at the same rate after age 62.

Any widow within three months of her 60th birthday or older should inquire about these benefits at her local social security office.

Public Opinion

Editor:

This being another election year, possibly there are some things we should take a look at in reference to local leadership. In order to have a working community we must have someone from town and country to present ideas or programs so that we can have a better city-farm relationship. Surely farm problems reflect on city and vice versa.

I am thinking about the "city-farm mixer" the Chamber in Thief River Falls sponsored last spring. This was a very good start, but let's not stop there; let's see what can be done on social and economic problems.

We farmers have looked to our state legislators for leadership in our economic problems, and I am sure city business people and labor do also. As agents for the people, our county commissioners play a very important part in presenting our problems.

We farmers have a problem during wet falls, and in some areas the problem is serious. And the problem is ducks. I have seen large fields of grain destroyed; if not eaten, muddled down so as to make it worthless to harvest.

We have had duck depredation meetings and duck damage surveys and nothing has ever been done. I am sure some compensation for these farmers can be worked out. I am not blaming the people on the refuge; I am sure they are as interested in a public relations program as we are. They can only do what their book of rules says.

I don't believe our legislators need another duck damage report. What they do need is to do some representing. Sure they are familiar with the problem.

These being federally protected birds, I believe a federal program should be used. Possibly it could be handled by the A.S.C. as an added program to their wildlife section. Fields could be appraised by the local disaster committee with the farmer, and agree on a price for the crop "as is". With provision, it will not be posted or plowed for an agreed length of time. Date of duck season should be advanced so hunters or city people could help farmers keep ducks out of other fields.

I have seen farmers (and I have been one of these myself) in the fields shooting ducks before season by the hundreds. This is, of course, a waste of good birds, and I am sure if city people had ducks eating at their pay checks, they would do as we do to protect themselves.

County commissioners can do much in this area in promoting leadership in presenting our problems on state and federal levels.

I am not against hunters; I know the majority are considerate and cooperative. Neither am I against ducks. But I am interested in programs and game laws that will benefit most people and also be an asset to the economy of this area. I would like to have a chance to try out some ideas of my own, and I am sure I will get many from area people.

Thank you,
Lloyd Nelson

SEPTEMBER 13, 1966 PRIMARY ELECTION

PAID POL. ADV.—Prepared and ordered published by Sanford Tverstol, Argyle, Minn., in his own behalf.

RLF Youth in Charge of UND Dorm Section

Victor Wald of Red Lake Falls has been elected as an assistant to the head resident of Sayre Hall at the University of North Dakota for the 1966-67 academic year.

Head residents are primarily married couples engaged in graduate study. Usually one couple lives in each dormitory to direct administrative tasks, assist in group activities and, if necessary, apply discipline. Resident assistants are single students who live with other students, usually one to each floor of each wing. They work with the head resident to assist and advise students in personal, social and cultural functions such as discussions, films and dinners in UND residence units.

(2) That on the 8th day of May, 1961, at a sale of land pursuant to the real estate tax judgment duly given and made in and by the District Court in and for said County of Pennington on the 14th day of April, 1961, in proceedings to enforce the payment of taxes delinquent upon real estate for the year 1959, for said County of Pennington the above described piece . . . or parcel . . . of land was duly bid in for the State for the sum of twenty-three and 22-100 Dollars.

(3) That the said piece . . . or parcel . . . of land and all the rights of the State of Minnesota, upon and against said land by virtue of said sale were duly assigned, conveyed and sold by the County Auditor to an actual purchaser, on the 3rd day of September, 1964, for the sum of Ninety-three and 87-100 Dollars.

(4) And that the amount required to redeem said piece . . . or parcel . . . of land from said tax sale exclusive of the costs to accrue upon this notice is the sum of One hundred eight and 51-100 Dollars and interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on $93.87 thereof from the 3rd day of Sept., 1964, to the day such redemption is made, and interest on $14.64 thereof at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the 21st day of May 1965, to the day such redemption is made.

(5) That the tax certificate of sale issued to said purchaser has been presented to me by the holder thereof and this notice requested.

(6) That the time for the redemption of said piece . . . or parcel . . . of land from said tax sale will expire 60 days after the service of this notice, and the filing of proof of such service in my office.

WITNESS my hand and official seal this 25th day of August, 1966.

C. W. RODEKUHR
Auditor Pennington County, Minnesota.
(Official Seal)

Sept. 7-14-21
Order for Hearing on Petition to Determine Descent
State of Minnesota,
County of Pennington—ss.
IN PROBATE COURT
IN RE ESTATE OF Gilbert G. Hanson, Decedent.

Herman H. Hanson having filed in this Court a petition representing, among other things, that said decedent died intestate more than five years prior to the filing thereof, leaving certain property in Pennington County, Minnesota, and that no will of said decedent has been proved, nor administration of his estate granted, in this State and praying that the descent of said property be determined and that it be assigned to the persons entitled thereto;

IT IS ORDERED, That the hearing thereof be had on September 30, 1966, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., before this Court, in the Probate Court Room, in the Court House, in Thief River Falls, Minnesota, and that notice hereof be given by the publication of this order in the Thief River Falls Times and by mailed notice as provided by law.

Dated September 2nd, 1966.

HERMAN A. KJOS
Probate Judge.

Prowlers Will Play First Game on Friday

Coach Jim Sims' youthful and inexperienced Prowler football squad (and infection plagued, too) will open its 1966 schedule on Friday night when they meet coach Carl Hasche's Grafton Spoilers on Grafton's Chandler field.

The game will mark the resumption of a series that has been in state of suspension since the 1951 season, when the Prowlers defeated Grafton, 59 to 0, in a game played here.

The Prowler coaching staff has been drilling the locals in two-a-day sessions, and with several informal scrimmages against Warren, Fertile and Mahnomen, but the make-up of the starting lineup against the Spoilers is still in doubt.

Boys that have been seeing considerable action in the early drills, and scrimmages, have been quarterbacks Bob Brodin and John Womack, halfbacks Dave Halvorson, Ward Johnson, Nickie Drees and Peter Solem, fullbacks Gary Almquist and Rod Collver, and offensive linemen Karl Poppenhagen, Tommy Tunberg, captain Ross Hanson, Allen Swenson, Duane Morben, Ron Sorvig and Mark Haugen. The defensive platoon has been manned by Sheldon Joppru, Kent LeMoine, Jerry Droppo, Ken Ose, Les Nordhagen, Larry Peterson and others.

Several boys have been sidelined by an attack of boils, and it is doubtful they will see much action. Veteran halfback Paul Ihle has missed a week of practice, and veteran lineman, and kickoff man, Billy Dicken is sidelined by illness.

With the start of the school year a number of additional players have been issued equipment, among them Dan Kaushagen and Chuck Olson, but they will require a week or 10 days to get into condition for regular play.

The Grafton squad has a nucleus of 10 lettermen in the squad of 51 boys that have been reporting for the practice drills.

Working out with the varsity squad are seven seniors, 14 juniors and nine sophomores, and the balance are freshman. Lettermen Pete Keely and Don Ganyo are co-captains of the 1966 Grafton squad. Other lettermen are Doug Olson, Skip Clerk and Vance Anderson, all seniors, and Mike Teevans, Rodger Mohagen, Butch Jorgenson, Mike Thacker and Fred Halliday, juniors.

The nine sophomores out for the squad were all members of the last season's freshman team which finished the season against the Greater Grand Forks teams and posted a record of 6-0-1 and the league championship.

Archery Tourney Slated Sunday

Thief River Falls archery club will hold an invitational field tip tournament Sunday beginning at 10:30 a.m. at the range located south of the municipal airport. Originally scheduled as a broadhead shoot, the tournament has been changed to use of target arrows.

All members of the local club have been encouraged to attend the last tournament of the year. Trophies will be awarded in all classes and lunch will be available on the grounds.

Seminar Slated By MORRC for Sportsman Clubs

Sportsmen's and conservation organizations throughout the state have been invited to participate in a unique seminar on hunting and fishing September 24, sponsored by the Minnesota Outdoor Recreation Resources commission.

Representative Richard W. Fitzsimons, Argyle, a member of the commission, announced the plans and purposes of the seminar today, revealing it will be at St. John's University in Collegeville.

"MORRC is preparing an in-depth report on hunting and fishing in our state for the 1967 session of the Legislature," he explains. "The seminar is intended to give the sportsmen's and conservation group and opportunity to participate in discussions of various aspects of our study."

Unlike the traditional public hearing held by legislative units seeking public views, MORRC's hunting and fishing seminar will find representatives of the sportsmen's and conservation groups meeting in panels of 12 to 15 in one-hour sessions to discuss a specific subject.

Throughout the day, with the seminar starting at 9 a.m. and ending at 5 p.m., the participants switch to different panels at the end of each hour's discussion, according to Fitzsimons.

Prior to the first panels in the morning, MORRC will take a half hour to outline the scope of its hunting and fishing study and the topics to be discussed during the day.

"Each conservation and sports group within Minnesota has been invited to send one delegate to this seminar," according to the Argyle lawmaker. "More than one member of an organization is welcome to attend, but with over 435 groups in the state, it will be necessary to limit panel participants to the one official delegate designated by the organization or its president".

Invitations have already been sent out and over 300 organizations are expected to send delegates. Each of the panel discussions will be headed by a moderator and recorded for use in preparing the report to the 1967 Legislature.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

With the "Big" Team

The Detroit Tigers reached down into their "farm" club in the Southern association, the Montgomery Rebels, and called up catcher Arlo Brunsberg. The Tigers, in second place in the American League, and making a desperate bid to overtake the high-flying Baltimore Orioles, need to bolster their catching staff. First string catcher Bill Freehan has been injury prone, and second stringer Orlando Macfarlane, the one-time Grand Forks Chiefs backstop, isn't too healthy.

Well, it is fine to see that Brunsberg, who must be rated as the best all-round athlete to come out of Fertile, get a chance with the Tigers. It's doubtful if Arlo will be doing much catching until the pennant chase has been decided. And the Tigers, even if they don't catch the Orioles, will be anxious to keep ahead of the Minnesota Twins and garner that second-place money.

I can recall one game, back in Arlo's midget baseball days, when he came up here as a member of Chuck Johnson's Fertile midgets, and he pitched a no-hit game against the locals on the fairgrounds diamond and lost the game!

Since those midget days, Arlo went on to become a high school and college star, being a stellar football, basketball and baseball player with the Concordia College Cobbers.

Arlo has been up and down in the Detroit Tigers' farm chain, and the reports were that he was just about ready to leave organized baseball and accept a teaching and coaching job.

The Bombers' Schedule

Several local sports fans have expressed interest in Bud Grant and his Winnipeg Blue Bombers football team. The Bombers are currently tied for first place in the western division of the Canadian Professional Football league.

The Bombers have five home games remaining on their 1966 schedule, and three of these games are slated for Sunday afternoon play. Winnipeg will meet the Regina Roughriders on Sunday, September 11, with the kickoff schedule for 2:30 p.m. CDT; the Toronto Argonauts will provide the opposition on Wednesday evening, Sept. 21, with the kickoff at 8 p.m. CDT; the Calgary Stempeders will invade the Winnipeg stadium on Tuesday, September 27, with the kickoff slated for 8 p.m. CDT; on Sunday, October 16, the Edmonton Eskimos will play the Bombers in a 2:30 p.m.; and on Sunday, October 23, the Bombers will close their home schedule with a game against coach Dave Skrein's British Columbia Lions, with game time at 2:30 p.m. CDT.

With the completion of highway 59, it's just a comfortable drive to Winnipeg. And the Canadian football does have some interesting facets that are missing in the American style of play. Incidentally, it is wise to obtain ticket reservations, and the phone number for the Winnipeg Arena ticket office is 783-7421.

Miscellany

The Prowlers will be playing the Grafton Spoilers on the Chandler field in Grafton on Friday night. And this field was named in honor of Albert (Happy) Chandler, the former governor of Kentucky and at one time the Commissioner of Baseball. Chandler, in the early 1920's, when he was attending college, played summer baseball with the Grafton club. Independent baseball in those days was a big item on the summer program, and some fine baseball was provided for the fans . . . Marv Walter, the former Plummer Cardinal all-round athlete, and being especially a star in track, is playing at halfback for the Moorhead State Dragons. Marv is a junior this season, and he will give coach Dwayne Hoberg a powerful running threat. As a freshman, Marv was utilized on kickoff and punt returns . . . Former local golf members did all right in tournament play over the Labor Day weekend. Larry (Shorty) Perkins was runnerup to veteran Ernotte Hiller in the Red River golf tournament at Crookston. It was the 15th Red River title for Hiller. And over at Grand Forks, in the North Central golf tournament played over the Grand Forks Country Club course, Keith Jorde, now of Hereford, Texas, but once a high school golfer here, was runnerup to winner Jim Mark, having a 54-hole total of 244, just one stroke off Mark's 243 . . . And it comes as good news to his many friends in this area to report that Wes Westrum has been rehired as manager of the New York Mets of the National League for the 1967 season. The Mets are posting the finest season they have recorded in their short history in the National curcuit.

Public Urged to Submit Plans On Conservation

Local governmental agencies, non-governmental organizations and individuals interested in community improvement are invited to suggest new soil, water, woodland and wildlife conservation activities that might be carried out under the 1967 Agricultural Conservation program according to Marcel Dahl, chairman of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

"We are especially intereseted in suggestions for special ACP projects that will help to solve community conservation problems," the chairman explained. Under special ACP projects, extra funds are allocated to farmers to help them carry out conservation practices which will benefit the communtiy by concentrating funds on a special problem.

For example, special efforts might be directed toward solving problems of a specific area, such as a creek that frequently floods, a reservoir or stream that is silting in or where special improvement practices are needed for timber stands. In some areas low-income farmers need a higher percentage of the cost to help them maintain adequate community services.

"We are also interested in suggestions for beautification - conservation projects that will not only solve conservation problems but also improve the appearance of farms and the entire community," the chairman emphasized.

Suggestions for special ACP projects should be submitted to members of the ASC county committee or to the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation service office in Warren. All project proposals will be considered by the county ASC committee when it meets to determine how the available funds can best be used and the types of conservation practices most needed to meet the conservation needs of the community.

The development group, made up of members of the ASC committee, SCS technicians and forest service representatives, approves the county ACP. Others with conservation interests gives them suggestions and advice.

The Library Corner

by Flora Allison

During these hectic days at old Carnegie library, this corner has undoubtedly shown the effects of the hit-or-miss efforts which constitute the way the "Corner" is written. Sandwiched in between the routine jobs, it has had to suffer. With school's opening imminent or in some cases already an established fact, the youthful generation comes in for a mammoth share of public attention, and we are giving them special consideration also at this time of year. They'll be coming to the library in droves, especially after we move into our new building.

Seasonal interest in football having its annual upsurge at this time of year, the fellas will want to be reading books slanted in that direction. "Hold That Line", "Rebel Halfback", "Backfield Twins", "Quarterback and Son", by Archibald, one of the top authors in his field, are some that they will want to catch. They add the human drama that is so much a part of the sport and the seasonal fever. They are recommended to all lovers of the sport, and certainly not confined in their interest to the guys.

"The Black Caldroun" by Lloyd story in a make-believe setting to give it atmosphere, of the ever-present evil in the mythical land of Prydain. The Black Caldroun, like Pandora's box of another era, is the container of vast evils employed by the lord of the Land of Death. It becomes the quest of warriors who are dedicated to its destruction.

Sacrificing, or prepared to sacrifice, whatever is necessary to that end, the warriors each learn in their own way that much is required of a boy before he can claim manhood, and that freedom is often bought a great peril. This award winner is sure to appeal to the spirit of manliness inherent in every boy.

"Coyote, the Wonder Wolf," by Joseph Lippincott, preserves his tradition as a masterful story writer in the children's division; his animal classics, of course, are familiar fare to every boy and girl who loves to weave around animals that particular aura which sets them apart from the rest of their kind. The story is not fancy. Lippincott encountered coyotes in Wyoming, Arizona, Mexico and in Pennsylvania. (Did you know, everyone of you, that Pennsylvania has coyotes? It hadn't occurred to me; they seemed so much a Western tradition.)

The den where the subjects of this book were whelped and reared was a short distance from Lippincott's home and it is from his constant observation of their ways that he drew inspiration and material for the story.

Coyote, once living among people, breaks out of his pen and goes back to the wilderness which called her. There she learns of the bitter adversaries that man protected her from, the elements, hunger, larger predators than she and always man himself. The book, laced with warmth and tenderness and the truth factor which makes it especially appealing, should be the favorite of youngsters here as it has been elsewhere. Don't forget to include it in your wintertime reading, kids.

The latest "Who's Who in America," so new that it's dated '66-'67, is here now and ready for scanning. If you don't find your own name in it this year, well, there's always another year. The Dictionary of American Family Names" might prove to be much more rewarding in the search for your name. It's by Elsdon Smith, and includes the family names of every country in the world, regardless of their spelling or pronunciation.

Perhaps your name evolved from some other name over a period of time, as many others have.

Of interest to us was our own surname, Allison. From the Scotch and English, it means "the son of Ellis (God is salvation); a corruption of Allenson, V. the son of Alls, a shortened form of Allister, or Alexander (helper of mankind); the son of Alice (noble cheer), occasionally a masculine name." End of quote, and -er-interesting. Oh, well, what's in a name anyway, just an old, worn-out hand-me-down. Or perhaps something of historical significance, but filled with intrigue and speculation, at any rate. This might even be fun for parties or family get-togethers.

While were on this name kick, we should mention "What's the Name, Please?" something we discovered just a little later than we would have liked, for it's a handy little item. We wondered how to pronounce "Preuss", something that occurred in our reading. Incidentally, "What's the Name, Please?" told us it's to rhyme with "Proice," preferably. We also learned that the name of the novelist Willa Cather is not spoken quite as most people say it, but to rhyme with "rather, gather" and others which sound the same way.

"What to Name the Baby" is another useful book concerning names. It gives the meanings of a host of names for the newcomer, either male or female, and of course includes a multitude of names no baby would be caught dead with. There's humor in those, and enough names that are modern to make it timely.

Wondering about a certain zip code number? Zip coding is the "In" thing to do, and the postoffice department urges everyone to get with it. To help letter-writers with this problem, they have provided us with the complete national zip code directory. Zip code numbers are given for every place with a postoffice, in the entire nation. Unalakleet, Alaska, for example, bears the zip code number 99684; Hilo, Hawaii, 96720. Lack of time is the only thing which prevents me from locating the place with 00001, but it appears that there may be such a place. If you find it, let me know.

Moving day will have been accomplished, we hope by the time you read this. And the library will be closed; not wanting to be caught in a mess, any more than a housewife in the same dilemma, we have to take a bit of time for straightening things out. We'll keep you informed of the opening date. When next we meet, it will be in air-conditioned comfort. What a heavenly thought! See you at the library.

State Employment Service Makes Job Placements

Nonfarm job placements of the Minnesota state employment service in fiscal year 1966 (July 1, 1965, through June 30, 1966) increased more than eight per cent over fiscal 1965, almost twice the rate of the national average of 4.1 per cent, according to Robert J. Brown commissioner of the state department of employment security.

The 35 offices of the MSES placed people in 108,897 nonfarm jobs in the one-year period, compared to 100,810 in 1965. Brown pointed out, too, that the 1965 placements included several thousand emergency flood workers and for clean-up and repair of flood damage, indicating a healthiness in the increase over the actual figures.

Brown also reported that more than twice as many applicants were referred to training in fiscal 1966 as in 1965 5,373 compared to 2,489. New records were also set interesting job applicants, he said, with 18,597 persons given the comprehensive general aptitude test battery, and 34,010 taking tests on specific aptitudes.

Placements in semi-skilled occupations showed the largest percentage increase between 1965 and 1966, climbing 21.5 per cent. Placements in occupations classified as skilled rose 16.4 per cent; those in the clerical and sales field increased 13.6 per cent; and placement of casual and day workers rose 10.8 per cent. Other groups reflected only slight change.

General Dahlen Presented with Legion of Merit

Major General C. A. Dahlen, U. S. Army, formerly of Thief River Falls, was awarded the Legion of Merit August 25 for "exceptionally meritorious" service as chief of staff, Allied Forces Southern Europe (AFSOUTH).

The award is one of the highest made in peacetime. It was presented by Admiral C. D. Griffin, USN, commander in chief, Allied Forces Southern Europe.

General Dahlen, who served as the southern command's chief of staff from May, 1964, to August, 1966, was cited for providing "a unity of effort (at the international NATO headquarters) that was unprecedented".

AFSOUTH headquarters is manned by offier and enlisted representatives from Greece, Italy, Turkey, the United Kingdom and the United States. The command is responsible for defense of Europe's southern region, which stretches in a 1,700-mile arc from the northern tip of Italy to the eastern tip of Turkey.

In the citation, General Dahlen was lauded for his understanding of the military and political aspects of NATO, with which he "tactfully and judiciously molded the efforts of the nations represented (at AFSOUTH) with cooperative and meaningful output".

General Dahlen was born in Detroit Lakes in 1910. He moved to Thief River Falls as a small boy and was graduated from high school here in 1928. The following year he was appointed to the United States Military academy at West Point and graduated with the class of 1933.

The General was commander of the Fourteenth U. S. Army corps in Minneapolis before his assignment to the Naples NATO command.

General and Mrs. Dahlen, the former Ursula Erickson, have two daughters, Sydney Jean, an elementary school teacher in West Berlin, and Karen Linda, who is married and lives in Columbus, Ohio.

Specialist Gives Information on Grading of Eggs

How well do you know the eggs you buy? Do you check size and grade on the egg cartons you pick up at the store? And do you know what determines size and grade designations These questions are asked by the department of information at the University of Minnesota.

Egg size is determined by weight per dozen. If you have wondered about the difference between Jumbo, Extra Large and Large eggs, here are the minimum weights in ounces per dozen as specified by the Minnesota egg law: Jumbo A, 30 ounces per dozen; Extra Large AA, A, 27 ounces; Large AA, A, 24; Medium AA, A, 21; Small A, 18; Grade B, 24.

Grades — U. S. or Minnesota — are based on the outside appearance of the egg, on size and interior quality. You may, for example, see a carton stamped with a shield and marked "U.S.A. Grade." Or, instead of the U. S. grade shield, you may find an outline map of Minnesota in which these words appear: "Minnesota certified grade AA eggs produced-marketed under Minnesota Department of Agriculture quality control program."

Grade AA eggs, explains Melvin Hamre, extension poultry specialist at the University of Minnesota, are produced under the Minnesota certified quality egg program or the federal-state quality control program. They are gathered often and kept under refrigeration from the time of gathering until they reach the consumer. Sometimes called "fresh fancy eggs," they must meet rigid requirements to qualify for the AA grade.

Grade A eggs are also high quality. They must have clean, sound shells and a nice oval shape. Each egg is held before a strong light—a process called candling—to be sure that the yolk is well centered, the white thick and that there are no blood or meat spots.

Although you may buy Grade AA or A eggs at the store, the way you as a consumer care for them will determine whether they are still high quality when you use them, Hamre emphasizes. Since high temperature is one of the biggest enemies of egg quality, never leave eggs in a hot car or a warm kitchen, he warns. He gives these rules to consumers: always keep eggs refrigerated; use them promptly for best flavor and cooking quality; and never store them near food that might transfer undesirable flavors to them.

Editorials . . .

"In all countries and throughout the ag, it has been common practice of governments, when prices rose materially, to point the finger of blame at tradesmen or at industrialists or, in recent times, at trade union leaders as well and to call them irresponsible and greedy. In the time of war still another epithet is frequntly hurled at private groups: they are then described as unpatriotic. Very rarely does any government have the courage to blame its own management of finances or its own failure to keep a tight rein on the money supply."

—Dr. Arthur F. Burns

What, No Interest?

Sen. Walter Mondale proudly announces that he will introduce legislation to pay off a 111-year-old debt to some 18,000 Chippewa Indians, most of them living in Minnesota. His bill will establish a general formula for disbursing $3.5 million appropriated last year to the Mississippi, Pillager and Lake Winnibigoshish bands " . . . to settle a long-standing debt of the federal government."

According to Sen. Mondale, the three bands were short-changed in an 1855 treaty which gave them only 11 cents an acre for land in northern Minnesota worth 55 cents an acre. In 1965 the Indian claims commission finally awarded the Indians the remaining 44 cents per acre. The Mississippi band was allotted $1.7 million and the Pillager and Lake Winnibigoshish bands together were allotted $2.3 million.

"After legal and other expenses were subtracted, the Indians were left with a total credit of $3.5 million," the senator notes. Although the money has been appropriated, it cannot be released until Congress passes another law determining how the funds shall be distributed within each band. That is the purpose of the Mondale bill.

There are several interesting points in this situation:

(1) The government apparently has been using money owed to the Indians for 111 years without payment of interest.

(2) It cost the Indians half a million dollars in legal and other expenses to collect $3.5 million of what was rightfully their own money.

(3) Now that the government has decided it owes the Indians the money, it won't return it until it decides how it is going to be used.

Can you imagine how a private citizen would rate if he tried to apply the same principles the government employs when he owed Uncle Sam some money? Let's say John Smith was $3.50 short (that's one millionth of what the government owed the Indians) on his income tax payment.

The government would charge him interest on that unpaid amount the very first day past the deadline. (Try it for 111 years!) The government not only exacts payment, but compels the citizen to pay the expense of accounting and computing what he owes. If, on audit by Uncle Sam, it is determined that the amount paid is not correct, the citizen must pay what the government dictates or pay legal fees for defense of his position. And try to tell "Uncle" how to spend what you give him!

As we said, the government charges interest on taxes not paid by the deadline. If a person over-pays his tax, a refund is slow in coming and no interest is paid to him. The government also operates a tax withholding system to deduct taxes from wages throughout the year. This is actually an advance by the taxpayer to the federal government prior to a normal tax deadline. The government pays him no interest for using this money in advance.

Isn't it amazing how the face of government changes? It depends on whether you owe money to it or it owes money to you. The standards are entirely different.

Painfully Fat Wallet

Erick Kendall wrote the following editorial in the Midland Cooperator:

"Another New Syndrome has arisen," writes the Drug Trade News. "So far, it has been reported in only one patient, a lawyer who for several years suffered pain over the left buttock which radiated down the leg. According to Dr. John D. Battle, Jr., the patient's wallet has grown large with many credit cards. Recently, he learned that removal of the wallet from his left hip pocket brought relief, and reinsertion of the fat wallet reproduced the symptoms."

This editor hadn't noticed any radiating pains as yet, but he has been bothered with the problem of keeping his trousers where they belong. Even with the tightest of belt pulls they seem to sag on the left side. So upon reading the above he took inventory of the contents of his fat wallet and it showed:

Social Security card, driver's license, a telephone credit card, an overall (nationwide) hotel etc. credit card, five department store credit cards, automobile registration card, fishing licenses in two states, Co-op Editorial Ass'n membership card, five other membership cards, an insurance company's guarantee of hospital and medical coverage, a membership card in an industrial editors' association, a small address book, books of postage stamps, a picture of his son as a baby, a picture of his wife as a bride, a patron number card in a Midland cooperative, several bank deposit slips that should have been discarded months ago, and a one dollar bill.

There was a time when a fat wallet meant that you were a man of means. Today it merely designates a member of this highly regimented, credit living great American society.

Time to Take Stock

When a nation is up to its ears in debt, and taking some one third of the income of its people for taxes, and running deficits, you would think its manager (the elected public officials) would welcome and encourage taxpaying private industry that provides revenue for federal, state and local governments. But, many political proposals today restrict the operation of the taxpaying private enterprise system—the foundation of a free society.

The impression given is that political management can in some manner serve the people better than can private management. The proponents of tax-exempt government competition with citizens never point out such policies kill taxpaying industries that provide jobs and support government. They never show that under such policies, government puts some of its best customers (taxpaying enterprise) out of business. It is as senseless for government to harass and discourage business by such practices as it would be for managers of industry to promote policies to put their customers out of business.

We have spent billions of tax dollars and thousands of lives opposing the spread of the totalitarian government philosophy in two world wars and other conflicts. But our politicians go merrily on promoting its inroads in our own land. Is it not reasonable to ask—where are we headed?

Freedom dies without resistance to political forces working to restrict free enterprise.

Right to Fail

The following editorial appeared in the White River Leader of Branson, Mo.

I believe in Democracy because it includes my right to fail.

Much of today's emphasis is on "success"; the ultimate is to be successful. We drill our children on the methods to attain success, even though we too often spell it out in only materialistic terms.

We pride ourselves that our great American way of life, our liberties, our free enterprise system, our concept of the equality of all men, have produced the environment for success:

"Anyone can be a Horatio Alger. Anyone can arise from rags-to-riches. Anyone can travel from the log house to the White House. This is America, we're Americans, we've built a new world, the greatest civilization since time began. We're successful."

This is what we say. And, it is all true!

But, I believe in Democracy because it includes my right to fail.

There is no true success unless there is a corresponding alternative: To flip a coin with both sides stamped "success" is fraud.

The right to failure speaks of the possibility that the world may come crashing down on me after I have taken the calculated risk on some opportunity. My venture's possible success has no value without its possible failure.

In totalitarian systems, the right to failure is taken away. And, of course, in this sweep so goes the right to success. Some mistaken ones may glory that a communistic state excludes failure, since everyone is guaranteed food, work, a place to live, etc. The state plays God. It is glibly preached: "To each according to his ability; to each according to his need."

But there is no success in such a system that takes all the risk out of life: which makes life a venture into deadening sameness.

Only Democracy today allows the individual the freedom to fail. That's not saying he will fail, or has to—only he has the right to. And, after he has failed he has the right to get back up, dust himself off, and try again . . . perhaps to fail again.

His right to fail is necessary to put worth in his right to success!

It's possible only in a Democracy.

The Brain Drain

Out-migration of Minnesota young people has been a state problem for a number of years. The Richfield News made the following comments about the situation:

"Many of our finest young Minnesotans after graduating from high school or college leave our state for opportunities elsewhere," according to the research of Wayne Thompson.

Minnesota born and educated, Mr. Thompson left the state to become the city manager of Oakland, Calif. He recently returned home to become a vice president at Dayton's.

Mr. Thompson cites a United States Department of Commerce bulletin to illustrate the evidence of a brain drain from Minnesota. During the years 1960-64, Minnesota had an increase of only 2.6 per cent in the "productive years" bracket of our population.

The nation as a whole averaged a bountiful 39.2 per cent increase in productive persons. Most Minnesota born and educated youth leave the state for better opportunities elsewhere.

"As we lose our productive youth to our competition, our elderly population grows," Thompson noted. He went on to reveal "our increase in number of persons aged 65 or over was 24 per cent compared to the national increase of 10 per cent."

Within nine years, one-half of the people in the United States will be 20 years or younger. Will Minnesota be able to find new jobs and career opportunities that can keep our youngsters here and even attract a few back? At the present rate of growth, the answer to this question obviously is "No."

To become competitive with other states, Minnesota desperately needs aggressive, progressive leadership. This leadership must know where it's going and how it is going to get there.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

Three things said to be impossible are putting toothpaste back in the tube, pushing a log chain and getting off a mailing list.

Looking Backward

1896—SEVENTY YEARS AGO

The Ogahmah hotel has been fitted out with chandeliers in the dining room and office. — Charles A. Rohbecke was named a village trustee, succeeding T. P. Hanre, resigned. — The council voted a tax levy of two mills for the general fund and three mills for the interest fund. — Mrs. F. L. Lawson and Mrs. F. J. Dudley of Grand Forks are visiting here. — School opened in Red Lake Rapids with 68 persons enrolled.

1906—SIXTY YEARS AGO

Peter Engelstad is at work filling his silos, the only two in Red Lake county, and invites the public to witness his modern farming methods. — J. J. Opsahl, a Beltrami county legislative candidate was in this city Tuesday. He is described as "a practical man and a firm believer in drainage." — Candidates for county auditor in the coming election are John B. O'Brien and William Holberg, Republicans, and James Ford, Democrat.

1916—FIFTY YEARS AGO

Thief Lake, a body of water five miles long and three wide, is being drained in the belief that the lake bottom will produce bonanza farms. Strong protests were filed against the destruction of this duck and goose hunting paradise, but fell on deaf ears. — A part of the timber on the Red Lake reservation will be placed on the market this fall, Congressman Halvor Steenerson announced. This will probably reactivate local sawmills as logs are floated down the Red Lake to this city.

1926—FORTY YEARS AGO

Farmers in the area are reporting grain yields of more than 20 bushels an acre, with excellent quality. — Orville Herron of this city was badly injured when his Hudson coupe rolled over 10 times west of town. — Duck hunters are preparing for the season which opens Sept. 16. Limit is 12 ducks a day or 120 game birds of all kinds in aggregate. The season on prairie chickens and ruffed grouse is closed.

1936—THIRTY YEARS AGO

The Northern State Bank celebrated its first birthday with deposits of almost $500,000. — Paul A. Lundgren was the principal speaker at dedicatory exercises held for the new Smiley bridge. — The city council applied for a federal grant to aid in financing construction of a new sewage treatment plant.

1946—TWENTY YEARS AGO

The TRF board of education levied 53 mills for school purposes, up three mills from last year. — Andrew Anderson, chairman of the local polio chapter, stated that reports had been received to date of 19 cases of polio in this area. — Glendon Ahre was named president of the local Toastmasters' club, succeeding J. J. Roche.

1956—TEN YEARS AGO

Jake Barnick announced the opening of his furniture store on Highway 59, set for Friday. — Approximately 400 persons attended a farm bureau gathering in the armory to hear Frank L. Wooley, legislative counsel of the American Farm Bureau federation, speak on farm programs. — Mrs. T. L. Melgaard of Berkeley, Calif. was a guest at the home of her nephew, N. A. Holen. It was her first visit here since leaving for California in 1925 with her late husband, the former TRF banker. — Renold Johnson, pioneer resident of the Town of North since 1901, died at Northwestern hospital at the age of 83.

It looks as if summer is over. The city has received more than five inches of rain in the past week, and the temperature Sept. 6 dropped to 33 degrees.

Yard'n'Garden

C. GUSTAV HARD — ORRIN C. TURNQUIST
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

Many gardeners complain about poor bloom on their peonies or they say they would like to increase their plantings. You can correct this problem and increase the number of plants during late August and early September. Peonies may be blooming poorly because they are too deep in the soil or are infested with disease or insects.

The first step in transplanting and dividing peonies is to lift the entire clump and wash off the excess soil from the roots. Once this has been accomplished you will be able to see if there are any rot problems or infestation of insects on the rhizomes themselves.

The next step is to prepare the soils where the peonies are to be planted. Select a sunny location. Don't plant them where they will get competition from tree roots.

Space peony clumps about 24 inches apart. Dig the hole 18 inches deep and a foot in diameter for each peony. In the bottom of the hole place six inches of well-rotted cattle manure, compost or leaf mold and mix with bone meal or some superphosphate. Cover this with about three to four inches of soil and then place the plant into the hole.

Peonies should not be planted more than two inches deep. The newly formed vegetative shoot should not be more than two inches and preferably one and one-half inches below the soil surface in heavier soils. Firming of the soil to avoid settling is extremely important. After the soil has been thoroughly packed around the roots, cover the top with lose soil.

Mulch the peonies the first winter with straw or marsh hay.

How's Your Health?

(Prepared in the public interest by the Minnesota Medical Ass'n)

Approximately one out of 10 Americans is hard of hearing to some extent. The loss of hearing may be sudden, due to a blow to the ear or an injury of the brain, but more often the loss is so gradual the victim does not realize that he is becoming hard of hearing.

According to the Minnesota State Medical association, young adults are often struck by otitis media or otosclerosis. Both may prevent the conduction of sound waves from the middle to the inner ear. Otitis media is an infection in the middle ear. Otosclerosis is a growth of new bone in the middle ear.

In about 10 per cent of the people who have this condition, this bony growth interferes with the normal movement of the tiny middle ear bones and thus prevents transmission of the sound waves to the inner ear. Wax or a foreign object in the ear, infections of the mastoid bone, or dysfunction of the eustachian tube, which connects the middle ear with the throat, may also cause a conductive hearing loss.

A perceptive or sensorineural hearing loss is the failure to convert sound waves into nerve impulses or to transmit these impulses to the brain. A major cause of this type of hearing loss is presbycusis, an ailment generally noticed in people over 60 years of age. Recent studies indicate this hearing impairment may be caused by aging of the brain. Virus diseases, such as measles or mumps, may also cause perceptive hearing loss, and in recent years, hearing loss has more frequently been attributed to prolonged exposure to excessively loud noises.

Whatever the cause of hearing loss, before treatment and cure can be begun, the impairment must be detected. If you plan to visit the state fair this year, stop in at the association's booth in the education building for a free hearing test. You may be one of the millions of Americans who is gradually losing hearing without knowing it.

NORMAN HAGEN
Candidate for Marshall County
TREASURER

I respectfully solicit your vote and support in the September 13 Primary Elections. Serving as your county assessor since March 1, 1958, I feel I have the experience for which there is no substitute. Since I have worked with both assessment and tax books. I can answer your questions when you come in to pay your taxes.

It is my pledge to give the office full time service and to administer the affairs of the office with the highest degree of honesty and ability. Due to the busy season in my office, it has been impossible for me to call at your homes as I would like to have done. I still trust you will remember me with your vote on September 13. Thank you.

Late Harvested Corn Best for Making Silage

Agronomists recommend early harvest of legumes and grasses if you want top quality hay, but with corn for silage, you'll get both better quality and preservation if you harvest late. This is the information relayed by Terry Courneya, Pennington county agricultural agent.

James Justin, extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota, says that late harvesting of corn for silage means to wait until the grain is fully dented.

If harvested when dented, the grain will have as high a concentration of carbohydrates as can be expected. Carbohydrates form the raw materials of organic acids that do the preserving. Thus high carbohydrates concentrations give you a built-in quantity of the best silage preservation known.

Because carbohydrates act as a natural preservative, corn silage never needs additional preservative when ensiled. Justin says there is definitely no need for extra preservative if grain is fully dented before ensiling.

In addition, high carbohydrate concentrations in silage mean a large portion of the carbohydrates are available as an energy source for cattle fed.

Besides giving higher feed value and better preservation, fully-dented corn also has about the right moisture level for ensiling. This can mean fewer seepage problems.

Justin recommends chopping the forage short to aid packing and excluding air. Then fill the silo as rapidly as possible and make sure to get good distribution. Use a mechnical distributor or let silage come up for a few loads, then level it.

Make sure the silo doesn't leak air and seal the top well, advises Justin. With a horizontal silo, pack thoroughly with a tractor. Then cover the silage thoroughly and weight the cover.

Canada Thistle Control Possible Late in Season

Canada thistles can still be eliminated this year, even though most uncontrolled thistles have probably gone to seed, according to Terry Courneya, Pennington county agricultural agent.

Gerald Miller, extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota, says now is the time to locate infestations and plan thistle control programs.

After small grain harvest, tillage or chemicals can be used to control thistle regrowth in fields that are generally infested. Tillage methods take at least one and possibly two growing seasons to kill thistles and will work best on land that is out of crop production.

Tillage methods deplete the food supply in the roots and eventually kill the thistles. Miller says plows and field cultivators with sweep shovels will work better than disks.

Topgrowth must be destroyed whenever it gets two to three inches tall. Additional regrowth allows thistles to rapidly replenish food reserves in the roots and prolongs the tillage operations.

Applying three-fourths to one pound per acre of 2, 4-D or low rates of dicamba after small grain harvest will reduce Canada thistle stands. Avoid drifting these chemicals onto susceptible crops such as soybeans or legumes. Miller advises waiting at least two weeks after treatment before doing fall plowing or tillage.

For more details on control methods and costs, see Extension Bulletin 329, "Controlling Canada Thistle." Copies are available from the Pennington county agent or write to the Bulletin Room, University of Minnesota, St. Paul, Minnesota 55101.

Topdressing Alfalfa

Alfalfa growers should topdress established stands of alfalfa as soon as possible this fall. C. J. Overdahl, extension soils specialist at the University of Minnesota, says experiments show additional topdressing increases yields and slows the thinning out of stands, even on soils which have been well-fertilized at seeding time.

AN ETERNAL FORCE

The wind is like the power of God.
It is invisible — you can neither see nor touch it.
And yet it will carry a sailboat skimming across the waves with all the beauty and grace and freedom of a seagull.

But whereas the wind may die and leave you drifting aimlessly and helplessly with the tide, the strength of God remains eternally steadfast.

It is through the Church that man is given understanding of this Power. For by worshipping God he can acquire the spiritual insight which gives fuel to his soul and purpose for his pursuits.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

VOTE FOR THE BEST MEN

Karl ROLVAAG—for Governor

Eight years service as Lt. Governor, one term as Governor. We know him to be a Good Man . . . and a GOOD Governor.

Working quietly, patiently, in a spirit of mutual cooperation instead of partisan conflict, Governor Karl Rolvaag has led the State of Minnesota into a "Golden Age" of achievement. The RECORD proves it.

Robert SHORT—for Lt. Governor

Highly successful businessman and nationally recognized civic leader. Active in DFL for many years . . . National Campaign Coordinator for Hubert Humphrey's campaign for the Vice Presidency.

On assignment from President Johnson, Bob Short formed and directs our national travel promotion program, "Discover America" . . . recognized as the most successful volunteer program of its type in the world.

Wayne OLSON—for Attorney General

Wayne Olson has served for the past three years as Commissioner of Conservation. Prior to that, eight years in the Office of the Attorney General, working up to become Chief Deputy Attorney General.

Olson was described by former Attorney General Walter Mondale as". . . the best government lawyer I have ever known Gifted . . . Experienced . . . a highly ethical man with a strong social conscience.'

"Let The PEOPLE Decide"

BE SURE TO VOTE—SEPT. 13

(Pol. Adv.—Inserted and to be paid for by Pennington County Volunteers for Rolvaag, Henry Thorson, Chairman.)

We, the undersigned, residents and voters of Pennington County, hereby recommend Karl F. Rolvaag for Governor of Minnesota. We urge you all to vote for Karl F. Rolvaag in the primary election, Sept. 13.

Survey Shows Medicare Hasn't Filled Hospitals

Medicare during its first month of operation produced a multitude of "paperwork" headaches but had little to no effect on the normal admission patterns of the nation's hospitals, according to a preliminary survey conducted by the American Hospital association.

Slightly more than 64 per cent of the hospitals surveyed reported that medicare had "no" effect on normal admission rates during the month of July. The highest percentage of those hospitals reporting that medicare "did" affect admissions are located in the west south central region (Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas), while the lowest percentage was reported by hospitals in the Middle Atlantic region (Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York). No explanation for these regional differences has as yet been determined.

A national organization of most of the nation's hospitals, the AHA stressed that the results of the survey were based on a 78 per cent of a sample of 590 hospitals and must be considered preliminary. The sample hospitals were selected from 5,712 short term and special hospitals registered by the AHA and representing 80.1 per cent of all hospitals, 42.5 per cent of all beds and 91.9 per cent of all admissions to registered hospitals in the U. S. AHA statisticians have found this sample highly accurate when cross-checked with survey returns from all U. S. hospitals, according to the AHA.

Increased paperworks was listed by 69 per cent of the hospitals as their biggest Medicare problem. Only 31 per cent of the responding hospitals listed other problems and these were in such areas as: slowness of reimbursement, patients' lack of knowledge about medicare coverage, strained relationships with physicians, professional and administrative personnel shortages and long stays for medicare patients due to lack of coverage for nursing home beds (Under the Medicare law this coverage does not begin until Jan. 1, 1967).

Complete details of the first "Medicare Impact Survey" coupled with more precise data now being accumulated by other studies will be released upon completion in late September, according to the AHA.

Social Security Queries Answered

By Ted Hoversten
Field Representative

Q—Do social security checks stop during the summer months when an eligible child over 18 is not attending school?

A—No. A student is eligible for continuous benefits if he returns to school within a four-month period.

Q—Does summer employment for students mean that checks must stop during the months worked?

A—Not necessarily. A student is allowed to have earnings of $1,500 during each calendar year. This income may be spread over the whole year or be confined to vacation months. If earnings exceed $1,500, some benefits will be lost.

Q—Is the mother of a child over 18 also eligible for continued benefits if the child remains in school?

A—No. A widow under age 60 or a wife under age 62 must have a child under 18 or be providing special services for a disabled child to be eligible for benefits.

Total Bids for Student Center at BSC Top Estimate

Bids for construction of a student center at Bemidji State college are $222,435 over the estimates and will be reviewed by the Minnesota State College board at its meeting in St. Paul September 16.

John Glas, assistant to the president at BSC, announced the results of the bidding Tuesday afternoon for the center which will be located between Sattgast Hall of Science and Bridgeman Hall facing Lake Bemidji.

Alto Construction company of Walker submitted the low bid for general contractor of $524,000 Holm Bros. of Atwater had the low bid $204,000 for mechanical work, Naylor Electric company of Bemidji submitted a low bid of $82,150 for electrical work, Gus Lagerquist of Minneapolis was low bidder for the elevator with $12,490 and American Supply of Evanston, Ill. was low for kitchen equipment with a bid of $80,595.

Total low bid for the building which is financed through Minnesota State College Board's revenue bonds is $903,435. Total estimate was $681,000. Students pay five dollars a term toward the cost of financing the student center.

Glas said that college committees would meet prior to the state board meeting with architects to discuss alternations which would bring costs within the estimates. Architects are Bettenberg, Townsend, Stolte and Comb of St. Paul.

Minnesota School Boards Ass'n. Sets Meetings

Minnesota School Boards association will sponsor 24 area meetings throughout the state this fall for school board members, superintendents of schools, legislators and legislative candidates, and persons interested in the public schools of Minnesota. Area sessions will be at Karlstad September 13 and Fertile September 14.

This is the sixteenth straight year this type of a meeting has been sponsored by the association, and the meetings are held to bring the association members current on problems affecting the public schools. The board of directors of the association expect 2,500 school board members and superintendent of schools to attend the series.

W. A. Wettergren, executive secretary, and Willard Baker, administrative assistant of the association will lead the discussions during these meetings which will be presided over by a member of the association board of directors.

The discussions will concentrate on those issues which will confont the 1967 Legislative session such as school finances and school costs, equalization of assessed property values, school district immunity from tort liability, school board-superintendent - employee relations and revenue for the support of the public schools.

Wettergren and Baker will also present an analysis of the association's pilot study on school district maintenance costs as these costs relate to the educational programs offered in the various districts of the state.

Thirty-two states and the District of Columbia now have laws requiring that cars be equipped with seat belts, according to the Minnesota AAA.

If elected, will cooperate fully with any individual or group on matters pertaining to roads, flood control and drainage, taxes, schools, and any other county problems.

I will continue to work diligently for, duck, beaver, and flood control and will seek the cooperation of the State Game and Fish Dept. and Federal Wildlife on these problems.

I am strongly opposed to any wetlands expansion by the Dept. of Conservation, in the 5th district. I firmly believe Dept. of Conservation, in the 5th district. I firmly believe that more state land should be offered for sale and in that

Primary Election Voting Will Be Held on Tuesday

Polls will open in Pennington county Tuesday morning for the primary election with a large turn-out expected to cast ballots prior to the time polls close at 8 p.m. In Thief River Falls the five precinct polling places will open at 7 a.m., with most rural precincts opening the polls at 9 a.m.

Thief River Falls polling places include Ward 1, Northrop elementary school; Ward 2, Masonic hall; Ward 3, city auditorium; Ward 4, Knox elementary school; and Ward 5, Franklin junior high school.

Voters are reminded by C. W. Rodekuhr, Pennington county auditor, that they must vote a straight party ticket in the primary election. Only one side of the consolidated ballot may be marked; cross-over voting is prohibited. Neither is there any provision for write-in votes in the primary election, the county auditor said.

Main interest in Pennington county is for the county race for register of deeds. Candidates are Harlow Johnson, Gordon Reierson and Mel Burrell. Interest on the state ballot is centered in the DFL race for governor between Gov. Karl Rolvaag and his party-endorsed opponent, Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith.

On the ballots for state office are the following, with endorsed candidates listed first for each office:

DFL: U. S. Senator—Walter F. Mondale and Ralph E. Franklin; 7th District Representative—Keith C. Davison; Governor—A. M. (Sandy) Keith, Karl F. Rolvaag, Jerome Daly, Cyrus E. Magnusson, John C. Peterson and Belmont Tudisco; Lieutenant Governor—Gerald W. Christenson, Joel A. Salterman, Robert E. Short and John P. Stopka; Secretary of State—Joseph L. Donovan, Jerome J. Peters and Robert K. Williams; State Auditor—Betty M. Hayenga and Robert E. Hanson; State Treasurer—Harlan C. Christianson; Attorney General—Robert (Bob) Latz, Wayne H. Olson and Jack N. Omvedt; Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner — Curtis Warnke, James G. Dooley, Richard (Dick) Ralison, Severin (Sev) Mortinson, Emil S. Novak and William R. Youngdahl.

Republican: U.S. Senator—Robert A. Forsythe and Henry A. Johnson; 7th District Representative—Odin Langen; Governor—Harold LeVander and Mrs. Lorna M. Tarnowski; Lieutenant Governor—James B. (Jim) Goetz, Bruce Donald Hasselberg and R. J. (Dick) Stassen; Secretary of State—William J. (Bill) O'Brien; State Auditor—Stafford King; State Treasurer—Val Bjornson; Attorney General—Douglas H. Head; Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner—P. Kenneth (P.K.) Peterson.

On the non-partisan ballot there are six candidates for associate justice of the supreme court to fill the vacancy which exists by the announcement that incumbent Judge Thomas Gallagher will retire. Those running include Daniel Foley, Thomas Patrick Gallagher, Theodore B. Knudson, C. Donald Peterson, Peter S. Popovich and Harold W. Schultz.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE TUESDAY

BALLOT BOXES to be used in Thief River Falls for the primary election Tuesday form the setting for this reminder by Miss Thief River Falls, Mary Dahlquist, to vote in the election. Polls at the five city precincts will open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p.m.

Panek Threatens Law Suit Against Rolvaag Group

Henry Panek, Pennington County DFL chairman, said today that he is considering filing corrupt campaign practices charges on behalf of the DFL party against the Pennington County Volunteer Committee for Rolvaag for publishing false campaign information.

The threat of a suit is an outgrowth of a paid political advertisement appearing in the Thief River Falls Times, Wednesday, September 7, in which the Rolvaag committee said, "The Pennington County DFL Committee has not endorsed any candidates." Panek said that this statement was false and therefore in violation of the state corrupt campaign practices act.

"The Pennington county DFL, acting under the constitution of the DFL party and under state laws," Panek said, "officially voted to support the endorsed candidates in the September 13 primarly election. We not only voted to support the endorsed candidates but are actively supporting them in this campaign."

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Haugen and family of Hibbing and Manely Anderson of Minneapolis visited their mother, Sophie Norby on Sunday.

Minnesota League Of Municipalities Sets TRF Meeting

Local government officials throughout the state will be meeting to discuss municipal problems and to exchange information in a series of 16 regional meetings to be held in September and October by the League of Minnesota Municipalities.

The meeting for this area will be held in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, September 21 in the American Legion club rooms with Mayor Orin Green welcoming the visiting officials.

The meetings begin September 14 at Redwood Falls and close October 19 at Northfield. They feature informal discussion of questions asked by the local officials who attend. All meetings are open, not only to municipal officials, but to everyone interested in local government.

Orville C. Peterson, executive secretary of the League, will act as moderator at all the meetings and he, as well as representatives of state departments and agencies, will supply the information sought by those attending. An average of 12 such representatives customarily travel around the state to participate in these one-day conventions of local officials.

Agencies customarily represented are aeronautics, agriculture, business development, civil defense, health, highways, liquor control, public examiner, taxation, youth conservation, water pollution control and the Minnesota safety council.

All regional meetings are held in the evening preceded by a 6:30 p.m. dinner. County officials, candidates for state senator and state representative are cordially invited to attend.

Estimated Tax Payment Is Due September 15th

Individual taxpayers who filed declarations of estimated tax for 1966 must pay the third installment of the tax due by Thursday, September 15, according to George O. Lethert, district director of Internal revenue.

Those taxpayers whose anticipated income for 1966 has changed should file an amended declaration, Lethert said. A blank form for use as an amended return is printed on the back of the billing notice form. If the estimated tax is changed, one-half of the balance owing must be paid at this time.

Marqoux Corner Razed by Fire

Marcoux Corner, a building which housed a filling station, restaurant, store and tavern located at the junction of Highways 32 and 2 south of Red Lake Falls, was heavily damaged by fire Friday morning, September 2.

Firemen from Crookston and Red Lake Falls fought the blaze and prevented total destruction of the establishment, but the building sustained extensive damage. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Entries Sought For Wool Sewing Contest in Nov.

Terry Monson, East Grand Forks, is the first entry for the District I 1966 Make It Yourself with Wool contest.

Now its the time for any girl or woman over 10 years of age to plan to make a wool outfit for themselves to model at the District I contest to be held in Thief River Falls on November 25, according to Mrs. G. Milford Peterson, Crookston, district director as follows:

There are four classes as follows:

Sub-deb—10-13 years old, skirts or jumpers; Junior—14-16 years old, dress, suit, coat or ensembles; Senior—17-21 years old, dress, suit, coat or ensembles; and Adult—over 21 years old, dress, suit, coat or ensembles.

The garment must be of 100 percent wool, loomed, knitted or felted in America. All work on the garment must be the work of the contestant who will model her garment at the district contest.

Karen Offerdahl of Bagley placed first in the Minnesota state contest last year and represented Minnesota at the national contest in Portland, Ore., in January, where she placed third in the junior division.

District I is made up of the following northwestern Minnesota counties: Beltrami, Clearwater, Kittson Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, East Polk, West Polk, Red Lake and Roseau.

Home economics departments of high schools extension agents and Mrs. Peterson, 218 South Minnesota St., Crookston, have the necessary information regarding the contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylert Manger and family of International Falls spent the Labor day weekend visiting Mr. Magner's parents, the H. W. Magners and other relatives and friends.

School Board To Discuss Bonds

Members of the Thief River Falls board of education will discuss a proposed bond issue with a representative of T. G. Evensen and associates this evening at the regular meeting. Supt. M. R. Hankerson will also present his report on the opening of school on the rather short agenda for the 8 p.m. meeting.

Solons Testify For Highway to Northwest Angle

A 32-mile highway between Minnesota's Northwest Angle and the village of Warroad would open a major recreation area of 80,000 acres, now accessible primarily by boat or air, Sen. Walter F. Mondale (D-Minn.) said Thursday, September 1, in an address to the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

The proposed road would have to go through a section of Canada to reach the Angle, at the northwest corner of Lake of the Woods. It could become an extension of the Great River Road, or Mississippi River Parkway, Mondale said. He submitted that the road would boost development of the area and would be a boon to residents, who can now travel the area by road only in winter when the muskeg is frozen.

Mondale, along with Sen. Eugene McCarthy (D-Minn.), testified in favor of a bill they sponsored which would grant congressional consent to an agreement between Minnesota and Manitoba providing for the highway.

The bill would also authorize the secretary of commerce to pay Minnesota's share of the cost of the highway. Under the agreement, Minnesota and Manitoba would each pay 50 per cent of the estimated $3,140,000 cost.

Rufus Z. Smith, director for Canadian affairs of the state department, said the department has no objection to the bill, nor does the Canadian government.

Finnish Church Of Middle River Merges Property

At a recent meeting of the Finnish Lutheran congregation of Middle River, the members voted to merge their holdings with the First Lutheran church. Details of the church business transaction were left up to the church council, whereby the transfer of the property was made.

Services will be held in the First Lutheran church in both English and Finnish languages. The Finnish church structure will be moved off the premises in the near future, and a parking lot will be installed.

Race Driver To Appear at LHS

Chuck Stevenson, race car driver, will apear at Lincoln high school Friday, September 30. Stevenson is a member of the team of racing veterans who present the Champion Spark Plug company's highway safety program to thousands of high school students throughout the nation.

4-H Livestock Show and Sale Slated Saturday

Pennington county 4-H market livestock show is scheduled for Saturday, September 17 at the Joppru sales barn near Thief River Falls. Judging will start promptly at 11.

Two steers, one lamb and one barrow will be selected to enter the state market livestock show September 19-21 in St. Paul. The remaining livestock and poultry will be sold at auction starting at 1, Saturday. Entered in the show are lambs and 12 dressed chickens.

A change in the sales procedure is being tried this year, according to Terry Courneya, county agent. Instead of soliciting buyers from local business men prior to this sale, the animals will be offered at public auction. "It is hoped that the fine support provided by local business firms in the past will continue", Courneya said. Individual 4-H club members may contact local buyers for their own animals; otherwise, all persons interested in supporting this youth activity are invited to be at the sale on Saturday and offer their bid.

Dry Weather Spurs Harvest

Ten days of absence of measurable rain and mostly sunny skies have done much to dry fields that were soaked during August. The dry weather has spurred harvesting to completion or near completion except in isolated areas, and waterfowl depredation has not been so much a problem as in the past two years.

Fair to partly cloudy skies are forecast today through tomorrow, with a chance of isolated showers and thunderstorms in north portions. Little temperature change is expected. Highs today will range from 75 to 88; lows tonight from 55 to 65. With the northeastward movement of a low-pressure system from Montana, chances of rain have increased. Precipitation probability is set at 10 per cent today and tonight and 30 per cent tomorrow.

Temperature readings recorded at the municipal airport since Wednesday are as follows: 79 and 42 on Wednesday, 82 and 38 on Thursday, 80 and 54 on Friday, 81 and 56 on Saturday and 81 and 59 on Sunday.

Marshall County Will Sell Bonds Totaling $175,000

Marshall county commissioners, at a recent meeting, approved a $175,000 bond issue to finance the county's share of street improvement on CSAH streets in Argyle and Middle River, according to Charles G. Cheney, county auditor.

The bond issue will be for the road and bridge from the municipal road user's account allotment from state highway funds, Cheney said.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Rustvold of Nielsville and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rustvold and family of Cloquet were Sunday, September 4, visitors at the Oscar Anderson home.

Students Register at Jr. College This Week

FIRST YEAR consignor to the 17th annual purebred ram and sale in Thief River Falls today (Monday) is Bobby Parnow of Goodridge. He purchased his first ram ram at the sale last year and is consigning a registered Hampshire ram this year. Starting with a bottle lamb, Parnow now has a flock of about 25 ewes with 10 of them registered. He has purchased a purebred ewe at the Red River Valley Winter shows each year since 1963. The show was held this morning in the livestock pavilion at the Pennington county fairgrounds with the sale to be held this afternoon.

Registration is being held for sophomores at the Thief River Falls state junior college this morning and again on Tuesday morning, according to Dean Vivtor Charles. Freshmen registration will take place during the latter three days of the week.

Remodeling and rearranging is being done at the old Carnegie Public library building in the hope that it will be ready for at least partial use by the end of this week. "We plan on opening the student center at the library building on Friday," Dean Charles said, "so that we can sell books to students at our book store there."

Several adult classes in business, secretarial and government are also being planned by the college and should start next week. Persons interested in the evening classes are asked to call the junior college office (681-2181) for further information. Dean Charles said the college is also interested in teaching for college credit any course in which 20 people will enroll.

Evening and adult classes for the fall quarter will be offered with a tuition fee of $5 per quarter hour. Registration will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, September 20, in the Lincoln high school gymnasium. Courses to be offered, together with credits and total cost include the following:

Oil painting, 2 credits, $10; beginning shorthand, 3, $15; beginning typing, 3, $15; intermediate typing, 2, $10; principles of accounting, 3, $15; beginning German, 5, $25; and basic economics, 3, $15. Other courses will be offered in the winter quarter.

Faculty for the 1966-67 college year is as follows: Alan Adams, physical education and athletics; Victoria Dahlen, English, speech and drama; James Dalager, mathematics and physics; Dyril Dickson mathematics and science; Mae Isaacson, librarian; Merle Kruschke, history and political science; Donald Lerud, art; David Morken, music; Marlene Maher, English; Russell Matuska, accounting, economics and business; Lisbeth Olson, French, German and English; Charles Samuelson, biology; Doug Soderstrom, counselor and psychology; and Maxine Thompson, typing, shorthand and secretarial. Jean Matt is the college secretary.

Classes in the college will begin Monday, September 19. While the sophomore class enrollment will not be known until registration is completed tomorrow, college plans have been based on a sophomore class of about 100 students. Between 175 and 200 freshmen are expected to enroll during Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

A sophomore "Committee of Six" headed by Mary Jo Walker of Oklee will host the freshmen from the time they enter the building until classes start. During this welcome week, the committee has volunteered to act as building guides, conduct a panel discussion in a freshman assembly on the various aspects of college life and help students and faculty in the many facets of registration, purchasing of textbooks and testing program.

Activities planned for welcome week include a welcome dance Wednesday from 8 to 11 p.m. in the Lincoln high school cafeteria, and a "Varsity Hullabaloo" Friday from 8 to 10 p.m. at Tindolph park.

Cars Collide at Eighth and Knight

A two-car collision resulting in damage totaling $500 was reported today by the Thief River Falls police department.

Saturday at 1:20 p.m. a car driven by James Parkiss Sr., city, was traveling north on Knight avenue and collided with one driven by Clifford Bredeson, city, which was proceeding east on Eighth street. Damage was estimated at $300 to the Parkins car and $200 to the Bredeson vehicle.

Sollom on MEA Citizenship Group

Minnesota Education association (MEA) has established a citizenship committee as part of its burgeoning activities in already intensive nonpartisan political action program, according to MEA President Nicholas E. Duff, Minnetonka high school social studies teacher.

Purpose of the MEA's newest permanent standing committee, Duff explains, is to develop throughout Minnesota an increasing awareness among teachers of the importance of political life in American society. A. H. Sollom Lincoln senior high school social studies teacher, is a member of the committee.

Gatzke-Grygla School Districts Receive Grants

Gatzke and Grygla school districts have received approval on an application for $9,200 to conduct a cooperative supplementary instructional program for the 1966-67 school year, according to Kenneth Rusten, Principal at the Grygla school.

The grant is the maxium which could be received for the two districts, based on $200 per pupil in grades one through eight whose families had less than $2,000 income at the 1960 census, plus the number of pupils whose parents received in excess of $2,000 in welfare aid to families with dependent children during 1962, Rusten said.

The grant was made under Title I of the elementary secondary education act of 1965. The program is designed to improve reading ability and offer assistance in other subjects, and the money will be used to pay instructional salary and purchase books, equipment and supplies.

Miss Elaine Koskela is the teacher, working Monday, Wednesday and Friday in Grygla and Tuesday and Thursday in Gatzke.

Threshing Bee Set This Week South of Oslo

Alf L. Elden of Oslo will hold his 12th annual Red River Steam Threshing Bee Friday, Saturday and Sunday on his farm located one mile east, four and one-half miles south and three-fourths mile west of Oslo. There will be activities at the farm all three days.

On display and in operation will be five large steamers and 16 gas tractors, as well as model engines and threshing machines. The historical museum on the farm will also be open to the public.

Also on display will be an 1898 Geiser separator (hand feed with straw carrier; hand powered threshing machine shipped from Norway in 1958; Norwegian sawmill in operation; Moline Universal tractor, 1917 model; and other old machinery.

Admission for men will be by $1 souvenir button sold at the grounds. All children under 15 and all women will be admitted free, and free parking is available. Meals and lunches will be served on the grounds.

VIGEN SELLS ANGUS BULL

Bert Vigen, Thief River Falls, recently sold an Aberdeen-Angus bull to Allen Foster, Brooks.

Picnic Planned For Jr. College Student Groups

In conjunction with welcome week activities at the Thief River Falls junior college, the religious foundations are sponsoring a free picnic supper on Thursday at 5 p.m. in Trinity park. Trinity Park is located south on Oakland Park road.

All junior college and vocational students are invited to attend. There will be sports, mixers, good food, door prizes and a hootenanny, according to leaders of the foundations.

Last year two religious foundations were organized for the vocational and junior college students with an opportunity for fellowship as well as interesting and stimulating speakers. J. R. Borchert is the advisor for the Lutheran Student organization and Art Heinze and Douglas Weber are the advisors for the Catholic's Newman Student federation. Both groups will be having oranization-al meetings on September 21.

HALL'S Flower Shop, now in its new location at 217 E. Third street in Thief River Falls, will hold its grand opening Thursray. Rose corsages will be given to the first 500 ladies attending the grand opening and free cigars will be awarded to the men visitors. The above photo shows part of the interior or the store which was extensively remodeled. Location of the building is across the street from the J & B Drug store.

Marshall County Homemakers Plan Year's Program

Marshall county Homemakers have an interesting program planned for the coming year, announces Home Agent Karen Axthelm, who stated that meetings have been planned for every month from September through May.

At the September meeting, the beginning of the year for homemaker groups, group chairmen and lesson leaders will be selected. Lesson leaders will then attend meetings on their specific topics where the Home Agent will give them material to use when presenting the lesson to their own group.

In November, sometime after election there will be a meeting on County Government dealing with the legal and welfare aspect. This meeting, to be announced at a later date, will be open to the public.

Christmas is a paramount interest in the month of December with each homemaker group planning a Christmas party.

Other topics to be covered this year will be making decorator pillors, emergency camping in the basement, woven stretch fabrics, carpets and upholstery, new fabrics and use of the home freezer.

Miss Axthem stated that "If you are not in the homemakers group, but feel that you would like to join, contact the County Extension office as there is always room for one more".

Patricia Brown Guest of Honor At Bridal Shower

Miss Patricia Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Brown of Thief River Falls, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower Friday afternoon, September 2, at the Tom Fuller home. Hostesses were Mrs. Fuller and her daughter, Mrs. Robert (Faye) Thompson of Minneapolis.

The afternoon was spent socially, gifts were opened and viewed and refreshments were served.

Those attending were Miss Brown's mother, Mrs. Lawrence Brown; her fiance's (George Moss) mother and sisters, Mrs. George A. Moss, Gayle and Cheryl of Wayzata, and his grandmothers, Mrs. George O. Moss of Golden Valley and Mrs. Jensen of the Twin Cities area;

Also Nora Stewart and Vickie Illies, both of the Twin Cities; Ruth Wood and her mother, Mrs. Wood of Warren; Mrs. Erwin Fecher and Beckie, Mrs. S. A. Honebrink, Mrs. Ronald Solheim and Mrs. Leland Steen.

Sending gifts but unable to attend were Cindy Steen and Mrs. Victor Kvikstad and daughter, Susan.

Trudel Waale-James Rye Vows Solemnized Here

Breiland-Konickson Engagement Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Breiland of Thief River Falls announce the recent engagement of their daughter, Donna Faye, to Ronny Konickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Konickson of St. Hilaire.

Miss Breiland and her fiance are 1966 graduates of Lincoln high school. Mr. Konickson plans to attend Technical school in Rochester.

A autumn wedding is being planned.

Campanula Club To Meet At Louis Meyers

Campanula Garden club members will meet Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Louis A. Meyer home. Mrs. H. Berve will speak on "Pioneering in Northern Minnesota" and Geneva Overum will give a report on the State Horticultural centennial convention held August 25-26 in Minneapolis.

The popular Silent Auction will again be a feature of this meeting. Women attending are reminded to wear a corsage of their own designing.

The marriage of Miss Trudel Waale and Mr. James Rye was solemnized Saturday, August 27, at Trinity Lutheran church in this city. The Rev. Reuben Wangberg officiated at the double ring ceremony. The organist Mrs. Carl Nordvall of this city, played "The Grand March" from Aida for the processional and "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring" as the recessional. Soloist was Miss Linda Engelter of Fargo, N. D. The ceremony began with the wedding chimes and Miss Engelter chanting "Create In Us a Clean Heart". She later sang the Prayer, "Lord of the Everlasting Light".

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waale of this city and the groom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. M. Rye of Huxley, Iowa.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an A-line, Empire waisted floor-length gown of white silk organza. Fashinoned with a scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves, the gown was finished with a panel of French Chantilly lace appliqued down the center of the skirt. There was also a panel of matching lace down the center of the detachable chapel train. Her finger-tip veil was caught to a rose headpiece fashioned of the same material as her dress and she carried a cascade of glamellias flecked with champagne colored carnations.

Miss Ruby Waale, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids' were friends of the bride, Miss Gretchen Larson of this city, Miss Kay Sethre of Carlisle and Miss Kay Albano of Chicago, Ill. They wore floor length gowns of gold satin with an overlay of olive green lace on the bodices. Their empire fashioned gowns were styled with scoop neckline and were completed by satin bows tieing-in the middle back. Gold satin roses secured on circles of olive green lace formed their headpieces and each carried a cascade bouquet of bronze Fuji mums accented with champagne colored carnations.

David Mandsager, Sioux Falls, S. D., friend of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Stephen Rye of Des Moines, Iowa, brother of the groom; Peter Rogness of St. Paul and Stephen Sunwall of Hanlontown, Iowa, friends of the groom. The ushers were Howard Rye, Huxley, Iowa Wayne Johnson of Rockford City, Ill., and Andrew Rogness of St. Paul. The father of the bride, together with the groom and groomsmen, wore black tuxedos and white carnations boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride was attired in an olive green dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a pale green two-piece suit with contrasting accessories. Both had corsages of yellow roses.

A reception followed the ceremony. Mrs. Arlen Hermodson of Milltown, Wis., a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Stephen Rye of Des Moines, Iowa, sister-in-law of the groom, served the four-tiered wedding cake. Cascades of gold roses decorated the cake which was made by Mrs. Henry Waale of Goodridge, aunt of the bride.

Miss JoAnne Wedul of this city, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Richard Madson of Hutchinson, aunt of the groom, poured. Serving punch were Misses Gloria Phillipp and Nancy Newton of this city, friends of the bride.

Waiting on the tables, decorated by autumn flowers arranged around candles, were Misses Beve Dahl and Diane Johnson, both of Fargo N. D., and Diane Gleane of Underwood. Helping with the gifts were Misses Sandra Gerber of Crookston, Mary Foss of Michigan, N. D., friends of the bride, and Carol and Mary Johnson of Rockford City, Ill., cousins of the bride. Miss Lita Wedul of Winona, a cousin of the bride, served at the guest book.

Out-of-town guests were from Lillestrom, Norway; Canal Zone, Panama; Rockford City and Chicago, Ill.; Des Moines, Cambridge, Boulder and Denver, Colo.; Fargo, Michigan and Watford City, N. D.; Milltown, Wis.; Sioux Falls, S. D.; Minneapolis, St. Paul, Detroit Lakes, Winona, Goodridge, Beltrami, Fosston, Newfolden, Crookston, Underwood, Cloquet, Duluth, Hutchinson, Alexandria, Erskine and Carlisle.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the Kitchen of

NOTING their 67th wedding anniversary are Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Manger of this city. To celebrate the event a dinner was given in their honor at the Dine-A-Mite cafe on Sunday, August 21. Approximately 50 relatives were in attendance extending congratulations and best wishes to the couple. Mr. Wagner is 92 years old and Mrs. Wagner is 84.

MRS. MYRON SVEAN
1019 HORACE AVENUE NORTH

How often have you heard the refrain, "Are all the brownies gone?" As brownies seem to be a standard favorite, for young and old alike, today's recipe will be of benefit to the larger size families as it makes a large amount. Since they freeze well, this recipe will also enable those with a smaller family to have something for unexpected guests.

BROWNIES

2 cups sugar
½ cup shortening
4 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour
½ cup cocoa
½ cup milk

Method: Cream sugar, shortening and vanilla; add eggs and beat; alternately add flour and cocoa with the milk. Pour into a greased and floured jelly roll pan and bake 20-25 minutes in a 350 degree oven. Frost with your favorite icing.

Mrs. Svean stated that nuts or coconuts may be added if desired.

Baby sitting for a working mother, in addition to caring for her own family doesn't give Mrs. Svean too much time for activities outside the home or for hobbies. During her spare time, however, she likes to sew.

The Sveans have four children. They are Julie Ann, 11; Mary Ann, 9; Susie Ann, 8, who attend Northrop school, and four-year-old Danny. Mr. Svean is employed by Bridgeman Creameries, Inc., in this city. They all attend the Evangelical Free church.

Newcomers Club Plans Craft Demonstration

Newcomers club will hold its first meeting of the season at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Pennington county court house meeting room. A demonstration creating flowers from feathers, as well as many other craft ideas, will be given by Mrs. Claire Johnson of the Western Auto Hobby shop. All newcomers in the area are encouraged to attend.

Hostesses will be Susan Will and Joan Martin. Transportation will be provided by calling Mrs. David Main, 681-4159 or Mrs. Sam Pike, 681-2333.

Zion LCW To View Slides of S. Africa

Zion Lutheran Church Women will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the church. Mrs. Reuben Wangberg will show slides of the work of Missionary Carroll Ellertson in South Africa. Neil Jenson will sing. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Merry Sunshine Club To Elect New Officers

Merry Sunshine Homemakers will meet at the home of Mrs. Clarence Peters Thursday at 8:30 p.m. Election of officers will be held and serving committees for the coming year will be named. Roll call will be answered by each member submitting a roll call suggestion for the year.

All members are urged to be present. Anyone interested in joining the group is welcome to attend.

Horticultural Society Schedules Fall Workshop

Hallock Garden club will host the 13th District Horticultural Society fall workshop at Hallock on Saturday with sessions beginning at 1 p.m. Registrations will began at 12:30 p.m.

Included on the agenda will be the awarding of the trophies for the flower show held in Thief River Falls August 17. Making the presentations will be Mrs. Edgar Wold of Roseau. Mrs. O. N. Hildahl, also of Roseau, will be present to show slides and report on the centennial convention held in Minneapolis. She is the current president of the 13th district. A flower arrangement demonstration will also be given.

A country store, which has proved to be such a popular feature in the past, will again be included at the workshop. It will feature items, valued at 50 cents donated by members of the garden clubs in the district.

A silver tea will follow the meeting. The public is welcome to attend the afternoon's activities.

As this is the last meeting of the 13th District Horticultural society durng the centennial year of the state organization, members are requested to wear centennial dress, if possible. Those unable to attend are reminded to send items for the country store.

Mrs. Spengler is at right at the end of the table. Others pictured, left to right, are Mrs. William Desrocher representing the administration; Mrs. Pat Klemish, elementary schools; Mrs. William Moeglein, Lincoln high school; Mrs. Larry Golden, Franklin junior high school; and Mrs. Don Schoonhoven, area vocational-technical school. Not pictured is Mrs. Merle Kruske, who represents the junior college on the board. The coffee party is slated tonight (Monday) at 8:15 p.m. in Noper's fireside room. All faculty wives are invited.

Orville Peters, supervisor of the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association, lists the following herds as the top ten in the association for the month of June:

	Average Pounds Milk	Average Pounds Fat
Clyde Christensen	1,520	60.3
Mehrkens Farms Inc.	1,484	54.5
Art M. Stenberg	1,382	50.8
Donald Erickson	1,408	49.7
James Jarshaw	1,375	48.6
Carl Krohn	1,355	46.1
Merle Lundeen	1,241	46.0
Bernard Wells	1,378	44.6
Carl and Kermit Finstad	1,149	42.6
Myron and Mylo Carlson	1,198	42.2

Herd averages are affected by the number of dry cows in the herd. The amount of milk or butterfat produced is averaged out over all the cows. This gives the farmer a record of the earning power of the herd for the month.

If too many dry cows are included in the herd, the average for that month may be low even though the cows which are milking produce a lot of milk, Peters said.

There were 28 herds on test with the total of 835 cows and an average of 30 cows per herd during June with the Pennington association; 91 per cent of which were milking. The average amount of milk produced per cow was 1,118 pounds which tested 3.68 per cent fat. This amounted to 41.1 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Seven cows finished with over 500 pounds of butterfat during the testing year, in a 365 day or less lactation. They were from the following herds:

	Pounds Milk	Pounds Fat
Mehrkens Farms, Inc.	18,120	534
Gene Nelson	15,410	625
Gene Nelson	13,590	531
Art M. Stenberg	14,090	525
Dale Svendsgaard	12,970	504
Martin Hanson	13,630	514
W. and L. Hamrick	15,800	529

There were 17 owner-sampler herds on test in June with a total of 343 cows; 93 per cent of which were milking.

Timber Auction Slated Sept. 21 At Baudette

Three auctions of state-owned timber are scheduled for Minnesota during September, the Minnesota Conservation department announced today. The timber auctions will be conducted by the department's forestry division at Baudette on September 21, International Falls on September 22 and at Virginia on September 23.

The sales will be held in the court house at each of the three towns at 10 a.m. Sales lists showing the location of the timber and other details are also available at each court house.

At Baudette, the state will offer 5,000 cords of stumpage located on seven tracts in Lake of the Woods county.

Forestry officials said the sales are intended to provide the timber industry with needed raw material and to encourage the harvest of mature timber in the interests of good forest management. No timber will be sold for less than the appraised price.

Several Traffic Mishaps in Area Cause Injuries

The death of 13-year-old Charles Hanson resulting from a pickup - bicycle accident August 27 climaxed a series of accidents which injured several people in the area within a period of several days.

On Friday, August 26, near the intersection of Highways 92 and 59 at Brooks, a car driven by Mrs. Earl Johnson of Thief River Falls was struck from the rear by a semi-trailer truck driven by Theoderus Smulders and carrying as passenger Reginald Bourette. Both men are from Winnipeg. Mrs. Johnson suffered bruises. Her husband, a passenger in the car, escaped injury.

On the following Saturday evening Duane Tougas of Brooks suffered an injured arm when a truck he was driving loaded with grain from a field tipped over near the farm driveway. He was taken to the Red Lake Falls hospital for attention.

Monday, August 29 at 7:30 a.m. a passenger car and a pickup truck collided at the intersection of Highways 92 and 222 a mile south of Oklee. Driving the pickup was John Taylor of Newfolden who was accompanied by Hugh Nelson, 14, also of Newfolden. Both were thrown from the vehicle and were taken to a hospital for observation. Driver of the passenger car was Ed Moran of Thief River Falls who credits his escape from injury to the fact that he was wearing a seat belt.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hokkanen and family of Oklee were involved in a traffic mishap Thursday, August 26, two miles east of Sherack when their station wagon collided with a truck driven by Steve Doda of Crookston. Mrs. Hokkanen and her mother were taken to Northwestern hospital in Thief River Falls for observation. The Hokkanen vehicle sustained heavy damage.

UND Registration Starts Tuesday

Registration for the first semester of the 1966-67 academic year at the University of North Dakota will be Tuesday and Wednesday in the UND fieldhouse. An enrollment of close to 9,300 students is expected, including some 1,600 freshmen, for a UND record.

Last fall an all-time high of 6,089 students registered at the university. Classes for all UND students, except those in the schools of law and medicine, will begin Thursday. Students in those divisions are already attending classes.

Four Friends Are Honored At Open House Recently

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the Benhard Wold home Sunday afternoon, August 28, in honor of four young ladies who were leaving the area the following week. They were Wold's daughter, Sharon, who was leaving for Minneapolis to attend the Swedish hospital school of nursing; Linda Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nelson, who was also leaving for Minneapolis to take an IBM course; Carina Haraldsen of Stockholm, Sweden, who was employed at Oakland Park Nursing home and was returning to Sweden and Ingrid Karlsson of Karlstad, who was accompanying Miss Haraldsen to Sweden for an indefinite stay.

A miniature wedding cake centered the serving table. The cake was in honor of Miss Haraldsen, who recently announced her engagement to Leif Ericksson, a member of the Swedish Merchant Marine. The cake was decorated in yellow and white, the bride-elect's chosen colors. It was topped with a miniature bride and groom, which will also grace the cake at her wedding wedding which is an event planned for the Christmas season.

Hostesses at the open house were Mrs. Wold and her daughter, Eunice. They were assisted by Mrs. Art Anderson of Fargo, N. D., who poured and Connie Grover serving the punch.

Anton Johnson, 75 Dies Sept. 12;

Anton L. Johnson, 75, a resident of 123 Spruce Avenue South, died early this morning (Monday) at Northwestern hospital.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Green Funeral home. A complete obituary will be published at a later date.

Leonard Hanson Services Held Here Saturday

Funeral services for Leonard C. Hanson, 71, former Chief of Police and a former business man in Thief River Falls, who died Tuesday at the Veterans Hospital Fargo, N. D., were held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Community Methodist church. Rev. Merrill M. Harris officiated, Mrs. Lowell Swenson served as organist and also sang several hymns. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Serving as pallbearers were Harry Lund, Myles Jackson, Milan T. Borsheim, Loren Borsheim, Everett Amundgaard and M. R. Leverson. Sinding's Funeral Chapel was in charge of arrangements.

Leonard C. Hanson, a son of Hogan and Emma Nelson, Hanson, was born June 30, 1895 at Ortonville. Following his mother's death, he moved at the age of five years with his father to a farm near Thief River Falls. He attended rural elementary school, Lincoln high school and the Institute of Mechanics in Minneapolis.

He entered the United States Army in 1918 and was in active service in France with the 12th Areo Squadron. Following his discharge in 1919 he owned and operated a garage in this city for 30 years.

On Dec. 24, 1922 he was married in Thief River Falls to Lyla Schuster.

Mr. Hanson was very active in community affairs. He served as a member of the Thief River Falls fire department from 1926-58; as Fire Chief from 1934-44 and as Chief of Police from January of 1944 through January of 1951.

He was also a member of the Community Methodist church; a long-time member of the Odd Fellows lodge; member of the American Legion for 47 years and a charter member and very active in the Rifle club;

Also an active member of the 40 et 8, Sportsman's club, American Legion Baseball club and the United Commercial Travelers.

Survivors include his wife, Lyla; one daughter, Mrs. Fulton (Sally) Shephard, Amarillo, Tex.; two sons, Milan G. Hanson, Hastings, Neb., and Harry of St. Paul; six grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Walter (Ruth) Hipple, Ortonville and Mrs. Grafton (Verna) Hallier, Sun City, Ariz.; and one brother, Fred Hanson of Dallas, Ore.

He was preceded in death by one son and one sister.

Adolph J. Wold, Smiley Farmer, Dies Unexpectedly

Adolph J. Wold, 79, a resident of Sanders township, Pennington county, for the past 49 years, died unexpectedly Wednesday at his rural farm home.

Funeral services for Adolph J. Wold were held Sunday at 2 p.m. at Our Savior's Lutheran church. Rev. Richard Rogness officiated and interment was in Greenwood cemetery. Mrs. Manvel Moe served as organist at the services and Mrs. Arnold Hammer soloist. A Norwegian hymn was also sung by the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Arhus.

Serving as pallbearers were Clarence Wold, Roy Larson, Norris Trochmann, Arthur Bredeson, Lloyd Wold and Robert Bredeson. Sinding's Funeral chapel was in charge of arrangements.

Adolph Wold, a son of Jonas and Botilla Stokke Wold was born December 19, 1886 at Cormorant where he spent his infancy. From 1891 until 1917 he resided in the Trail area where he attended school and was confirmed at Fosston.

He was united in marriage to Octavia Bredeson on Dec. 29, 1908 at Thief River Falls and since 1917 had resided in Sanders township where he was engaged in farming and carpentery work.

He was a member of the Norden Lutheran church and was very active in community affairs. At the time of his death he was chairman of the Sanders township board.

Survivors include his wife, Octavia, one daughter and five sons, Mrs. Norman (Mildred) Peterson; Francis, Bernard, Vernon and Alvin Wold, all of Thief River Falls and Virgil Wold of East Grand Forks; 26 grandchildren; and one brother and two sisters, Selmer Wold and Mrs. Inga Larson, both of Trail and Mrs. Anna Trochmann of Thief River Falls.

He was preceded in death by one son, three brothers and one sister.

Mrs. O. Peterson, Once of Smiley, Dies In Calif.

Mrs. Oscar J. Peterson, 84, a pioneer resident of Smiley township, Pennington county, died at her home in Sacramento, Calif., on Monday, Sept. 5. Funeral services were held Thursday, Sept. 8, at Sacramento with interment in the Roseville cemetery, near Sacramento.

Mrs. Peterson, the former Emma T. Skaug was born to Richard and Marie Skaug on May 14, 1882 at Beltrami. There she was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith, received her education and grew to womanhood.

On June 29, 1903 she was married to Oscar J. Peterson at Beltrami. They later homesteaded in Smiley township and resided there until 1930 when they moved to Opheim, Mont., and from there to Sacramento in 1932.

She was a former member of the St. Pauli Lutheran church, near Hazel.

She is survived by four sons and six daughters, Julius, John, Casper and Walter Peterson, Mrs. Evelyn Nelson, Mrs. Walter (Norma) Womack, Mrs. E. J. (Clara) Posehn, Mrs. B. W. (Delores) Bishop and Mrs. C. B. (D'Vern) Jernigan, all of California and Mrs. Gust A. (Marie) Gustafson of rural Thief River Falls; 17 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Also one brother, Julius Skaug of Mobridge, S. D.; one sister, Mrs. Hannah Lazier of Rio Linda, Calif. and several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband in July of 1947 and a daughter, Agnes in April of 1939.

State Hospital Has NW Receiving Unit

Northwestern Receiving unit is a complex within the Fergus Falls state hospital that provides professional psychiatric evaluation and hospital treatment for all newly admitted and readmitted residents from eight of the 26 counties in the hospital's receiving area.

This unit receives all the residents who have geographic residence in one of the eight counties presently served by the Northwestern Mental Health center in Crookston. The counties which this center serves are Polk, Pennington, Kittson, Red Lake, Roseau, Norman, Marshall and Mahnomen.

Orienation and programming is geared toward the concept of "community mental health." This concept lends itself to the idea that it is people who are sincerely concerned and interested in their neighbor and who are willing to involve themselves with their neighbor, especially when he is asking for help either verbally or by his inappropriate behavior, that are truly most meaningful and theraputic.

The role of the professional person for the most part then becomes that of a consultant who makes himself available to those that are having difficulty working with their upset friend, according to Brian K. Soland, director of the receiving unit.

"It is our intent to assist the newly admitted resident, who is often temporarily disorganized or lacking in social controls, to gain some satisfactory solutions in the problems of his daily life so that his stay in the hospital is insight-giving, and of short duration. In essence, we contract to help people to get organized again so that they can regain their self esteem and leave the hospital better prepared to resume the task of again living independently to the best of this reacquired organization of mind, the resident gains a better understanding of himself and of those with whom he will again live.

"Often after our diagnostic evaluation is completed, which usually takes from five to eight days, we may recommend that some helping person in the community work with the resident's "wellness" by assisting and upgirding him in his effort to get his life organized again either at home or some place else in the community.

"It is our feeling that we can more consistently and cooperatively work together with the various community helping agents by sharing learning experiences together. This will provide, in a more meaningful sense, an opportunity for us to mold a treatment program that realistically reflects the needs of those communities from which we receive our residents," he said.

"Through the efforts of the Northwestern Mental Health center in Crookston, we are now gaining some success in coordinating our community treatment programs. Together with the center, we at the hospital will and are presently available for consultation with those who are in need of help in their work with these emotionally upset people in the community. Our representatives, both from the Northwestern Mental Health center and the hospital, do make personal contacts with the community each week in order to familiarize the community with what facilities and services are available which might be helpful to them," Soland concluded.

PUBLIC OPINION

To the Times Editor:

My attention has just been called to a sample ballot advertisement in the Times for September 5th and 7th, containing the names of A.M. (Sandy) Keith, Gerald W. Christianson, and other D.F.L. candidates saying they are the endorsed Farmer-Labor candidates. This advertisement seems to be inserted by some members of the Pennington County D.F.L. Committee, but unfortunately this ballot advertisement is somewhat misleading, and needs some explanation and correction. Notice that only A.M. (Sandy) Keith, Gerald W. Christianson, and the rest of the Keith slate are named on this so called sample ballot as candidates. Karl Rolvaag, Robert Short and Wayne Olson are not even mentioned on this sample ballot.

It is true that the candidates named in the ballot advertisement were endorsed by the Keith delegates to the convention held in Minneapolis. But these candidates have not been endorsed by the Pennington County Farmer-Labor association, and so far as I know they are supported by only a few members of the county committee. They were endorsed by the same delegates to the state convention who supported Sandy Keith, and who were fighting Governor Rolvaag.

The sample ballot advertisement in the Times is just another sample of the tactics used by the Keith delegates in the state convention who seem to have mis-represented their people back home, and took the endorsement away from Governor Rolvaag by steam roller tactics.

This sample ballot in the Times for September 5th and 7th is not an official ballot but is only an advertisement for Sandy Keith and his slate of candidates. The advertisement has not been authorized by the Pennington County Farmer-Labor convention. I hope the readers of the Times will remember this when they go to the polls. Karl Rolvaag has been a good governor and he deserves re-election for a second term. It is also time that our various county committees throughout the state have a little backbone, and not allow themselves to be dominated by chairman George Farr, and his state committee in Minneapolis.

Yours very truly
H. O. Berve

State's Farmers Use 680 Million Pounds of Seed

Minnesota farmers used an estimated 680 million pounds of seed costing about $50 million in $1964 in the production of eight major crops, according to figures released by University of Minnesota agricultural economists.

Cost and usage figures for 1964 represent a substantial decline from peak years in the early 1950's when an 820 million pound consumption costing around $55 million was common.

The eight major crops included in the seed consumption and price trend study from 1949-64 were alfalfa, barley, corn, flax, oats, rye, soybeans and wheat.

In the study, Brian Gnauck, research assistant, and Dale C. Dahl, assistant professor of agricultural economics, found that the net decrease in total seed usage over the 1949-64 period resulted from substantial declines in wheat, oats, barley, rye and flax seed consumption.

Corn seed usage remained fairly stable over the period, while soybean seed consumption increased considerably.

Despite a declining trend in oat production, oat seed consumption led the seed poundage used for crops by Minnesota farmers for the period. In 1964, oat seed consumption ranked first in poundage consumed, followed by soybeans, wheat and corn.

These changes in seed consumption were accompanied by wide fluctuations in most seed prices paid by farmers over the study period. Only corn seed prices exhibited a generally rising trend, rising 15 per cent from 1949 to 1964.

Except for flax and soybeans, seed prices held above the 1949 average until the mid-1950's and rose to near or above their 1949 average by 1964.

The area of highest seed consumption was the Red River Valley, with the counties of Otter Tail, Wilkens, Clay, Norman, Polk and Marshall each having over three per cent of the state's total seed consumption. Polk county was highest with 6.4 per cent of the state's total consumption.

Attendance Record At Conservation Building Is Set

Attendance at the remodeled conservation building at the state fair this year exceeded all previous records, the conservation department reported today. Acting conservation commissioner Robert Herbst said attendance at the building for the 10 days of the fair is estimated at well over 800,000.

Although the conservation exhibits have traditionally been one of the most popular attractions at the fair, Herbst said the remodeling of the building, the new forest fire lookout tower and the new wild animal displays resulted in an unprecedented attendance.

He said he was very pleased with the favorable comment received from many of those who visited the building.

"I believe that just about everyone is interested in wildlife, minerals, forests, lakes and streams and other resources of the state," said Herbst.

"It is one of the main responsibilities of the conservation department to continually emphasize the urgent necessity of preserving these resources from waste, pollution and other mis-use or abuse.

"The conservation building and the exhibits help to focus attention on these resources and explains how the department is carrying out its responsibility for their management and protection.

"We hope to be able to further expand the building and add to the exhibits and displays during the coming years," Herbst said.

Plans for the future include an outdoor wildlife habitat area with a stream and pond, a new wing to be added to the east side of the building and some changes in the landscaping and layout of the grounds.

FIRST concert sponsored by the Thief River Falls Concert association will be presented by "The Revelers" male quartet, pictured above. Volunteer workers will meet Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in St. Bernard's hall for a dinner to kickoff the membership campaign. Admission to concerts will be by membership card only; no tickets will be sold at the door. Memberships will be sold at $3.50 for students, $7.50 for adults and $20 for families and will also be honored by the Crookston Concert association at its series. Concerts booked include the Texas Boys choir and pianist Desire N'Kaoua in addition to "The Revelers".

Corporations Owe Tax Payment on September 15th

Calendar-year corporations who filed a declaration of estimated tax for 1966 must pay the third installment of the tax owing by Thursday, September 15, according to George O. Lethert, district director of Internal revenue.

The amount of the installment due is 25 per cent of the 1966 estimated tax, Lethert said. Corporations which file their first 1966 declaration of estimated tax in September must pay 37 per cent of the estimated tax at this time.

LEGAL NOTICE

Aug. 1, 8-22-29 Sept. 5-12
NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That default has occurred in the conditions of that certain mortgage dated March 25, 1954, executed by Glen C. Anderson and Kathryn L. Anderson, husband and wife, as mortgagors, to First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Thief River Falls, as mortgagee, and filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Pennington, and State of Minnesota, on the 5th day of April, 1954, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., and recorded in Book 101 of Mortgage Records, page 24; that no action or proceeding has been instituted at law to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof; that by reason of such default and in accordance with the terms and provisions of said mortgage, the mortgagee does hereby declare the total unpaid balance of said mortgage to be immediately due and payable; that there is due and claimed to be due upon said mortgage, including interest to the date hereof, the sum of One Thousand Seven Hundred Fifty-eight and 94-100 ($1,758.94) Dollars; and that pursuant to the power of sale therein contained, said mortgage will be foreclosed and the tracts of land lying and being in the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit:

Lots Nine (9) and Ten (10) of Block Sixty-seven (67) of the Original Townsite of the City of Thief River Falls, will be sold by the sheriff of said county at public auction on the 21st day of September, 1966 at 10:00 o'clock A.M., at the front door of the courthouse in the City of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, to pay the debt then secured by said mortgage and the attorney's fees, costs and disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption within twelve (12) months from said date of sale.

Dated July 27, 1966.

Grafton Beats TRF in Season Opener Friday

The Grafton Spoilers, paced by swift-moving Mike Teevens, who scored a pair of touchdowns, defeated the Prowlers, 19-13, in a football game played on Grafton's Chandler field on Friday night. It was the schedule-opening game for both teams.

On Friday night, September 16, on the Lincoln field here, and with the kickoff slated for 7:30 p.m., coach Jim Sims' Prowlers will met the Red Lake Falls Eagles in a traditional game. In game played at Ada on Friday, the Eagles dropped a 19-0 decision to the Vikings.

The opening minutes of the first period of Friday night's game at Grafton was marred by fumbles and miscues, due undoubtedly to opening-game jitters. Late in the period, with Teevens, a junior, doing the bulk of the ball carrying, the Spoilers drove for a touchdown. Teevens, on a three-yard drive over left guard, crossed the east goal for a touchdown. A pass attempt for the conversion point was incomplete, and Grafton held a 6-0 lead.

Grafton scored their second touchdown early in the second period after the Prowlers had fumbled a kickoff, and which was recovered by the Spoilers. Teevens, on a 33-yard sprint around right end, tallied the touchdown. Fred Halliday attempted a run for the conversion point, but the Prowlers' Karl Poppenhagen made a fine tackle to stop the run.

The Prowlers, with their running game unable to pick up consistent yardage against the aggressive Grafton forwards, switched to an aerial attack in the second half. A Bob Brodin to Gary Almquist pass picked up a first down on the Spoilers' 44-yard line. A pass interference call, with Poppenhagen being pushed, gave the Prowlers a 15-yard penalty and first down on the Grafton 25-yard line. A pass, Brodin to Tommy Tunberg, and a Grafton offside, moved the ball to the Spoilers' 12-yard line.

A pass Brodin to Poppenhagen, was completed for an apparent touchdown, but an offside penalty nullified the play. From the 17-yard line, Brodin tossed a flare pass to Gary Almquist, and the sturdy halfback scampered for a touchdown. Ward Johnson added the conversion on a run, and the score was Grafton 12, Prowlers 7.

A blocked Prowler punt, giving Grafton possession on the Prowler 29-yard line, set up the Spoilers' final tally. Jorgenson, in the clear near the goal-line, received a pass from Halliday for a 29-yard scoring play. And when another pass, Halliday to Rodger Mohagen, was completed for the extra point, Grafton held a 19-7 lead.

But the Prowlers refused to buckle and came back to score the game's final tally. Brodin and John Womack were successful in hitting their targets on Prowlers pass plays. Three passes, Womack to Poppenhagen, Womack to Brodin and Brodin to Tunberg (the latter play being completed for 26 yards), carried the ball to the Grafton 1-yard line. Womack, playing at a halfback as a replacement for the injured Dave Halvorson, who suffered a dislocated knee in the second period, drove over left guard for the touchdown. The conversion try failed, and Grafton ran out the clock to protect their 19-13 lead in the few remaining seconds of the game.

Land Owner Can Prevent Hunting On Public Roads

Area hunters should find interest in a letter received by Uno Rantanen of Middle River from M. J. Blaeser, assistant chief warden in the section of warden service, Minnesota Department of Conservation. The letter was received in response to an inquiry made last fall.

"In reply to your letter of September 17," Blaeser wrote, "I wish to advise that the public has no right to hunt or trap upon a highway, county or township road as against the objections of the abutting land owner who has fee title to the land underlying the highway.

"The public also cannot hunt a drainage ditch or on its banks through private land without the owner's permission."

Skippers Whip Newfolden 61-0

Bouncing back from a loss in the first game of the season, the Middle River Skippers swamped an under-manned Newfolden team 61-0 at Newfolden Friday afternoon. The Skippers move into North Tri-County conference play Friday against Goodridge at Middle River.

Vernon Knutson, playing quarterback in Middle River's basic offense of the short punt formation, tallied five of the touchdowns, one on a pass from Kirk Holmes. The Nordics have only 14 players on their total squad.

CASUALTY in Friday night's football game at Grafton was halfback Dave Halvorson. The veteran halfback, a senior, suffered a dislocated knee during the first half of play, and it is doubtful if the popular Prowler gridder will return to action again this season. Nickie Drees, a junior halfback, was also a casualty in Friday's game, being sidelined by a shoulder separation.

GRAFTON'S Mike Teevens, a stellar performer for the Spoilers on Friday night, breaks out around left end for a 36-yard gainer in the first period of the game. The Spoilers defeated the Prowlers, 19-13, in the season-opener for both squads.

The Surprising Twins

Even the executive officers and rank-and-file members of the local anti-Minnesota Twins organization here in town have become somewhat mellow in recent weeks. The Twins have turned in some sparkling baseball, and it is probable that manager Sam Mele's club will finish in second place in the American League's final standings. And that will be a remarkable effort.

And even the hard-core anti-Killebrew club has been having difficulty the past few weeks in gaining a quorum for its meetings. Some of the boys have become a bit "soft" on lovable Harmon! It is a fact, though, that Killebrew is entitled to all the admiration that he has been receiving. He plays up to his potential wherever he is placed, first base, third base or the outfield.

But it is evident that the Twins need another pitcher or two, a starter and a solid "bull pen" hurler. According to reports, and they are perhaps based on facts, club president Cal Griffith is a hard man to deal with in making trades.

The three-game Baltimore series, which was concluded on Sunday with the Twins making a sweep over the league leaders, was enjoyable to all fans except Bob Carlson. Bob will be around today making payments to the "vacation" funds of several of the boys. Bob was in Minneapolis earlier in the week and watched the Twins vs. the Chicago White Sox. He saw Killebrew hit a pair of home runs, and the two homers aged Bob considerably.

Needed: A Killing Frost

That is the contention of veteran walleyed pike fishermen. A number of the area's most dedicated fishermen have been making trips to various waters, and for the most part these anglers have been returning with more complaints than fish.

The Lake of the Woods fishermen have been plagued by high winds, which in turn makes for roiled and dirty water, and causes the walleyes to seek deep water. It is a fact that roiled water irritates the breathing processes of walleyes. There has been some action reported from Upper Red Lake, particularly out of the lake off Waskish. There is one advantage in fishing the Upper Red Lake area and that is that the walleyes that are caught there, even if they are just a bit larger than brook trout, are excellent eating. The Red Lake Waters are considerably cleaner than that of Lake of the Woods.

But this lack of real action by the walleyes has been caused by the warm and humid weather, according to claims of old-time fishermen. These anglers contend that a "killing" frost is necessary before the walleyes will begin their autumn feeding campaign. And the fishermen who go out after the walleyes, after this frost, should take pains and obtain some lake shiners for bait. These shiners are difficult to come by, but walleyes are finicky in their feeding habits late in the season and brisling-sized shiners are just about a must.

This late-season fishing, just before the freezeup, does produce some fine walleyes. It's true that the big walleyes that are taken are females, and they are quite sluggish, but they are worth bragging about. It's been 10 or 12 years since I caught a ten-pounder (it was a bit over nine pounds, but it has added a pound or so) and I'm about due!

Miscellany

Archie Krum, owner of a concrete mixing firm in Grand Forks, will again sponsor the Red River Mixers hockey team in the Manitoba Senior Hockey League this season. Last year, it will be recalled, Jerry Westby, now teaching in East Grand Forks, and coaching the Green Wave varsity hockey squad, and Dale Wennberg were members of the Mixers. The Mixers played a league game on the local arena ice, meeting the Warroad Lakers, and Krum stated that the local senior hockey fans would perhaps have an opportunity to watch the Mixers in a couple of games here this season. They will be welcome. . .I had an interesting letter from Jimmy (Mim) Welch who resides in South St. Paul, and is a long-time employee of Swift & Company. Jimmy played his hockey with the Prowlers in the late 1940's graduating in 1947. Since that time he has been with Swift, and is manager of the Twin City sales department. He told me that John Delmore of Roseau just joined his staff. Jimmy lives just a block or so from the fine arena in South St. Paul, and he was interested to learn that Don Ross of Roseau was to join Marv Jorde at St. Paul Park. Jimmy was a son of the late Alec Welch, and old time hockey fans will remember when Alec was a sturdy member of the Thief River Falls team that won the state amateur hockey title. That was 'way back in 1916.

Touch Football Meeting Set Wed.

Annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Touch Football league to organize teams for the coming season will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the city auditorium basement. Anyone interested in playing on a team is asked to contact James Foley in the park and recreation office. League games will be played Wednesday nights at the fairgrounds.

To View Measures At Bemidji to Boost Economy

Northern Great Lakes Resource Development committee will hold its fall meeting at the Markahm hotel, Bemidji, September 20-21. Measures for bolstering the economy of the area will headline the program.

The group is a citizens' committee dedicated to the development of 81 counties in northern Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. The committee grew out of the Duluth Land and People conference in September, 1963, and a speech delivered by the late President John F. Kennedy at the conference.

Paul Stelmaschuk, University of Minnesota agricultural extension service, area development agent, is coordinating arrangements and assisting in program planning. He also works with the committee in following through on recommendations. Stelmaschuk is a former Pennington county agricultural agent.

The committee meets quarterly to consider opportunities for development. It makes recommendations to the states, the federal government and other concerned groups.

The group will hear statements by leading authorities in three states on the potential of dairy, potato and vegetable production, processing and marketing operations of the area. Speakers include:

University of Minnesota Professors C. L. Cole, head of the department of animal sciences; Robert Nylund, department of horticultural science; and Frank Smith, agricultural Extension service; C. R. Hogland professor of agricultural economics, Michigan state university; Thomas Hecimovich, dairy farmer, Ashland, Wis. John Schoenemann, professor of horticulture, University of Wisconsin; C. G. Tempas, senior vice president, Green Giant company, LeSueur; Martin Kasperon, executive secretary, Red River Valley Potato Growers association, East Grand Forks; B. Gene Crewdson, agricultural director, Upper Midwest Research council, Minneapolis.

Minnesota members of the commission include: Chester Martin, electrical contractor, county commissioner, Blackduck; John Rife, farmer and insurance agent, Sebeka; Charles Witte farmer and electric cooperative representative, Cloquet; Louis Brabec, manager, electric cooperative, Finlayson; Ed Wold, implement dealer, Aitkin; John Waisanen, farmer, Moose Lake; and Ben Patterson, resort operator, state senator, Deer River.

Erskine Among Towns to Receive FHA Financing

Tentative approval of $934,614 in loans and grants from the Farmers Home administration will enable three Minnesota villages to install or improve water and sewage systems, according to Arthur Hansen, state FHA director.

Aurora is slated to receive $380,000 which will provide for extension of a present water and sewer system. A $426,614 advance to the town of Erskine will finance the construction of a sanitary sewer system to serve the community's 233 families. Village officials of Stacy will receive a loan and grant of $137,000 to install a water and sanitary sewer system.

Loans and grants to provide financing for water and sewage systems to qualified rural towns and villages were authorized under the Aiken-Poage bill enacted by the Congress in late 1965.

The three loans will serve the needs of almost 1,000 families, numerous business firms and processing plants, Hansen stated.

ELECT

ROBERT (Bob) WISETH

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

5th District — Marshall County

With the primary just a day away, I would like to write a few comments on the campaign for county commissioner for the Fifth District in Marshall County.

I have enjoyed campaigning, meeting the people and discussing the issues of the Fifth District very much. The problems are many and varied in a district as large as this, but yet similar in so many ways.

Economic improvement is primary and so much depends on an improved drainage system. We are all so dependent on one another. I have a sincere desire to provide leadership to promote and develop a practical and workable system with the fulest utilization of all available assistance from the state and federal units of government for the mutual benefit of ALL residents of the Fifth District.

Your vote of confidence in the Primary Election will be greatly appreciated.

Marine Corps Plans Assistance For Dependents

The Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment in Minneapolis, Minnesota has initiated a "Family Assistance Plan" to aid five-state area relatives of Marines serving overseas.

The plan, according to official sources, is in keeping with a nation-wide Marine Corps policy to provide information, advice and administrative assistance to the growing number of citizens whose husband or son is in Vietnam or at another overseas assignment.

According to second Lt. Robert Imhauser, who has been named project officer for the program, a mailing list is being compiled which will enable Marine dependents and relatives to receive a brochure containing a list of services or benefits available to them in this area. He added that those on the mailing list will also receive a monthly newsletter made up of up-to-date information of interest and importance to families of Marines.

"Our biggest problem at the present time," said the lieutenant, "is obtaining the names and addresses of dependents or relatives whose situation cannot be obtained through available channels."

Lt. Imhauser has urged all Marine dependents and parents of overseas-stationed Marines, in the five-state area, to call or write the Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment, Naval Air Station Twin Cities, Minneapolis, Minn. and furnish information which will avail them of the benefits of this program. The number to call is PA-14441, ext. 494.

LET THE TRUTH BE KNOWN!

The Pennington County DFL Does Fully Support The Endorsed DFL Candidates

☐ U. S. Senator: WALTER F. MONDALE
☐ 7th District: KEITH C. DAVISON
☐ Governor: A. M. (SANDY) KEITH
☐ Lt. Governor: GERALD W. CHRISTENSON
☐ Secretary of State: JOSEPH L. DONOVAN
☐ State Auditor: MRS. BETTY HAYENGA
☐ State Treasurer: HARLAN C. CHRISTIANSON
☐ Attorney General: ROBERT LATZ
☐ Railroad & Warehouse Comm.: CURTIS WARNKE
☐ For State Legislature Senate:
☐ House of Rep.: EVERETT BATTLES

The Pennington County DFL met in public pecinct caucuses last March 1 (The largest DFL caucus ever held in Thief River Falls). At that time they elected delegates to the DFL County Convention. The county convention, in turn, elected delegates to the district and state conventions. The delegates elected to represent Pennington County at the state convention were:

Henry Panek, Farmer and County DFL Chairman
Charles Kotaska, Elevator Manager
Herman Kjos, Probate Judge and Candidate for State Senate
A. B. Stenberg, Retired Railroad Employee
M. L. Kruschke, Instr. Pol. Sci. & Hist., TRF Jr. College
Mrs. Clarence Joringdal, Housewife

These duly elected official delegates voted five to one to support A. M. (Sandy) Keith as the DFL candidate for Governor.

The Pennington County DFL delegates representing the people of Pennington County at the state convention voted 5 to 1 for the endorsed candidates on the sample ballot. Contrary to some uninformed members, the Pennington County DFL voted for these candidates and fully supports them.

WITH THE PEOPLE WHO KNOW THE SITUATION BEST IT WAS AND IS KEITH FIVE TO ONE.

Support the DFL and your DFL leaders. Vote for Sandy Keith and DFL-endorsed candidates.

(POLITICAL ADV.—Prepared and paid for by the Pennington County DFL Committee. Catherine Jensen, Treas., 623 Knight Ave. N. Thief River Falls, Minnesota.)

—Clarence B. Randall

Threshing Bee

If you want something different to do on Saturday or Sunday afternoon, we suggest that you drive over to Oslo and join the crowd at the Alf Elden threshing bee. The farm is located one mile east, four and one-half miles south and three-fourths mile west of Oslo.

Many relics of by-gone days in the field of agriculture will be on display and in operation. Elden has spent countless hours in accumulating the tractors and other machinery and in repairing it to make it operational. Among these are an 1882 Minnesota Giant tractor, 12 horsepower Rumley steamer, 1898 Geiser separator and a 1917 Moline Universal tractor. A parade of engines will be held Sunday afternoon, although the threshing bee will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Attendance at the event has grown over the past 12 years as Elden has added more and more items to his collection and the threshing bee has become more widely known. Several thousand people have attended the past few years.

As a point of further interest, the Eldens have built and stocked their own museum on the farm. This will be open all three days of the threshing bee at a minimal admission.

With the rapid advances being made in agriculture, it is a treat to see some of the early methods of mechanization in the farm field in actual operation. We think you will find a visit to the threshing bee interesting, educational and entertaining.

We Pay the Bill

The more we think about it, we wonder if the remark by the TV comic was really as funny as we thought at first. Commenting on the current trend to bring damage suits against nearly everyone for everything, he stated something like this:

"I was driving downtown the other day, and by a stoplight on a corner I bumped into the back of a car that was double-parked. The echo of the collision hadn't died away when the owner of the car rushed out of a store on the corner. . .holding the back of his neck."

We thought of this when we read the following comment in Industrial News Review:

"In the current era, people have been educated to the idea that someone owes them damages every time they stub their toe, and the liability for simply living is becoming so great that the average person can hardly afford to pay for adequate insurance. If you give your neighbor a lift to work in your car and have an accident, he can sue you and collect exorbitant amounts. If a friend walks across your property and injures himself, he can sue you and collect. You constantly read of judgments of $10,000, $50,000, $100,000 and up.

"Expecting the other fellow to pay for all the risks of life has become big business. It is promoted by some of the sharpest mercenary minds who make a profession of litigating damage suits. It's time we all realize that although insurance companies may write the checks to settle outlandish damage claims, we pay the bill in ever-rising costs of essential insurance coverage."

Preliminary Skirmish

Tuesday's primary election will provide the preliminary skirmish which will draw the battle lines for an all-out campaign prior to the November general election. Because of several spirited races in the state and area, however, the primary is not without a great deal of interest this year.

Through either error or design, the DFL has again gained the primary election spotlight. Centered in that spotlight is the gubernatorial race between Gov. Karl Rolvaag and his lieutenant governor, A. M. Keith. The DFL dumped Rolvaag at its state convention in the apparent belief that he could not win reelection. The party endorsed Keith—the ambitious, fair-haired boy who plays his politics hard and his insurance relationships loose.

It seems to be the concensus of editors around the state—and various polls which have been conducted—that Keith is about to be given a lesson in just desserts for political misbehavior. Gov. Rolvaag is almost unanimously picked to win the primary election on the DFL ticket, and probably to carry Robert Short and Wayne Olson, candidates for lieutenant governor and attorney general, with him into the general election.

We have not been impressed with the governor's record as head of the state government, but we agree with many that the party did him dirt in casting him aside in favor of the even less illustrious Keith. The consuming ambition of political power exhibited by Keith frightens us. We could paraphrase Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" by warning, "Beware of Keith—he hath a lean and hungry look".

But while the race for governor on the DFL ticket holds the center spotlight, there is also action in the other political rings. Some of the most interesting of these are on county ballots in the area where officials are to be elected without party designation.

In Pennington county, the only contest in the primary election is for the office of register of deeds. One of three candidates—Mel Burrell, Gordon Reierson and Harlow Johnson—will be eliminated in the primary. This promises to be a close election.

Marshall county has several primary contests, including those for treasurer and first and fifth district commissioner. Well-known candidates are seeking the treasurer and fifth district commissioner posts—the two of most interest to readers in the Times area.

Among the candidates for treasurer are Milan Sorenson, deputy sheriff in the county for many years; Norman Hagen, county assessor at the present time; John Nowacki, former manager for many years of Marshall County Cooperative Oil association; and Sanford Tverstol, Bigwoods township farmer. Since all of the candidates are from Western Marshall county where the vote will likely be quite evenly divided, eastern Marshall will play a key role in deciding the two candidates who move into the general election.

No fewer than five men are seeking the fifth district commissioner post vacated by Sofus Bjertnes of Grygla. All of the candidates are farmers and include Chester S. Larson, Glen (Bud) Larson, Lloyd E. Nelson, Nilo Rantanen and Robert (Bob) Wiseth. This contest also has no clear-cut favorites.

Whatever your political or personal preference, be sure to vote Tuesday.

These Are the Times

Ken Hickman, editor of the Grand Rapids Herald-Review, doesn't exclude himself from the ranks of average husbands when he writes the following in that paper's editorial columns:

Marriage is a great and wonderful part of life, and it is obviously here to stay in spite of talk of changing morals and customs.

But these are times that try a wife's soul.

With the professional baseball season nearing its end, a wife might expect a gradual slackening in the number of hours her husband spends snarling at the television set or radio. But what happens? The National Football league suddenly decides to televise virtually every pre-season game, even presenting double-headers, of all things.

Who can blame the housewife for getting that wild look in her eye at the prospect of an almost endless round of football games ending sometime in January? And chances are she can expect to be a duck-widow for 45 days in October and November, with a nine-day deer season tossed in for good measure.

We don't know what the marriage counsellors would say. But we predict that any marriage which survives this fall's constant barrage of football, baseball and hunting is certain to last.

No Thrift in Saving?

While few would argue that money in the bank offers security, the rate of inflation under a free-spending administration has virtually made it unthrifty to save money. That is, you can get more for your money by spending it now than by saving it to spend later.

The rate of inflation is increasing. During the last six months for which figures are available, the cost of living rose 2.3 per cent. In July the cost of living rose by four-tenths of one per cent. Assuming the same rise in inflation for a full year, the increase would be 4.8 per cent. Now, what does 4.8 per cent annual inflation do to your savings?

If you invest $100 for a year in savings certificates with an effective annual rate of 4.58 per cent, it will earn $4.58. If federal and state taxes take only 25 per cent of that interest, you are left with a total of $103.45. Due to inflation, however, that $103.45 will buy only as much as $98.69 did when you started saving. You lose $1.31 for being thrifty!

At lower rates of interest, thrift is even more expensive. If you invest $100 in U. S. savings bonds, series E (4.15 per cent per year, compounded semi-annually), at the end of a year your money will be worth only $98.40. Put $100 in a bank for a year at four per cent interest, compounded quarterly, and you will end up with an amount worth $98.30—a loss of $1.70.

Interest earned is taxable. Interest paid is tax deductible. If you borrow now to buy an item and pay six per cent interest, you can deduct the interest paid, allow 4.8 per cent for inflation and come out close to even.

Statistics are funny, aren't they?

Interesting Opinions . . .

"It is totally incongruous for a government that continually preaches the virtues of its own bigness to turn around and seek to curb the growth of a business simply because it is big. This defies rational explanation. If mere bigness is evil, it is doubly evil in government because there is no antitrust department to protect consumers from big government as there is in the case of big business." E. Hofer

How's Your Health?

(Prepared in the public interest by the Minnesota Medical Ass'n)

Football practice has begun in high schools and colleges in the state. For many young athletes, this means more rigorous activity than that in which they participated during the summer. In contact sports there is always the risk of injury, but when the athlete is out of condition, the risk is even greater.

Both doctors and coaches agree that emphasis must be placed on prevention of injury as well as proper treatment. In this respect the athlete's conditioning is vital, says the Minnesota State Medical association. Constant drilling by the coach in the techniques of the game not only teaches the young athlete how to play, but improves his coordination and strength. Without good coordination and the strength to endure the physical punishment of the contact sport, he will find it difficult to avoid injury.

Endurance is essential in the prevention of injury. The athlete must be able to play for a long period of time without getting tired. Doctors say the fatigued athlete is more prone to injury because he has lost some of his coordination and strength.

Besides conditioning and training, the athlete's eating and sleeping habits are important to his performance. Endurance sports call for stepped-up amounts of carbohydrates, as well as the other nutrients found in the four basic food groups—meat and meat substitutes, milk and milk products, vegetables and fruits, breads and cereals.

Many trainers and team physicians advocate nine hours of sleep or more a night for high school and college athletes. Particularly on the high school level, few athletes can remain in top condition with less than this amount.

According to the association, with proper conditioning, good sleeping habits and good nutrition, athletic injuries need not be inevitable.

CONGRATULATIONS: You have a NATURAL
Cross Over — Vote DFL
VOTE for Rolvaag

1. He's a cinch to beat in November.
2. He presented no program to the Legislature until it was too late. Only 2 of the 24 Liberal State Senators are for him.
3. He lacks integrity.
   a. Remember the Highway 35 alleged scandal
   b. He said he was for endorsement, asked for it, pleaded for it, then laughed at it, and "stabbed" the party that supported him for 12 years in the back and filed.
   c. He joined forces with the "Short" sales tax pitch and "liquor on Sunday" crowd.
   d. He made a fool of himself on the school tax issue with Rolland Hatfield.
4. The crowd that fights Rolvaag is the same group that has produced national leaders and taken state leadership away from the Republicans.
5. Rolvaag has suckered many people into crocodile tears of sympathy for himself and "little people" like Mrs. Walter Butler and the Leamington Hotel. This might impress people in September but how will it look in November.
6. Republicans — talk it up — load the polls and keep everyone confused — it's the only way you can beat the real DFLers and its nasty party bosses — those 40,000 people who caucussed and those 1,187 delegates they elected
7. At the convention with the people who knew Rolvaag best, it's Keith 2 to 1.
8. Make as much as you can out of Sugar Hills! The name even sounds bad and you have the chance to cut the hearts out of 40 sincere slobs who were trying to sincerely study government and party problems. They made a mistake — they were honest and reported their honest opinion to the man they thought was most entitled to know: "Poor Karl". He knew it was the truth, grabbed it and twisted it beautifully. He made them look like party bosses. That's supposed to be bad. Here's your chance. Party officers should not meet. Party officers should not be concerned if they don't think a man who bears their label is not doing his job. They should follow him blindly and support him to the grave. Hit this one hard; it's got lots of mileage.

(We apologize to the Republicans who mistakenly read this. We very frankly were trying to get the eye of DFLers. We know that a good DFLer is the inquiring type and has an open mind. We know that he or she can't resist reading something that seems to be directed to the other side. A DFLer wants to know the facts. If he gets the true facts, he'll vote and do right).

(We don't apologize to DFLers—thousands of you elected the thousands of party officers and delegates. They have done their job and stand on it. As DFLers, they hope you will do yours.
VOTE FOR THE DFL PARTY NOT THE SHORT PARTY.)

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Q—May a veteran receive educational assistance allowance for a program of education pursued exclusively by correspondence?

A—Yes. The educational assistance allowance will be computed on the basis of the established charge paid by non-veterans for the same course or courses. The allowance will be paid quarterly on a pro rata basis for the lessons completed by the veteran as certified by the school. Veterans should be cautioned not to enroll in a correspondence course before ascertaining whether the school and course are approved by the VA.

Q—What is the maximum amount a veteran may borrow on a VA guaranteed loan for the purchase of a home?

A—There is no maximum on the amount of a guaranteed loan. Direct loans made by the VA, however, may not exceed $17,500.

Q—Does the new GI bill provide any form of veterans' life insurance?

A—No. The bill includes education, GI loan and hospital benefits but there is no provision for government life insurance.

Q—Is service in Vietnam or the Dominican Republic a requirement for educational benefits under the new GI Bill?

A—No. It is not even required that you have served overseas. If you served anywhere for a period of more than 180 days, any part of which was after Jan. 31, 1955, you are eligible. . . .

Q—I am a "cold war" veteran. May I obtain a G.I. loan for the purpose of purchasing a business?

A—No. G.I. loans may be made under the new G.I. bill only for the purchase of a home or farm.

Q—My father was killed in military service and I have been attending school under the educational program administered by the V.A. I will be married this summer, but intend to return to school & complete my college education. Will my marriage terminate the monthly payments I have been receiving from the VA?

A—No. Marriage does not terminate your entitlement for this benefit.

Q—What procedure is necessary for correction of an other than honorable discharge?

A—Upon request the military services will provide Form DD-293, application for review of discharge for other than honorable cases, and DD Form 149, correction of military or naval record for veterans with dishonorable discharges. Although VA has no jurisdiction in these cases, forms are available at VA offices.

Q—I have been told that I am not eligible for treatment at a VA hospital for my nonservice - connected disability because my military service was in a so-called peacetime period and was not considered wartime service. Is this correct?

A—If you were separated with other than a dishonorable discharge anytime after Jan. 31, 1955, you are eligible for all medical, hospital and domiciliary benefits to which veterans with wartime service are entitled, and on the same priority with wartime veterans.

Q—My son enlisted in the Air Force on March 15, 1955. He was not eligible for GI loan benefits as he had no active duty on or prior to Jan. 31, 1955, the date when the Korean conflict ended and veterans of that service ceased to acquire eligibility for GI loans. When he was discharged after four years, he decided to go to college and with our help and working himself, he graduated in 1965. It was a struggle. Now the new GI bill has been passed. What he would like to know is, can he get a loan on the bill to start him in business? Two or three thousand dollars would help him a great deal.

A—No. The post-korean GI bill does not authorize business loans. Loans may be made only for the purchase of homes; to make alterations, repairs or improvements to homes already owned and occupied by the veteran; to obtain farm working capital; or to refinance delinquent indebtedness on property to be occupied by the veteran as a home, or to be used by the veteran for farming purposes.

SALE-TOPPER Monday at the 17th annual purebred ram show and sale held in Thief River Falls was this Hampshire ram consigned by Edgar and Arlen Olson of Fosston. The ram weighed 240 pounds and was champion in its class at the Minnesota state fair this year, as well as Hampshire breed champion at the ram show Monday. Robert Lundgren of Bemidji, left, purchased the ram for $170. Edgar Olson is pictured at right. Hampshires averaged $106.75 at the sale, with the second high ram of the sale being the reserve champion Hampshire consigned by Hoff Brothers of Perley and sold to William Mack of Baudette for $130.

Ram Sale Has Highest Average in Past Years

One of the highest average sales in the history of the purebred ram show and sale was recorded Monday when the 17th annual event was held at the livestock pavilion on the Pennington county fairgrounds in Thief River Falls. The 28 rams consigned sold for an average of $97.40—$8.65 higher than the average of $88.75 last year for 18 rams sold.

Peter Probasco, sale manager, expressed pleasure at the results of the sale and the quality of the rams consigned. Number of consignments did not approach the recent high total of 42 in 1963, but most bidders were able to take home at least one top quality ram for their flocks.

For the second year in succession, Edgar and Arlen Olson of Fosston consigned the top selling ram of the sale. Their Hampshire champion aged ram, which was also champion in its class at the Minnesota state fair this year, was sold to Robert Lundgren of Bemidji for $170. Last year their champion Hampshire topped the sale at $145 and sold to Lolyn Monsrud of Roseau.

Second high selling ram of the sale was the reserve champion Hampshire consigned by Hoff Brothers of Perley and sold to William Mack of Baudette for $130. In spite of the two high sales, however, average price paid for Hampshires this year dropped to $106.75 from $112.91 in 1965. The Hampshire breed still maintained the highest average price of the sale, however.

Columbia rams averaged $95.56 this year when nine sold for $860. Last year the Columbia averaged only $77.85. P. J. Peterson of Badger consigned the champion Columbia which topped that breed at $120 when sold to David Danielson of Roseau. The reserve champion Columbia, consigned by Melvin Sele of Lake Bronson, and two aged rams consigned by Alvin Fjeld of Goodridge brought $105 each.

Suffolk rams took the largest jump in sale average from only $60 last year to an average of $88.75 this year. Top selling Suffolk was a 275-pound aged ram consigned by Steve Boman of Twin Valley and sold to Ray E. Sunne of Baudette for $105. The ram was the champion of the Suffolk breed.

Shropshires dropped in average price from $97.50 in 1965 to $83.33 this year. Ray Aandol of Goodridge consigned the champion Shropshire which topped that breed on the sale when sold to Ray Parnow of Goodridge for $100.

The lowest sale average in the history of the sale was in 1964 when 25 rams averaged only $61.40. In 1963 a total of 42 rams sold for $74.88 on the average while in 196 the 40 rams sold averaged $77.20.

Consignors to the sale this year included P. J. Peterson, Badger;

4H Livestock Show Slated Saturday

Pennington County 4-H Market Livestock show will be held on Saturday at the Joppru sales barn. Livestock will be judged and graded starting at 10 a.m. At 1 p.m. the sale will start and all animals will be sold at public auction.

In previous years all animals have been sold to local businessmen prior to the auctin for a set premium over market price. This year there has not been an organized drive to sell all the animals. It is hoped, however, that those interested in supporting this worthwhile youth activity will be on hand and get their bid in and purchase a meat animal for their own use or resale, according to Terry Courneya, county agricultural agent.

Those exhibiting livestock will be as follows:

Beef Steer —*Jernld Myers, Silverton; Charlene Myers, Silverton; Eldon Myers, Silverton; Joel Kezar, City View; Diane Timm, City View; Garret Reierson, New Solum; and Peter Solem, Steiner; Market Lamb — Donald Knutson, Smiley; Jeffery Knutson, Smiley; Shawn Maidment, Mavie; Melodee Maidment, Mavie; Ward Johnson, Happy Acres; Sandy Dahl, New Solum; Kermit Solem, Steiner; Tim Duke, Silverton; Tom Duke, Silverton; Jennifer Duke, Silverton; Marie Parnow, Star; Robert Parnow, Star; Fredrick Parnow, Star; Jerry Owen, Happy Acres; and Susan Owen, Happy Acres.

Market Barrow — Daryl Myers, Silverton; Eldon Myers, Silverton; and Robert Parnow, Star.

Poultry — Larry Panek, Mavie; Marilyn Haugen, St. Hilaire; Debra Haugen, St. Hilaire; and Kim Brandt, City View;

Anyone desiring to purchase one of these animals who is unable to be present at the auction can call the county extension office and leave a bid, Courneya said.

Police Report Vandalism Case

An act of vandalism at the Thief River Falls football field was reported Monday to the police department. Three windows were broken in the ticket office and a riding lawn mower was damaged.

It was reported on the the same day that an article of feminine clothing was taken from a clothesline at a local home.

Newfolden Church Gets New Pastor

Rev. Earl Eveland has arrived in Newfolden to serve as pastor of the Newfolden Evangelical Free church starting Sunday. For the past nine years he has served as pastor of the Evangelical Free church at Cummings, N. D. He is married and the father of four children.

City Council Awards Bids Tuesday Night

Receives Resolution From Rocksbury To Vacate Dump Grounds

Thief River Falls city council, having advertised for bids for new heating equipment for the municipal liquor store, opened a single bid submitted by the Lee Plumbing and Heating company at its regular meeting Tuesday night. The bid, totaling $2,641, provides for installation of a new boiler, burner and return system for the steam heating system. The bid, the only one submitted, was accepted by the council.

Dr. Paul Wendt appeared on behalf of the Rocksbury township board of health with a resolution that the city discontinue the use of the city dumping grounds at its present location, the grounds having been declared a health hazard and nuisance. A complete story on the resolution appears elsewhere in this edition of the Times.

In other business, the council heard the third reading of an ordinance providing for annexation of the area north of sixth street and west of State avenue to the city. The ordinance was adopted. Annexation procedures had been initiated by petition.

Upon request by the council, John Arbuthnott, project engineer for the North Star Natural Gas company, appeared at the meeting to be interviewed regarding complaints of property damage resulting from gas line installation. It was revealed that only five property owners have responded to an advertisement instructing those with complaints to notify the city clerk. Arbuthnott assured the council that the gas company would rectify all offenses against property brought to its attention before the onset of winter.

Building permits were granted to Robert Bye, Nora street and Horace avenue, for a $450 garage, and to John Ranum, 520 Riverside avenue, for a $2,000 addition and garage.

The council accepted with regrets the resignation of Roy Barzen from the park and recreation board. Barzen has served on the board for about 30 years and served as chairman for many years.

A progression raise of $10 per month was granted to Police Patrolman Charles Jones effective September 1.

Cost estimates were presented to the council by Gene Holmes in the amount of $1,705.80 for electrical work at the library and by Black Top Surfacing in the amount of Pennington county joined the state - wide landslide in the DFL primary election Tuesday in which Gov. Karl Rolvaag swamped his endorsed opponent, Lt. Gov. A. M. Keith. The Rolvaag sweep carried with him the emphatic endorsement of Robert Short for lieutenant governor, Wayne Olson for attorney general and Robert Hansen for state auditor. Pennington county contributed to the primary victories in all these races.

A total of 2,499 ballots was cast in Pennington county, compared with 2,132 in 1964, 1,984 in 1962 and 2,563 in 1960. The turnout is considered good in view of the fact that the only county contest was a three-way race for register of deeds, and the only inter-party struggle was on the DFL side of the ballot.

In the register of deeds race, Gordon Reierson led with 930 votes, followed by Harlow Johnson with 849 and Mel Burrell with 639. Reierson and Johnson will both be on the ballot in the general election in November.

On the state scene, with 3,479 of 3,810 precincts reporting, Gov. Rolvaag had received 303,607 votes to 139,222 for Lt. Gov. Keith. On the Republican side of the ticket, Harold LeVander polled 247,314 votes for the governorship. For lieutenant governor, Robert Short received 264,382 to 125,750 for endorsed Gerald W. Christenson. Wayne Olson was given 239,362 votes for attorney general while endorsed Robert Latz received 136,798. Robert E. Hansen whipped Betty M. Hayenga for state auditor 259,236 to 129,390.

Of Pennington county's 28 precincts, only Mayfield township gave an edge to Keith in the balloting—nine votes for Keith to seven for Rolvaag. River Falls township gave 17 votes to each of the two candidates. All other precincts gave a clear margin to Rolvaag, although Keith got at least one vote in every precinct.

So one-sided was the Rolvaag victory that Keith conceded the election only three hours after the polls closed at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Pennington county gave Rolvaag 1,287 votes to 390 for Keith. Also in the county vote, Robert Short whipped Gerald W. Christenson 1,111 to 474 for lieutenant governor, Robert Hansen beat Betty M. Hayenga 1,111 to 443 for state auditor and Wayne H. Olson swamped Robert Latz 1,062 to 434 for attorney general.

Vote totals in the county were as follows:

Democratic - Farmer - Labor

U. S. Senator — Ralph E. Franklin, 94; Walter F. Mondale, 1,530;

U. S. Representative — Keith C. Davison, 1,197;

Governor — Jerome Daly, 1; A. M. Keith, 390; Cyrus E. Magnusson, 5; John C. Peterson, 7; Karl F. Rolvaag, 1,287; and Belmont Tudisco, 3;

School Board Plans Bond Issue Monday

Major business of the Thief River Falls board of ecucation Monday evening centered around the proposed sale of bonds for construction of a new area vocational-technical school and swimming pool addition to the Franklin junior high school. The two projects will be placed on separate questions on the special election ballot October 18.

A representative of the bonding consultant firm of T. G. Evenson and associates was present to discuss with the board the various possibilities of conducting the bond election and sale of bonds if either or both of the questions are approved by the voters.

The board set the time of the polls to be open from 3 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, October 18, and approved the official wording of the questions to be placed on the ballot. Question number one will be stated substantially as follows:

"Shall the school board of Independent School District 564, Minnesota, be authorized to issue general obligation bonds of the district in an amount not exceeding $330,000, to provide funds for the purpose of constructing, furnishing and equipping an area vocational-technical school for the district?"

The second question will state: "Shall the school board of Independent School District 564, Minnesota, be authorized to issue general obligation bonds of the district in an amount not exceeding $200,000, to provide funds for the purpose of constructing, furnishing and equipping a swimming pool addition to the Franklin junior high school?"

Provision for voting "Yes" or "No" will be offered on each questions. A "Yes" vote will favor construction and an "No" vote will show disapproval. The board will prepare and circulate a brochure on the proposal for the general information of residents of the district.

Rocksbury Orders Discontinuance Of City Dump

Rocksbury township has served notice on the city of Thief River Falls that the city dumping grounds is a feature that the township no longer desires. Dr. Paul H. Wendt, Pennington county health officer, acting on behalf of the Rocksbury board of health, made this fact official at the regular meeting fo the city council Tuesday night.

Dr. Wendt presented a legal resolution signed by James Engelstad, clerk of the Rocksbury town board, calling for the discontinuance of operation of the dump ground.

The resolution, in effect, states that whereas the garbage dumped at the ground is not covered, and consists largely of rotting food scraps, the dump emits a "nauseating and retchous smell" and attracts rats and other vermin in large numbers. Furthermore, the city has allowed refuse and debris from the dump to be deposited in such a manner that it is blown by wind and deposited on private property and public rights-of-ways within the township.

Therefore it has been resolved that the dumpground is declared to be a health hazard and nui-

Co. Board Adopts Levy Four Mills Below 1966

Adoption of a budget calling for a decrease of four mills in the tax levy for 1967 was included in action taken by the Pennington county board of commissioners Monday. The mill levy approved was 88.95 mills as compared with 92.95 mills for 1966. The 1967 levy will raise $465,978.18 while the 1966 budget totaled $476,995.19.

Approval was also given to the welfare budget which was incorporated into the total county budget. This portion of the county budget totals $221,081.21 in money which must be raised within the county to support the total welfare program.

Other action by the board included adoption of a resolution requesting funds for the county planning commission through the Minnesota department of business development and from the federal department of housing and urban development. Charles Tooker of St. Paul, an associate of Beckman, Swenson and associates, has been retained by the county planning commission to complete the county plan. Estimated cost of the plan is $20,000 with one-eighth of the cost—about $2,500—to come from county funds.

The board also approved the plat of the first southeast addition to the city of Thief River Falls. The area involved is between Nora and Greenwood streets and mainly between Crocker and Spruce avenues. This is in the area of the city water tower and new Redeemer Lutheran church.

Budget for 1967 is based on an estimated 1967 assesed value of $5,241,229, according to C. W. Rodekuhr, county auditor. This compares with an assessed value of $5,143,128 for 1966.

While revenue and road and bridge funds are up for 1967 in the dollar budget, decreases are noted in the county's share of the welfare budget and the sanatorium fund. Since the bonds for the courthouse have been paid, the sinking fund has been eliminated from the budget.

Projected income and mill levy for the 1967 budget are as follows: Revenue, $127,231.16 and 24.30 mills; Road and Bridge, $104,824.58 and 20.00 mills; welfare, $221,081.21 and 42.20 mills; sanatorium fund, $7,600 and 1.45 mills; and county fair, $5,241.23 and one mill.

The 1966 budget was as follow: Revenue, $123,712.52 and 24.10 mills; Road and Bridge, $102,250.42 and 20.00 mills; welfare, $211,606.16 and 45.05 mills; sanatorium fund, $9,000 and 1.76 mils; sinking fund, $5,313.57 and 1.04 mills; and county fair, $5,112.52 and one mill.

The welfare budget approved for the county includes the following: Old Age Assistance, $22,324.57; Aid to Families with Dependent Children, $31,996.41; Aid to the Disabled, $5,688.41; Poor Fund (General Relief), $28,392.12; Administration, $50,500; and Medical Aid, $82,181.19.

The board also approved alterations on three county ditches involved in projects on County State Aid Highways 20 and 22 following a hearing held Monday morning. Contracts are to be let on the roads with bids to be opened at the regular meeting of the board November 8.

Tunberg Motor company was awarded the contract to furnish the county with a new two and one-half ton truck with a low bid of $2,786. A 1961 model truck will be given by the county in trade. Northern Motors was the only other firm bidding and submitted a bid of $2,849.

J. M. Roche, superintendent of Oakland Park Nursing home, appeared before the board and noted that the home consistently had 100 per cent occupancy and a waiting list of people seeking to enter the home. He was authorized by the board to have a survey of county needs made by the state board of health.

An appropriation to the Pennington County Safety council in the amount of $100 was also made by the commissioners.

Pearson and Dauner Vows Exchanged At Thief Lake

Miss Marion E. Pearson and Lynn E. Dauner exchanged marriage vows Saturday, August 27, at 4 p.m. at Our Saviors Lutheran church at Thief Lake. Rev. Duane Nelson officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Mercedes Melby, a friend of the bride, served as organist. She played "Trumpet Tunes" by Purcell and accompanied the assembled guests as they sang two appropriate hymns. Baskets of white gladioli and seafoam green carnations graced the chancel.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pearson of Middle River and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dauner of Winnebago.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white silk taffeta fashioned with elbow length sleeves and a detachable full length circular train. Appliques of white flowers, centered with pearls, and white silk leaves enhanced the jeweled neckline, bodice and the over-panel that graced the sweeping train. A pillbox headpiece edged with lace secured her veil of silk illusion and she carried a white Bible topped by a white orchid.

Miss Diane M. Dauner of Winnebago, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She was attired in a seafoam green floor-length crepe gown featuring a lace watteau train. To complement her attire, a matching pillbox headpiece secured her circular veil and she carried three long-stemmed white roses.

Attired like the maid of honor were the bridesmaids, Sharon M. Pearson, cousin of the bride, and Janet E. Aune, a friend of the bride. Dawn M. Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Nelson, was flowergirl. Her attire, similar to the other attendants, was fashioned without the watteau train. Ringbearer Glenn Orpen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Orpen, was attired in a black suit.

Richard Mair of New Brighton was best man. Groomsmen were Gary Pearson of Middle River, brother of the bride, and Gary Vigness, friend of the groom. Messrs. W. Kent and J. Ertman, friends of the groom were ushers. All wore black tuxedos with white carnation boutonnieres.

The mother of the bride was attired in a beige tweed suit with green and brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a green crepe suit with brown accessories. Their corsages were green orchids.

Attending the wedding as special guest was Mrs. Hilda Orpen, godmother of the bride. She also served as the bride's personal attendant.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony. Mrs. Ida Thygeson served as hostess and Sandra Wenner, a cousin of the groom, registered the 225 guests attending.

The pillared, square wedding cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. George Severts, was iced in white with gold and aqua flowers between the four tiers. Mrs. Richard Edlund and Mrs. Katherine Arneson, aunts of the bride and groom, respectively, cut and served the cake while Mrs. Bertha Folden, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. George Dauner, aunt of the groom, poured. Presiding at the punch bowl were Lois Meissner and Diane Engevik. Waitresses were Mrs. R. Peterson, Susan Griffin and Janet Sevold and those in charge of opening and arranging the gifts carried by David Edlund and Susan Osso were Elaine Aune, Mrs. D. Bakke and Mrs. Leon Johnson.

Out-of-town guests attending were from California, Winnebago, Thief River Falls, Minneapolis, Roseau, Hawley Greenbush, Warren and surrounding towns.

For travel on the wedding trip through Northern Minnesota and along the North Shore drive, the bride was attired in a brown suit with black accessories.

The bride, a 1964 graduate of Middle River High school attended Bemidji State college and is employed as executive receptionist by Honeywell, Inc., Minneapolis. The groom is a 1961 graduate of Huntley high school. He attended Bemidji State college and Mankato State college and is employed by National Garages, Inc., Minneapolis. They are at home at 715 East 78th Street, Bloomington. Photo — Land Photography, Roseau

Annual Pastors And Teachers Tea Given By WCTU

Annual tea for pastors and public school teachers was held Thursday afternoon at the First Baptist church in this city. Approximately 80 guests registered. Miss Edna Larson and Lyda Batten, retired school teachers, welcomed the guests as they arrived while pastors and their wives formed the receiving line. The tea was sponsored by the WCTU unit of Thief River Falls.

The welcoming speech was given by Rev. Val Hauck pastor of the First Baptist church, who also led the group in the table prayer. Mrs. Tarkel Ose, president of the WCTU, explained the aims and principles of the organization.

For the event, floral arrangements graced the table with the majority of them donated by Mrs. Martha Matheson, former Pennington county superintendent. Flowers were also provided by Mrs. Ose and Mrs. Earle Ripley.

Mrs. Myrtle Kruschke and Mrs. Olga Larson poured the coffee while Mrs. Lester Rude and Agnes Longren served the fruit juice. Guests were registered by Elsie Koglin and Mrs. Hattie Lansko.

Several area churches assisted in sponsoring the event by provided a worker, three dozen cookies and paying one dollar towards expenses. Left-over cookies were sold with the proceeds going to the WCTU treasury.

Red Lake Falls Legion Auxiliary Installs Officers

Leona J. Dahl Is Bride Of Gene H. Jorgenson

Miss Leona Jean Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dahl of Thief River Falls, became the bride of Gene H. Jorgenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Jorgenson of Golden Valley, at a private ceremony at 5 p.m. Saturday, August 27, at Zion Luthran Church. The Rev. Leland Steen officiated at the double ring ceremony attended by immediate members of the family and a few close friends and relatives.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a street-length sheath gown of white lace with matching lace jacket. To complete her attire, she wore a veiled floral headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow garnet roses accented with white baby mums and camellia foliage.

The bride chose her sister, Mrs. Ronald Olson of East Grand Forks, as her only attendant. She wore a blue empire fashioned gown of bonded crepe with a headpiece composed of a light blue bow attached to a brief veil. She carried a bouquet of bronze mums, tangerine-colored carnation and camellia foliage.

Don Mindrum of Minneapolis, a friend of the groom, was best man. The groom and his attendant wore dark business suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dahl was attired in a navy blue dress with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a gold and turquoise brocade dress with turquoise accessories. Both wore corsages of bronze mums and tangerine-colored carnations.

A buffet supper immediately followed the ceremony. Highlighting the table, was a two-tiered wedding cake iced in white and trimmed with tangerine-colored roses. A golden cross, entwined with two wedding rings, topped the cake. Guests attending were from Winnipeg, Man. Canada, Minneapolis and East Grand Forks.

The couple is at home at 3429 Emerson Avenue South, Minneapolis, where both are employed. The bride, a graduate of Lincoln high school and the Thief River Falls area vocational - technical school, is employed at Cinch Nuline Inc., and the groom, a graduate of the Robbinsdale high school is employed as an electronic development technician for Control Data.

Patricia Brown Marries George Moss September 3

Miss Patricia Anne Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Brown of this city, and George W. Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Moss of Wayzata, exchanged marriage vows at 11 a. m. Saturday, September 3 at St. Bernard's Catholic church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Keough Patnode officiated at the double ring ceremony attended by 40 close friends and relatives. Erin Carlson, organist, supplied the traditional nuptial music.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length off-white crepe gown styled in empire fashion with long sleeves that tapered to a point over the wrists. Secured at the shoulders was a floor length watteau train fashioned of heavy Alencon lace over crepe. A matching lace pillbox headpiece held her elbow length veil of bridal illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of tropicana sweetheart roses and white mums.

A close friend of the bride, Mrs. Robert Thompson of Minneapolis, the former Faye Fuller of this city, was matron of honor. She wore an olive green crepe gown styled similar to the bridal gown, only without sleeves and train. She wore a veiled olive green bow headpiece, long white gloves and carried a basket filled with bronze and yellow mums and fall foliage. Her golden earrings were a gift from the bride.

Bruce A. Moss of Wayzata, attended his brother as best man and Richard L. Brown of Thief River Falls, brother of the bride, served as usher. The men of the wedding party, including the father of the bride, served as usher. The men of the wedding party, including the father of the bride, were in stroller attire with white carnation boutonnieres. The groom's boutonniere, however, was a tropicana rose.

The mother of the bride wore a green suit accented by coffee-brown accessories and a corsage of tropicana sweetheart roses and feathered white mums. The groom's mother wore a pink suit with matching accessories. Red garnet roses and white feathered mums composed her corsage.

Honor guests attending the wedding were the groom's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George O. Moss and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Jansen. The grandmothers were presented corsages of baby mums in autumn shades and the grandfather was given a white carnation boutonniere.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony and Mass, the bride placed a long-stemmed red rose, tied with a blue ribbon, at the altar of the Blessed Virgin and knelt in prayer as the organist played, "Ave Maria."

A wedding dinner in St. Bernard's club room followed. Given by the parents of the bride, it was prepared by Mrs. Kenneth Maidment and Mrs. Richard LeMoine.

Centering the table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped by an arrangement of three wedding bells centered with a bouquet of bronze and yellow pompons and camellia foliage. Mrs. Orrin Anderson, cousin of the bride, cut and served the cake while Sheryl Mousley, Deborah Dryden and Deborah Duke served as waitresses. Opening and arranging the gifts were Virginia, Kathleen and Marilyn Brown and Cheryl Ann Moss.

Miss Gayle Moss sister of the groom, registered the guests who attended from Sioux Falls, S. D.; Minneapolis, Wayzata, Warren, St. Cloud and Thief River Falls.

For the wedding trip to the Black Hills of South Dakota, the bride wore a green three piece suit with black accessories and a corsage of tropicana sweetheart roses and feathered white mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss are at home at 1701 Saint Germain, St. Cloud where both are seniors at St. Cloud State college. The bride is a double major in psychology and sociology and the groom is majoring in accounting.

Lamb and Wool Referendum Set September 12-23

If you are eligible to vote in the referendum on the wool market - promotion program, your ballot is due in the ASCS county office. The last date it will count is Friday, September 23, according to Winton Knutson, chairman of the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee. An "eligible" voter is one who has owned sheep or lambs six months of age or older for at least 30 consecutive days since last January 1.

Ballots may be cast—by mail or in person—at the ASCS county office serving the county where the producer's farm or ranch headquarters is located as soon as they are received; they should reach the office by the close of business on September 23 in order to be counted.

The chairman emphasized that the referendum will not affect the wool payment program itself, which has been extended by law through 1969. The voting will determine whether growers want to continue financing wool and lamb market-promotion activities for the same period through deductions from the wool payments they receive.

Deductions under the new agreement would be up to one and one-half cents a pound on shorn wool and seven and one-half cents a hundredweight on unshorn lambs, compared with one cent and five cents in the past. The higher deductions, recommended by most of the state and regional sheep organizations which are members of ASPC, would be necessary to finance ASPC's proposed programs.

The market - promotion activities are carried out under an agreement between the secretary of agriculture and the American Sheep Producers council, as authorized by law. The proposed new agreement will be approved if it is favored by at least two-thirds of the total number of producers voting or by producers having at least two-thirds of the volume of production represented by the total vote.

Knutson said that all growers should have received their ballots through the mail. Any producer who believes that he is eligible to vote and who has not received his ballot should get in touch with his county ASCS office right away.

Vandals Break Windows in St. Hilaire School

An act of vandalism signaled the start of the fall school term in St. Hilaire September 6. The sheriff's office received a call from Principal Helmer Budahl reporting that windows in the gymnasium had been broken.

In investigating the incident, the sheriff found that two beer bottles had been thrown through the windows. One of the bottles, a full one, broke through three panes of glass and scattered glass for 30 feet inside.

The sheriff's office contacted two 17-year-old boys in connection with the incident. One appeared before Juvenile Judge Herman A. Kjos Tuesday in connection with another incident. He was transferred to the municipal division of probate court and was fined $25 of which $10 was suspended on conditions.

Three Hurt in High Speed Police Chase Tuesday

A poorly executed maneuver by a car that was the object of a high-speed police chase resulted in injuries to two young people from Thief River Falls and one from Goodridge early Tuesday morning, shortly after midnight.

A passenger in the car, Jamie McEnelly, 18, of Goodridge was admitted to Northwestern hospital at 12:50 a.m. with a possible fracture of the jaw. Driver of the car, Llewellyn Lane, 18, of Thief River Falls, a servicemen on leave; and Robert Loeffler, 19, also of Thief River Falls, another passenger, were treated for minor injuries and released.

According to information received from the Thief River Falls police department and the sheriff's office, the vehicle was seen speeding in a westerly direction by Patrolman Bennie Miramontes. He radioed the information to Patrolman Dennis Pederson, who was patroling the west side of town in the other squad car. Pederson begun pursuing the car, which went through two stop signs and headed west on Highway 1.

The squad car chased the Lane vehicle at speeds up to 110 miles per hour. At the "Y" of the highway about 10 miles west of town, the Lane car, in an apparent attempt to lose it pursuer, attempted a left turn onto the gravel road which runs west. The car's speed was too great to negotiate the turn, and the car went into some fine sand between the joining roads, where it sank about 10 inches and stopped abruptly.

Pederson radioed for the sheriff, and Deputy Sheriff Eugene Prestegaard drove out to investigate the mishap. The driver and passengers, injured by the sudden stop were taken to the hospital. Lane, who had left the car on foot and hidden in the ditch nearby, was found, and was charged with reckless driving.

Marshall County Election Results

Rocksbury Asks Discontinuance Of City Dump

sance, and that notice be served upon the city of Thief River Falls to abate the nuisance "by the discontinuance wholly of the use of such grounds for a dumping ground. . ."

The health board allowed the city an undetermined number of days to comply with the resolution, but Dr. Wendt requested that a "sincere effort" be made by the council to act on issue within the near future. The council instructed the sanitation committee, headed by Aldermen Dr. A. E. Jacobson and Robert Carlson, to investigate other possible locations for the city dump. When a new dumping ground is selected, plans are to employ a sanitary fill operation, whereby refuse dumped will be covered with earth.
